Strange BUT TRUE
By Samantha Weaver

• It was beloved British mystery novelist and playwright Agatha Christie who made the following sage observation: "It is a curious thought, but it is only when you see people looking ridiculous that you realize just how much you love them."

• Some toads can live for up to a year without eating a single thing.

• Those who study such things say that not all your fingernails grow at the same rate. It seems the nail on your middle finger is a bit of an overachiever — it grows faster than the nails on your other fingers.

• Lawmakers in Corpus Christi, Texas, evidently once found home alligator farming to be enough of a problem that they felt compelled to pass a law making it illegal to raise the crocodilians in a home.

• If you buy a postage stamp in Israel, rest assured that the glue you'll be licking on said stamp is kosher.

• If you (like me) are a fan of Krispy Kreme's donuts, you may be interested to learn that the pastries have been made with dough from the same secret recipe since 1937.

• During the first couple of years of life, dolphins gain an average of five pounds every month.

• Despite the fact that famed magician Harry Houdini exposed a number of mediums and psychics as frauds, Sherlock Holmes novelist Sir Arthur Conan Doyle persisted in believing that Houdini himself was a medium.

• The subcontinent of India is steadily moving closer to the continent of Asia — by about 2 inches every year.

Thought for the Day: "Give all power to the many, and they will oppress the few. Give all power to the few, and they will oppress the many. Both therefore ought to have power, that each may defend itself against the other." — Alexander Hamilton

Moments in time
THE HISTORY CHANNEL

• On Feb. 12, 1809, Abraham Lincoln is born in Hodgenville, Ky. As an adult, Lincoln's sense of humor may have helped him hide recurring bouts of depression. He admitted to friends and colleagues that he suffered from intense melancholia and hypochondria most of his adult life.

• On Feb. 10, 1846, Brigham Young leaves Nauvoo, Ill., and begins leading 1,600 Mormons west across the frozen Mississippi River to a temporary refuge at Sugar Grove, Iowa. It was their first stop in a westward migration that eventually brought them to the Great Salt Lake in Utah. By fall nearly 12,000 Mormons had made the trek.

• On Feb. 7, 1914, the silent film "Kid Auto Races at Venice" premieres in theaters, featuring actor Charlie Chaplin in his first screen appearance as the "Little Tramp." Movies converted to sound in the late 1920s, but Chaplin held out until his film "Modern Times" (1936).

• On Feb. 13, 1945, a series of Allied firebombing raids begins against the German city of Dresden, reducing the town to rubble and killing as many as 135,000 people. Q: My mom and dad were married in 1941. Their wedding china was the Harlequin pattern. I still have some of the pieces and wonder if you can tell me more about the pattern, and if I should keep or trash the dozen or so examples that I have. — Connie, Joplin, Mo.

A: The Harlequin pattern was introduced by Homer Laughlin China Company in 1938. It originally was marketed in several vibrant colors, including maroon, mauve blue and spruce green, as well as all of the Fiesta colors except for ivory. It is interesting to note that the main outlet for this pattern was the Woolworth five and ten cent stores. Although prices vary from region to region, a tea cup generally sells for about $9.50; a dinner plate, $14; a teapot, $88; and a gravy boat, $23.

Several Receive Awards At Md. 4-H Gala Event

The Maryland state 4-H program recently hosted its awards gala event at the Twin Oaks Ballroom in Clarksville.

"This event celebrates the service, dedication, and accomplishments of 4-H youth, families, volunteers and donors," said Amanda Cougherty, director of the Maryland 4-H Foundation.

Arlene Lantz, 4-H volunteer leader, received the Mylo Downey Leadership Award in recognition of her contribution to advancing robotics across the state.

Through her efforts, an additional 18 counties have started robotics programs. She has coordinated teen leadership events at the Teen Focus on the University of Maryland campus and at the 4-H Volunteer Forum held in Ocean City.

Lantz is club leader for the Country Explorers 4-H Club and a shooting sports instructor.

Eight local youth received awards recognizing their achievement at the National Engineering, Science & Leadership Challenge. They were Kendrick Bender, Katelyn Gnegy, Kevin Haenftling, Aaron Lantz, Derek Maust, Mikail Perrine, Greg Tichnell, and Nathan Tichnell.

Also recognized were young people who had earned national trips based on their resume and interviews. Katelyn Gnegy traveled to the Virginia 4-H Congress, and Aaron Lantz attended National 4-H Congress.

Clover awards are presented to youth who have documented increasing community and club involvement.

Four members from Garrett County received the Emerald Clover award. They were Ben Nairn, Mikail Perrine, Faith Tichnell, and Kelsey Vansickle.

Three members received the Diamond Clover award, which recognizes participation in a variety of youth development activities as well as leadership for a community service project. They were Amanda Beitzel, Aaron Lantz, and Levi Lantz.

Those attending the gala were welcomed by Cheng-I Wei, dean of the College of Agriculture and Natural Resources at the University of Maryland, and by Jeff Howard, Maryland 4-H Program leader.

University of Maryland Extension (UME) provides educational programs and problem-solving assistance related to agriculture, natural resources, nutrition, finance, 4-H, and youth development. Persons may contact the Garrett County office of UME at 301-334-6960 or visit garrett.umd.edu.

Red Cross Notes Blood Shortage, Urges Donations

Last week's winter storm along the East Coast resulted in additional blood drive cancellations, and the American Red Cross is urging people in unaffected areas of the country to schedule a blood donation in the coming days. The Red Cross has issued a nationwide appeal for blood donors to boost a dwindling blood supply.

According to ARC, winter weather caused thousands of blood and platelet donations to go uncollected throughout the eastern half of the country. The latest snowfall has worsened the situation, with more blood drives canceled and a total of about 18,000 blood and platelet donations not collected over the last several weeks.

The Red Cross has not seen its blood supply drop this dramatically at this time of year over the past 10 years.

"Here in the Greater Alleghenies Region of American Red Cross Blood Services, a total of 810 blood donations went uncollected during January as a result of weather-related blood drive cancellations," noted John Hagins, CEO. "This total represents nearly one day of typical donations. Weather also affected turnout at blood drives that remained on schedule throughout our 100-county service area."

People across the country have been responding to the call for blood donors, and the Red Cross hopes that support will continue. Despite the weather, patients continue to need blood. After a prolonged drop in blood donations, it takes time to build the blood supply back to an adequate level, Hagins noted.

He also expressed concern about the storm system headed to the area this week.

"If you're in an area unaffected by the storms, your donations could help meet the blood needs of not only those in your local community, but in other communities as well," he said.

ARC urges everyone who is eligible to make an appointment to give blood or platelets in the coming days by calling 1-800-RED CROSS (1-800-733-2767) or by visiting redcrossblood.org.

Individuals who are 17 years of age (16 with parental permission in some states), weigh at least 110 pounds, and are in generally good health may be eligible to donate blood. High school students and other donors 18 years of age and younger also have to meet certain height and weight requirements. Individuals should bring their Red Cross blood donor card or other form of positive identification when coming to donate.

All blood types are needed, but there is a particular need for people with negative blood types – O-negative, A-negative and B-negative – to give blood now.

Individuals may also follow the Red Cross on Twitter: twitter.com/redcrossGAR.

The Greater Alleghenies Region directly serves hospitals, patients and donors in a 100-county area in Kentucky, Maryland, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Virginia, and West Virginia, with more than five dozen blood products and related services, and also supports blood needs experienced by patients elsewhere in hospitals served through Red Cross Blood Services.

Steele Named To Dean's List

Luke Steele of Oakland is among the Harding University students included on the dean's list for grades achieved during the fall 2010 semester.

The dean's list is published each semester by Dr. Larry Long, vice president for academic affairs, honoring those who have achieved high scholarship. To be eligible, a student must be carrying 12 or more hours with a 3.65 or higher grade point average and no incompletes.

Harding had a record enrollment this year of more than 6,800 students from 49 states and 53 foreign countries. It is located in Searcy, Ark., and maintains campuses in Australia, Chilé, England, France, Greece, Italy, and Zambia.

Garrett College Acquires Ambulance; Plans Under Way For Mobile Ed. Lab

by Melissa Parker

Garrett College's Emergency Services Training Center recently received a gift that will make EMS training at the college a more efficient program. The college was given a decommissioned 1995 Ford ambulance by Tri-Towns EMS of Westernport.

"We were very fortunate to receive this donation for our EMS training program," said Jean Tressler, coordinator of operations for Garrett's Continuing Education and Workforce Development Division.

The college plans to turn the ambulance into a mobile education lab.

"By having a mobile training lab, we can make the EMS training environment more realistic," said Tressler. "For new providers, this affords an opportunity to have as close to real patient contact as is possible with today's technology."

Another bonus of having a mobile education lab is that the college can take the training to the rescue squads and departments, as opposed to the students having to travel to the training, Tressler noted.

The college has big plans for the donated ambulance, but before they can put those plans into motion, they'll first need to do a few things to get the vehicle up and running. The ambulance is in need of some minor body repairs and painting. In addition, the college has to acquire training equipment and supplies for the ambulance, as well as have a financial reserve to provide for the general upkeep of the vehicle.

The college hopes to receive additional donations to get the mobile education lab in operation.

"After receiving the generous donation of the ambulance from Tri-Towns, the college established the EMS Training Fund under the Garrett College Foundation [a 501(C)(3) non-profit organization]," said Tressler. "Donations to the fund will allow us to get the ambulance in operation and keep it running."

Donations to the program can be made in the form of equipment, money, or in-kind service and are tax deductible to the extent allowed by law.

"All donations are greatly appreciated and all levels of financial support are welcome," said Tressler. "Donations valued at $5,000 or more can include the addition of the donor's name on the training ambulance."

Garrett College's Continuing Education and Workforce Development Division has provided noncredit EMS training to the community for over 30 years. In that time, the college has produced more than 500 emergency medical technicians (EMTs). In the past 15 years alone, nearly 100 paramedics have trained at Garrett College.

In 1999, the college established the Emergency Services Training Center. In May 2008, the Advanced Life Support (ALS) Training Program attained accreditation from the Maryland State EMS Board. The program is the only accredited ALS program in Garrett and Allegany counties.

For additional information about the EMS program at Garrett College, persons may contact the Continuing Education and Workforce Development Division at 301-387-3069.

Garrett College Accepting County Scholarship Forms

Garrett College is now accepting applications for the Garrett County Scholarship Program and applications for admission for the fall 2011 semester.

Prospective students applying for the county scholarship must first complete and submit a Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA), which can be found at www.fafsa.ed.gov.

Students are encouraged to submit the FAFSA by the March 1 priority deadline.

Preston County FSA Committee Election Noted

The 2010 Preston County FSA Committee election was held recently in Local Administrative Area (LAA) 2 (Kingwood, Valley and Portland districts).

Teddy W. Jenkins of the Terra Alta area was elected by farmers in LAA 2 to represent them on the County Committee and will serve a three-year term.

Patrick G. Foley of the Kingwood area was elected as first alternate and Hoy C. Wiles of the Terra Alta area was chosen as second alternate. All three individuals took office on Jan. 1.

Suzanne K. Benson has been appointed as the COC advisor for the Preston County FSA, with her appointment effective beginning March 1.

At the Jan. 19 County Committee organizational meeting, the following positions were determined:

Chairperson, Edward Utterback; vice chairperson, Teddy Jenkins;

And regular member, William Whetsell.

The County Committee has the responsibility of administering the USDA-FSA programs for the coming year.

The regular County Committee meeting day has been established as Wednesday on the second full week of each month, beginning at 9 a.m.

All regular sessions are open to the public. Persons with disabilities who require accommodations to attend or participate in these meetings should contact Eric McCartney at 304-329-1923, Federal Relay Service at 1-800-877-8339, or by e-mailing Eric.Mccartney@wv.usda.gov no later than one week prior to the regular monthly meeting.

The Preston County Farm Service Agency thanks all of the 2010 election nominees and the farmers who took the time to vote.

2010 Cover Crop Planting Largest In State History

Governor Martin O'Malley recently announced that Maryland farmers participating in the Maryland Department of Agriculture's (MDA) Cover Crop Program planted a record 398,679 acres of cover crops on their farms last fall to control soil erosion, reduce nutrient runoff, and protect water quality in streams, rivers, and the Chesapeake Bay. The 2010 cover crop planting is the largest in Maryland history and exceeds Maryland's 2011 Bay cleanup goal by 20 percent.

"Our farmers continue to show their leadership in the Chesapeake Bay restoration efforts by planting a record number of acres of cover crops, exceeding their two-year goal by 20 percent," O'Malley said. "Cover crops are the workhorse of our Bay restoration efforts. Maryland is committed to achieving our Bay restoration goals by 2020, five years ahead of any other state in the watershed.

"The fact that farmers exceeded their goal and helped us get 60 percent of the way toward our overall two-year goal across all sectors shows that we can reach our early target. I thank all farmers who planted cover crops and encourage those who have not yet done so to enroll next year."

Cover crops are widely considered to be one of the most cost-effective and environmentally sustainable ways to control soil erosion and reduce nutrient runoff in the Chesapeake Bay and its tributaries over the winter.

Collectively, the 398,679 acres of cover crops planted will prevent an estimated 2.4 million pounds of nitrogen, which is 60 percent of the overall two-year milestone goal, and 80,000 pounds of phosphorus from potentially impacting the Bay and its tributaries.

"The weather conditions were perfect this year for farmers to plant cover crops," said Buddy Hance, agriculture secretary. "Thanks to Governor O'Malley's commitment to the cover crop program, farmers can count on a strong program with consistent funding from year to year, making it possible for them to plan ahead and include cover crops as a part of their normal cropping system."

Farmers plant cover crops in the fall, following the harvest of summer crops such as corn, soybeans and vegetables. Rye, wheat, barley and other "cereal grains" are planted as cover crops because they continue to grow in cool weather, eventually becoming the lush green fields that checker an otherwise barren rural, winter landscape.

Once established, cover crops recycle mobile or unused plant nutrients remaining in the soil from the previous summer crop, protect fields against wind and water erosion, and help improve the soil for the next year's crop.

Farmers enrolled in the cover crop program receive payments to cover their planting costs for this core Bay restoration practice, which are not recovered by the sale of the crop. The use of manure and fertilizer is restricted.

Maryland's Cover Crop Program is administered by MDA and the state's 24 soil conservation districts through the Maryland Agricultural Water Quality Cost-Share (MACS) Program. It is funded by the 2010 Chesapeake Bay Trust Fund and the Chesapeake Bay Restoration Fund.

Applicants must be in good standing with MACS to participate and must be in compliance with the Nutrient Management Program.

The sign up period for the 2011-2012 MACS Cover Crop Program will take place early this summer.

USDA Finalizes Sorghum Farmer Referendum Info

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has finalized procedures for the upcoming referendum on the continuation of the Sorghum Checkoff Program and announced the dates it will conduct the referendum.

For the program to continue, the Sorghum Promotion, Research, and Information Order requires that a referendum be conducted no later than three years after the start of assessments, which began on July 1, 2008. The order requires a simple majority vote in the referendum for the program to continue.

USDA will conduct the referendum from Feb. 1 to 28, locally at the County Farm Service Agency (FSA) Office, for producers and at the Agricultural Marketing Service office, referenced below, for importers.

Ballots may be obtained from the Preston County FSA Office located in the Corner Mall of the Kingwood Plaza in person, by mail at Preston County FSA Office, 157 Plaza Ct. Ste. 13, Kingwood, WV, 26537, by fax at 304-329-3056, or via the Internet at www.ams.usda.gov/sorghumpage.

Any eligible person engaged in the production or importation of sorghum from July 1, 2008, to Dec. 31, 2010, is eligible to participate. Individuals are required to provide documentation such as a sales receipt or remittance form that shows they engaged in the production or importation of sorghum.

The Sorghum Checkoff Program and its 13-member board are authorized by the Commodity Promotion, Research, and Information Act of 1996. The mandatory program is funded at the rate of 0.6 percent of the net market value on grain sorghum and 0.35 percent of the net market value of sorghum forage.

Sorghum Checkoff is a national, coordinated, self-help marketing program designed to strengthen the position of sorghum in the marketplace, maintain and expand existing domestic and foreign markets and uses for sorghum, and develop new markets and uses for sorghum.

The final procedures were published in the Nov. 18, 2010, Federal Register. The notice announcing the dates of the referendum was published in the Jan. 4 Federal Register.

For more information, persons may contact Kenneth R. Payne, Chief, Marketing Programs, Livestock and Seed Program, AMS, USDA, Room 2628-S, STOP 0251, 1400 Independence Avenue, SW, Washington, DC, 20250-0251; by calling 202-720-1115; or faxing 202-720-1125.

Latitude 39° 23' 32"
Longitude 79° 15' 37"

OPA 99-36
Election District 10
Garrett County, MD

Notice is hereby given that LAOC Corporation, 3388 George Washington Highway, Oakland, Maryland 21550, has submitted an application to the Maryland Bureau of Mines for a surface coal mine operations permit.

The proposed operation occupies a 24.00 acre tract, near Deer Park, Maryland, on the west side of the North Prong of Lostland Run, 4.5 miles southwest of Deer Park in Election District No. 10, Garrett County, N 575,640, E 160,780. Access to the site will be from Potomac Camp Road, a continuation of Upperman Road which lies approximately 2 miles east of the intersection of Boiling Springs Road and Bethlehem Road.

The application proposes to mine within 100 feet of the right-of-way of Potomac Camp Road. The Maryland grid coordinates of the segment of road where mining will be within the specified distances are: N 577,710, E 160,536, and N 576,410, E 160,526.

The mineral to be mined is owned by LAOC Corporation, 3388 George Washington Highway, Oakland, MD 21550.

The permit area is within the U.S. Geologic Survey Deer Park 7.5 minute quadrangle.

The application includes plans to construct 3 ponds to control sediment and stormwater on the mining area. The ponds will be located within the proposed mine permit area.

A copy of the mine permit application is available for public review during regular office hours at the Bureau of Mines office and the Soil Conservation District Office in Oakland, Maryland.

Questions concerning any aspect of the application may be directed to the Maryland Bureau of Mines, Permitting Section, 301-689-6104. Written comments, requests for a public hearing, and requests to be included on the interested persons list regarding the application will be received until March 25, 2011, by the Bureau of Mines, Permitting Section, 160 S. Water Street, Frostburg, Maryland 21532.

Further notices about this application will be provided only by mail to those persons that submit comments, request a public hearing, or request to be included on the list of interested persons. Attention: File No. OPA-99-36.

PUBLIC NOTICES

INVITATION TO BID
HOYES RUN STREAM RESTORATION PROJECT
F.a. Project No. STp-3(164)E

The Board of County Commissioners of Garrett County, Maryland, will accept sealed bids for the restoration of an unnamed tributary flowing intc Hoyes Run, which is a tributary to the Youghiogheny River. Based on natural stream design methods, the restoration project will create a mountain stream consisting of step pools within a narrow, vegetated floodplain that will stabilize the channel within the existing stream corridor. Step pools will be held in place by log and rock structures while the stream banks will be laid back and planted with native riparian vegetation. A performance/payment bond in the full bid amount will be required of the successful contractor. For additional information about this project, visit the Garrett County Purchasing Department's web site at www.garrettcounty.org/Purchasing/CurrentBids.aspx.

A Pre-Bid Meeting will be held at 2:00 p.m. on Wednesday, February 16, 2011, in the Commissioners' Public Meeting Room located at 203 South Fourth Street, Room 209, in Oakland, Maryland.

Bid documents and specifications may be obtained in person from the Garrett County Purchasing Department, 203 South Fourth Street, Room 208, Oakland, Maryland 21550. The cost of the bid specifications and drawings is $75.00 per set and is nonrefundable. All out of town contractors must pre-pay for shipping and the cost of the plans. Inquiries may be made by calling 301-334-5003.

Sealed bids must be submitted to the Garrett County Purchasing Department, 203 South Fourth Street, Room 208, Oakland, Maryland 21550, on or before Thursday, March 3, 2011, at 1:30 p.m. (local time). Sealed bids will be publicly opened and read aloud in the Commissioners' Public Meeting Room at 2:00 p.m. on Thursday, March 3, 2011. All bidders are required to submit three (3) copies of their bid documents at the time of submission. All bids submitted should be enclosed in a sealed envelope and should be clearly marked "Hoyes Run Stream Restoration Project Bid" on the outside of the envelope. Any bids received after the time due will not be considered for award and shall be retained as documentation for the bid file.

This project is funded in part through the Federal Highway Administration (FHWA) Tranportation Enhancement Program.

The Board of County Commissioners of Garrett County, Maryland, reserves the right to accept or reject any or all bids, to cancel this invitation to bid and to waive technicalities in any part deemed to be in the best interest of Garrett County.

PUBLIC NOTICE

The Maryland Department of the Environment, Abandoned Mine Land Division, will be submitting an application for approval of funds to the U.S. Department of the Interior, Office of Surface Mining for the reclamation of three (3) abandoned coal mining sites throughout Garrett and Allegany Counties. All funding will be obtained in accordance with Title IV, Section 405 of Public Law 95-87, Surface Mining Control and Reclamation Act of 1977.

An agency must have an approved State Surface Coal Mining Regulatory Program and State Abandoned Mine Land Reclamation Plan to qualify for funding under Title IV. Maryland has had approval of both programs since February 17, 1982. Funding for each project will originate from the Abandoned Mine Reclamation Fund, which is administered by the Office of Surface Mining.

It is the goal of the Maryland Abandoned Mine Land Division to promote the reclamation of abandoned coal mine areas in Maryland that are inadequately reclaimed or pose a public health and safety concern, degrade the quality of the environment, and/or diminish the beneficial use of land and water resources.

The Abandoned Mine Land Division would like to gather comments on the following listed projects and/or any other abandoned mine problems in the Maryland Coal Region.

A public informational meeting concerning the proposed projects will be held as follows:

Wednesday, March 16, 2011
7:00 P.M.
Maryland Department of the Environment
Land Management Administration
Abandoned Mine Land Division
160 South Water Street, Room 107
Frostburg, MD 21532

Additional information concerning the proposed projects can be obtained by contacting Mr. Ed George, Abandoned Mine Land Division, 160 South Water St., Frostburg, MD 21532, 301-689-1459. Written comments concerning these projects and the Maryland Abandoned Mine Reclamation Program will be received at the public hearing and until Wednesday, March 16, 2011. Address all comments to the attention of Mr. Ed George at the address listed above.

The following is a general description of the proposed reclamation projects, including the location, County, nearest town or physical feature, and nature of the problem.

1. KEMPTON POND CLOSURE PROJECT

Location: North of Kempton, Garrett County, Maryland.
39°13'16.23"N 79°28'55.10"W

Problem: An existing pond is full of lime doser sediment and will be removed. The treated mine drainage will be redirected to improve the system's efficiency.

2. GERMAN STREET STREAM RESTORATION PROJECT

Location: Barton, Allegany County, Maryland.
39°31'41.82"N 79°01'12.07"W

Problem: Unnamed tributary to Georges Creek is clogged with sediment from abandoned prelaw surface mines.

3. HOMER BROOKS WELL REPLACEMENT PROJECT

Location: Approximately 1.25 miles southeast of Jennings, Garrett County, Maryland.
39°38'08.34"N 70°09'57.23"W

Problem: Acid mine drainage has impacted a private water supply.

SUBSTITUTE TRUSTEE'S SALE OF VALUABLE IMPROVED PROPERTY KNOWN AS
511 E STREET, MT. LAKE PARK, MD 21550

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain Deed of Trust granted by Suzanne R. Nicolas and William R. Harker dated May 10, 2005, and recorded among the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, ("Land Records") in Liber 1126, Page 140, default having occurred in the terms and conditions thereof, the undersigned Substitute Trustee will offer for sale at public auction outside of the East Alder Street entrance of the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, located at 203 S. Fourth Street, Oakland, MD 21550, on the property described in the aforesaid Deed of Trust, being all that real property together with the improvements thereon and the appurtenances thereto situated in Garrett County, Maryland, and more fully described in the aforesaid Deed of Trust which are located at 511 E Street, Mt. Lake Park, MD 21550.

TERMS OF SALE: A cash deposit or certified check of $5,000.00 shall be paid at the time and place of sale, balance in cash at settlement which shall be twenty days after final ratification of sale by the Circuit Court, time being of the essence, with interest on said balance at the rate of 10% per annum from date of sale to date of settlement. Failure of the purchaser to settle as set forth herein will result in resale of the property at the purchaser's risk and expense and/or forfeiture of the deposit at the election of the Substitute Trustee, who reserves all legal and equitable remedies available to him. If the Trustee moves to resell the property, purchaser waives personal service of any paper filed in connection with such a motion on himself and/or any principal or corporate designee, and expressly agrees to accept service of any such paper by regular mail directed to the address provided by said bidder at the time of sale. The defaulting purchaser shall not be entitled to any surplus proceeds or profits resulting from any resale of the property. In the event settlement is delayed for any reason, there shall be no abatement of interest. The sale is subject to post-sale confirmation that the borrower did not file for protection under the U.S. Bankruptcy Code prior to the sale, as well as to post-sale confirmation and audit of the status of the loan with the loan servicer including, but not limited to, determination of whether the borrower entered into any repayment agreement or reinstated or paid off the loan prior to the sale. In any such event, this sale shall be null and void, and the Purchaser's sole remedy, in law or equity, shall be the return of his deposit without interest.

Adjustment of current year real property taxes will be made as of the date of sale and assumed thereafter by Purchaser. All past due property taxes shall be paid by the purchaser. All other public charges and assessments, including, but not limited to, water and sewer charges, whether incurred prior to or after the sale, shall be paid by Purchaser. Cost of all documentary stamps, transfer taxes, document preparation and title insurance shall be borne by purchaser. Purchaser shall pay all applicable agricultural transfer tax, if any. Purchaser assumes the risk of loss or damage to the property from the date of sale forward. The property and the improvements thereon are being sold in an "as is" condition and subject to prior conveyances, restrictions, liens and agreements of record affecting the same, if any. Neither the Substitute Trustee, the beneficiary, nor their respective agents, successors or assigns make any warranty or representation, either express or implied, with respect to the property. Purchaser agrees to pay $300.00 at settlement, to the Substitute Trustee's attorney, for review of the settlement documents and $275.00 for review and processing of any pleadings to substitute a purchaser.

This sale is made subject to the lien of the Purchase Money Deed of Trust from Suzanne R. Nicolas, Norma M. Hackney and William R. Harker to Farmers & Merchants Bank and Trust, securing a debt in the original principal amount of $109,000.00, dated September 25, 2003, and recorded among the Land Records in Liber 1001, Page 485. It is also made subject to the Internal Revenue Service's right to redeem the property from sale.

OF REAL PROPERTY KNOWN AS
NO. 126 HIGH ROCK LANE, McHenry, MD 21541

Under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain Deed of Trust from Dena M. Hodges and Donald W. Hodges to TRSTE, INC., Trustee(s), dated March 16, 2007, and recorded among the Land Records of Garrett County in Liber No. 1300, folio 0413, and Declaration of Substitution of Trustees dated September 24, 2010, and recorded among the aforementioned Land Records substituting Thomas P. Dore, Mark S. Devan, Gerard F. Miles Jr., Shannon Menapace, Erin Gloth, and Renee Dyson as Substituted Trustees under the Deed of Trust aforesaid, Bank of America, National Association, successor by merger to LaSalle Bank National Association, as Trustee of Morgan Stanley Mortgage Loan Trust 2007-10XS being the current holder of the Note(s) secured thereby, and default having occurred under the terms thereof, the undersigned Substituted Trustees will offer for sale at public auction, at the Courthouse Door, Alder Street entrance, Oakland, Maryland, on all that lot of ground and the improvements thereon situate in Garrett County, State of Maryland, as described in the Deed of Trust dated March 16, 2007, and recorded among the land records of Garrett County, in Liber 1300, folio 0413, also being further described in a Deed dated March 16, 2007, and recorded among the land records of Garrett County in Liber 1300, folio 407. The improvements thereon consist of a dwelling. The property will be sold in "AS IS" condition, subject to any existing building violations, restrictions and agreements of record. Neither the Substituted Trustees nor their respective agents, successors or assigns make any representations or warranties, either expressed or implied, with respect to the property. The Substituted Trustees shall convey insurable title.

TERMS OF THE SALE: A deposit in a form acceptable to the Substituted Trustee in the amount of $50,000.00 will be required of the purchaser other than the Holder of the Note or its assigns at the time and place of sale. The balance of the purchase price shall be paid immediately with available funds within twenty (20) days of the final ratification of the sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County. Time is of the essence. The purchaser, other than the Holder of the Note and its assigns, shall pay interest at the rate of 6.87500% per annum on the unpaid portion of the purchase price from the date of sale to date of settlement. In the event settlement is delayed for any reason, there shall be no abatement of interest. If the purchaser defaults, the entire deposit is forfeited. The Substituted Trustees shall resell the property at the risk and expense of the defaulting purchaser. The defaulting purchaser shall be liable for the payment of any deficiency in the purchase price, all costs and expenses of both sales, attorney fees and all other charges due and incidental and consequential damages. Real property taxes and assessments shall be adjusted to the date of sale and assumed thereafter by the purchaser. Ground rent and water/sewer charges, if any, whether incurred prior to or after the sale, shall be paid by purchaser. Cost of all documentary stamps and transfer taxes shall be paid by the purchaser. Purchaser shall have the responsibility of obtaining possession of the property. In the event the Substituted Trustees do not convey title for any reason, purchaser's sole remedy is return of the deposit. The Substituted Trustees shall have the right to terminate this contract in the event the holder or its servicer has entered into any agreement with or accepted funds from the mortgagor. Upon termination of the contract, Purchaser's sole remedy shall be return of the deposit. Purchaser agrees to pay a deed preparation and document review fee of $350.00 to the Seller's attorney. An additional fee of $250.00 shall be paid to the seller's attorney by purchaser in connection with the review of any motion to substitute a purchaser.

Balance of the purchase price to be paid in cash within ten days of final ratification of sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, time being of the essence for purchaser. In the event that settlement does not occur within the said ten days, the purchaser shall be in default. Upon such default the Trustees may file a Motion and Order to Resell the property at the risk and expense of the defaulting purchaser, and purchaser(s) hereby consent to entry of such resale order without further notice, in which case the deposit shall be forfeited and all expenses of this sale (including attorney's fees and the full commission on the gross sale price of this sale) shall be charged against and paid out of the forfeited deposit. The Trustees may then readvertise and resell the property at the risk and cost of the defaulting purchaser; or, without reselling the property, the Trustees may avail themselves of any legal or equitable remedies against the defaulting purchaser. In the event of a resale, the defaulting purchaser shall not be entitled to receive the surplus, if any, even if such surplus results from improvements to the property by said defaulting purchaser. Interest to be paid on the purchase money less the stated deposit called for herein, at the rate pursuant to the Deed of Trust Note from the date of auction to the date funds are received in the office of the Substitute Trustee. There shall be no abatement of interest due from the purchaser in the event additional funds are tendered before settlement or if settlement is delayed for any reason, including but not limited to exceptions to sale, bankruptcy filings by interested parties, Court administration of the foreclosure or unknown title defects. There shall be no adjustment of taxes, ground rent, water rent, condominium fees and/or homeowner association dues, all public charges/assessments payable on an annual basis, including sanitary and/or metropolitan district charges, if applicable, and same are to be assumed by the purchaser. Cost of all documentary stamps, transfer taxes, agricultural transfer tax, if any, and settlement expenses shall be borne by the purchaser. Purchaser shall be responsible for obtaining physical possession of the property. Purchaser assumes the risk of damage to the property from the date of auction forward. If the Substitute Trustee does not convey title for any reason, including but not limited to the Secured Party executing a forbearance agreement with the borrower(s) described in the above-mentioned Deed of Trust, or allowing the borrower(s) to execute their right to reinstate or pay off the subject loan, prior to the sale, with or without the Substitute Trustee's prior knowledge, or if the sale is not ratified for any reason including errors made by the Substitute Trustees, the foreclosure sale shall be null and void and of no effect, and the Purchaser's sole remedy in law or in equity shall be the return of the deposit without interest. Further terms and particulars may be announced at time of sale, and purchaser may be required to execute a Memorandum of Sale at the time of auction. Purchaser agrees to pay $295.00 at settlement, to the Seller's attorney, for review of the settlement documents and an additional fee of $295.00 for review of any motion which may be subsequently filed with the Court to substitute a purchaser herein. (Matter #15717)

Health Department Targets Minority Marylanders with Flu Shot Campaign

by Jessica Harper
Capital News Service

WASHINGTON – Seasonal flu is on the rise in Maryland, particularly in low-income and minority communities – a reality the Department of Health and Mental Hygiene is fighting with a media campaign.

"We want to use radio and TV ads to target a broader population," said David Paulson, communications director for DHMH. "And our approach is to reach a low-uptake population that doesn't normally get vaccinated."

Paulson defined this population as those from rural communities and African-Americans.

"People who live in rural areas are often geographically disconnected from medical resources," he said. "And our focus groups show that African-Americans are less likely to trust medical authority. We need to reach these populations."

Overall, less than two-thirds of rural adults over age 65 received the recommended influenza vaccination in 2005, the Rural Assistance Center found; however, the same report determined that white adults in rural areas had consistent immunization rates.

In 2008, the federal Office of Minority Health found that African-American adults were less likely than non-Hispanic white adults to receive flu vaccinations.

To try to improve the numbers, last year, the Department of Health and Human Services launched Healthy People 2010, a 10-year national objective for improving the health of all Americans. That initiative set a 2010 vaccination goal of 60 percent. Both non-Hispanic blacks and non-Hispanic whites fell short at 30 and 31 percent, respectively.

The Maryland health department publicity push, paid for by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, began with radio and TV spots airing statewide in late fall 2010.

The campaign aims to promote cultural literacy about why it's good to go to the doctor, get routine check-ups and take advantage of local health clinic services, including flu shots.

Paulson said flu cases have jumped from local to widespread since the beginning of January. And more than 270 confirmed cases of flu were reported for the week ending Jan. 1. No one from Maryland has died during this season's flu outbreak, he said.

Despite the numbers, Jeff Dimond, a logistics health contractor for the CDC, said it's still difficult to quantify how severely low-income people are affected.

"We usually have to go back in and do surveillance to be sure," said Dimond. "But we do know that poorer people are probably uninsured, and that they do not have ready access to health care professionals. They also cannot afford vaccinations."

"It's not too late to get vaccinated," said Paulson, who acknowledged that many people get their flu shots in September – the month they typically become available.

Vaccinations are available in a three-for-one cocktail for strains H1N1, H3N2, and B. Peak season, Paulson said, runs from September to December.

Pharmacists who offer flu shots everywhere from CVS to Safeway see the peak trend firsthand.

"From October to December, we had about eight to 10 customers on average per week," said Uche Eyisi, a CVS pharmacist in Waldorf. "In January, we've seen maybe one or two Monday through Friday," she said.

But Eyisi's customers can afford their shots.

"Most of the customers have insurance," she said. "I've never seen one pay out of pocket."

Though Paulson applauded the convenience of getting vaccinated at a chain, calling it "a great marketing tool," he said the stores exclude those who need the medicine most – those with lower incomes, particularly the younger population.

The CDC recommends seasonal shots for children age 6 months to 19 years old. Younger children who have never had a shot, Dimond said, should get two doses.

Abraham Ojo, a Rite Aid pharmacist in Park Heights – a low-income neighborhood in west Baltimore – has also noticed a shift in flu-shot customer traffic.

"This month, we've only seen three to five customers a week," said Ojo. "Late last year, we saw almost twice that much."

Ojo said though Park Heights is not a wealthy community, most of his customers have insurance.

"Once in a while we'll have folks with no insurance, who have difficulty paying," he said. "In that case, we let them know about the city's free clinics."

Paulson said while free clinics have their perks, they are not as golden as they seem for someone working two jobs and trying to feed their children on a meager salary.

"If you're talking about low-income people, you're talking about people with fewer resources," he said. "Sure the shot is free, but then they have to worry about transportation costs and finding the time to get there."

HOMESCHOOLERS MEET SLED DOG – Several local home-school groups recently gathered at the Accident library for a hands-on program about "mushing" presented by Mike and Linda Herdering, owners of Husky Power Dogsledding. "It was a group representing almost every decade of life," Linda said. "What fun to talk and learn together, especially with such an interesting subject and unique equipment." The group learned about the many aspects of the sport of mushing, its seasons and equipment, history, and training sleddogs, along with seeing a film of the large Husky Power sled teams in action. The students also got to pet and hug a sled dog named Iggy after seeing him work in harness in the film. "Most people get ideas about mushing from movies and books," Linda explained. "But they are very incomplete – for instance, movies, and books never show the sport of dryland mushing, which is mushing on wheels." Photo courtesy of Linda Herdering.

SMOOTH SAILING

As a buyer, you want your offer to be accepted and your contract to close on schedule. However, in today's climate, you should expect some negotiation, and submit your offer with the following advice in mind.

First and foremost, work with an agent who will represent you and your interests. Keep in mind that the listing agent works for the seller and is not looking out for you. Here are some other things that you and your agent should discuss.

The financing contingency in your offer will state your loan total and anticipated interest rate and approval date. Strongly consider locking in that rate with the lender, as rates are still very low, and you'll avoid any future fluctuations in the market.

Reserve funds now for your settlement costs at closing. Anticipate anywhere from 2% to 6% of the amount you're financing, plus your down payment (less any earnest money you offered as a deposit), which will be presented in the form of an official (cashier's) check.

If your down payment funds are not in an immediately liquid account, keep things on track by moving the funds into your checking account at least a week before closing, so you're sure that you'll be able to access the money in advance of the closing date.

Finally, try to avoid a closing date at the end of the month or the end of the year, as these are the busiest times for lenders and could cause undue delay in meeting your approval deadline for financing. Speak with your agent about other factors in crafting your offer and successfully closing on schedule.

If you are thinking of buying or selling a home but feel "out of touch" with real estate, give me a call today.

Marcellus Shale Forums Slated At Various Sites

The University of Maryland Extension Garrett County is hosting a series of Brown Bag forums that will allow participants to discuss issues related to Marcellus shale natural gas drilling. Shale Gas and America's Future is the title of the video that will be shown at three different locations in the county for the first forum.

According to extension spokesperson Mikal Ann Zimmerman, program assistant, natural gas drilling education, this video was produced and distributed by the American Clean Skies Foundation, which is a non-profit organization characterized by: "supporting energy independence and a cleaner, low-carbon environment through expanded use of natural gas, renewables, and efficiency."

"As Garrett County moves closer to the natural gas drilling industry becoming a part of its economy, landscape, and community, it is important that diverse voices be heard concerning the potential impacts," Zimmerman said. "This video will provide a springboard for discussion in small groups about the basics of horizontal drilling, hydraulic fracturing, the gains from drilling, and the dangers the process presents. This information has been presented at previous lectures, but this format uses layman terms for ease of understanding."

The forums will be limited to 15 participants at each site to allow open discussion of the issues. All forums will begin at noon at the following locations: Garrett College, Tuesday, Feb. 22; Friendsville Rescue Squad, Wednesday, Feb. 23; and the Garrett County Extension Office, Thursday, Feb. 24. Persons are asked to register by telephoning 301-334-6960 by Friday, Feb. 18.

Persons with any financial/disability need that requires special assistance for participation in any of the programs is asked to telephone the number listed above.

NEW ALL-TIME LEADING SCORER is a distinction now held by Northern High School's basketball standout Kaitlynn Fratz. The senior surpassed Garrett County's all-time scoring record for boys' and girls' high school teams Tuesday night. The previous record of 1,831 points was held by Southern's class of 1985 star, and later West Virginia University starter, Jenny Hillen. Fratz passed Brett Rice's all-time leading Southern boys' record of 1,828 points in the same game. A day before breaking Hillen's record, Fratz became the all-time leading scorer in Husky basketball history. With a basket in the third quarter of Northern's Monday night win over Preston, Fratz had more career points than Tony Doerr's 1,793. Doerr, who witnessed his record fall, congratulated Fratz during the post-game ceremony and presented her the game ball. As of last night, the county's new all-time leading scorer has totaled 1,867 points, averaging just shy of 28 points per game. This year alone Fratz has scored 499 points in 18 games. Oakland's 4th Annual Winter Fest Ice Sculpture Event Set Feb. 18-20

The town of Oakland is gearing up for its fourth annual Winter Fest, slated for Feb. 19-20. The event celebrates winter and features ice carvings throughout the town, created by Bill Sandusky of Frozen Assets for the fourth consecutive year. A number of events and activities, from ice bowling to snowmobile races, are scheduled for the festival.

Sandusky will begin the carving on Thursday, with his operations set up at the Mtn. Fresh pavilion off Second Street. Persons are invited to watch him at work.

The festivities will be officially kicked off Friday night with a progressive dinner via horse-drawn sleigh ride. Starting at Oakland's historic train station, the group will move on to four separate restaurants for all the dinner courses. Reservations are required for this event, and may be made by calling Jim Johnson at 301-616-4008.

Friday night also ushers in the lighting of the ice sculptures, which will be done each evening. Persons may wish to drive through the town after dark to see the lighted carvings.

Sandusky will continue the carving on Saturday morning, at various town businesses, while a number of activities will take place. Included in the day's line-up is ice bowling with frozen

SIMON PEARCE MAKES SPECIALTY PIECE FOR WINTER FEST – The fourth annual Winter Fest will take place in Oakland next weekend (Feb. 18-20), and in celebration of the event, glass company Simon Pearce, located in Mtn. Lake Park, has created and donated a special Nantucket hurricane candleholder to the Oakland B&O Station Museum Committee, which will raffle off the $475 piece during the festival. Glass artists Dwight Yoder (left) and Jeremy Lewis (at right) are pictured as they create the piece, with former Oakland mayor Asa McCain watching. The candleholder was made in Oakland and sent to a New England facility to be etched with a picture of the train station and the inscription "1884 Oakland B&O Railroad Station." (See a photo of the finished piece in this section of today's issue.) The raffle proceeds will go to the Oakland B&O Museum Committee to support the effort in which it is to become an official facility of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Museum organization. This organization operates the Round House in Baltimore and the train station in Ellicott City. Raffle tickets are available at Oakland City Hall, Proudfoot's Pharmacy, Garrett County Historical Museum, Gregg's Pharmacy, and the Helbig Insurance Agency. They will also be available during the open house at the train station during Winter Fest. The station will be open from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. on Thursday and Friday of the festival, and 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Sunday. The cost of the tickets will be $2 each or three for $5. The B&O Museum Committee is chaired by McCain and has 21 members. See story for complete schedule of Winter Fest.

Hearings' Outcomes Will Impact GC Commissioners' Power Over Turbines

Two public hearings have been scheduled that will have an "impending impact" on the Board of Garrett County Commissioners' authority over the placement of potential wind turbines, county administrator Monty Pagenhardt announced on Tuesday.

The Senate Finance Committee will hold a hearing for Sen. George Edwards' SB 252 on Tuesday, Feb. 15, at 1 p.m. in Annapolis. The proposed legislation would give the Garrett County commissioners the authority to enact ordinances regarding setbacks and the decommissioning of commercial wind turbines.

The commissioners asked Edwards and Del. Wendell Beitzel in December to introduce the legislation in this year's General Assembly session, which began last month.

Commission chair Gregan Crawford, Commissioner Bob Gatto, county administrator Monty Pagenhardt, and Director John Nelson, Garrett County Department of Planning and Land Development, plan to testify on the Board of Garrett County Commissioners' support for this enabling legislation.

A hearing for Beitzel's companion bill, HB 116, has not yet by scheduled by the House Economic Matters Committee.

Additionally, the Garrett County Planning Commission and the Board of Garrett County Commissioners have scheduled a joint public hearing for Tuesday, March 8, at 11 a.m. in the commissioners' public meeting room in the courthouse.

The purpose of this hearing is to receive public commentary on a set of proposed amendments to the 2008 Garrett County Comprehensive Plan that would recognize ridgelines as a Sensitive Area in need of protection.

Police Arrest Five More Involved In Fugitive's Escape

Five additional arrests have been made in the investigation of escaped fugitive Deandre Kelly, 29, Washington, D.C. Garrett County sheriff's deputies obtained warrants that were executed in Alexandria, Va., and Montgomery; Prince George's, and Allegany counties.

All of the following individuals are charged with conspiracy to commit first-degree escape, two counts of conspiracy to commit first-degree assault, and accessory before the fact.

Eric Mandrell Nibbins, 26, and Chiquita Annette Richardson, 27, both of Alexandria, were arrested last Wednesday by U.S. marshals and members of the Criminal Investigation Division of the Maryland State Police. They were extradited back to Garrett County the following day

Beitzel, Edwards Propose Marcellus Shale Legislation

After hearing the concerns voiced by constituents and meeting with industry groups and state officials, Del. Wendell R. Beitzel (R-Dist. 1A) and Sen. George C. Edwards (R-Dist. 1) have introduced a measure in the General Assembly regarding the establishment of regulations on Marcellus shale natural gas exploration.

"Our goal is to put in place a clear framework for permitting so the drilling and fracturing operations are properly regulated to minimize environmental risks," Beitzel said.

The proposed legislation (House Bill 411/Senate Bill 422) would require the Maryland Department of the Environment (MDE) to submit regulations to the Joint Committee on Administrative, Executive, and Legislative Review regarding natural gas exploration and production in the Marcellus shale formation no later than Dec. 31.

"Gov. O'Malley spoke today (Feb. 3) of the need to streamline the permitting process without compromising our environment," Edwards said. "This bill is accomplishing the exact balance the governor spoke of in his State of the State."

The bill outlines a number of issues that MDE would have to address. These issues include requirements relating to the following:

1. A water testing plan to ensure drinking water resources are protected, including requirements for surface well casing, grouting, and inspections.

2. The containment and disposal of fluid used in hydraulic fracturing processes.

3. The identification of all chemicals and materials used in hydraulic fracturing processes.

4. Prohibiting the unregulated discharge of drilling materials and fluids into streams, ponds, and other bodies of water for which the discharge has not been approved by the department.

5. Site reclamation and bonding.

The Marcellus shale runs from West Virginia to New York and is located in Garrett and Allegany counties.

The House Environmental Matters Committee will hold a hearing for HB 411 on Wednesday, Feb. 23, at 1 p.m. in Annapolis.

The Senate Education, Health and Environmental Affairs Committee has not yet scheduled a hearing for SB 422.

Natural Gas Extraction Debate Heating Up At The State House

by Kerry Davis
Capital News Service

ANNAPOLIS – A bill that would effectively impose a hold on natural gas drilling in western Maryland until further studies are completed will be introduced today in the House of Delegates.

It follows an opposing bill filed Friday that aims to force the Maryland Department of the Environment to approve or deny permits for a type of natural gas drilling known as hydraulic fracturing, or "fracking," in Garrett County.

Four applications for fracking permits were filed in October 2009 by Samson Energy, which is now concentrating on one potential drill site in Garrett County. Those were the first permits for natural gas hydraulic fracturing ever filed in the state.

The Maryland Department of the Environment has not granted or denied those applications, citing potential environmental effects.

Robert Summers, the acting secretary of the department, told the House Environmental Matters Committee that none of the permits have been granted in order to ensure that all of the potential effects on the environment have been explored before allowing drilling, especially after watching ruined well water and other effects from fracking in Pennsylvania.

The former secretary of Pennsylvania's Department of Conservation and Natural Resources cautioned the committee to proceed care-

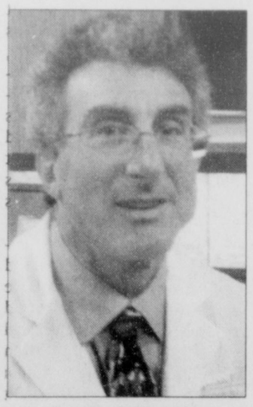
GOING PINK AT THE WVU COLISEUM – A Pink Zone event took place at the West Virginia University women's basketball game Saturday, during which a number of Garrett Countians, joined by Morgantown, W.Va., residents and WVU students, took to the floor to perform the Pink Zone dance. The purpose of the event was to raise awareness about breast cancer, and to fundraise for the Kay Yow Cancer Fund, the official charity of the Women's Basketball Coaches' Association. Local residents Brenda Brosnihan and Lesa Whittamore, founders of Get Inspired Events, headed up the celebration at the coliseum, and trained the women of the team how to do the dance as well. A video of that training was shown to the crowd on the "Jumbotron" before the local dancers took to the floor, some of whom are pictured above. The video can be viewed on YouTube at www.youtube.com/watch?v=G8MlrnbrL3s. See additional photos in this section of today's paper. The efforts will continue this weekend as the Get Inspired crew will head up another halftime performance at a University of Maryland women's basketball game on Sunday, Feb. 13, at the Comcast Center. The game begins at 2 p.m. The Northern Husky girls' basketball team will also host a Pink Zone night on Feb. 14. See story and pictures on the sports pages. Photo by Pete Brosnihan.

Dr. Bernstein Joins Mountain Laurel Medical Center



JEFFREY BERNSTEIN

Dr. Jeffrey Bernstein has joined the Mountain Laurel Medical Center as a health care provider, CEO Beth Little-Terry announced this week.

"We are delighted to have Dr. Bernstein join us to share his knowledge, experience, expertise, and compassionate care to our patients," Little-Terry said.

Bernstein is a long-time Maryland resident. After graduating from the Georgia Institute of Technology in 1979 with a degree in applied physics, he attended the University of Maryland Medical School, graduating in 1983. He completed a residency in family practice a Franklin Square Hospital in 1986. He has been practicing medicine for the last 25 years in the Baltimore area.

After first visiting Garrett County in 1994 for the purpose of learning to cross-country ski, Bernstein and his family became regular visitors, and in 2003 decided to purchase a second home at Deep Creek Lake. Currently, he and his wife Susan divide their time between Baltimore and Deep Creek. They have two grown sons.

"Dr. Bernstein is particularly interested in health maintenance and exercise to maintain wellness," Little-Terry said.

The doctor has completed two marathons and several triathlons in 2010, and has competed in the SavageMan Triathlon in Garrett County twice. Last year, he completed the Garrett County Gran Fondo, a bike ride starting at the Adventure Sports Center International (ASCI) on Marsh Mountain and traversing a 125-mile loop through Garrett County, finishing at ASCI.

Bernstein and his wife can occasionally be seen riding their tandem bike in Garrett County.

Located behind the Garrett County Health Department at 1027 Memorial Drive, Oakland, Mtn. Laurel Medical Center is available to insured and uninsured persons of all ages in Garrett County and the surrounding area. The center is open Monday through Friday from 7:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. and on Tuesdays and Thursdays until 7 p.m.

Those seeking more information regarding services or seeking an appointment with Dr. Bernstein may call 301-533-3300.

Three People Injured In Two-Vehicle Accident

Three people were taken to the Western Maryland Regional Medical Center following a two-vehicle accident on Sunday. Maryland State Police investigated the 10:45 a.m. accident at the intersection of Maple Grove Road and Tice Road.

Investigation revealed that Treva Jane Beal, 40, Grantsville, had been operating a 2002 Pontiac Grand Am west on Maple Grove Road, when she slid on the ice-covered roadway while attempting to stop at a stop sign. The vehicle was struck by a 1994 Mack tractor trailer truck driven by Gregory Scott Koontz, 56, Bedford, Pa.

Beal and two passengers were taken by Grantsville Ambulance to the Cumberland hospital for treatment of their injuries. The accident is being investigated by Tfc. Nelson of the MSP McHenry Barrack.

Winter Fest To Feature Toddler Photo Contest

The fourth annual Winter Fest in downtown Oakland, which features ice sculpting throughout the town and other events, will also once again include the Snowflake Toddler Photo Contest. Winter Fest is set for Feb. 18 to 20.

Persons may bring photographs of toddlers age 2 to 4 years to Marvin's, located at the corner of Second and Alder streets, up until the day of judging. Photos should be no smaller than 4"x6" nor larger than 8"x10".

The photos will be put on display at Marvin's next week, and people may vote for their favorite shots with one quarter per vote. The proceeds will go to the town's Main Street program. The voting will continue until noon on Saturday, Feb. 19.

The photographs earning the most votes will be declared the winners (one girl and one boy) on Saturday, Feb. 19, at 2 p.m. The two winners will each receive a $50 U.S. Savings Bond, compliments of First United Bank & Trust.

The Oakland Main Street Program and the Greater Oakland Business Association are hosting Winter Fest. The event will feature ice sculptures on display throughout the four-block area along Alder, Second, and Liberty streets, as well as several activities and events. See story in the A section of today's issue.

Humane Society To Hold Formal Wear Resale Shop Event

The Garrett County Humane Society will hold its second annual Formal Wear Resale Shop fundraiser on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, March 24–26. in the Oakland Train Station. Various new and "gently used" wedding, mother-of-the-bride, prom, and other types of formal wear will be for sale at discounted prices.

"Some of the wedding dresses we had for sale last year and this year are new and never worn," said Lisa Baker, GCHS president. "Different dresses will be put on display in a window next to Marvin's on Alder Street in Oakland over the next few weeks, so take a look or come by the shop in late March."

Interested persons may donate clean, in good condition dresses now for the sale.

"We really need some prom dresses, especially sizes 10 and up," Baker noted.

Dresses may be dropped off at the Oakland Curves Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. until 7 p.m. and on Saturdays from 8 until 11 a.m.

"There are many, many prom dresses hanging in closets that will never be worn or used, so why not donate them to help this non-profit organization," Baker said.

She noted that the GCHS is the only group that can respond to animal neglect calls in Garrett County.

"Some of the cases they have seen are not unlike what you see on TV's Animal Planet," Baker said. "In 2010, our animal control officer and investigator responded to 348 neglect calls, two of them resulting in court cases."

For more information, persons may call 301-616-2738.

Man Wanted On Court Warrants Turns Himself In

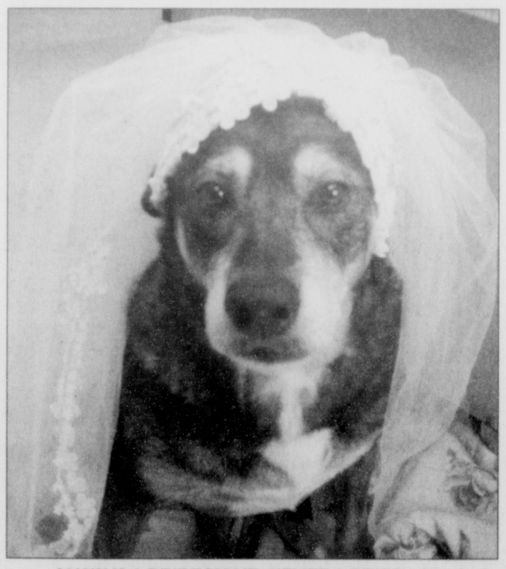
An Oakland man wanted on several District Court warrants turned himself in to the Garrett County Sheriff's Office last Monday evening.

Jace Lucas Edge, 24, was wanted on three bench warrants and two additional arrest warrants. He is charged with two counts of failure to appear, one count of violation of the conditions of probation, and four counts of uttering bad checks. He was taken before a District Court commissioner, who released him on personal recognizance, with the exception of the violation charge, for which he posted $157.50 bond.

Errors In BOE Article Noted

Last week's Board of Education article contained some regrettable inaccuracies. The funding formula used by the state to assess wealth was referred to as new, but has been in place for some time. This year's impact from the formula is much larger than in previous years. Also, Garrett County moved from 8th to 7th place in the state's ranking of per pupil wealth.

When contacted, Larry McKenzie, BOE director of finance, updated the total potential fiscal year 2012 shortfall to $3,462,950. Dr. Wendell Teets, superintendent of schools, offered the statement, "I am sure our new county commissioners are committed to PK-12 education and will do all they can to help us maintain our quality school system."



ALWAYS A BRIDESMAID, NEVER A BRIDE – Mocha is still waiting for "Mr. Right," but it can't hurt to dream. She is modeling one of the wedding veils that will be available, along with dresses, for those who are getting married this spring and summer. Various new and "gently used" wedding, mother-of-the-bride, prom, and other types of formal wear will be for sale at discounted prices at the Garrett County Humane Society's Formal Wear Resale Shop fundraiser, slated Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, March 24–26. in the Oakland Train Station. See story.

Several Burglaries Under Investigation By GC Deputies

Garrett County sheriff's deputies are investigating several area burglaries that have occurred within the past two months. It is unknown if the following cases are related.

Sometime between Dec. 3 and Jan. 24, unknown suspect(s) entered Wright's Auction House, Finzel, and removed an undisclosed amount of U.S. currency and a fireproof safe.

Sometime between Dec. 11 and Jan. 27, two burglaries are thought to have occurred at the Loch Lynn Service Station.

Deputies also responded to the 900 block of Fricks Crossing Road, Deer Park, for a burglary that occurred sometime during Monday night. Unknown suspect(s) entered the residence and stole several firearms and a lockbox containing varied amounts of collector coins.

Anyone with information regarding any of the above-mentioned incidents is asked to contact the GSCO at 301-334-1911. Callers may remain anonymous.

Garrett College Offering Intro To Voiceovers Class

Garrett College's Continuing Education and Workforce Development Division will offer a one-evening course titled "An Introduction to Voiceovers" on Tuesday, March 1, from 6 to 8 p.m.

"In just one evening, participants will learn the basics of the voiceover industry and what it takes to get started as a voice actor," said a spokesperson.

Participants will learn about the many types of voiceovers, current trends in the industry, and why a person need not live near a major city to be successful.

"Everyone in the session will receive personal coaching while reading real scripts and will be recorded to receive a professional voice evaluation later," the spokesperson said.

This class will be taught by Bob Puthoff, a professional voice actor from Voices for All, a voice acting training company.

New Maryland Census Numbers Show Garrett Population Up 251

by Steve Kilar
Capital News Service

COLLEGE PARK – Over the last decade people flocked to every corner of Maryland except one. Baltimore City lost nearly 5 percent of its population – about 30,000 people – between 2000 and 2010, according to data released Wednesday by the U.S. Census Bureau. The city now has about 621,000 residents.

The statistic shows that Garrett County's population increased by 251 over the last 10-year period.

The new data is bittersweet because although Baltimore continued to lose residents, the rate of loss seems to be leveling off, said Thomas J. Stosur, the city's planning director.

"We were not expecting to match the 2000 numbers," Stosur said. "But it is the lowest percent change – when you go decade by decade – since at least 1970. It speaks to stabilization."

The 2010 decennial census data released Wednesday is the backbone of the legislative redistricting process. But before that process begins, Maryland's data needs to be adjusted for a new legal requirement that determines the last-known residences of the state's prisoners. That adjustment is expected to be completed this spring.

Although the Maryland General Assembly does not intend to begin redrawing legislative districts until this summer – in anticipation of the 2012 elections – Baltimore City plans to use the data sooner to redraw City Council districts, said Cathy McCully, chief of the Census Bureau's redistricting data office.

Baltimore's primary is scheduled for Sept. 13, 2011.

In Maryland's other big cities, the number of residents exploded during the century's first decade.

The population of Frederick – the state's second-biggest city – increased by nearly 25 percent to more than 65,000 people.

Rockville fended off Bowie and Gaithersburg to become the state's third-largest city. The Washington suburb grew by almost 30 percent to just over 61,000 residents.

Among the state's 20 biggest cities, Easton grew the most. The Eastern Shore town swelled by more than 36 percent and now has almost 16,000 residents.

Most of Easton's growth – evidenced by a glut of building permit requests – took place in the middle of the decade and dropped off over the last three years, said Tom Hamilton, the town's planner.

A large chunk of Easton's growth – and Maryland's growth, generally – came from a burgeoning Hispanic population. People who identify as Hispanic or Latino now account for nearly 10 percent of Easton's population, up from just over 3 percent at the start of the last decade.

Maryland gained about 243,000 Hispanic residents since 2000, an increase of more than 100 percent. The Maryland data mirrors an increase in Hispanic residents across the country.

"I would like to say that there's something special about Maryland," said Kim Propeack, director of CASA in Action, a Maryland immigrant-oriented political action group. "But growth around the country has been like that."

Nearly 300,000 Hispanics now live in Montgomery and Prince George's counties – more than 60 percent of the state's total Hispanic population.

The census data suggests that Hispanics' representation in Maryland government is inadequate, Propeack said.

"In Prince George's County, Latinos are dramatically underrepresented," she said. "In Montgomery, the phenomenon is even more extreme."

Woman Charged With Burglary By MSP Troopers

A woman was arrested by Maryland State Police last Friday after she reportedly entered a Friendsville residence without permission.

Troopers arrived at approximately 4 a.m. at the Clover Lane home and identified the suspect as Alisa Marie Shafer, 31. She was charged with burglary and taken before a District Court commissioner for a bond hearing.

Tobacco Quitline Calls Surge During December, January

The Maryland Department of Health and Mental Hygiene's (DHMH) Maryland Tobacco Quitline officials have reported what they describe as a "noteworthy" spike in call volume during December and January from smokers making a "firm commitment" to quit their addiction.

From a little more than 900 calls during November 2010, Quitline callers grew to 1,320 in December and continued to climb in the New Year to 1,429 as of Jan. 25.

"The Quitline gives Maryland smokers what they need to beat their tobacco addiction," said DHMH Secretary Joshua M. Sharfstein, M.D. "Quitting isn't easy but we can help you keep that resolution on your way to a longer and healthier life."

The toll-free Quitline (1-800-QUIT NOW, 1-800-784-8669) will assist any Marylander who wants to quit tobacco with free, professional telephone-based counseling and support services, including the nicotine patch or gum.

"Phone counseling has been shown to double your chances of quitting," said a Quitline spokesperson. "Results of the Maryland Tobacco Quitline evaluation reveal that Marylanders who used the Quitline were far more successful, with quit rates seven times higher than the average rates of non-assisted quits. Quitline callers overwhelmingly (98%) reported being satisfied with the services – one reason why the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention says Maryland has the sixth lowest rate of tobacco use in the nation."

"Quitting tobacco is the most important thing a smoker can do to improve health and save money," said Frances Phillips, DHMH deputy secretary for Public Health Services. "With the Quitline, there is personalized help on the other end of the telephone as soon as you're ready."

"The Quitline has changed my life," said former Maryland smoker Robin Mirabile, a 53-year-old who has been smoke-free since Sept. 24, 2010. "I really needed to save money since I became unemployed. Smoking is expensive, but quitting can be too without insurance. I called the Quitline, and they provided free nicotine replacement therapy gum to help me quit. I have wanted to try a medication, but it was so expensive and what if it did not work or I did not know what to get or how to use it correctly? The Quitline was able to help me through the process and supply the gum and I am finally quit."

The Quitline provides free assistance by professional Quit Coaches™. Callers enrolled in the Quitline's program work with a coach during a series of up to four telephone sessions.

In conjunction with the TV media, the Quitline also ran a transit campaign with a New Year's Eve theme in Baltimore City through Jan. 9. The ads were displayed on the sides and interior cards on city buses, as well as kiosks outside Metro and Light Rail Stations.

"A new study released by the American Lung Association, conducted by researchers at Penn State University, found that helping smokers quit not only saves lives but also offers favorable economic benefits to states," the spokesperson said.

The study, "Smoking Cessation: the Economic Benefits," provides a nationwide cost-benefit analysis that compares the costs to society of smoking with the economic benefits of states providing cessation coverage. The study indicated that for every dollar spent on helping smokers quit in Maryland, the state would see a return of $1.34.

The Maryland Tobacco Quitline's hours of operation are 8 a.m. to 3 a.m. seven days a week.

For more information about the Quitline, persons may visit smokingstopshere.com.

Oakland Man Sentenced For Firearm Theft

A 39-year-old Oakland man was sentenced in Garrett County Circuit Court this week to 18 months in the Division of Corrections for theft and to five years in the DOC for possession of a firearm as a disqualified person, to be served consecutively.

Five years of Kendall Shane Lowers' sentences were suspended, and he will be on probation upon his release.

Lowers was arrested and charged on July 1, 2010, after investigators with the Garrett County Sheriff's Office determined he was the person who had stolen a 9 mm handgun from an Oakland area residence.

A review of Lowers' criminal record revealed that he has prior convictions for crimes that disqualify him from possessing a handgun, the state's attorney noted.

In another Circuit Court case this week, Damorris Lonta Rice, 31, Jonesville, S.C., pleaded guilty to possession of drug paraphernalia, to failure to maintain his log book for seven days, and to operating an overweight vehicle. Related charges were dismissed upon his plea.

Judge Jim Sherbin imposed against Rice fines and costs totaling $437. Rice was charged by Maryland State Police at the Finzel weigh station in March 2010. He was pulled out of service for the overweight violation.

Troopers subsequently reviewed Rice's log book and searched the tractor trailer he was driving, finding the remaining violations.

Thanks, Chuck...

A local resident has proven once again that with tenacity and perseverance, one person truly can make a difference for thousands of people. At least it seems that his efforts are well on the way to making a positive change for the rest of us here in Garrett County.

While many of us have complained for years about the fact that Garrett County television viewers get virtually no TV news about/from their own state of Maryland, McHenry resident Chuck Hoffeditz decided to try to do something about it. He went on what started pretty much as a one-man campaign to change that situation. He met first with the Garrett County commissioners, and then moved up the ranks, as his efforts have now led to a joint resolution that Senator George Edwards and Delegate Wendell Beitzel are sponsoring in Annapolis. The movement is also now at the federal level, with U.S. Rep. Roscoe Bartlett also supporting the resolution which pushes for the Nielsen Company to pull Garrett County from the Pittsburgh television market and place it with Maryland's. (The last time we checked, Garrett County is indeed still part of Maryland.)

One need only think back to the recent election to realize how much we in Garrett County knew about the scores of persons running for office in Pennsylvania (and whose decisions mean next to nothing to us in Maryland), and conversely how little we knew about those in our own state who were running for office (and whose decisions obviously have a relatively profound effect on us). At this point, it would probably be a mistake to remove all Pittsburgh TV stations, but it would be great if they would add a couple of Maryland stations for subscribers of DirecTV and Dish Network. At least local cable viewers have WHAG Hagerstown, but even that was lost for a few months and was restored only because so many Garrett County residents complained. We satellite folks don't even receive the Maryland Public Broadcasting station anymore.

While there seem to be more Pittsburgh than Baltimore/Washington sports fans in Garrett County, the latter group is still significant, and rarely do they get the opportunity to see their Maryland teams play on TV.

While this would obviously benefit all local full-time residents, Del. Beitzel made a good point when he noted how many thousands of our visitors throughout the year come from the Baltimore/Washington area, and must do without Maryland news as well while they are here.

It seems almost a no brainer. If Hoffeditz's effort ultimately fails, perhaps we should consider secession. Now that would garner some national attention.

To the Editor:

I have been a resident of Garrett County all my life. I live and work in Garrett County. I have a small farm where I raise a few horses, and keep to myself.

Well, a few days ago I got a visit from a couple members of the Humane Society. They had concerns about my horses, which came from "a concerned neighbor." After seeing my horses and the amount of feed I had on hand, there was no more reason for concern. So any day around 2 p.m., you're more than welcome to come on by and help me feed.

The whole point of this letter is to tell the Humane Society members to pay attention to their own problems and quit worrying about others'.

Ron Rhodes

P.S. I feed in the barn. It is winter time, in case you haven't noticed.

To the Editor:

This letter is in answer to Ella Mae Martin's in last week's paper.

Dear Ella Mae,

Those of us who are working for a moratorium for the hydraulic fracturing drilling for gas in the Marcellus shale underneath us do not want to permanently stop all drilling. A moratorium is not a ban. We do not want to stop our small (and not so small!) farmers from receiving the benefits of their resources. We do, however, want to make sure that they do not take advantage of this opportunity at our expense.

I am a resident property owner and taxpayer here, for 35 years, just like you. When I bought my property, the prior owner had already sold the gas rights and these have now been transferred to a drilling consortium. I will be drilled under, regardless of my desires in this matter, and I won't receive a penny for it. What I want is to make sure that my neighbors' drilling does not come at my expense. I do not want to lose any of the value of my property, nor do I want my well or springs disturbed, or my creek polluted. Nor do I as a taxpayer want to bear the expense of an environmental clean-up that could be avoided.

There are two ways to do this. One is to make sure that the drilling is done in the most responsible way possible. That is what the moratorium is about: holding off on granting permits until all the proper state regulations are in place. The other is to sue my neighbors and the drilling company after the damage is done; rather expensive, and not a wonderful way to build good community relationships!

Those of us who do not stand to gain anything from the Marcellus drilling should not be asked to bear any of the costs – in terms of decreased property value or in terms of environmental damage. We who are close to the drilling will bear enough in noise, disruption, road damage, and inconvenience, without having to bear more.

Sincerely,
Marilyn Moors

To the editor,

In response to last week's letter by Jon Boone I feel compelled to put forth another opinion. It is clear that this man has raved against the windmills until he's blue in the face and I'm finding my eyes rolling back in my head and the term "yada yada yada" repeating itself over and over.

Yes, I am one of those who thinks the present energy configuration is the work of established industries who have paid for more than their fair share of tax breaks and special interest deals to continue their momentum. Lord knows, we've just got to help the oil companies hang on for dear life since they only make 127 gazillion dollars after the accounting firms wipe out any fear of actually paying any substantial taxes to the benefit of our country. If you're waiting for me to feel sorry for Big Oil you best have a seat and make yourself comfortable.

No, Mr. Boone, I think you are wrong. Quoting your "facts" makes the discussion seem like a no-brainer, and your holier-than-thou attitude may only be some self-serving ploy on your part, but it does nothing for a thinking person. If you are correct, then how do you explain the wind generation that is going on worldwide? It's not just happening here in Garrett County, my friend.

No, Mr. Boone. Our problem is not with wind production. The problem is our 50-year-old outdated grid system that we have ignored at our own peril. Without the needed investment to upgrade and bring it into the 21st century, regardless of how we produce our power, it is heading for the last roundup. Remember the tree that fell in Ohio that knocked out the power in the Northeast? We're running on a flat tire just hoping for air.

We need a grid that can successfully take all types of energy production and apply it for our use. We need to make that investment or we'll just stand by and watch the Chinese pull away from us. I'd suggest we all spend some time standing under one of the windmills and get a sense of the future as we look past them to the smoking stacks of a coal-fired power plant, knowing that what's best for our children is often at odds with the status quo.

Bill Thomas

To the Editor:

As part of the recent tax bill, Congress extended until December 31, 2011, the tax law that helps all of us who are interested in protecting clean water, natural areas, and working family farms and ranches. The law enhances the federal tax benefits for landowners who donate voluntary conservation agreements to land trusts like the Maryland Environmental Trust, a statewide land trust that partners with more than 50 land trusts in Maryland. These agreements can provide a win-win solution for protecting natural resources important to our community while keeping land in productive private ownership.

Last year's bills to make this incentive permanent, H.R. 1831 and S. 812, had 274 House and 41 Senate co-sponsors from all 50 states. We laud those legislators for co-sponsoring this legislation and look forward to pursuing a permanent incentive in the new Congress.

This incentive enables land trusts to help more landowners protect resources and rural livelihoods for our children's benefit and for our community's future. In fact, in Maryland the incentive is having a real impact. Since it was first enacted in 2006, 19,080 acres of agricultural land and natural areas have been conserved statewide by MET and local land trusts.

Under previous law, modest-income landowners were able to deduct only a small portion of the value of their donation. Now, a conservation donor can deduct up to 50% of his adjusted gross income in any year (up from 30%), and, if most of his income is from farming, ranching, or forestry, he can deduct all of his income. Even more important is that he can carry-forward the remaining value of his donation for up to 16 years (previously six).

This enhanced incentive has helped land trusts across the country work with willing landowners to increase the pace of conservation by a third, to over a million acres a year. MET joins 1,700 land trusts across the country and their 2 million supporters in calling on Congress to make this important conservation tool permanent before the end of 2011.

The people of Maryland believe in protecting our family farms, forests, and wildlife habitat – part of the cultural fabric and natural resources that make our community a great place to live. Thanks to thoughtful landowners and a helping hand from Congress, we hope we will be able to conserve even more land over the next year and for many years to come.

Microsoft Excel Class Scheduled In Grantsville

Garrett College has scheduled a Microsoft Excel 1, 2007 version, course at the Northern Outreach Center, Grantsville, on Tuesdays and Thursdays, March 1–10, from 6 to 9:15 p.m.

"Attend this class to learn about the new tools that make working with spreadsheets easier and more efficient," said a spokesperson. "Commands and features that were often buried in complex menus and toolbars are now easier to find on task-oriented tabs that contain logical groups of commands and features."

For additional information, one may contact Terry Beachy, Northern Outreach Center coordinator, at 301-895-4700 or terry.beachy@garrettcollege.edu.

To register for this course, persons may call the Continuing Education and Workforce Development office at 301-387-3069.

CTE Month To Be Celebrated In Area High Schools

Students and faculty in the Career and Technology Education (CTE) programs in schools and community colleges throughout Maryland will celebrate CTE Month throughout February.

Sponsored by the Association for Career and Technology Education, the largest education association in the United States dedicated to the advancement of education that prepares youth and adults for successful careers, this year's theme is Career and Technology Education: Learning Today, Earning Tomorrow!

The theme emphasizes the important role CTE plays in preparing Maryland's students to be competitive in today's highly skilled workforce – one that demands both academic knowledge and technical skills needed to thrive in a global society and the workplace of the 21st century.

Eighteen of the 20 fastest growing occupations within the next decade will require career and technology education. Research shows that among high school graduates entering the workforce, those with a technical education background earn more than those without this advantage. CTE in Maryland provides students with the academic knowledge and essential technical skills to jump-start their future careers.

CTE students have the advantage of increasing their earning power by entering a job market early certified in their area of study, and in many cases, with industry-specific licenses. In addition, options to continue education beyond high school are in place because most CTE programs include the value-added option of articulated credit. This is when students can earn college credit through agreements with community colleges and four-year postsecondary institutions.

During the eighth grade year, all Garrett County students complete an interest survey prior to beginning the scheduling process for high school. This intensive look at occupation and education programs encourages students to explore numerous career clusters that provide a framework to make the high school experience more meaningful for stufully with fracking and learn from his state's mistakes.

"It's invasive, there's noise pollution, there's air pollution," said John Quigley, the former secretary from Pennsylvania.

"There are threats to surface and ground water. It needs to be studied more," he said.

But Delegate Wendell Beitzel, R-Garrett, believes there has been enough studying. He filed a bill that would force the Maryland Department of the Environment to either approve or deny those applications.

Among other things, the bill would require the department to explain the requirements it wants companies to meet when filing for applications. The deadline for the department to submit the guidelines would be Dec. 31.

Garrett and Allegany counties are part of the Marcellus shale formation that runs under Pennsylvania, Ohio, New York, West Virginia, and Maryland. The formation is thought to contain the largest natural gas store in the United States and is located more than a mile below the surface.

The natural gas is reached by a process of drilling that pumps water mixed with chemicals into the rock formation, releasing the gas.

Beitzel said in part he's sponsoring the bill because his own land in Garrett County is above the shale formation.

"I also own land under which it's located, and I sought to acquire a lease on it in the past to allow a company to extract a natural gas," Beitzel said.

Beitzel said that he and others in Garrett County want the drilling to be done in a safe manner, but that it's time for the state to approve or deny permits.

Another company, Chief Oil and Gas, filed applications for drilling at two sites in 2011.

A representative from Chief Oil and Gas attended the briefing in the House Environmental Matters Committee on Wednesday. Chief has natural gas wells in Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

"In almost every state there are people who choose to exaggerate the risks and become obsessed [with] opposing it," said Terry Bossert, vice-president of Government and Regulatory Affairs for Chief. "But to be fair, there are people in the industry who like to make believe that there aren't any risks [in drilling for natural gas]. The issue is balance," he said.

Delegate Heather Mizeur, D-Montgomery, will file a bill called the "Marcellus Shale Safe Drilling Act of 2011" today. The Senate bill matching it was filed last Friday.

Mizeur said it's not that she is opposed to natural gas drilling, but that more testing and guidelines should be put in place to ensure that property values and environmental concerns are completely addressed. For example, the bill would require that a company submit an environmental assessment with its application.

"There's no reason to hurry," Mizeur said. "Gas has been under the shale for millions of years. We now have a method of extracting it, but that doesn't mean we have to hurry and do it."

The Environmental Protection Agency released a draft plan this week for studying the effects of hydraulic fracturing on groundwater.

A TRIBUTE TO MY GRANDFATHER

HUBERT A. FRIEND

As I sit and think of times gone by,
I have had many a cry.
You may have been 105,
but I still ask why I ever had to say goodbye.
You lived a good, honorable life and then went to join your wife.
And as days tarry on,
how I wish you both were not yet gone.
Thanks for all the life lessons and the very many blessings.
You and Grandma were both one of a kind and oh my, what great minds.
I look forward to seeing you both again one day.
As I feel my tears continue to stray,
I know our family will be together again and am reminded everything will then be okay.

In Loving Memory,
Tiffany Fratz

Notes From Bittinger

by Joan Glotfelty Sussman

The relentless winter seems somewhat moderated. Today, my view out my window still looks like genuine Bittinger, but no new snow is falling and no wind is blowing. The thermometer is somewhere in the 30s.

I can't say I minded hearing that Texas and Oklahoma are getting a real winter for once. And the present storm located there will reach across the South through the Carolinas, then go out to sea, not turning into another nor'easter. New York and Boston may see their temperatures climb into the 40s. Sounds pretty good to me.

But one thing that's not great in the Bittinger area is the icy layers, making our lanes and walkways into our houses simply dangerous. But that's what happens when warmer temperatures are followed by cold nights, and often leading to the deadly threat of black ice on our roads. The best idea is to drive like you do not have functioning brakes, which means slowly.

I was delighted to hear that Ford may have to add a third shift to meet the demands for its vehicles. That would add many thousands of jobs around Detroit. Many of those vehicles are hybrid, using both gasoline and other power sources like electricity, or other kinds of fuels.

Although the groundhog at Gobbler's Knob did not see his shadow, which allegedly means an early spring, I doubt it.

Some in Congress hope to destroy the Environmental Protection Agency because they believe its regulations are contrary to business interests. Maybe that is somewhat true. But a study showed that many pregnant women had high levels of very toxic chemicals, including one used to harden plastic. This can cause significant harm in prenatal brain development.

It's not cigarettes that are the biggest cause of cancer. That belongs to asbestos, which took my stepfather Dino DiPaolo, who worked many years in the Baltimore shipyards where asbestos was an essential material. And often the spouses of the workers in the trade developed cancer as a result of second hand exposure to asbestos. That includes Dino's first wife, who died of cancer.

It is pretty common to see fights break out in hockey games, but it is a little unusual to see two goalies exchange punches. But our Penguins goalie put away the goalie from New York's team with one punch. Anyway, the Penguins did win the game.

Egypt is certainly a strange situation, since it experienced almost 8percent economic growth in the last couple of years. But I believe Obama's speech in Cairo a couple of years ago prevented us from seeing the burning of American flags. So it is not an uprising against American influence in Egypt. But it seems unwise that protestors attacked the greatest museum in the world, because it is home to some of the most wonderful pieces of art and history from the Pharaoh's era. And the most important part of Egypt's economy is tourism.

I wrote before about the sorrow I felt at the endless screaming of fire trucks stuck on Rock Lodge Road trying to reach a bad fire at the Opel farm up the road a number of years ago, which was the result of thunder snow. It resulted in two deaths: Annie Opel and her strong son Simon died while he was trying to get his mother out. That was one of the most tragic events in Bittinger area history.

But thunder snow is never good news anywhere, because it comes with massive snowfall. And any electrical storm comes with lightning strikes that can cause fires.

But that is not what we are facing now in the first week of February, just light snow and very cold conditions. It seemed pleasant on Wednesday when the thermometer climbed all the way to 41 degrees. But sadly, that did not last very long.

I listened to our president talk about his personal Christian faith. Although he didn't grow up in a regular church-attending family, he soon heard the messages of a pastor – the leaders of the Civil Rights movement like Martin Luther King Jr. and also other ones. What he heard in their words were his most fundamental values: Our lives should be devoted to addressing the many problems people have, like those who are homeless, hungry, without access to medical care, the poor people, and those who live in fear of crime.

When he was elected our president, he tried to solve those problems, and even if he was "the most powerful man in the world," he felt helpless to meet their needs and to comfort and solve their problems. He turned to prayer, because our God is a loving God, loving all children of any kind and sending some deliverance from the multiple problems they are facing. Of course, he prayed for peace, and that God would give him the wisdom and strength for his difficult job and thus bless America.

Although Egypt's situation is scary, it is not as scary as that of Yemen, where almost all the citizens are "armed and dangerous." Imagine if the almost one million protestors in that square in Cairo were carrying their own handguns.

I guess most Americans were watching what was going on in Dallas since that was where the Super Bowl was on Sunday, Feb. 6. A couple of days before the big game, Dallas looked more like the cities of Green Bay and Pittsburgh, who sent their teams to fight for the biggest prize in professional football. Both cities have just always had severe winter weather. But that wasn't a problem in Dallas, either, even though there was a rare winter blast. The Super Bowl was played inside the Cowboys' indoor stadium.

The unusual winter did cause some major headaches for Dallas, like the fact that many fans couldn't get there since many airlines couldn't land. Lots of businesses were getting ready

NHS STUDENTS DONATE TO RONALD MCDONALD HOUSE — The Northern High School student service class has recently donated to the Ronald McDonald House in Morgantown, W.Va. The students collected 300 pounds of soda can pop tabs to donate to the house. In the effort, teachers, parents, and students all saved their used tabs and brought them to the school to be donated. The project, under the direction of teacher Barbara Law, is ongoing and will continue all year. Pictured above, from left to right, are participating students Alex Anderson, Carlos Howard, and Devin Francillon seen here counting some of the collected pop tabs.

Farming On The Mountaintop

Deadline For AIR Report Set For March 1

Farmers required by law to have a Nutrient Management Plan are required to file an Annual Implementation Report (AIR) with the Maryland Department of Agriculture (MDA) by March 1.

The report for 2010 has been changed to include more information about crop nutrients used from manure applications. Producers will be asked to calculate the pounds of nitrogen, phosphorus, and potassium used to produce each crop. The information can be obtained from the producer's nutrient management plan under the fertilizer/manure recommendations section.

Instructions, as well as an on-line submission form are available on the MDA web site at www.mda.state.md.us/resource_conservation/nutrient_management/air.php.

Producers needing assistance with completing the form are asked to contact Keith Potter at the Regional Nutrient Management office in Cumberland at 301-772-9193.

Local assistance will also be available through the University of Maryland Extension Office on Maryland Highway. Persons may contact the extension office at 301-334-6960.

4-H Club News

NORTH STAR
by Isaac Brenneman, reporter

The North Star 4-H Club held its regular meeting on Jan. 11 at the Accident Fire Department. Kathryn Kitzmiller, vice president in 2010, called the meeting to order. There were five members, three Clovers, four pre-Clovers, four leaders, and one parent present.

The program was about planning for the new year and the election of officers. Kathryn Kitzmiller was elected president; Isaac Brenneman, vice president and secretary/reporter; and Sandra Kitzmiller, treasurer, who will train Dalton Kitzmiller for the office. Jason Sines is the newest member.

Kitzmiller reported on the Christmas dinner and awards presentation. Announcements were made concerning record books that were due.

The North Star 4-H Club met at Par-Matt Lanes in Mtn. Lake Park on Jan. 30 for a bowling party. There were five members, five Clovers, one pre-Clover, four leaders, and five parents present.

Following the bowling activity, the group had a short meeting to discuss the treasurer situation, then voted to have Sandra Kitzmiller take the office.

The group also discussed the next community project of making valentine baskets for Goodwill Home.

FRIENDSVILLE NEWS

FITNESS AFTER 50

Fitness Center Takes to the Great Outdoors

The Flowery Vale Health & Fitness Center, located in Accident, is now offering opportunities for members and other older adults in the community to enjoy a variety of outdoor activities throughout the year. In addition to offering regularly scheduled fitness classes and activities, the center also schedules off-site activities, such as hiking, biking, horseback riding, snow tubing, cross-country skiing, etc.

The off-site activities were initially offered as special events in response to Active Aging Week in September 2010; however, facility staff believe the activities provide an opportunity for individuals to explore new recreational activities with other older adults while remaining or becoming more physically fit.

"Oftentimes, people think about engaging in a new fitness routine, such as biking or learning cross-country skiing, but are hesitant to get started or don't want to engage in the activity alone," stated a center spokesperson. "By providing these offerings to members and others in the community, we hope to alleviate these barriers and help improve the physical health of the county's over-50 population."

During the month of February, snowshoeing and snow tubing are scheduled, and snowshoeing and biking are on March's calendar of off-site activities. Persons need not be members of the fitness center to participate in any of the scheduled activities; however, all must register and sign a waiver. Some fees may apply. To register for the activities or obtain additional information, persons may telephone Tiffany at 301-746-8050.

The center is open Monday through Thursday from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m., and on Friday from 9 a.m. until 5:30 p.m. There is a daily usage fee or monthly membership fee. Anyone age 50 or older is welcome to become a member.

The center promotes the Garrett County Community Action Committee strategy of providing older adults with lifelong learning and recreational opportunities, thereby increasing the number of families and individuals who are able to live independently.

Town Hall

FRIENDSVILLE

The results of the town election held on Feb. 8 are as follows: Thomas L. Fike, 35 votes, Cathern House, 61, Julia Sines, 58, Pamela Humberson, write-in, 48. There were two other write-in candidates who received three votes total. Incumbents House and Sines and newly elected member Pamela Humberson will be sworn in at the March 7 meeting of the mayor and town council. They will each serve a two-year term.

A public meeting will be held on Tuesday, Feb. 22, beginning at 6 p.m. at the town hall. The meeting will be concerning the possible deeding of the town parking lot to the Friendsville Volunteer Fire and Rescue Department. The public is invited to attend. The regular mayor and town council meeting will be held at 7 p.m. following the public meeting.

OAKLAND

The Oakland town election will be held on Monday, March 14, with the polls open from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Three council members are to be elected. The terms expire for council members Harvey "Jay" Moyer, Jack Riley, and Ryan Wolf. Those now serving are Mayor Margaret Jamison, and council members Elmer "Butch" Redinger, John "Jack" Rickman, and Sherwin Teagarden. The last day to file is Monday, Feb. 28, at 4 p.m.

Any resident of Oakland age 18 or older may register to vote in the municipal election at Oakland City Hall during regular office hours until 4:30 p.m. on Friday, March 4. The town maintains a separate register of voters; however, those who registered at the Board of Elections after Jan. 1, 1990, and are residents of Oakland, are automatically qualified to vote in the municipal election. Applications for absentee ballots can be obtained at the town hall.

Evening Program Slated At Hickory Environmental Ctr.

The Hickory Environmental Education Center will have an evening program on Thursday, Feb. 17, from 5 to 8:30 p.m.

The center's residential program will be discussed, and a planetarium show – "Planets, Comets, and the Night Sky" – will be presented at 7 p.m.

The show examines the winter sky through the "naked eye" and telescopes, and NASA's Venus, Mars, and Saturn missions. Constellations and the composition of comets and meteors will also be examined.

Cake Decorating Course Slated At G'ville Senior Ctr.

Garrett College's Continuing Education and Workforce Development Division has scheduled a hands-on course titled "Cake Decorating I – Discover Cake Decorating." Classes will be held on Wednesdays, March 2 to 23, from 1 to 3 p.m. at the Grantsville Senior Center.

Instruction will be given in the basics of cake decorating – icing, preparing the bags, cake preparation, the three essentials of decoration, tips, coloring the icing, star fill-in, basic borders, writing and printing, shell border, figure piping, leaves and vines, and the Wilton rose.

The instructor, Bonnie Goebel, will decorate a cake during the first lesson and show the equipment that is to be purchased for the succeeding lessons.

Students will bring cakes to class to decorate for the last three weeks of the course.

A supply list is available upon registration. For additional information, persons may contact Terry Beachy, Northern Outreach Center coordinator, at 301-895-4700 or terry.beachy@garrettcollege.edu.

To register for this course, one may call 301-387-3069.

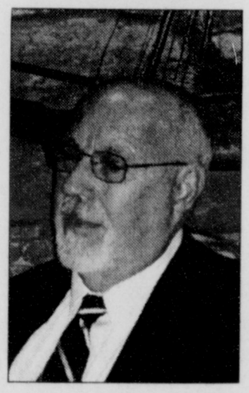
McGee To Give Organ Recital In Hagerstown



Gerald F. McGee, Deep Creek Lake, will give an organ recital at St. John's Lutheran Church in Hagerstown on Feb. 20, beginning at 4 p.m. The church is located at 141 S. Potomac Street.

Works of Sibelius, Messiaen, Franck, Mendelssohn, Bach, Mahler, Foote, and Cook will be presented in the program on an M.P. Möller pipe organ. Admission is by donation, with proceeds to benefit the Discovery Station of Hagerstown. The station is currently preparing an exhibit detailing the M.P. Möller factory and installations.

A native of western Pennsylvania, McGee graduated from Westminster College, New Wilmington, Pa., with a degree in organ performance and church music. He attended Union Theological Seminary's School of Sacred Music in New York City and earned a master of sacred music degree, majoring in organ and choral conducting.

He also pursued post-graduate study in performance practices at both Washington University in St. Louis and the University of Washington in Seattle. His organ teachers have included Raymond Ocock, Anton Heiller, Robert Baker, Donald McDonald, and Carole Terry.

Among the positions he has held are head of the music department and school organist, Mary Institute in St. Louis; organist and choirmaster, St. David's (Radnor) Episcopal Church in Wayne, Pa.; cathedral musician, St. Luke's Cathedral, Portland, Maine; lecturer in music, Bowdoin College; municipal organist, Portland, Maine; and associate organist, St. Paul Cathedral, Pittsburgh, Pa.

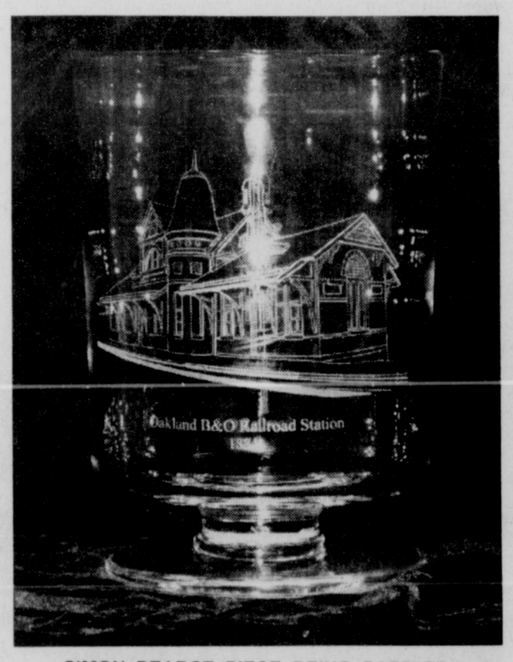
For the past 12 years he has been the organist and music director at both St. John's and St. Matthew's Episcopal churches in Garrett County.

He also has been active in the American Guild of Organists and is presently the sub-dean of the Cumberland Valley chapter.

His hobbies include boating, pottery, and bagpiping. As a piper he is the pipe major emeritus of the Garrett Highlands Pipes and Drums.

His recital at St. John's Lutheran Church will be a repeat of a program presented at West Point in September 2010.

AES PRESENTS DANCING CLASSROOMS – Accident Elementary School's fifth grade students recently presented their culminating performance for Dancing Classrooms Western Maryland, for which they have been practicing for 10 weeks. The performance, which is the focal point of the in-residency program, was given in the school cafeteria for the students' families, school staff, and fellow students. "It was a very special day for the children as it was their opportunity to share with their school, family, and friends the skills and etiquette they have mastered over the 10-week, 20-lesson session," said DCWM instructor Jennifer Christophel (in the rear of the photo with teacher Angie Rush). This is the second year that Accident Elementary has hosted and participated in the program. The school is continually looking for sponsors to help fund the Dancing Classrooms program in the two fifth grade classrooms. Those interested in helping should contact principal Karen Devore at 301-746-8863. "Dancing Classrooms is a non-profit 501(c)(3), Arts in Education program which serves as a social development program for fifth and eighth grade children utilizing the art of ballroom dancing to not only have a positive effect on the lives of the children, but those who support them."



SIMON PEARCE PIECE BEING RAFFLED – As part of the many activities of the fourth annual Winter Fest in Oakland, set for Feb. 18-20, raffle tickets may be purchased for the Simon Pearce piece pictured. The Nantucket hurricane candleholder was made specially for a fundraising raffle to benefit the B&O Museum Committee. The piece was created at Simon Pearce by glass artists Dwight Yoder and Jeremy Lewis. See more information under the related photo on page A-1. Raffle tickets are available at Oakland City Hall, Proudfoot's Pharmacy, Garrett County Historical Museum, Gregg's Pharmacy, and the Helbig Insurance Agency. They will also be available during the open house at the train station during Winter Fest. The station will be open from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. on Thursday and Friday of the festival, and 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Sunday. The cost of the tickets will be $2 each or three for $5.

WHAT A DIFFERENCE A DOG MAKES
by Dana Jennings
C. 2010, Doubleday, $19.95; 128 pages
Review by Terri Schlichenmeyer

You've had colds before. Plenty of 'em, but this year's was the worst.

Oh, sure, you had the usual stuffy runniness and the congested everything. But this year, you couldn't think, you couldn't move, and you surely couldn't work. This year's cold laid you out flat, and all the pharmaceuticals on Earth weren't going to fix it.

Fortunately, you had the best medicine in the world, and it arrived in a furry body that seemed to understand that you were ailing. In the new book What a Difference a Dog Makes by Dana Jennings, you'll read about the life and times of another fuzzy-headed soother.

When Owen Jennings was just 8 years old, he wanted a dog more than anything. The Jennings family had already tried the hamster-gerbil-lizard route, with varying degrees of success – mostly bad – but Owen persisted, sneaking dog references into nearly every conversation.

So, after a disastrous trial with a rescue dog, the family brought home a curly black miniature poodle puppy they named Bijou de Minuit.

Bijou loved Owen, but she reserved her Happy Dance for Jennings' wife Deb. The pooch quickly learned who was a soft touch at the dinner table. She loved chasing rabbits and getting her belly scratched, but she hated to be picked up. She had an uncanny ability to sense when you might wake her up, and she growled in her sleep. Her greetings were never filled with kisses; Bijou always went for a good "Hello" ear sniff.

But that was only part of being a beloved family pet. Bijou was also a healer.

When Owen Jennings was a senior in high school, his liver inexplicably failed. He recovered in time to graduate, but it was a scary period for the family.

Then Dana Jennings was diagnosed with aggressive prostate cancer.

Through both illnesses, the family was aided by a furry presence that seemed to know when she was needed. It was a balm to roll over and find her curled body. Sometimes, she just came into the room to reassure herself and her patient. She brought "normal" back to the Jennings household, and that made all the difference.

All right, so you're probably thinking that this is a sad book with a sad ending, right?

Nope. What a Difference a Dog Makes is filled with love, adjustment, and family memories, and it's hilarious.

Author Jennings doesn't dwell on illness in this book. He touches upon it, then turns away repeatedly. This isn't a book about being sick; it's about pets, and Jennings does a great job in writing about them. There is laughter in this book, and lots of it. There are tears (would you expect anything less?). And there's a story that dog lovers will surely identify with. What more could you want in a shaggy tale?

Though it's less than 150 pages, this book is packed with something for all kinds of animal lovers. If you're looking for good cold-weather reading, What a Difference a Dog Makes will leave you warm.

SHS STUDENT WINS STATE ESSAY CONTEST – Brandi Lathbury, a sophomore at Southern High School, recently was named the winner of the Investwrite Essay contest. The contest, which is sponsored by the SIFMA Foundation, is for students who compete in the Stock Market Game. Southern High School teacher Lisa Bender annually incorporates the game into her economics classes. Lathbury is pictured above center with assistant vice principal Brooks Elliott (left) and Bender (right). See story for details.

SHS Sophomore Writes Winning Economics Essay For State Contest

Brandi Lathbury, a sophomore in Lisa Bender's Southern High School economics class, recently submitted the winning entry in the Investwrite Contest for the state of Maryland. She will be recognized by the Maryland Council for Economic Education at a ceremony in Timonium on Wednesday, May 25.

The contest, which is sponsored by the SIFMA (Securities Industry and Financial Markets Association) Foundation, is for students competing in the Stock Market Game academic competition. Bender annually incorporates the Stock Market Game in her economics class.

Bender uses the Investwrite essay prompt as a summative assessment for all her students at the end of the unit of study on the securities industry. As the classroom teacher, she serves as the first of many judges to review essays written by students to address a financial scenario. Each teacher can then submit five top essays to the national contest. Three national winners are selected, and then each state announces its top winner selected by the national team of judges who hail from the investment industry.

This year's Investwrite essay prompt asked students to assume the role of an investment advisor for a young couple in their late 20s who are beginning to think about investing for their future. Students had to craft an essay response that made specific suggestions to this couple about investment choices of stocks, bonds, and mutual funds, as well as specific companies they recommended for both short- and long-term investing decisions. Students also had to include explanations of why things like PE ratios, risk and reward, and compound interest are important components of investing philosophies.

"I find incorporating student contests into the curriculum is a great way to raise their learning to the next level," said Bender. "With a competitive contest, students know they are writing for an entirely new adult audience that will score their work. They become more fully engaged in the topic, and through research and final revisions of their work, cognitive learning is enhanced."

SOUTHERN HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS EARN 1800 CLUB DISTINCTION —Three Southern High School students were inducted into the 1800 Club recently. In order to earn membership into the 1800 Club a student must score an 1800 or above on his/her SAT. The high school offers after-school SAT test preparation, as well as an in-school SAT prep course, to help assist students in preparing for the test. From left are administrative coordinator Brooks Elliott, freshman Rachael Huxford, junior Emily Huxford, and senior Ian Jobe.

RAM Notes

TWO-HOUR DELAY REMINDER

Staff, students, and parents are reminded to continue to monitor the status of schools after a two-hour delay has been issued. The Board of Education uses a two-hour delay for the following reasons: It allows more time for the county and state road departments to improve the conditions of the roads, and it gives the Board of Education Transportation Department more time to determine the day's weather trends, and to deal with any buses that might have gelled fuel. While the Board of Education normally does not make changes to the two-hour delay schedule, there are times when it may cancel school, or make further school schedule adjustments. These schedule adjustments will be announced in a timely fashion.

TRACK AND FIELD MEETING

An organizational meeting for track and field will be held Tuesday, Feb. 15, after school. The girls will meet in Coach Cosner's room and the boys will meet in the media center.

SENIOR CLASS REMINDERS

All Sheetz money and/or books need to be turned in no later than Feb. 11. Also, seniors who have not picked up their panoramic pictures must do so by the same date. Several seniors still have not paid for or picked up the senior class clothing they have ordered. This is an obligation that must be met prior to graduation.

BASEBALL MEETING

There will be a baseball meeting on Thursday, Feb. 17, at 3:20 p.m. in the cafeteria. This is a mandatory meeting, and anyone wanting to play varsity or jayvee baseball must attend.

FAFSA ASSISTANCE

Those interested may receive help filing the FAFSA in the computer lab, Room 1193, at the high school. Dates and times are: Thursday, Feb. 10, at 3:30 p.m.; Monday, Feb. 14, at 7 p.m.; Wednesday, Feb. 23, at 3:30 p.m. and 7 p.m.

OAKLAND MASONIC GRANT APPLICATION DUE TO GUIDANCE BY MARCH 1

A $500 scholarship provided by the Oakland Masonic Lodge will be awarded to one graduating senior of Southern High School. Applicants will be evaluated on the following criteria: resume, scholastic achievement, need for financial assistance, participation in extra curricular activities, and high school recommendation. Applications are available in the Guidance Office.

MASONIC CHARITIES OF MARYLAND APP. DUE TO GUIDANCE BY MARCH 1 (with $1.00 for transcript)

A $1,000 scholarship provided by the Masonic Charities of Maryland will be awarded to one Garrett County high school senior to be used toward expenses at an accredited two- or four-year college or technical school. Consideration requires the completion of an essay application and a submitted transcript. The individual selected will display his/her commitment to public service and extra curricular activities, scholastic achievement, and financial need, as well as submit a strong resume.

Adorable Adoptables

CANINES NEED SOME TLC – Several canines are currently housed at the Garrett County Animal Shelter. They include a male beagle (above left) without ID tags that was picked up in Crellin, a small, white female (above right) whose owner recently died, and two border collies (below) who were given up by their owners. "They spent their whole lives tied outside and will need some time and tender loving care," noted a Humane Society spokesperson about the collies. These and other pets are available for adoption at the local shelter and other area facilities in Maryland and West Virginia. One dog was reclaimed and two dogs and several cats were adopted last week at the local shelter. "Straw is still available for outside dog boxes, courtesy of the GCHS," the spokesperson said. "The bales are under the tarp in front of the shelter. Please only take part of a bale and cover up the pile when you leave. Remember to give your outside pets fresh water several times a day and make sure they can get out of the wind and snow. Provide warm shelter for all outside animals, including rabbits, horses, and cats." For more information, persons may call the shelter at 301-334-3553. Located along Oakland Sang Road, the facility is open Monday through Friday.

Some Americans are not experiencing money problems. Not if many of them could drop several thousand dollars for the weekend trip, including the cost of the flight, hotel rooms, tickets, meals, and other entertainment. But most Americans could watch it at home.

Saturday, Feb. 5, was my brother Barry's 52nd birthday. And I watched some fluffy snowflakes drift down. I guess we are in for another real winter storm next week. It is already way too icy.

I can't believe that the John Birch Society still exists! And it is still saying the same thing as it did in the 1950s, advocating any kind of racism. I remember when I was an early teen, I read a book published by that society. I remember my reaction to it: This can't be real, and no one could seriously believe this garbage. It was very close to what you would expect from the KKK, and it didn't seem connected to the America I lived in.

I heard about a new business that achieved some success. It was to advertise on the Internet and ask people to send them their old T-shirts, then put them together to make a blanket. Of course, the labor to sew the old T-shirts was probably outsourced, so a few people in India or China get a job sewing together pieces of old T-shirts. Maybe that would be a positive development for them. But look at what kind of impact it would have on the American economy. My calculations come up with zero. As for economical impact, I can't think of any more worthless plan to contribute to American economic growth.

I have a better use for old worn-out T-shirts. Use them for cleaning. Most people use paper towels, and shirts are almost endlessly reusable, until you clean up a really ugly mess. Then they can just be thrown away.

I was glad when the seemingly endless pre-game show was almost over. At last, I heard the words I was waiting to hear... here are the Pittsburgh Steelers! But then there was more pre-game stuff to get through.

Finally, Pittsburgh was to receive first. They did not look as good as usual. But the young quarterback from Green Bay showed much poise. He was ignored by the Division I football programs. His only college play was at a community college. Now here he is at the Super Bowl and able to score the first touchdown pass. And then it just got worse: two intercepted passes.

And then we had the halftime show, which is never terribly entertaining for me. And this year's was as bad as usual, with lots of space-age costumes and lots of smoke and lights. Halftime shows are just something to endure.

Could the second half be as bad as either thing so far? It is hard to believe. But it is not pleasant to watch a Super Bowl alone, especially when your players are not even close to their normal quality of play.

I can't believe how I am feeling at 6:30 a.m. on the Monday after the Super Bowl. But I really struggled to stay up to the end of the game. I kept hoping a miracle would happen and help the lukewarm Steelers to make a comeback in the second half. But the best that they could do was bring the score to within six points. They got as close as three points when they were able to score a touchdown pass to Hines Ward and then get two extra points. But then, almost unbelievably, Mendenhall fumbled. I never saw that before.

Then the Cheeseheads scored another touchdown. It was very depressing. For the first time, I had to watch my Steelers lose a Super Bowl. And it was not that fun to go to bed, especially alone at a little after 10 p.m., which is unheard of for me anymore.

I got a sad phone call from Caitlin commiserating with me. That was one bright spot after 10 o'clock. But then my sleep was fragmented and not deep. So I just got up way too early. Probably not early enough for Boo, who was standing sadly on my front porch.

Wow, a baby born just before the Super Bowl weighed 13 pounds! It was hard enough to give birth to normal-sized babies of almost seven pounds. That is twice as big as my girls were. I can't believe his mother survived. But it is not the size of the baby's body that makes it hard to deliver. It is the size of its head. My babies did not have unusually large heads, so their heads didn't mold into a kind of cone-head. They were very beautiful newborns.

One of the happiest times in my life was when I had a newborn baby in my house. And my babies were simply beautiful and had very pleasant personalities. Well, Claire sometimes got a little cranky when her parents tried to eat dinner. But that was fixed by one of my former students who came over and put our baby swing together. I am a little ashamed to admit that product directions were almost impossible for me to understand.

I lent my copy of Roberto Clemente's biography, The Great One, to one of Meredith's classmates from the college. But she met the most sweet, lovely young African-American who wore his hair in a tiny braid. He was one of the nicest kids I ever met. He once ate dinner at my home, and asked if he could say a prayer before we ate. He was such a promising young man, and exactly the kind of boy who completes his education.

But last year sometime, he got arrested with a small amount of pot. Probably one once, which around here qualifies as intent to distribute, which is ridiculous. He wasn't a real drug dealer at all. I would bet all my money (not much) on that. But our court system convicted him and sentenced him to three years in the state prison.

I know his mother must be worried sick about him, because she sent him up here to get him out of the somewhat ghetto neighborhood so he wouldn't get into trouble or get killed. But I can hardly even sleep knowing he is in a scary state prison. He is vulnerable there, because I'm sure he will be the prey of real criminals.

The sentence he got is just wrong! I must help him in some way. The only thing I can think of is to go to Governor O'Malley and try to convince him to give him a pardon. I have no idea whether that is even remotely possible, but it would be the right thing. He isn't a dangerous criminal, unless prison made him into that.

Pastor Randy Richardson of the Bittinger Lutheran Paris is one of the leaders of a spiritual retreat being planned by the West Virginia/Western Maryland Synod March 2-4. The retreat will be at the Huttonsville Retreat Center, and the theme is confession and forgiveness. Anyone interested in attending should contact the pastor this week.

Altar flowers at Emmanuel Lutheran Church last Sunday were given by the Women of the ELCA to thank Mike and Judy Simpson for the donation of new basket vases.

Order forms for altar flowers at Emmanuel for the upcoming year have been distributed. It is requested that these forms be returned to Jenny Hady by Sunday, March 6.

The audit committee of the Bittinger Lutheran Parish will meet on Sunday, Feb. 27, at 2 p.m. at Emmanuel. All treasurers are asked to submit their books for audit.

Thomas Named To Community Bankers Council

BRIAN THOMAS

The American Bankers Association has selected Brian F. Thomas, Clear Mountain Bank president and CEO, to serve on the ABA America's Community Bankers Council.

"My goal as a community banker is to help grow our local economy by serving hardworking families and businesses," Thomas said. "This national appointment supports that goal by giving me an opportunity to influence policy decisions made in Washington that will affect communities across West Virginia."

Composed of approximately 85 bankers from across the nation, the council meets twice a year to advise the association on issues affecting the nation's community banks and their customers. The first meeting of the 2010–2011 council was held Nov. 8–10, 2010, in Washington, D.C.

Council members focused on the future of community banks and the impact of the recently passed financial regulatory reform on their local banks. They also weighed in on current concerns for the industry, including proposed accounting rule changes, new capital market business solutions, and improved systems to control fraud.

In addition, bankers met with representatives from their regulatory agencies, including the FDIC, Federal Reserve Board, Office of the Comptroller of the Currency, and Office of Thrift Supervision.

Members of the council are from financial institutions that have generally under $1 billion in assets and are appointed by the ABA chairman.

Thomas has been with Clear Mountain Bank for 22 years and serves on the boards of several local charitable organizations.

Clear Mountain Bank is a locally owned and managed community bank serving Monongalia, Preston, and Garrett (Md.) counties.

RECYCLING SATURDAY

Recycling Saturday will be this Saturday, Feb. 12, at Aurora School from 9 to 11 a.m. Plastic items (marked with a #1 or #2), metal cans, papers, newspapers, magazines, catalogs, and cardboard are all accepted.

SOUPER MEAL

The total sum raised at the Souper Bowl dinner at St. Paul's Lutheran church on Sunday was over $300, which will benefit an area food pantry. Many soups, sandwiches, and desserts were offered to the public.

GRADUATION

Tim Harsh has returned to his Lancaster, Pa., home after spending the fall semester in Boston, Mass., where he completed his studies and thesis. He graduated with a master of science degree in engineering and management from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

A graduate of Bryant College in Rhode Island, Tim is the son of Wade and Mary Harsh, Eglon. He is employed by Blackrock Financial Services in its Wilmington, Del., offices. Blackrock is headquartered in New York City, where Time has also worked.

MATH TRAINING

Aurora School will host a math training session for teachers and parents of students in grades K through 5 with a trainer from the Everyday Math Program that is currently being used in Preston County.

The training will be held in the school library on Wednesday, Feb. 16, at 3:15 p.m. for teachers and 7 p.m. for parents. This training will give parents information about how the program is organized, how they need to reinforce it at home, and what extra resources are available for them through the program.

Those planning to attend should RSVP to the school office by Monday, Feb. 14, or 304-735-378 or via e-mail at auroracoordinator@yahoo.com.

PERSONAL

Rosa Ina Harsh was admitted to Garrett County Memorial Hospital after becoming ill last week.

Tom and Jennifer Teets, Alexandria, Va., were weekend visitors with his parents, Mark and LaDeana Teets, Amboy. They joined other young adults on Saturday for sled riding at the home of Daniel and Crystal Spaid, Eglon.

Barbara and Jerry Hauser were expected to return to their Cash Valley home on Wednesday. Both are recuperating from surgeries and have been staying with their son, Brent Hauser and his family in Terra Alta.

Word from Harmony Frantz is that the doctors feel she is making good progress although it is not certain whether she'll need more treatment at a later date.

Janet Knight Alstead continues a slow road to recovery. She is responding slightly better to treatment and therapy. She remains a patient at a Spokane, Ore., hospital.

Scholarship Program Still Valuable "Access To Education" Resource

by GC Staff

One of the leading barriers to obtaining a higher education is the ever-increasing cost. And studies show that even among those who do attend college, the average student loan debt is higher than ever before.

For Garrett County students, however, obtaining a college education is a goal that's reachable without going into a mountain of debt. Since the fall of 2006, more than 1,500 local high school students, home-schooled students, and GED recipients have been given the opportunity to obtain a college education at Garrett College thanks to the Garrett County Scholarship Program (GCSP). The program remains an important resource for students in the county, particularly those who might not have otherwise considered college.

The Garrett County Scholarship was established five years ago after the Garrett County commissioners recognized that the cost of education and training was a barrier to advancement for many of the county's citizens. They also understood that with a more highly trained, educated, and skilled workforce, businesses and related jobs will be attracted here, incomes in Garrett County will rise, and more young people will be able to remain in the county and lead prosperous and productive lives.

Dr. Rick MacLennan, president of Garrett College, cites the scholarship program as a model for communities committed to preparing their youth for success.

"Support for enabling individuals to afford to pursue education beyond high school is directly in line with the U.S. Department of Labor's findings that 62 percent of all U.S. jobs now require two-year or four-year degrees and higher, or special postsecondary occupation certificates," he said. "By 2020, the percentage is anticipated to increase to include 75 percent of U.S. jobs."

Each year since the scholarship program began, an average of 55.74 percent of the county's local high school graduates who chose to enroll at Garrett qualified to receive the county scholarship (the other 44.26 percent had higher financial need and qualified for full aid packages from outside sources, primarily federal Pell grants). This number is sure to increase with the new provision of the scholarship, which will allow high school graduates to participate in workforce training through the Continuing Education and Workforce Development Division of the college, aimed at developing trade and vocational skills.

The provision, known as the Occupational Scholarship, is the second phase of the GCSP and provides training opportunities for students who are not interested in a degree, but would like a course or program leading to industry-recognized certification.

The county scholarship has, by all accounts, been successful since it began. According to Jim Allen, director of institutional planning at the college, the number and percentage of graduates who attend Garrett has grown steadily, especially since 2006. While there may be other contributing factors, such as the economic downturn, it is likely that the increased number of county high school graduates attending the college is at least partially attributable to the initiation of the county scholarship, Allen noted.

"The Garrett County Scholarship Program has been successful in encouraging high school students who might have had difficulty affording college study to pursue postsecondary education, either through dual enrollment while in high school or through enrollment at Garrett College after graduation, or both," said Allen.

The students receiving the scholarship are doing quite well academically, both during their time at the college, as well as after they leave, according to Allen. And the 2.71 average first semester GPA of GCSP students is significantly higher than that of Garrett's overall student population, averaging a 2.31 GPA.

One student who did not even plan to attend college was convinced by his mother that the GCSP scholarship was a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity. He reluctantly agreed to give college a try and enrolled at Garrett, where he became a standout student and developed a particular interest in biology. He's now completing his bachelor's degree at Bucknell University through the Jack Kent Cooke Scholarship Program. There are many other students who have similar stories to this one.

Allen also noted that, as a whole, GCSP recipients are generally good students who appear to be motivated and academically oriented.

In general, students who enroll at the college and receive the GCSP scholarship have a stronger than average academic record and are more likely to be retained over time, he said, noting that the fall-to-fall retention rate for full-time GCSP recipients averages about 61 percent, well above the college's overall retention rate of 53 percent. He also stated that the percentage of GCSP recipients who transfer successfully from Garrett to other colleges and universities averages 71 percent.

To be eligible for the county scholarship, both the traditional and the occupational, a student must be a member of the current graduating class of Northern or Southern high school, have completed a home-school program during the current academic year, or be an adult who received his/her GED during the immediately previous academic year.

In addition to meeting these requirements, students who receive the county scholarship must meet set requirements each year.

"All students who receive the county scholarship must maintain at least a 2.0 grade point average," said Cissy VanSickle, director of financial aid. "They also must remain full-time students while at Garrett in order to keep the scholarship."

For additional information on the Garrett County Scholarship Program, including a complete list of scholarship rules and conditions, persons may contact the GC Financial Aid Office at 301-387-3057.

Garrett-College Trained Father And Son Team "Hit the Road"

by Melissa Parker

Sometimes, a young boy's biggest hero is his dad, and he wants nothing more than to grow up to be just like Dad. Some boys even do. They may take on their father's personality, sense of humor, or even profession in adulthood. It seldom happens quite like this, though.

Charles "Chuck" Gentile and his son Chris are truck drivers. Although they're both thoroughly enjoying their new careers, it wasn't always going to be this way.

The two have only been driving a truck for less than a year combined. Each Gentile was on a completely different path this time last year. The elder Gentile was enjoying retirement, while Chris was doing contract work in fire and water damage repair.

However, truck driving has been a career path that each has considered for a long time.

"Truck driving has always been something I wanted to do," said Chuck. "I saw the movie Bucket List a while back, and I thought, 'At the top of my own bucket list would be driving a truck.'"

Driving a truck is a lot different from what Chuck did for the biggest part of his life. For more than 30 years, he was a practicing attorney. Oddly enough, it was his years of representing truck drivers and trucking companies that sparked his interest in truck driving.

The younger Gentile, on the other hand, had come to a bit of a crossroads in his life. He had attended a few colleges right out of high school, including Garrett and California University of Pennsylvania, but decided it wasn't right for him. He knew he wanted to do something different; something that would set him apart from others.

Chris turned to his dad for advice. The elder Gentile told his son that he had always wanted to try truck driving. This conversation sparked an interest in Chris, as well.

The two began researching trucking schools and came across several in the area. Ultimately, the father/son team chose Garrett College's Mountaintop Truck Driving Institute.

"Garrett's trucking school came highly recommended to us, and we had heard of its good history with job placement," said Chuck. "We could've chosen from several trucking schools, but we chose MTDI because of its reputation."

Chris was the first to enter the trucking school, enrolling in the program in June of last year. He said he had a great experience and was really impressed with the instructors.

"They were just normal people," he said. "It was really nice to be able to talk to them about questions and concerns."

Chris also appreciated the hands-on experience of the program. He was glad to actually get on the road to learn how to drive a truck, instead of simulating driving a truck in the classroom.

Chuck followed his son and entered the MTDI program last October. He, too, said it was a good experience and was most impressed with the quality of instruction.

"The three instructors are all former truck drivers," said Chuck. "They know the industry well, and they have a lot of patience. It takes a lot of patience to teach someone how to drive a truck."

Since Chris completed the program first, he was able to give his dad a lot of pointers while he was going through the program, such as how he was best able to understand shifting techniques.

Another nice thing about the MTDI program, said the father and son, is that its reputation carries into the industry.

"We tested for our CDLs in Pennsylvania," said Chuck. "When he went to take the test, the examiner knew right away that we were well-trained and were going to do well on the test because we had been trained through the MTDI program."

In an attempt to get trucking students placed into jobs upon graduation, the MTDI program brings in recruiters from different trucking companies. Many company reps visited the school, but there was one company in particular that both men had their eye on: D.M. Bowman Inc., out of Williamsport.

"Recruiters came into the school on a regular basis, and many of them made promises without following through," said Chuck. "D.M. Bowman talked to Chris, and they actually followed through."

Both father and son liked that D.M. Bowman was a highly reputable company that has been in operation for more than 50 years. They also appreciated the fact that it was a family-oriented company, one that would allow the men to be home with their families on the weekends.

This was especially important to Chris, who was engaged to be married at the time. He knew he wanted a job that wouldn't keep him on the road seven days a week.

Although Chris had applied for several local jobs, the day after applying at D.M. Bowman he received a call. He's been working for them since.

After seeing through his son what a good company D.M. Bowman was, Chuck followed in his path and decided to apply to work for them, too. He's been driving trucks for them since December.

To top off working for a company they both love, the father/son duo recently found out they are able to do team driving, something they've been hoping for since they found out about the program. In team driving, the two will be able to ride together in the same truck and switch off drivers. As a rule, each driver can drive for only 11 hours at a time without taking a 10-hour break.

With team driving, the need to park the truck for breaks is eliminated. This also gives the father/son team a chance to make more money, but more importantly, it will give them a chance to spend plenty of quality time together.

Chris is especially thankful that his new career allows him the opportunity to be home on the weekends with his new wife Rachel, whom he married in January. And Chuck couldn't wait to cross the #1 item off his "bucket list."

Would they recommend the program to others?

"Absolutely," said Chuck. Especially since, in their case, it led to a career that allows this close father and son to earn money traveling across the country together.

Thank You!

We would like to thank all our wonderful friends for the cards, flowers, dinners, and other gifts on the occasion of our 50th Wedding Anniversary. Our usual celebration of anniversaries consists of a quiet dinner together, so we have been completely overwhelmed by this attention!

Thank You!

Fratz Smashes Opponents, Records, As Northern Girls Go Three-For-Four

The Northern High School girls' varsity basketball team rallied Saturday against visiting University, but dropped the game in the final minutes, 66-61. In Monday's following home game, Kaitlynn Fratz made Husky basketball history by becoming the school's all-time leading scorer in a win over Preston, 69-36.

In Northern's next game, held Tuesday night in Romney, Fratz again led the team to victory. The record holder knocked down the go-ahead bucket in the final minutes to give the Huskies a one-point win over Hampshire, 57-56. Northern took yet another road win last night, defeating Bishop Walsh soundly, 78-44.

In Saturday's matchup, University handed the Huskies their fourth loss of the season. This was the second time Northern fell to the Hawks, who defeated them in the teams' first meeting, 65-52, in early January.

In this latest contest, the Huskies kept it close, tying the score with a minute and a half left in regulation. The notched score came after a big effort from Northern, which trailed for most of the game.

The Huskies lost the first half of play and went into the half down, 33-26. By the end of the third quarter, Northern's varsity squad had pulled within five points, 45-40.

Northern's hopes were dashed, however, when they were forced to foul after falling behind in the final seconds.

Kaitlynn Fratz scored 30 points for the Huskies, with five field goals and 7-for-8 shooting from the free-throw line. Teammate Terra McKenzie had a double-double, scoring 21 points and snagging 12 rebounds.

Northern remained competitive in the rebounding battle, 31-27, though having an obvious disadvantage in height.

"They are a huge team inside with a girl that's 6-foot-2 and another that's 5-foot-11 on the inside, but we stuck with them," commented Northern head coach Steve Fratz.

In the game against Preston, Fratz hit a basket early in the third quarter and became Northern High School's all-time leading scorer. The shot gave her 17 points on the game and edged her past the milestone of 1,793 points, the record held until Monday night by 1979 Husky standout Tony Doerr.

Fratz, who became the all-time leading scorer for the girls' team last season, entered the game with 1,777 points.

"It was a huge milestone for Kaitlynn," said Coach Fratz. "She's stayed focused and we didn't make a lot of hoopla over it, but I'm glad it's over for her sake. She can put a lot of pressure herself sometimes."

With her three-point shooting this week, she also surpassed the record for most threes scored. The old record of 180 was held by Jason Rice.

"She's a gym rat and deserves it. Having Doerr here to hand her the gameball helped make it a special evening." Doerr was in attendance to see Fratz overtake his record.

In the one-sided game, Fratz scored 34 points total on six three-pointers, seven two-pointers, and two free throws. Teammate Morgan Brosnihan finishes with 13 points, and McKenzie added 10.

The Huskies took the jayvee game, 47-39, behind Kiersten Rayner's 12-point performance.

Away at Hampshire on Tuesday, Northern edged the Trojans in dramatic fashion. Hampshire had the ball and the lead, 55-56, after a Lyndsay Whetsell field goal, but was unable to stop an undeterred Fratz.

Inside the final minute, the Huskies marched up the court and got the ball to Fratz, who sank what became the game winning shot after the Trojans' hopes were dashed after a final, desperate 13-foot jumper failed to go.

In the game, Fratz led all scorers. She totaled 31 points, nailed 12 field goals, and went 6-for-9 from the line. Butler and McKenzie recorded eight and seven points, respectively.

Hampshire was led by Hannah Karl, who had 16 points and 10 rebounds. Whetzel totaled 13 points scored and had 10 rebounds, while Lindsey Miller had 14 points.

In last night's matchup with Bishop Walsh, the Huskies gave their opponents a lesson in three-point domination, as Fratz hit four of the team's nine shots from beyond.

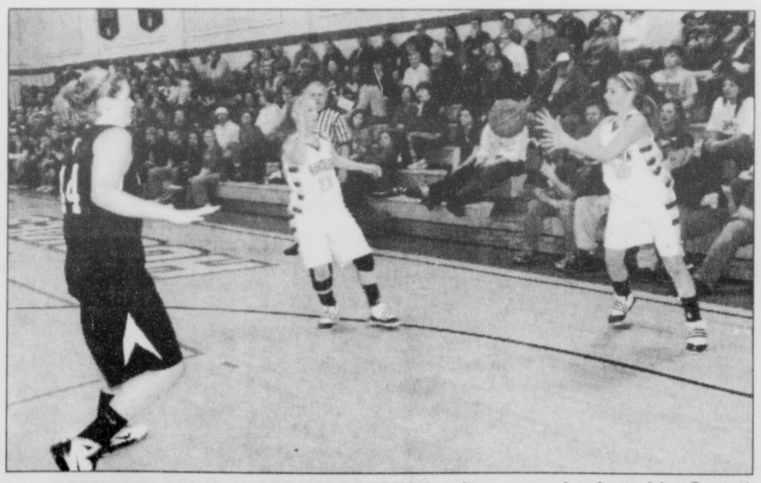
Northern broke away from the Spartans midway through the second quarter and continued its run through halftime, to take a 59-38 lead into the fourth.

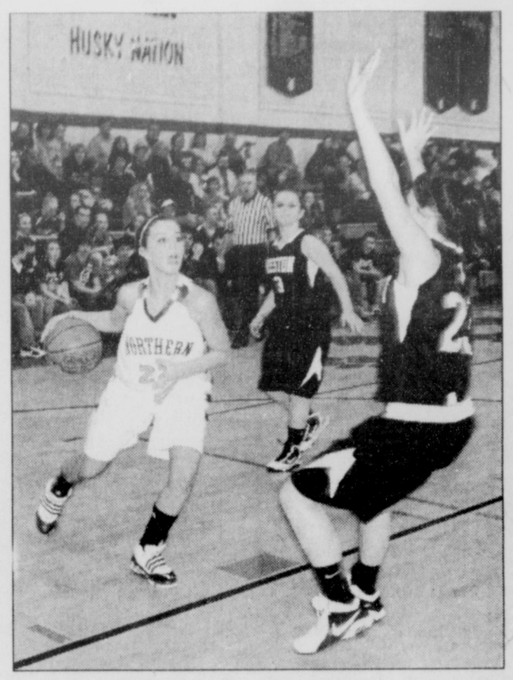
Yommer scored 17 for Northern, going 9-for-9 from the free-throw line, while McKenzie scored 16 points with nine points off three-point shots.

Bishop Walsh was led by Ashley Turnbull with 13 points and 22 rebounds. Abbie Mathews scored 11 points, and Rebecca Winner nine.

The Huskies won the junior varsity game, 31-18, as Rayner had nine points. Julia Morin scored six for Bishop Walsh.

Northern will host Mountain Ridge on Monday and Fort Hill on Wednesday. Junior Varsity games are scheduled to tip off at 6 p.m., while varsity games are set for 7:30 p.m.





NORTHERN GIRLS OVERTAKE PRESTON — In a game dominated by Garrett County's new all-time leading scorer Kaitlynn Fratz, Northern also received some serious effort from other key players in its win over the visiting Knights, 69-36. dents. At this time, Garrett County students can select a program based on four academic clusters: Arts and Human Resources; Business, Management, and Finance; Engineering and Technology; and Life Sciences and Natural Resources.

Eighth to eleventh grade students in the public schools and their parents are provided annually with the Student Education Planning Guide to explain the high school program, graduation requirements, program pathways, and course options. All students and parents have an opportunity to schedule a conference with a high school guidance counselor to discuss various programs and options. Students are encouraged to select merit and honors courses throughout high school as they prepare for a postsecondary experience. Students who complete a rigorous academic core coupled with a CTE program of study have high test scores and are more likely to pursue a postsecondary education, have higher grade point averages, and are less likely to drop out of college in the first year.

Additionally, these students are significantly more likely to develop problem-solving, project completion, research, math, college application, work-related, communication, time management, and critical thinking skills during high school. High school graduates who possess a related associate degree or credential will earn an average of between $5,000 to $15,000 more a year than a person with a humanities or social sciences degree. Those with credentials in high-demand field, such as heath care, can average almost $20,000 more a year.

For more information about CTE programs, persons may contact the Guidance Office at one of the local high schools or the Garrett County Board of Education.

Huskies Nip Sentinels In OT, Whip Miners, Fall To Trojans

In boys' varsity basketball action this past week, the Northern High Huskies nipped the visiting Sentinels of Fort Hill, 81-80, in overtime last Thursday, handed Mountain Ridge a 55-44 defeat on Friday, also at the Cove, but then fell to the visiting Hampshire Trojans on Monday, 59-54.

The results left the Huskies with an 8-9 overall record and a 3-8 mark in Appalachian Mountain Athletic Conference games.

The contest with Fort Hill last Thursday was nip and tuck from the opening tipoff, as the score was knotted at 14-14 at the end of the first quarter, the Sentinels held a 32-30 edge at intermission, and the Huskies took a 58-55 lead into the fourth period.

It was a successful shot by Northern's Tyler Wilt in the final seconds of regulation that tied the score at 72-72 and sent the game into the extra period.

Cody Humberson recorded a team- and season-high of 23 points for the Huskies, Matt Gibson was right behind with 22 points, Garrett Rayner finished with 16, and Wilt also reached double figures with 10 points.

Netting a game-high 28 was Fort Hill's Garrett D'Atri, while Mark Kelly finished with 23 points and Travis Bush netted 14.

The loss dropped the Sentinels to 6-11 overall and 2-10 in AMAC games.

In the overtime period, the Huskies took the 81-80 lead via a pair of foul shots by Humberson with 30 seconds remaining. The Huskies had a chance to increase their lead, but missed two free throws.

Fort Hill had one final chance to win, but a 15-foot shot at the buzzer was no good.

Humberson finished with a perfect 5-for-5 effort from the floor with two three-pointers, and made good on 11 of 19 foul shots.

The Northern junior varsity was defeated in the first game.

Friday's game against Mountain Ridge was also close through the first half, with the score tied at 10-10 at the end of the first quarter and the Huskies up by only one, 21-20, at halftime.

But Northern poured it on in the third stanza to take a 40-28 advantage into the fourth quarter.

Gibson paced the Huskies' scoring effort with 15 points, which included a 6-for-7 effort at the foul line. He also recorded six rebounds. Wilt reached double figures with 12 points, as did Humberson with a dozen rebounds. Patrick Sines, Austin Doerr, and Humberson each recorded eight points, and Doerr pulled down eight rebounds.

The Miners (5-12, 4-8 AMAC) were led in scoring by Montana Bradley and Dan Strietbeck with 12 points each.

The Northern jayvees went down to defeat in the first game.

Tuesday's game against Hampshire was once again a nail-biter most of the way, with the Huskies trailing by two, 16-14, after one quarter, the score tied at 32-32 at halftime, and the Huskies up by one, 43-42, going into the fourth. But that's when the Trojans, behind the scoring of Robbie Smelser, iced the victory, out-scoring the home team by a 17-11 margin.

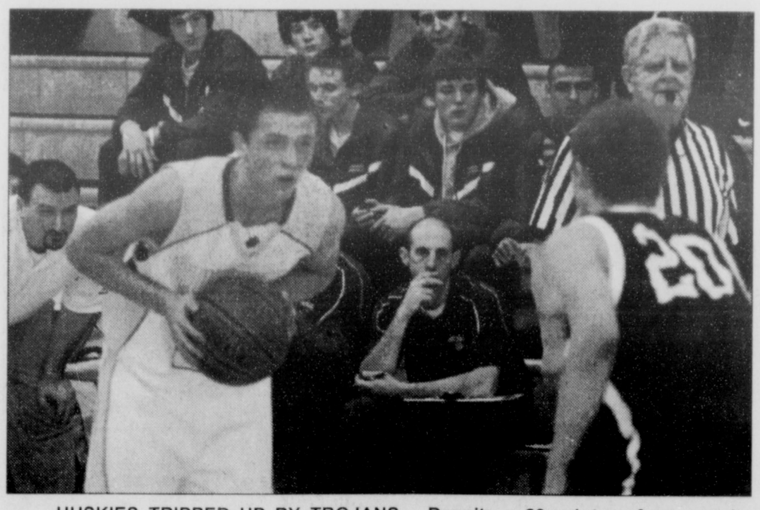
Smelser, who finished with 16 points, scored nine of them in that final quarter for the Trojans. Seven of those nine fourth-period points were scored via seven opportunities at the free throw line. As a team, the Trojans made good on 13 of 15 attempts from the charity stripe in the final stanza.

Also reaching double figures for Hampshire (9-6, 7-3 AMAC) were Josh Moreland and Jordan Nelson, each with 12 points.

Hitting a game-high 23 points was Northern's Gibson, while Humberson recorded a double-double with 15 points and 10 boards.

The jayvee Huskies were topped in the preliminary game when Logan Hill hit a shot at the buzzer to give the Trojans a 36-34 win. Hill led the visitors with 15 points, and Jordan Evans scored 18 to pace the Northern junior varsity.

The Huskies are slated to host Salisbury this evening (6 and 7:30 tipoffs) and will get another shot at the Trojans this Friday when they meet them on their home court in Romney. Northern will travel to Frankfort next Tuesday.



HUSKIES TRIPPED UP BY TROJANS – Despite a 23-point performance by Northern High varsity player Matt Gibson, the Huskies fell victim to visiting Hampshire on Monday, 59-54. Gibson, who is the area's leading scorer with an average of over 22 points per game, is pictured above looking to shoot or pass to a teammate. Taking a shot in the photo at right is Northern's Tyler Wilt. The Huskies are slated to host Salisbury this evening. Photos by Branden Wilt. Southern Falls To Frankfort, Mtn. Ridge, Beats Fort Hill

Monday's matchup with Frankfort proved to be problematic for the Southern High School girls' varsity team, as it suffered a loss, 57-36, at home. The Rams then went on the road and lost to Mountain Ridge, 50-47. Returning home for last night's game, the Rams defeated visiting Fort Hill, 53-42.

Frankfort took the first quarter from the Rams, 15-11, in Oakland on Monday, and continued to run away with the game. At halftime, the score was set at 34-13, after a dismal second quarter for Southern in which it scored only two points. The Rams improved in the third quarter, but entered the fourth down 18 points.

Southern received 19 points from Alli Shaffer, and eight from Mandy Sweitzer.

For Frankfort, Savannah Hose had 25 points, 13-for-15 shooting from the foul line, as the Falcons shot 20-for-25 on the night.

Frankfort also took the jayvee game, 30-25. Stephanie Cornachia scored 14 points in the win, while Southern was led by Alicia Roth, who had nine points.

Against Mountain Ridge on Tuesday, Southern kept it close, but fell by three points on the road.

Hannah Horne gave the Rams a 19-point effort. Shaffer, who fouled out, was held to six points. Teammates Mariah Stem an Sweitzer had 11 and three points, respectively.

The Rams came out shooting in last night's action against Fort Hill and took a 20-6 lead at the end of the first quarter. The Southern dominance continued as it took a 35-18 edge into the half and went on to top of the Sentinels.

With her hot hands, Stem led the Rams in scoring. She hit all four of her team's three-point shots, and finished with 14 points. Shaffer scored 13 points and had eight rebounds.

Fort Hill was led by Mariah James with 13 points and Alyssia Twigg with eight.

Southern won the junior varsity game, 51-42, as Raeslee Weimer scored 15 points, and Tess Watson 12. Sentinel Sarah Lowery scored 21 points, while her teammate Alexis Kimmel had 16.

Southern, 8-9 overall, is set to host Preston High School tonight.

Rams Defeat Campers, But Get Upset Again By Miners

The boys' varsity basketball team of Southern High School traveled to Cumberland last Friday and recorded a big 65-56 Appalachian Mountain Athletic Conference victory over Allegany, but then for the second time in just over a week the Rams were upset by visiting Mountain Ridge on Tuesday, 65-56, in another AMAC contest. The split left the Rams with a 12-5 overall record and a 10-2 mark in the AMAC.

Coach Jon Hegeman and Ram fans got big scoring efforts from Calvin Hilliard, Joe Kisselovich, and Wyatt McBee in Friday's win over the Campers.

Hilliard hit seven of 11 shots from the floor and made good on 11 of 12 attempts from the line to finish with 25 points. He also pulled down a team-high nine rebounds.

Kisselovich went 7-for-12 from the floor and hit all eight of his opportunities at the foul line to record 22 points, while McBee, who hit four of eight shots from long range, scored 16 points.

The Campers, who fell to 10-6 overall and 7-5 in conference play, were paced by Tylor Jessie, who hit nine of 10 shots from the floor, finished with 19 points and also grabbed a game-high 12 rebounds. Jake Shade also reached double figures with 16 points.

The Campers' 6-6 center Aaron Murphy left the game after only four minutes of playing time and was taken to the hospital with an undisclosed medical problem.

The game was tight in the first half, with the Rams holding a 16-15 edge at the end of the first quarter, and the Campers up by one, 32-31, at the half.

The third quarter featured an 11-2 run by the Rams and only six points scored by the Campers, as Southern clamped down defensively. The period ended with the Rams on top by 10, 47-37.

The closest the home team would get in the final stanza was 53-48 about midway through that period, but the Rams went a perfect 10-for-10 at the line in the final 3:21 to ice the victory.

The Alco jayvees won the first game, 54-43, behind a 22-point performance by Camper Trenten Eirich. Bryce Nightengale added 11 for the winners. Pacing the Ram junior varsity were Kevin Colaw with 13 points, and Brandon Wilt and Nevin White with 10 apiece.

The Ram varsity was looking to avenge a recent upset loss to the somewhat lowly Miners of Mountain Ridge on Tuesday, but it was not to be, as the Miners (6-12, 5-8 AMAC) came into Oakland and knocked off the heavily favored Rams a second time.

Not only did the Miners record the win, but they led virtually the entire game, holding advantages of 13-7, 30-20, and 41-30 at the quarters.

The Rams came into the contest leading the AMAC standings, but are now tied with Keyser at 10-2.

The visitors were led offensively by Tyler Whitaker, who scored 20 points, and by Montana Bradley with a dozen points.

Hilliard again led Southern's point production with 15, while Kisselovich netted 14, going 10-for-10 at the line, and D.J. Ritchie also reached double figures with 11 points.

Wyatt McBee was held to just three points.

The Southern junior varsity dropped the fist game, 45-26, with Josh Delaney leading the Miner jayvees in scoring with 14 points. Alex Toothman led Southern with eight points.

The Ram freshman team also played, and cruised to a 51-17 rout of the Mountain Ridge freshmen. Derek Hinebaugh recorded 12 points and nine rebounds, while Kyle Sherbin hit 11 points for Southern.

The Ram varsity and junior varsity will play again this Friday at Fort Hill, will host Hampshire next Tuesday (6 and 7:30 p.m. tipoffs), and play at Keyser next Wednesday.

RAMS UPSET BY MINERS – AGAIN – After falling to the unheralded Miners of Mountain Ridge last week, the Southern varsity boys, ranked second in the area, were upset again this week by the Miners, losing 53-45 on Tuesday in Oakland. In the photo above, Ram guard Kurt Gangler prepares to feed teammate Calvin Hilliard in the lane. Hilliard led the Rams in scoring with 15 points. Taking a jump shot in the photo at right is Southern forward Aaron Shotwell. The Rams will try to get back into the win column this Friday at Fort Hill. Photos by John McEwen. Trout Stocking Schedule Noted; Will Begin Soon

The Maryland Department of Natural Resources (DNR) hopes to begin stocking the first of approximately 327,000 rainbow and brown trout into freshwaters across the state this month for trout fishing enthusiasts.

"Our pre-season stocking usually starts in early February, but too much ice and snow can delay things, as we saw last year," said DNR's assistant fisheries director Don Cosden. "So, watch our web site or call 1-800-688-3467 for updates. I'm already getting excited about the upcoming season and the chance to catch some trout as large as seven or eight pounds."

The pre-season schedule includes the North Branch of the Potomac River at Barnum, Westernport, Gorman, and Kitzmiller, as well as the Youghiogheny River in Oakland and Friendsville.

The early March schedule includes Accident Pond, Bear Creek, Broadford Lake, Deep Creek Lake, Glade Park Pond in Oakland, Herrington Creek, Herrington Lake, Jennings Randolph Lake, Little Youghiogheny River, Mill Run, Muddy Creek, New Germany Lake, the North Branch of the Potomac, Parkview Pond in Grantsville, Piney Reservoir, Savage River, Savage River Reservoir, and Youghiogheny River in Oakland. A number of these same waterways will be stocked several more times in late March, April, and May.

The stocking schedule can be found online at www.dnr.maryland.gov/fisheries/stocking and is also available at DNR Regional Service Centers and license vendors. DNR encourages anglers to visit the maps of stocked and special managed streams for directions and more information on trout fishing locations. Pre-season stocking usually starts in the eastern part of the state, followed by the western region as the weather warms up.

In order to protect the state's fish populations and keep their habitats healthy, DNR reminds anglers to clean and dry their gear between streams and outings. Field and laboratory research has confirmed that the felt used for waders is an ideal medium for collecting and transporting microscopic organisms.

"The discovery of the invasive algae didymo on the lower Savage River shows how easily unwanted organisms can be moved between watersheds and demonstrates that anglers must be more diligent than ever," Cosden said. He added that a good scrubbing with dish soap or a 5 percent salt solution is an easy way to prevent the spread of invaders such as didymo and whirling disease.

Convenient wader wash stations are available at several key wild trout areas, including the Gunpowder River, Savage River, the North Branch of the Potomac (Barnum area), and Big Hunting Creek.

Cosden added that anglers need to be aware that a proposed Maryland regulation to prohibit felt soles in all waters is scheduled to become effective in March of this year. DNR welcomes public comment on the proposal through February 28 via e-mail to fisheriespubliccomment@dnr.state.md.us or by mail to: Maryland Department of Natural Resources Fisheries Service, Attn: Felt-Soled Wader Ban Regulation, 580 Taylor Ave., B-2, Annapolis, MD 21401.

RECOGNIZED AT WILD TURKEY FEDERATION BANQUET – The Maryland Chapter of the National Wild Turkey Federation named Maryland Natural Resources Police corporal Mark McMillan the Conservation Officer of the Year at its recent banquet in Stevensville. He was recognized for safeguarding the state's wildlife and fisheries resources. "Mark routinely requests to work on his scheduled days off to investigate and stakeout suspected poaching areas," said his supervisor, Sgt. Dave Marple. "Mark's dedication has resulted in apprehending numerous poachers for illegally hunting wild turkeys and bears." McMillan has been employed by the Maryland Department of Natural Resources since 1989 and currently works in Allegany and Garrett counties. He will now be entered into the NWTF's national drawing for Officer of the Year. The Western Maryland NWTF Chapter received two awards at the banquet: a first-place award for having the most new members for a chapter with fewer than 175 members and the Phoenix award, which is presented for commitment to the NWTF mission of conserving the wild turkey and preserving the hunting heritage. In addition, Adam Kisner, a local JAKES (Juniors Acquiring Knowledge, Ethics, & Sportsmanship) member, was one of four JAKES to win a "hunt of a lifetime" through the state chapter. Pictured are the Western Maryland Chapter committee and award winners. In the front row, left to right, are Joe Mills, chapter vice president; Phil Kisner, Adam's father; Adam; McMillan; and Kevin Smith, chapter secretary. In the back row are Ernie Metz; Brian Friend, chapter treasurer; Bonnie Friend, chapter president; and Rodney Lipscomb. Committee members not pictured are Bob Sweitzer, Mike Greene, and Rodney Lowdermilk. The local chapter is currently selling raffle tickets for a three-day/three-night Wyoming turkey hunt to benefit the JAKES program.

Fishing Contest Winners Named

There was just one winner in the Garrett County Ice Fishing Contest, sponsored by Deep Creek Outfitters Hardware and Bait House and the Garrett County Chamber of Commerce, for the week ending January 29:

Chain pickerel: 1 lb., 12 ozs., 20", caught by Chase Taylor, Accident.

The winners for the week ending February 7 were:

Bluegill: 1 lb., 10¾", caught by Donald Hershfeld, Oakland.

Yellow perch: 1 lb., 10 ozs, 14", caught by Albert Jenkins III, Markleysburg, Pa.

Weekly winners are awarded a certificate, and plaques are awarded for the season's largest catches of bluegill, brown trout, chain pickerel, crappies, largemouth and smallmouth bass, northern pike, rainbow trout, walleye and yellow perch. To enter the contest, catches must be taken to Deep Creek Outfitters Hardware and Bait House at 32 Outfitters Way, McHenry. The ice fishing contest will continue as long as the lake has sufficient ice cover.

Pen-Mar/WV Baseball League Meeting Slated

The Pen-Mar/WV Baseball League will hold its first open meeting of the 2011 season this Saturday, Feb. 12, at 3:00 p.m. at the Ridgeley, W.Va., American Legion. All managers and officers are strongly encouraged by league officials to attend this organizational meeting. All current players are also encouraged to attend.

This season will be the 63rd consecutive season for the semi-pro adult, wood-bat baseball league that has consisted of teams from Maryland, Pennsylvania, and West Virginia. The Pen-Mar/WV league is a showcase for many current and past area college baseball players.

The league has featured many players who went on to play professional baseball. Most of the tri-state area baseball coaches have played, at one time, in the league. The league also provides a forum for many adults who want to continue playing the game of baseball beyond high school and college.

New teams are always welcome to join the league. Those interested in playing or managing a team in the area asked to telephone Gary Bennett at 301-268-1563 or James Altobello at 304-738-4565.

Basketball Rec League Results Are Announced

Fox's Pizza, Hutton Auto, and Taylor-Made all won their games in Oakland Recreational Basketball League play on Sunday.

Fox's Pizza took Jones Store/Monumental Insurance, 62-61, behind a 16-point offensive effort by Doug Copeland. Teammate J.J. Bolyard netted 15 points, while Jones Store/Monumental Insurance received 22 points from Jason Shank.

Joey DiSimone scored 24 points and Justin Kelly finished with 15 points in the Hutton Auto win, 52-29, over East Preston Tire. East Preston Tire was led offensively by Justin Childers, with 10 points.

Taylor-Made defeated D&L Coal/A.L.L. Construction, 63-53, with Jason Brenneman and Mike Harvey leading the winners with 35 and 14 points, respectively. Hershel Seabolt accounted for D&L's team-high 19 points scored.

The games scheduled for Sunday, Feb. 13, are as follows: D&L Coal/A.L.L. Construction will play Jones Store/Monumental Insurance at 6 p.m., East Preston Tire takes on Fox's Pizza at 7 p.m., and the game pitting Taylor-Made against Hutton Auto is set for 8 p.m.

Lakers Edge Prince George's, Top Howard, Nearly Upset Cecil

The Garrett College's men's basketball team recorded a pair of victories this past week before nearly upsetting nationally ranked Cecil Community College last night.

Coach Dennis Gibson's Lakers edged visiting Prince George's on Saturday, 87-86, stopped Howard CC on Monday, 78-72, and then lost a 78-75 overtime heartbreaker last night to host Cecil, a team that is ranked 10th in the national NJCAA Division II standings.

The Lakers are now 15-10 overall and 8-7 in Maryland JUCO games.

In the one-point win over Prince George's on Saturday, Rodney Clark not only led all scorers with 26 points, but also hit a pair of technical foul shots with no time left on the clock to eke out the win, as the Lakers trailed by one when time expired.

With the score at 86-85 in favor of the Owls, the Lakers turned the ball over with 3.1 seconds left. Coach Gibson and the Lakers, thinking the game was over, headed toward the PG bench to shake hands.

But in fact, when a PG player stole the Lakers' inbounds pass, he tossed the ball into the air in celebration. Teammate Donald Williams, who led the Owls with 25 points, then jumped up, grabbed the rim, and began doing pull-ups just a second or so before the final buzzer sounded. His action drew the technical, and resulted in Clark's winning foul shots.

"I didn't even see any of that," Coach Gibson said. "We just assumed it was over, but then we heard the ref's whistle and saw him call a technical for hanging on the rim or unsportsmanlike conduct."

The Lakers seemingly had the game under control much earlier, leading 55-44 at intermission and extending their advantage to as many as 16 points in the second half. But the Owls rallied, and it took a three-pointer by Garrett's Jeff Stem to tie the score at 83-83.

A three-pointer by Dominique Tolly put the Owls back up by three, 86-83.

Then with 11 seconds left, Clark was fouled on a three-point shot. He hit the first attempt, missed the second, and then intentionally tried to miss the third, but it banked in to make the score 86-85.

PG's Williams then went to the line with five seconds left, but missed both shots. After a pair of Laker inbounds passes were tipped out of bounds, one of the Owls stole the third attempt and began the fateful celebration.

Also reaching double figures for the Lakers were Jordan Gipson with 15 points and Callum Jenkins with 14.

Williams led five Owls (12-11, 8-6 JUCO) in double figures, as Kamaron Barker netted 13, Stephen Griffin hit 12, and Michael Gonzales and Azel Prather each finished with 10.

In Monday's victory over Howard, Jenkins recorded another double-double with 24 points and 16 rebounds. He went 7-for-7 from the line and hit a three-pointer late in the game to keep Howard at bay.

Rodney Clark scored 13 points and Joe Dubuche hit a pair of threes early in the second half to push the Laker lead to 16. He finished with 12 points.

Howard chipped away and ultimately cut the Laker lead to just one point with about three minutes to play. Clark hit seven of 12 free throws in the closing moments to seal the win.

"We are banged up and were still without two of our top players in [Kory] Gibson and [Frank] Holloway," said Coach Gibson. "I am proud of how these guys have hung in there and performed. You always want to win big as a player and coach when you think a team is undermanned, but Howard is well coached and has played teams close all year. We can only get better from our experience in these games."

Last night's game with highly touted Cecil CC was tied at 36-36 at intermission, tied at 71-71 at the end of regulation, and was actually tied at 75-75 when the overtime period expired. However, Cecil's Omar Strong was fouled when he put up a desperation shot from halfcourt. He calmly went to the line and sank three free throws to ice the win.

The Lakers took a four-point lead, 75-71, in the extra period, but a three-pointer by Harold Washington pulled the home team back to within on point. A free throw by Cecil's Brandon Green then knotted the score with just eight seconds remaining.

The Lakers set up for what should have been the last shot of the OT period, but the shot was blocked, setting up Strong to take the desperation heave.

"We had our chances, that's for sure," said Coach Gibson. "But our kids played their hearts out, and I give them all the credit in the world. They played a great game on the road. I didn't manage the last minute very well, so I take total blame for the loss."

The Lakers were led in scoring by Frank Holloway and Clark with 15 points each. Vladimir Vukovic finished with 19 and Theo Dubuche netted 10.

Pacing Cecil's scoring were Harold Washington and Strong with 20 and 19 points, respectively. Jermain Edwards added 12 and Travis Coppockbey scored 11.

The Lakers will wrap up their season on Monday with a make-up game at Southern Maryland. A win would likely give them a home-floor advantage in the first round of next week's Maryland JUCO tournament.

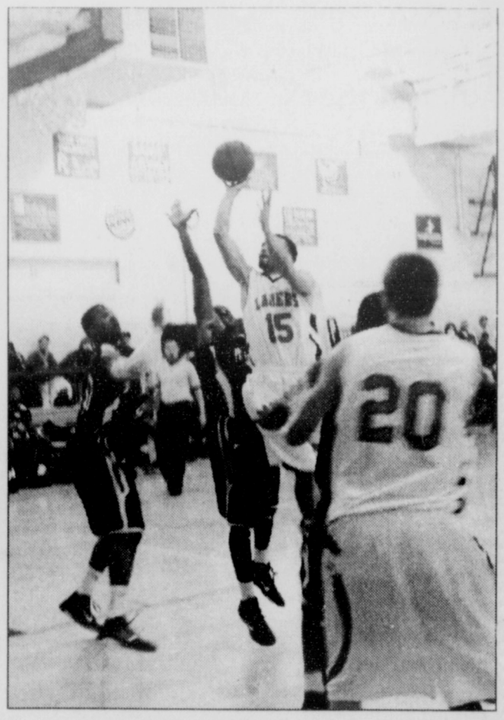
Three-point goals - Garrett 9 (Clark 3, J. Dubuche 2, T. Dubuche 2, Gipson 2), Cecil 9 (Washington 2, Coppockbey 3, Strong 4). Total fouls - Garrett 15, Cecil 15. Fouled out - none.



LAKERS CAGE OWLS – In one of the most bizarre endings to a basketball game, the Garrett College men's team edged visiting Prince George's CC Saturday night, 87-86. The winning points were actually scored from the foul line by Laker Rodney Clark with no time left on the game clock, as the Owls were called for a technical foul just as time expired. The Lakers were down 86-85 at the time, but Clark's successful free throws gave the Lakers the victory. See story for details of the incident. Clark also led the Lakers in scoring with a game-high 26 points. In the photo above, Laker forward Jordan Gipson plows his way through the Owl defense en route to the hoop. Identifiable in the background are Lakers Rodney Clark (#5), Jeff Stem (#15), and Callum Jenkins (#20). Going up for two in the photo at right is Stem, who is a former standout for the Southern Rams. In the foreground is teammate Jenkins. The Lakers will conclude their regular season Monday with a game at Southern Maryland, and will enter Maryland JUCO Tournament play on Tuesday. Garrett Women Beat Westmoreland, Lose To Rivals Prince George's, Cecil

Last week against Westmoreland, the Garrett College women's basketball team took control of the game's second half and earned their second straight win, 57-54. In Saturday's matchup with Prince George's, Garrett kept an explosive Owls' offense well under their points per game average, but came up short in its own offensive production, falling 66-55. In last night's matchup with Cecil, the Garrett women's squad was unable to overcome the effects of a dismal first half and lost, 61-45.

Hosting the Wolfpack, the Lakers' Tanisha Williams scored 19 points, Alice Abiya earned a double-double, and Lauren Butler came up with several big plays in the second half as Garrett roared back for the win.

Abiya finished with 16 points and 17 rebounds, and Jalesa Johnson had 10 points, six rebounds, four assists and four steals for the Lakers.

Williams also had six assists, six steals, and five rebounds.

Westmoreland led by as many as 25 points in the first half until Garrett started chipping away at the lead, ending the half down 37-23.

The second half, however, belonged to the Lakers, who outscored their opponents, 34-17.

"We played better pressure defense in the second half, and at one point came up with eight-straight turnovers that led to 12 or 14 straight points for us," said Garrett coach Joanna Pennell.

Williams, who went 8-for-9 from the foul line, scored 16 of her 19 points in the second half.

At home again on Saturday, the Lakers looked to continue their win streak, but were edged by the Owls.

Prince George's entered the game averaging nearly 95 points per game, but in a noteworthy defensive stand by the Garrett squad were kept to just 31 points in the first half and 35 in the second.

Alice Abiya led the Lakers with a double-double of 23 points and 12 rebounds. Tanisha Williams had a solid showing with 13 points, six rebounds, five assists, and five steals.

In the away game against Cecil, Garrett was unable to overcome a slow start, and despite tripling its offensive productions in the second half of the game, came up short.

After scoring only 11 points in the first half, and fairing little better in the third quarter, the Lakers found their rhythm with 10 minutes to play. Their comeback attempt was noteworthy, but too little too late.

Williams led Garrett with 17 points and seven rebounds to go with four assists and two steals. Abiya had seven rebounds and three assists, as well as 15 points, while Johnson had nine points.

For the Seahawks, Iesha Butler went for a game-high 21 points, while Erin Pickett added 17.

Garrett slips to 7-14 overall and will play at Southern Maryland on Friday.

Ram Wrestlers Defeat Northern, Then Crush Perryville, Allegany

The wrestling team of Southern High School recorded three more dual meet victories this past week before entering last night's Class 1A/2A West Region Duals, which were hosted by South Carroll High School. (See separate story on results of that competition.)

Coach Dave Taylor's squad upped its dual mark to 12-1 and its overall season record to 26-4 with the victories, as the Rams qualified for the regional duals for the ninth consecutive season.

The Rams topped visiting Northern last Thursday, 45-21, before rolling over both Perryville, 60-14, and Allegany, 84-0, at Allegany on Saturday.

Among the highlights of the match against Northern on Thursday, which was Senior Night in front of a huge crowd, was a 7-0 decision by Jakob "Bubba" Scheffel over Northern's Jason Opel in the 171-pound division. It was only the second loss of the season for Opel, while Scheffel has lost only one match. The win by Scheffel set a new school record for career wins with 155.

Gaining pins for the Rams were Dakota Pritt in the 135-pound division, Mike Skipper at 145, and heavyweight Kevin Miller.

Huskies winning via pinfalls were Kody Osselburn at 119 pounds and Adam Finzel at 125.

A technical fall was recorded by Southern's undefeated Lex Ozias in the 152-pound bout, while his younger brother Coy Ozias, also unbeaten this season, won via a major decision in the 112-pound division.

Winning by decisions for the Rams, besides Scheffel, were Gavin Murphy at 130 pounds, Dale Marple at 160, and Scott Cooper at 189.

Anthony Cervi won by decision for the Huskies in the 215-pound clash, while forfeits were awarded to Southern's Austin Shaffer (103) and Northern's Matt Thomas (140).

Getting pins for the Rams in Saturday's team win over Perryville were Nick Stewart at 119 pounds, Lex Ozias, Marple, Scheffel, Scott Cooper (189), and Kameron Barnard (215).

Shaffer and Coy Ozias both won via decisions, while forfeits were awarded to Murphy, Skipper, Cooper, and Miller.

In blanking the Campers of host Allegany, Coy and Lex Ozias, Pritt, Skipper, Marple, Cooper, and Miller all won on pins for Southern. All of the other victories were forfeits, going to Shaffer, Stewart, Tanner Massey (125), Murphy, Sean Chapman (135), Scheffel, and Barnard.

Saturday's wins for Scheffel extended his school record total of personal victories to 157.

Going into last night's regional duals, Coy and Lex Ozias led the area individual standings with respective records of 32-0 and 34-0. Lex Ozias is second in the area in pins with 25. Scheffel's mark before last night was 34-1 with 23 pins, and Austin Shaffer went into the dual tourney with a 27-3 record.

Northern's Jason Opel was 28-2, and teammates Matt Thomas, Adam Finzel, and Cody Osselburn have respective records of 27-3, 27-4, and 25-4.

HUSKIES, RAMS CLASH ON MATS – The Southern High School wrestling team hosted county rival Northern last Thursday and came away with a second defeat of the Huskies, 45-21. Above left, reigning state champion Jakob "Bubba" Scheffel (top) of Southern awaits the whistle to begin action against Northern's Jason Opel in the 171-pound bout and goes on to record a 7-0 decision. Above right, Northern's Kody Osselburn ties up Ram Nick Stewart and ultimately wins via a pin in the 119-pound division. Below left, undefeated freshman Coy Ozias of Southern clamps down on Northern's Scott Warnick and goes on to win by a major decision. Below right, Husky Adam Finzel controls Ram Tanner Massey and would eventually win on a pinfall. See story for details. Photos courtesy of Delos Carpenter.

Southern Wrestlers Just Miss Shot At Regional Duals Championship

The only regular-meet loss by the Southern High wrestling team this season was to Winters Mill, and it was that same team that wiped out the Rams' chance to win the West Region 1A/2A Dual Championships last night and move on to the state dual event.

Coach Dave Taylor's squad was stopped by Winters Mill back in December by a 38-32 margin, and was nipped last night by a single point, 35-34, at South Carroll High School. Winters Mill then went on to defeat previously unbeaten South Carroll to win the regional title.

Recording pins for Southern last night were undefeated Coy Ozias in the 112-pound division, his brother Lex Ozias, also unbeaten this season, in the 152-pound clash, and once-defeated Jakob "Bubba" Scheffel in the 189-pound bout.

Scott Cooper gained a major decision in the 171-pound division, while Nick Stewart (119) and Mikey Skipper (145) were decision winners. Kameron Barnard was awarded a forfeit in the 215-pound class.

Gaining pins for Winters Mill were Gunner Cullison (125), Keith Steine (135), Cody Sharkey (140), and Justin Kozera (285).

The Rams, who concluded their regular season this past week with three more dual meet wins (see other story), are now preparing for the Bi-County Tournament, which will be hosted by Allegany on Friday, Feb. 19.

PINK FRENZY AT WVU – Raising awareness about breast cancer and raising money for the Kay Yow Cancer Fund was the purpose of a Pink Zone blow-out at the West Virginia University Coliseum on Saturday at the women's basketball game. The Pink Dance, well-known locally as well as nationally, was performed at halftime, featuring a number of Garrett Countians and headed up by Brenda Brosnihan and Lesa Whittemore, founders of Get Inspired Events. Brosnihan said the WVU officials were more than helpful with the effort, and the women's team members came to the dance training session, which was filmed and broadcast on YouTube and Facebook. (See related pictures and information.) Brosnihan and Whittemore are taking the show back on the road this weekend, and the Comcast Center at the University of Maryland will be pink on Sunday with another university women's basketball event. The celebration will continue through Monday evening, when the Northern Huskies girls' basketball team will host a Pink Zone night at its game against Mountain Ridge. See story and pictures. Photo by Pete Brosnihan.

NHS HUSKIES ENTERING PINK ZONE – The girls' basketball team of Northern High School will salute this year's graduating seniors on Monday, Feb. 14, with a Pink Zone celebration. This is an awareness and fundraising event to benefit Kay Yow Cancer Fund, which is the official charity of the Women's Basketball Coaches' Association. A variety of special events and activities will take place during the Huskies' game against the Mountain Ridge Miners, including giveaways and door prizes. The night is being sponsored by Thomas Gas. See story for more details. One of the highlights of the event will be the selling of raffle tickets for chances to win a pink basketball, signed last weekend by the West Virginia University women's basketball team, pictured below. (Photo by Pete Brosnihan.) The team members signed the ball during a Pink Zone event held at WVU last weekend, and headed up by Garrett Countians Brenda Brosnihan and Lesa Whittamore, founders of Get Inspired Events. The Northern Huskies' game on Monday will begin at approximately 7:30 p.m. The team is pictured above.

Lady Huskies To Mark Senior Night With "Pink Zone" Event

The Northern Garrett Lady Huskies basketball team will celebrate its three seniors, Morgan Brosnihan, Kaitlynn Fratz, and Terra McKenzie, by participating in a WBCA (Women's Basketball Coaches Association) "Pink Zone" game on Monday, Feb. 14. Northern will host the Miners of Mtn. Ridge.

Thompson Gas is the official sponsor of the game and is providing a giveaway gift for every fan in attendance. Fans who wear pink to the game will also receive a ticket for various door prizes given throughout the evening. Thompson Gas is providing the grand prize as part of its Gas for Life campaign. The team is also selling raffle tickets for a pink basketball signed by the WVU women's basketball team.

The WBCA Pink Zone was initiated in 2007 to raise breast cancer awareness among women basketball athletes, on campuses, and in communities. Kay Yow, former North Carolina State University head women's basketball coach, was the catalyst for the initiative after her third reoccurrence of breast cancer in 2006.

Overall, through fundraising events and activities, the WBCA Pink Zone has garnered nearly $3.3 million, has reached almost $2.7 million fans, and has unified over 4,700 participants in four years. Over 22 schools have broken attendance records through their participation in the Pink Zone events.

The official charity of the WBCA Pink Zone® is the Kay Yow Cancer Fund™ in partnership with the V Foundation and the WBCA. The official dates for the WBCA Pink Zone is Feb. 11-20.

The lady Huskies are officially registered for a Pink Zone game. They will join an estimated 2,000 schools across the country taking part in the Pink Zone initiative, to raise breast cancer awareness and money for The Kay Yow Cancer Fund. After the game, the team leaders will report back to the Pink Zone officials with information such as fan attendance and money raised. They will also submit photos of the night's activities.

"I think it's important to support charitable campaigns in your community and as well as nationally," said senior co-captain Morgan Brosnihan. "People working together on many levels are what helps bring about change or solutions to a problem. The Pink Zone gives the basketball community the opportunity to share in an issue that affects so many lives, and through our participation gives us the ability to express that we care."

Coach Steve Fratz added that everyone can relate to the fight against cancer.

"If you have not had it personally, most assuredly you know someone who has," Fratz said. "Cancer does not discriminate against race or age, and everyone wants to do something to raise awareness, contribute to research, and to one day find a cure. I'm proud of our team for wanting to use one of our games to support this important cause."

A portion of the admission money will be donated to the Kay Yow Cancer Fund. The team has also been fundraising through T-shirt sales, and will host a halftime shooting contest. The winner of the pink basketball and the amount of money raised through these season efforts will be announced at the team's last home game, which will be against Southern on Feb. 17. A portion of the gate at that game will also be donated.

For more information, persons may visit the team's Facebook page: Northern Lady Huskies Basketball 2010-2011.

*"Discover the Bears, Carve a Memory: Only in Garrett County©" is a project of Western Garrett County State Park Volunteers, Inc., a not-for-profit 501(c)(3) organization. Our main goals for this project are to bring art to public spaces, increase tourism, and raise money for the Forest Canopy Walkway to be built at Deep Creek Lake State Park. With the continuing growth in Eco-tourism, a similar Forest Canopy Walkway in Florida increased tourist traffic by 42%.

Green Energy Training Funds Now Available

Training current workers in new "green energy" skills has just become more affordable for businesses located Garrett, Allegany, and Washington counties through a grant received by the Western Maryland Consortium.

According to a release from the consortium, this grant will reimburse local employers 100% of the cost of training their existing workers in new skills in "green" construction techniques, such as improving energy-efficiency, electrical generation/smart grid technology, residential and commercial retrofitting, and installation and maintenance of solar photovoltaic and/or wind-powered systems.

Training can be provided through training vendors and consultants, as well as on-line, and the funding can assist with the costs of trainers, tuition, books, and fees. Any training is limited to six months in duration and must be approved in advance of the start of training. Priority for funding will be given to projects that result in one or more of the following: an increase in wages as a result of the training, an upgrade in job title, or a promotion; however, none of these are required actions for approval of a project submission.

The grant funding for this program is part of the Md. Energy Sector Partnership (MESP) grant received by the Governor's Workforce Investment Board and the Maryland Department of Labor, Licensing, and Regulation. Funding was provided by the U.S. Department of Labor through the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act.

Employers interested in submitting an application or learning more about this new program should contact the local office of the Western Maryland Consortium in their respective county. The contact person in Garrett County is Jon Wynn at 301-334-8445.

AN ACCIDENTAL VALENTINE – Tina Jones of Friendsville snapped this photo of an "early valentine" that was unknowingly created by the tire tracks of her son Greg's vehicle. Greg said he was unaware his tire treads produced the interlocking heart design as he double-parked, rushed inside to say "I love you, Mom," and drove away.

Man Charged With Trespassing And Disturbing Peace

An Oakland man was arrested by Garrett County sheriff's deputies after they responded to a trespassing complaint at a Mtn. Lake Park home.

Deputies arrived at approximately 4 a.m. Sunday after they received a complaint that a man had entered the residence without permission and would not leave. Chester Dale Burgess, 33, was arrested and charged with trespassing on private property and disturbing the peace. He was removed from the home and taken to the Garrett County Jail to await a bond hearing.

Two Arrested By Deputies On DUI Charges

Two men were arrested by Garrett County sheriff's deputies last Friday on drinking and driving charges. The following incidents are unrelated.

A deputy stopped a vehicle on Garrett Highway near Mosser Road at approximately 1:45 a.m. for a registration violation. Richard John Milton, 22, McHenry was identified as the driver, and he was given field sobriety tests, which he did not complete to the deputy's satisfaction. He was charged with driving with an expired registration, driving under the influence of alcohol, DUI per se, and driving while impaired by alcohol. He was later released pending trial.

A 1991 Chevy truck was stopped at approximately 10 p.m. Friday evening on Garrett Highway near Deep Creek Drive for traffic violations. Deputies identified the driver as David Duane Sisler, 56, Oakland, who was found to be driving under the influence. He was charged with DUI, DUI per se, DWI, and additional driving violations. He was taken to the Garrett County Jail, where he was later released until trial.

K. Dubansky To Speak At Garden Club Meeting

The Mtn. Laurel Garden Club will meet at 10:30 a.m. on Tuesday, Feb. 15, at Will O' the Wisp, Deep Creek Lake. Following a short business meeting, Katharine Dubansky will present two topics at one time – "Growing Shiitake Mushrooms" and "Commu-nity Sustainable Agriculture (CSA) in Garrett County." The program will focus on the Dubanskys' CSA operation and include a PowerPoint presentation and explanation of their shiitake operation.

Dubansky came to western Maryland in 1990 to attend Frostburg State University. After receiving a bachelor of science degree in elementary and middle school education, she remained in the area. As a member of the Gandolf's bar and restaurant cooperative, she began to learn more about whole foods cooking, organic foods, and local farms.

Within a few years, she and her husband Max were living on a farm in central Garrett County tending numerous farm animals and produce gardens. They began a small CSA as well as attended the local farmers' markets in the area before moving to their current Pleasant Valley, Backbone Food Farm home in 1999. They became Certified Organic by the West Virginia organization, the Mtn. State Growers and Buyers Association.

The family of six maintains Backbone Food Farm using only organic and sustainable methods. They have 12 acres in produce and cover crops, one greenhouse, one high tunnel, and several hoophouses. Horses, cows, pigs, and chickens are part of the farm as well. In addition to vegetable gardens, they grow shiitake mushrooms, blueberries, and raspberries. These products are available to the community through their 50-member Community Support Agriculture (CSA) and at the Oakland, Morgantown, W.Va., and Frostburg farmers' markets.

For more information about the Mtn. Laurel Garden Club, persons may contact Ginni Neff at 301-387-7387 or Sandy Zakaluzny at 301-387-4404. The club is a member of the Federated Garden Clubs of Maryland Inc., the Central Atlantic Region, and the National Gardens Clubs Inc. Affiliated clubs provide education, resources, and national networking opportunities for members as well as promote gardening, floral design, and civic and environmental responsibility.

PROPERTY OWNERS NEED TO KNOW ABOUT THE NEW MARYLAND DORMANT MINERALS ACT!

THE LAW

On or after October 1, 2011, a surface owner of real property that is subject to a mineral interest may maintain an action to terminate a dormant mineral interest.

A mineral interest is dormant for the purpose of this subtitle if the mineral interest is unused for a period of 20 or more years preceding the commencement of termination of the mineral interest; and notice of the mineral interest was not recorded during the period of 20 or more years preceding the commencement of termination of the mineral interest.

A civil action may be maintained, whether or not the owner of the severed mineral interest is an unknown or missing owner.

An owner of a mineral interest may record, at any time, a notice of intent to preserve the mineral interest or a part of a mineral interest.

In an action to terminate a mineral interest, the court shall permit the owner of the mineral interest to record a late notice of intent to preserve the mineral interest as a condition of dismissal of the action, if the owner of the mineral interest pays the litigation expenses incurred by the surface owner of the real property that is subject to the mineral interest.

ACTIONS YOU NEED TO TAKE

If you own the surface of your land but do not own your minerals, you may be able to file a civil case to get your minerals.

If you are a mineral owner who does not own the surface, you may need to file a notice in the Land Records to preserve your mineral interest by October 1, 2011, or you may lose it.

If you own a portion of your minerals and want a gas and oil lease, you can request that the court appoint a trustee so you can have your interest leased.

Find out what you own: Many properties have had their minerals, coal, oil and gas rights separated in the past; our experience shows that many severed mineral interests do not make it into the current Deed.

Know who owns the minerals under your land: Whether you want gas development on your property or want to stop any production on your property, you need to know who owns your minerals. If you can get title to your minerals, you are in control.

Phillips & Worthington PA Can Help You

Perform a complete mineral title search on your property to find out who owns the minerals under your property.

Get title to the minerals, oil and gas under your property.

Prepare and file notices for Mineral Owners who want to keep their mineral interests.

File suit against unknown mineral owners beginning on October 1, 2011.

Negotiate your gas lease.

Get a full mineral title search of your property. Many real estate attorneys and banks only search 40-60 years of records. These limited searches may not find that minerals were separated earlier. A mineral title search will find mineral severances 150 years back or more.

With a free consultation to determine if the Maryland Dormant Mineral Act can benefit you.

Military Family Support Group Meeting Slated

The next Military Family Support Group meeting is scheduled for Wednesday, Feb. 16, at 6:30 p.m. in the conference room at Oakland Town Hall, 15 South Second Street. The event will include discussion of future activities for 2011 and the continuing effort to send "care" boxes to deployed military members.

The organization is open to anyone who has family or friends serving in any branch of the military. Meetings are designed to give families and friends an opportunity to provide support to each other while their loved ones are serving and/or are deployed.

To contact the group for more information, persons may visit supportlocalmilitary.com or call Mel or Cathy Menker at 301-334-5906.

Ask The Everyday Scientist

GAS VS. COAL
by Dr. Tom Sheahen

Q. I've heard that natural gas is a much better fuel than coal, because it emits less carbon dioxide into the air. Is that true? Why? Also, is that the reason they want to drill the Marcellus shale?

A. You've asked some completely separate questions here. The first answer is "yes." The reason why has to do with the molecules formed during combustion.

Natural gas is nearly all methane, the chemical CH_4. When methane burns, it combines with oxygen and the chemical reaction is: $CH_4 + 2\ O_2 \rightarrow 2\ H_2O + CO_2$

In the process, the heat released is 840 kilojoules (kJ) per mole of CH_4. (One mole of CH_4 is 16 grams, about half an ounce). The gases going out the stack are water vapor and carbon dioxide. One CH_4 molecule leads to one CO_2 molecule.

Coal has a ratio of carbon to hydrogen that is close to C_1H_1 – typically about C_5H_3. Since the carbon atom is 12 times as massive as the hydrogen atom, coal is nearly all carbon by weight. An approximately correct balanced chemical equation for the burning of coal is: $4\ CH + 5\ O_2 \rightarrow 2\ H_2O + 4\ CO_2$

Here again, each carbon atom in coal produces one CO_2 molecule. The big difference is the amount of heat released. Burning ordinary coal releases only 380 kJ per mole of CO_2 produced. (This is because the small methane molecule is much more fragile that the highly complex structures that comprise coal.) Compared to coal, natural gas releases less than half as much CO_2 per unit of heat produced in the course of heating your house, or running an industrial furnace or steam generating plant.

There are several other advantages that make natural gas the preferred fuel for home heating: It burns clean, produces no soot or obnoxious gases, and it's transported through underground pipes instead of in railroad cars. Propane, which is a minor component in natural gas, has to be delivered occasionally by truck. Still, coal is cheaper than anything else, which explains why it's the choice for gigantic applications like generating electricity.

The continuing search for natural gas is driven by economics, not by concerns over CO_2. Any underground source of gas, oil, or coal is evaluated on two questions: "How much will it cost to produce?" and "How much can we sell it for?" The reason the Marcellus shale has become attractive is that a new technique was recently developed for getting at the gas, which greatly lowers the production cost, making it profitable. With new gas fields becoming economic for the first time, we can hope the price of natural gas will decline somewhat. Shortages of natural gas, widely feared a few years ago, are far less likely in the near future.

Reduced CO_2 per unit of energy is a fortunate side benefit of improved economics for natural gas. Although gas may play a greater role in the future, there won't be any slackening of demand for coal and oil, because worldwide energy consumption keeps growing.

PACK 31 HOLDS CAMP-IN – Cub Scout Pack 31 recently had a camp-in at the Oakland Community Center. "The boys had lots of fun," noted a Scout leader. They played basketball, raced pinewood derby and Matchbox cars, made picture frames, watched a movie, and held a raingutter regatta race. The regatta winners were Roger Dixon, first place; Dakota Shaffer, second; Brendle Creech, third; and Austin Cassidy, best of show. Left to right in the front row are Branson Hall, Tre DeWitt, Aaron Calhoun, Dakota, Bryson Harvey, Isaiah Phillips, Colin Shreve, and Brendle. In the second row are Jonathan Buckingham (visitor), William Gearhart, Caleb Rowan, Evan DeWitt, Gavin Curry, James Bolyard, and Aaron Smith. In the third row are Tyler Curry, Ethan Buckingham, Roger, Chase Lathbury, Jerod Liverance, Dilion DeWitt, Kazzie Sisler, Nathaniel Cassidy, Nick Glotfelty, and Austin. Not shown are Deston Burns, T.J. May, and Brinton Devens.

Intro To Anatomy Class Scheduled At Northern Ctr.

Garrett College's Northern Outreach Center in Grantsville will host a course titled "Introduction to Anatomy and Physiology" on Mondays and Wednesdays, March 2 through April 4, from 6 to 9:15 p.m.

The course will provide an overview of human anatomy and physiology, including an introduction to structure and function of the human body by systems and on the cellular level. The course can be taken alone or as one in a series of the medical coding and billing training program that prepares participants for a position as a medical coding specialist.

Coding professionals work in a multitude of settings throughout the health care industry, including hospitals, physicians' offices and clinics, long-term care facilities, insurance companies, government agencies, home-care providers, or anywhere medical procedures are performed.

For additional information, persons may contact Terry Beachy, Northern Outreach Center coordinator, at 301-895-4700 or terry.beachy@garrettcollege.edu.

To register for this course, one may call the Continuing Education and Workforce Development office at 301-387-3069.

PRICING UNDER PRESSURE

Deciding on an asking price for your home is challenging enough these days, but you need specific pricing strategies for particular scenarios, especially if you're under pressure to move quickly or your home isn't selling after being on the market for several months. Here are suggestions for both situations.

If you're facing a deadline due to job relocation or other reasons, then you need to price competitively, even more competitively than expected in today's market. You'll need to list at significantly less than your competition. Think 15% less. That may seem tough to stomach, but it's better than continuing your monthly loan payments or the hassle of trying to find tenants to rent your home.

If your home has been listed for some time, but not generating interest, you'll need to lower your price. Of the three elements that sell a home - price, location, and condition - price is the one you'll have the most control over.

If home values have declined in your neighborhood, the price you originally listed at a few months ago may now be too high and out of line with comparable listings. Now would be the time to have your real estate agent prepare a new Comparative Market Analysis (CMA) and reevaluate your pricing strategy. If you've got to sell, and sell now, price it like you mean it.

If you are thinking of buying or selling a home but feel "out of touch" with real estate, give me a call today.

Aubrey Stewart, "Wereth Eleven" Presentation Scheduled At FSU

T.J. Coleman, president of the Aubrey Stewart Project, will present the "untold story" of "The Wereth Eleven" soldiers on Monday, Feb. 21, at 7 p.m. in the Atkinson Room of the Lane University Center at Frostburg State University.

This presentation will focus on Piedmont, W.Va., native Aubrey Stewart (pictured), who was executed by German troops in 1944. The presentation is free and open to the public.

Stewart was 36, too old to be drafted, when he left his job at the Westvaco Paper Mill in Luke and volunteered to fight in World War II. He would become part of the Wereth Eleven, 11 African American soldiers from the 333rd Field Artillery Battalion, a black unit in the segregated U.S. Army, who were separated from their unit during the Battle of the Bulge.

Stewart and the other soldiers hiked for many miles in the snow with no food, trying to rejoin American troops before coming upon the tiny town of Wereth, Belgium. They were welcomed into the home of Mathias Langer and his family, who were risking their own lives by doing so.

For a brief time, the soldiers were warm and comfortable in Langer's home. Soon, however, a woman sympathetic to the Germans informed the SS that the Americans were in town. The black soldiers were executed by the German soldiers, and their bodies were left in the snow for more than two months.

Years later, a wooden cross from the Langer family cemetery was placed on the site of the massacre to honor the 11 victims. The townspeople of Wereth continued to raise money to honor the soldiers, and today, a permanent memorial stands inscribed with the names of all 11 soldiers.

The Aubrey Stewart Project was formed by Coleman as a way to publicize the often-forgotten story of Stewart and the Wereth Eleven.

"Unifying all races is one of Coleman's primary goals of the project," a spokesperson noted. "Coleman also hopes the project will encourage today's youth to dream and to leave an impact on society."

The mottos of the project are "Above and Beyond the Call of Duty," The Ultimate Sacrifice," and "Excellence Above All Things."

For more information about this presentation, persons may call the FSU Diversity Center at 301-687-4030.

A documentary on the Wereth Eleven will also be aired on the National Geographic Channel on Wednesday, Feb. ,16, at 9 p.m.

Dr. Ronel Williams To Speak At Garrett County Health Fair

Dr. Ronel R. Williams (pictured) will present "Myofascial Dry Needling" during the Garrett County Health Fair, slated for Saturday, April 16, at Wisp Resort in McHenry.

Myofascial trigger point dry needling is a treatment to restore proper function to abnormally behaving muscles. Needling can be used to treat such conditions as headaches, migraines, chronic pain syndrome, muscle tightness, sports injuries, fibromyalgia, and neck, mid-back, low-back, and many other pain -elated symptoms.

Williams has practiced chiropractic in Garrett County for more than 30 years. He is a graduate of the National University of Health Sciences, Lombard, Ill. He holds a certificate in sports medicine and is a diplomate of the Board of Chiropractic Examiners. He is a member of the American Chiropractic Association (ACA), Maryland Chiropractic Association, West Virginia Chiropractic Society, ACA's Council on Sports Injuries, and the Garrett County Chamber of Commerce.

Williams completed myofascial dry needling training at the Dry Needling Institute LLC.

"Dr. Williams combines a broad range of conservative therapeutics at his clinic, including manipulation, soft tissue techniques, spinal decompression therapy, laser therapy, physical therapy, exercise rehabilitation, custom foot orthotics, and nutritional counseling. as well as dry needling, to assist in the recovery of his patients," a spokesperson said.

In addition to several guest speakers, the Garrett County Health Fair will have more than 60 informational booths, games, prizes, and many free health screenings. Additional information can be obtained by calling 301-533-4178.

Love is limitless! The more we give, the more we have to give. If we love those whose lives we touch each day, they will know it and pass it on. 1 John 4.8 tells us, "God is love." This is the way He manifests Himself on Earth. With His help we can truly love one another as He commands us to. Give yourself a Valentine this year…worship God each week. You will learn to give love… and you will receive love that knows no bounds.

Surrender

There is a popular saying that God will never give us more than we can handle. Mother Teresa's ironic quip on this was to say "I know God will not give me anything I can't handle. I just wish that He didn't trust me so much." The idea that people are never given more than they can handle is belied by the roughly one million people who commit suicide every year. Obviously they had more than they could handle, unless we believe that they just gave up too easily. The will to live is too strongly embedded in all of us to believe that. But perhaps their mistake was that they persisted in trying to find their own solution to their problems. Often we cannot solve our own problems and must be willing to ask others, including God, for help. Often the suicide or would-be suicide cannot see beyond his or her own misery, and fears becoming a burden to others. That is perhaps the saddest thing in all of this: that the impulse to not want to burden others refuses to let others exercise their impulse to help. God loves us and wants us to be happy, and we need only surrender to his will to be saved from our misery.

Humble yourselves therefore under the mighty hand of God, that in due time he may exalt you. Cast all your anxieties on him, for He cares about you.

R.S.V. 1 Peter 5:6-7

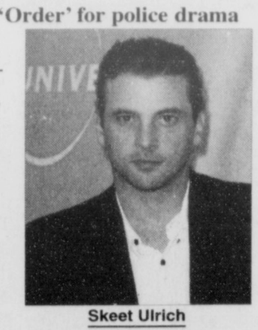
Major retooling is in 'Order' for police drama

By Jay Bobbin
© Zap2it



Skeet Ulrich

Q: Please don't tell me that "Law & Order: Los Angeles" is gone already. It barely had a chance to establish itself before it was cut for all the holiday programming. –Don Berger, Elgin, Ill.

A: At this writing, NBC is planning to bring it back sometime before the end of the season ... and with some big changes. Though co-star Skeet Ulrich still will appear in the first new episodes, he won't be around for long; his character, Detective Rex Winters, is being written out of the show.

Interestingly, his spot will be taken by someone already on the drama: Alfred Molina, whose prosecutor character decides to return to the police force from whence he came, making him co-star Corey Stoll's new partner. That also will make Terrence Howard's character the lone deputy district attorney on the show. Regina Hall and Megan Boone are being cut from the cast as well.

Q: James Van Der Beek was really good in a Hallmark Channel movie called "Mrs. Miracle." Has he got any more movies coming in the near future? –Don Cribben, Jackson, Ohio

A: The former "Dawson's Creek" star has completed a mystery titled "The Big Bang," with Antonio Banderas as a private eye on a missing-persons case. Sienna Guillory, Sam Elliott, Autumn Reeser ("No Ordinary Family"), Delroy Lindo (of the new Fox series "The Chicago Code") and music's Snoop Dogg also are in the cast. No release date has been specified, other than it's supposed to be this year.

Q: Is there a date from HBO as to when season four of "True Blood" will begin? –Kara McDonald, Edgewater, Md.

A: Already being promoted by the cable network as "The Season of the Witch," it's reportedly slated to begin June 12. Paola Turbay, the former Miss Columbia, will become a cast member as a character Bill (Stephen Moyer) apparently encounters while in Peru.

Q: I missed the Kennedy Center Honors in December, due to a local cable outage. Do you know if and when it might be rerun? –Peter Harris, Coram, N.Y.

A: The annual CBS special, which included Oprah Winfrey and Paul McCartney among the honorees the last time, is one of the very few television programs that does not get a broadcast replay. You can find bits and pieces of past editions on the Internet ... but if you see any copies for sale, they would have to have been recorded off the air, and hence are not officially sanctioned releases.

Strange BUT TRUE

• It was legendary American crime novelist Rex Stout who made the following sage observation: "Nothing is more admirable than the fortitude with which millionaires tolerate the disadvantages of their wealth."

• If you have an aversion to bugs, you might not want to take a vacation in Borneo anytime soon. The world's third largest island is home to a particular stick insect that, measuring in at 14 inches, is the longest insect in the world.

• You might be surprised to learn that the earliest recorded reference to a vending machine dates back to the first century. It seems that a mathematician and engineer named Hero of Alexandria invented a mechanism that dispensed a fixed amount of holy water when a patron deposited a coin.

• In the African nation of Somalia, a man is permitted to have as many as four wives -- but only if he can support them all.

• Between 70 percent and 80 percent of the world's fresh water is stored in glaciers, and all but 1 percent of the world's glaciers are found in the Arctic or Antarctic.

• You've probably heard of solar-powered cars (even if they're not in common use), but you may not realize that there have also been examples of solar-powered airplanes, motor scooters and boats.

• Those who study such things say that of the 785 million adults in the world who are unable to read, two-thirds are women.

THE HISTORY CHANNEL

• On Feb. 16, 1878, the Bland-Allison Act -- which provided for a return to the minting of silver coins -- becomes the law of the land. During the 19th century, money was backed by actual deposits of silver and gold, unlike today when the value of American money is essentially secured by faith in the stability of the government.

• On Feb. 15, 1903, candy-store owner Morris Michtom places two stuffed bears in his shop window in Brooklyn, N.Y., advertising them as Teddy bears, after President Theodore "Teddy" Roosevelt. Other toy manufacturers soon began turning out copies of Michtom's stuffed bears, which would become a national childhood institution.

• On Feb. 14, 1929, in Chicago, gunmen in the suspected employment of organized crime boss Al Capone murder seven members of George "Bugs" Moran's North Siders gang. The so-called St. Valentine's Day Massacre motivated federal authorities to redouble their efforts to find evidence incriminating enough to take Capone off the streets.

• On Feb. 19, 1942, President Franklin D. Roosevelt signs Executive Order 9066, authorizing the removal of all people from military areas. The military in turn defined the entire West Coast as a military area, and more than 110,000 Japanese Americans were relocated to remote internment camps around the country.

• On Feb. 18, 1959, Ray Charles records "What'd I Say," which went on to become one of the greatest rhythm-and-blues records ever made. The call-and-response song was created to fill time at the end of a concert, and the crowd loved it.

• On Feb. 20, 1974, Reg Murphy, an editor of The Atlanta Constitution, is kidnapped after being lured from his home by William Williams. Murphy was released after a $700,000 ransom was paid. Within hours, Williams and his wife, Betty, were captured.

Q: When I was a kid I was enchanted by Peter Pan. Needless to say, I begged and finally got the 1950 original cast album on the Broadway production of "Peter Pan," in addition to a wristwatch and a coloring book, both issued about the time the movie opened in theaters. What do you think they are worth? -- Doris, Rio Rancho, N.M.

A: I consulted several price guides and think your original cast album is valued in the $25 to $30 range, assuming it is in excellent condition. The coloring book, if it was issued by Whitman in 1952, is worth about $20, and the wristwatch approximately $35.

Q: A distant relative attended the 1904 St. Louis World's Fair, and I have several of his souvenirs, including a pocket knife showing the cascade fountains, a plate with a design of the observation wheel and several silver-plated spoons. -- Gerald, Divide, Colo.

A: One of the better price guides is 1904 St. Louis World's Fair Mementos and Memorabilia by the late Robert L. Hendershott, and privately published in 1994. Both your knife and plate are referenced and listed in the $100 to $200 range. Considering that this excellent guide is now 15 years old, I would add about 30 percent to allow for appreciation. Most silver-plated spoons from the fair seem to sell in the $15 to $25 range. This was, without a doubt, one of this country's most popular fairs, and items from it are both plentiful and popular with collectors.

Q: I have a set of International Silver flatware in the Enchanted Rose pattern. When was it made? -- Art, Portsmouth, Va.

A: It was introduced in 1954.

Birding BITS

Winter Gold

Let's face it— birds love peanuts. Shelled or unshelled (unsalted), any bird will fly to any feeder to grab one. Peanuts are a wonderful food to feed birds because they are high in fat and rich in protein —two things birds need to get through the cold winter months.

MAKE A SPENDING AND SAVING PLAN

by Lynn Little, extension educator, Family and Consumer Sciences University of Maryland Extension

Making a spending and saving plan puts you in charge of your money. A spending and saving plan will help you stretch dollars and get more for your money. It will help the money last longer than the month. It will help you work toward your financial goals and pay your bills on time. It will help you spend wisely and it will help you set aside money regularly for savings and emergencies.

A spending plan will help reduce the stress of not knowing whether you have the money to pay bills when they are due. It will also give you a sense of control over your money, rather than letting your money control you.

There is no right spending and saving plan. The best plan will be based on what is important to you and your family. It is a good idea to let everyone in the family have a role in deciding how to spend the money. When children are included in money discussions, they learn valuable skills and they are more likely to cooperate with the plan.

Before you decide where your money really must go, you need to determine your financial goals. What is important to you and your family? Are you spending money on those things or is the money just drifting away? Goal setting helps guide your decision-making and it helps you set priorities.

To develop your spending and savings plan you first need to determine how much money you have available every month. What are your income sources? How much money do you receive and when is it available?

To take charge of your money, you need to understand your spending patterns. Where does your money go? What fixed expenses do you have? What flexible expenses do you have?

Once you have tracked your income and expenses, you are ready to develop a plan for future spending. Making a spending plan is the first step toward reaching your financial goals. Writing out your plan helps you set saving and spending priorities, increasing the likelihood of meeting your financial goals.

When you make a spending plan, use a time period that works for you – weekly, monthly, or some other period. Be realistic as you plan how to spend your money. It is hard to break old spending habits. Success often comes in small steps. A spending plan will also help you remember when bills are due. You will save money by avoiding late payments or bouncing checks.

Make saving for emergency expenses and family goals an important part of your spending plan. Many people save by removing change from their pockets at the end of the day and dropping it into a savings jar. Others have money automatically deducted from their paycheck and placed into a savings account.

Another way is to Pay Yourself First. This means that when you get a paycheck, you place money into a savings account for your goals and future needs before you pay routine expenses.

If you believe that you don't have enough money to start saving, think about ways you could cut back. Do you eat out a lot? Can you cut back on candy, cigarettes, coffee, lottery tickets, magazines, or sodas?

Spending less and saving more requires motivation and self-discipline. Starting to save can pay big dividends in the future. Even small amounts saved regularly can add up to large amounts in the future.

Soup Sale Planned To Benefit Garrett County United Way

The Area Agency on Aging, operating under the auspices of Garrett County Community Action Committee Inc., will sponsor a soup sale on Thursday, Feb. 24, from 11:30 to 5 p.m. at the Mary Browning Senior Center, Oakland. Proceeds will benefit Garrett County United Way.

Soup choices will include chili, vegetable beef, and potato. Soup may be purchased by the bowl with a roll or cornbread for $3 or by the quart for $5 for the soup and $2 for six rolls or cornbread.

"Soup will be sold on a carryout basis only," noted a spokesperson. "Advance orders are strongly encouraged."

GC United Way supports many local programs, agencies, and organizations, including Mtn. Glade Adult Day Care, the Dove Center, Meals on Wheels, the Short Term Prescription Medication Program, Habitat for Humanity, and Garrett Cooperative Ministries.

"The soup sale is a way for the Area Agency on Aging to support these organization in their mission to assist Garrett County residents," the spokesperson said.

To place soup orders, persons may call 301-334-9431, ext. 135 or 137.

SDAT I.D. No.: 02-012006 (Assessed as 19.78 acres)

The Property will be sold in "AS-IS" condition, subject to all conditions, restrictions, easements, covenants, rights-of-way and agreements of record affecting the Property, and subject to whatever an accurate survey or inspection of the Property would disclose, without any express or implied warranty of any kind.

A deposit of $7,500.00 cash, certified or cashier's check, payable to the undersigned Trustees, shall be required at the time and place of sale. The balance of the purchase price shall bear interest at the rate of 6.50% per annum from the date of sale to the date of delivery of payment to the Substitute Trustees. No deposit shall be required of the noteholder where the noteholder bids on the Property at sale and payment of the purchase price by the noteholder shall be made by crediting the purchase price against the foreclosure costs and expenses and the indebtedness secured by said Deed of Trust. In the event that settlement is delayed for any reason, including, but not limited to, exceptions to the sale, bankruptcy filings by interested parties, court administration of the foreclosure sale or unknown title defects, there shall be no abatement of interest.

Adjustment of all taxes, public charges and special or regular assessments, annual front foot benefit charges and deferred connection fees, if any, shall be made as of the date of sale and thereafter assumed by the purchaser. Condominium fees and/or homeowner's association fees, if any, shall be assumed by the purchaser from the date of sale. Title examination, conveyancing, transfer taxes, recordation tax and all other costs of conveyance and settlement shall be paid by the purchaser. Purchaser agrees to pay $295.00 at settlement to Seller's attorney for review of the settlement documents.

The Property is sold subject to the right of any persons in possession of all or any part of the Property under recorded or unrecorded leases or rights of occupancy, if any. Purchaser shall be responsible for obtaining possession of the Property.

Compliance with the terms of sale shall be made and the balance of the purchase price shall be paid within ten (10) days after final ratification of the sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, unless said time is extended by the undersigned Trustees in their sole and absolute discretion for good cause shown, time being of the essence; otherwise the deposit shall be forfeited and the Property will be resold at the risk and expense of the defaulting purchaser. In the event of resale, the defaulting purchaser shall not be entitled to any benefit, surplus proceeds or profits resulting from such resale.

The Trustees are not liable, individually or otherwise, for any reason. If title to the Property is not or cannot be transferred consistent with the terms hereof for any reason, the Trustee's liability is limited, at its sole discretion, to return any deposit, without interest, thereby rescinding the sale, and there is no other right or remedy against the Trustee at law or in equity.

Evans to John Burson, Esq., Trustee(s), dated March 27, 2008 and recorded among the Land Records of Garrett County in Liber No. 1362, folio 115, and Declaration of Substitution of Trustees dated September 28, 2010 and recorded among the aforementioned Land Records substituting Thomas P. Dore, Mark S. Devan, Gerard F. Miles, Jr., Shannon Menapace, Erin Gloth, and Renee Dyson as Substituted Trustees under the Deed of Trust aforesaid, Wells Fargo Bank, NA being the current holder of the Note(s) secured thereby, and default having occurred under the terms thereof, the undersigned Substituted Trustees will offer for sale at public auction, at the Courthouse Door, Alder Street entrance, Oakland, Maryland on Monday, February 28, 2011, at 03:20 p.m.

All that lot of ground and the improvements thereon situate in Garrett County, State of Maryland, as described in the Deed of Trust dated March 27, 2008 and recorded among the land records of Garrett County, in Liber 1362, folio 115, also being further described in a Deed dated March 27, 2008 and recorded among the land records of Garrett County in Liber 1362, folio 107. The improvements thereon consist of a dwelling. The property will be sold in "AS IS" condition, subject to any existing building violations, restrictions and agreements of record. Neither the Substituted Trustees nor their respective agents, successors or assigns make any representations or warranties, either expressed or implied with respect to the property. The Substituted Trustees shall convey insurable title.

TERMS OF THE SALE: A deposit in a form acceptable to the Substituted Trustee in the amount of $7,000.00 will be required of the purchaser other than the Holder of the Note or its assigns at the time and place of sale. The balance of the purchase price shall be paid immediately with available funds within twenty (20) days of the final ratification of the sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County. Time is of the essence. The purchaser, other than the Holder of the Note and its assigns, shall pay interest at the rate of 6.00000% per annum on the unpaid portion of the purchase price from the date of sale to date of settlement. In the event settlement is delayed for any reason, there shall be no abatement of interest. If the purchaser defaults, the entire deposit is forfeited. The Substituted Trustees shall resell the property at the risk and expense of the defaulting purchaser. The defaulting purchaser shall be liable for the payment of any deficiency in the purchase price, all costs and expenses of both sales, attorney fees and all other charges due and incidental and consequential damages. Real property taxes and assessments shall be adjusted to the date of sale and assumed thereafter by the purchaser. Ground rent and water/sewer charges, if any, whether incurred prior to or after the sale shall be paid by purchaser. Cost of all documentary stamps and transfer taxes shall be paid by the purchaser. Purchaser shall have the responsibility of obtaining possession of the property. In the event the Substituted Trustees do not convey title for any reason, purchaser's sole remedy is return of the deposit. The Substituted Trustees shall have the right to terminate this contract in the event the holder or its servicer has entered into any agreement with or accepted funds from the mortgagor. Upon termination of the contract, Purchaser's sole remedy shall be return of the deposit. Purchaser agrees to pay a deed preparation and document review fee of $350.00 to the Seller's attorney. An additional fee of $250.00 shall be paid to the seller's attorney by purchaser in connection with the review of any motion to substitute a purchaser.

F.a.Project No. STp-3(164)E

The Board of County Commissioners of Garrett County, Maryland, will accept sealed bids for the restoration of an unnamed tributary flowing intc Hoyes Run, which is a tributary to the Youghiogheny River. Based on natural stream design methods, the restoration project will create a mountain stream consisting of step pools within a narrow, vegetated floodplain that will stabilize the channel within the existing stream corridor. Step pools will be held in place by log and rock structures while the stream banks will be laid back and planted with native riparian vegetation. A performance/payment bond in the full bid amount will be required of the successful contractor. For additional information about this project, visit the Garrett County Purchasing Department's web site at www.garrettcounty.org/Purchasing/CurrentBids.aspx.

A Pre-Bid Meeting will be held at 2:00 p.m. on Wednesday, February 16, 2011, in the Commissioners' Public Meeting Room located at 203 South Fourth Street, Room 209, in Oakland, Maryland.

Bid documents and specifications may be obtained in person from the Garrett County Purchasing Department, 203 South Fourth Street, Room 208, Oakland, Maryland 21550. The cost of the bid specifications and drawings is $75.00 per set and is nonrefundable. All out of town contractors must pre-pay for shipping and the cost of the plans. Inquiries may be made by calling 301-334-5003.

Sealed bids must be submitted to the Garrett County Purchasing Department, 203 South Fourth Street, Room 208, Oakland, Maryland 21550, on or before Thursday, March 3, 2011, at 1:30 p.m. (local time). Sealed bids will be publicly opened and read aloud in the Commissioners' Public Meeting Room at 2:00 p.m. on Thursday, March 3, 2011. All bidders are required to submit three (3) copies of their bid documents at the time of submission. All bids submitted should be enclosed in a sealed envelope and should be clearly marked "Hoyes Run Stream Restoration Project Bid" on the outside of the envelope. Any bids received after the time due will not be considered for award and shall be retained as documentation for the bid file.

This project is funded in part through the Federal Highway Administration (FHWA) Tranportation Enhancement Program.

The Board of County Commissioners of Garrett County, Maryland, reserves the right to accept or reject any or all bids, to cancel this invitation to bid and to waive technicalities in any part deemed to be in the best interest of Garrett County.

Monday, February 14, 2011, at 03:20 p.m.

all that lot of ground and the improvements thereon situate in Garrett County, State of Maryland, as described in the Deed of Trust dated March 16, 2007, and recorded among the land records of Garrett County, in Liber 1300, folio 0413, also being further described in a Deed dated March 16, 2007, and recorded among the land records of Garrett County in Liber 1300, folio 407. The improvements thereon consist of a dwelling. The property will be sold in "AS IS" condition, subject to any existing building violations, restrictions and agreements of record. Neither the Substituted Trustees nor their respective agents, successors or assigns make any representations or warranties, either expressed or implied, with respect to the property. The Substituted Trustees shall convey insurable title.

TERMS OF THE SALE: A deposit in a form acceptable to the Substituted Trustee in the amount of $50,000.00 will be required of the purchaser other than the Holder of the Note or its assigns at the time and place of sale. The balance of the purchase price shall be paid immediately with available funds within twenty (20) days of the final ratification of the sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County. Time is of the essence. The purchaser, other than the Holder of the Note and its assigns, shall pay interest at the rate of 6.87500% per annum on the unpaid portion of the purchase price from the date of sale to date of settlement. In the event settlement is delayed for any reason, there shall be no abatement of interest. If the purchaser defaults, the entire deposit is forfeited. The Substituted Trustees shall resell the property at the risk and expense of the defaulting purchaser. The defaulting purchaser shall be liable for the payment of any deficiency in the purchase price, all costs and expenses of both sales, attorney fees and all other charges due and incidental and consequential damages. Real property taxes and assessments shall be adjusted to the date of sale and assumed thereafter by the purchaser. Ground rent and water/sewer charges, if any, whether incurred prior to or after the sale, shall be paid by purchaser. Cost of all documentary stamps and transfer taxes shall be paid by the purchaser. Purchaser shall have the responsibility of obtaining possession of the property. In the event the Substituted Trustees do not convey title for any reason, purchaser's sole remedy is return of the deposit. The Substituted Trustees shall have the right to terminate this contract in the event the holder or its servicer has entered into any agreement with or accepted funds from the mortgagor. Upon termination of the contract, Purchaser's sole remedy shall be return of the deposit. Purchaser agrees to pay a deed preparation and document review fee of $350.00 to the Seller's attorney. An additional fee of $250.00 shall be paid to the seller's attorney by purchaser in connection with the review of any motion to substitute a purchaser.

Medicinal Herbs Series Slated At Northern Center

The Northern Outreach Center, Grantsville, will host a course titled "Medicinal Herbs" beginning on March 1 and continuing for a total of four Tuesdays from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. There will be no class on March 22.

Mimi Hernandez, an herbal and holistic health educator, will be the instructor. She is the outreach coordinator of the Appalachian Center for Ethnobotanical Studies at Frostburg State University. A member of the governing council of the American Herbalists Guild, Hernandez received her master of science in herbal medicine from the Tai Sophia Institute.

With roots in Asheville, N.C., Hernandez is the founder of the One World Healing Arts Institute. She also draws upon her ethnic background and "granny healers" in her life.

Hernandez will cover a variety of topics, including the following: What are herbs and how are they are used? What is herbalism? How are herbal remedies prepared and taken?

For additional information, persons may contact Terry Beachy, Northern Outreach Center coordinator, at 301-895-4700 or at terry.beachy@garrettcollege.edu.

To register for this course, one may call the Garrett College's Continuing Education and Workforce Development office at 301-387-3069.

Maryland Sales Tax To Be Waived On Certain Appliances February 19-21

Maryland Comptroller Peter Franchot announced this week a special tax break on certain Energy Star appliances later this month. Dubbed Shop Maryland Energy, the tax-free weekend features support from the Maryland Retailers Association, Maryland Energy Administration, Maryland Department of the Environment, Maryland Department of Natural Resources, and several state and local officials.

During the weekend of Saturday, Feb. 19, through Monday, Feb. 21, Marylanders who purchase qualifying Energy Star products will be spared the state's 6 percent sales tax.

"Shop Maryland Energy will offer great deals for consumers, boost sales for Maryland retailers, and promote energy efficiency and environmentally safe products," said Comptroller Franchot. "In these tough economic times, consumers and small businesses deserve a break."

Resulting from legislation passed in the 2007 special session of the Maryland General Assembly, this tax-free weekend will occur every year during the Saturday immediately preceding the third Monday in February until the third Monday of February, or until legislative amendment. According to the legislation's fiscal note, sales tax revenues could decrease by $563,300 in fiscal year 2011 and by $591,500 in fiscal year 2012.

During Shop Maryland Energy weekend, air conditioners, clothes washers, furnaces, heat pumps, standard-size refrigerators, compact fluorescent light bulbs, dehumidifiers, and programmable thermostats that have been designated as meeting or exceeding the applicable Energy Star efficiency requirements developed by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency and the U.S. Department of Energy, will be tax-free. Solar water heaters are now tax-exempt year-round.

"The 2010 tax-free week for apparel and footwear was very successful, and we expect the tax-free weekend for Energy Star appliances to be equally successful," said Patrick Donoho, president of the Maryland Retailers Association. "This tax-free weekend has two great benefits for working families in Maryland. First, it will provide much needed tax relief to families who purchase qualified appliances. The savings are significant –6 percent on high-ticket items. Second, it will provide ongoing energy savings to these families through lower energy bills."

The Energy Star label was established to reduce greenhouse gas emissions and other pollutants caused by the inefficient use of energy. The label makes it easier for consumers to identify energy-efficient products that offer savings on energy bills without sacrificing performance, features, and comfort. A list of Energy Star items may be found online at www. energystar.gov.

For more information, persons are invited to visit the Maryland comptroller's web site at www.marylandtaxes.com, send an e-mail to shopmaryland@-comp.state.md.us, or telephone toll-free, 1-800-MD-TAXES.

Flurry Festival Slated At New Germany Park

New Germany State Park will host its first "Flurry Festival" on Saturday, Feb. 19. The festival will feature winter activities, including a snow sculpture contest, a snowball throwing contest, winter-themed crafts, a sucker pull, a free family-friendly movie, and other events.

Snacks and gift items will be available for purchase, with proceeds benefiting the Friends of New Germany State Park.

All programs and activities will be held at the New Germany Lake House from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. The event will be free of charge, but normal state park service charges will apply ($3 per person for Maryland residents, $4 per person for out-of-state residents).

Cross-country ski rentals and lessons will also be available at the New Germany Recreation Hall. For more information, persons may call the Ranger Station at 301-895-5453.

13th Annual Deep Creek Dunk Set For Feb. 26

With chilly temperatures and snowy conditions in full effect, people form throughout Maryland are gearing up for an event synonymous with winter at Deep Creek Lake—the annual Deep Creek Dunk.

The dunk serves as a fundraiser for Special Olympics Maryland and is slated for Saturday, Feb. 26. A thousand dunkers are expected to partake in the event. Last year's Deep Creek Dunk raised approximately $150,000.

The festivities will kick off early with the pre-dunk event Goosebumps & Grapes: An Evening of Fire & Wine. This wine-tasting event, jointly hosted by Honi-Honi, Uno's, Long & Foster Vacation Resort Rentals, and Arrowhead Market, will feature a variety of wines courtesy of Republic National Distributing Company.

There is a $20 donation required to attend the event, which will allow individuals to taste wines around a bonfire or inside a heated tent. Dunkers will also be able to register, between 6 and 9 p.m., for the dunk and avoid the Saturday morning lines.

In order to take a dip into Deep Creek Lake, participants must raise a minimum of $50 in pledges. The contributions will earn dunkers a complimentary meal from Uno's, a commemorative sweatshirt, and a group color photo. Special prizes will be awarded to the top three fundraisers. Heated changing tents will be available on the lawn for both men and women to change in before and after taking the plunge.

Day-of registration will begin at noon on Saturday, and the dunk will take place at 2 p.m. There is no fee for spectators or any age requirements for dunkers, though participants under the age of 18 will need signed parental consent. To register, one may visit www.dunkmd.com, or call 800-541-7544 ext. 503 (Md. only) or 410-789-6677 ext. 503. The hotline is open 24 hours a day.

POSING REGALLY IN AN ICY-LIMBED FOREST in the Friendsville area recently was this American bald eagle, photographed by Friendsville resident Jesse Whittemore. With Presidents' Day just around the corner, one can't help but marvel at the resiliency of not only this national symbol but also of the United States and its people. The bald eagle was on the brink of extirpation in the lower 48 states not too long ago. But after much hard work and determination by many citizens, eagle populations recovered and stabilized – so much so that in 2007, the eagle was removed from the federal List of Endangered and Threatened Wildlife in the Lower 48 States. Americans can once again view this magnificent creature and emblem in many areas of their nation, including Garrett County.

Five-Vehicle Pile-Up Leaves Three Injured

Related accidents that occurred on Bittinger Road last Saturday involved five vehicles and left three people injured. Garrett County sheriff's deputies investigated the 12:30 p.m. accidents.

Investigation revealed that Patricia Biancolli, Waynesboro, Pa., had been traveling south on Bittinger Road, when she and a second vehicle being driven north by Jenny Friend struck head-on in a severe white-out. Also traveling southbound was Ashleigh Clapper, McHenry, who attempted to stop, was struck from behind by Harland Lee, Swanton. Christopher Dewitt, Oakland, came upon the scene and avoided the other vehicles, by running his over an embankment.

Biancolli, Friend, and Clapper were all transported to Garrett County Memo-

Federal Budget Proposals Fail To Impress Maryland Delegation

by Andy Marso
Capital News Service

WASHINGTON – With the ink barely dry on various 2012 federal budget proposals, the Maryland congressional delegation began working on shaping the final product this week.

Rep. Steny Hoyer, D-Mechanicsville, weighed in on the Republicans' plan to trim spending; Sen. Ben Cardin, D-Baltimore, called President Obama's budget proposal "a credible first step," in need of adjustment; and Rep. Donna Edwards, D-Fort Washington, and Rep. Roscoe Bartlett, R-Frederick, teamed up to push for tax relief for research and manufacturing.

On the House floor Wednesday, Hoyer opposed the Republican-authored continuing resolution bill introduced in the House Appropriations Committee Friday that takes President Obama's 2011 request and cuts another $100 billion.

"I agree that reducing spending is part of the fiscal solution," Hoyer said. "But let's reduce spending wisely, instead of doing it in such a way that costs America jobs. When we talk about cutting investments in education, in innovation, and in infrastructure, we are talking about cutting tomorrow's jobs."

Republicans swept into power in the House last November in part by promising to rein in a budget deficit that hit an estimated $1.65 trillion last year. Their budget proposal would cut funding to a host of federal agencies including the Food and Drug Administration, Homeland Security, Transportation, and Housing and Urban Development.

Hoyer called it "short-sighted" and later in the day hosted a news conference with other House Democrats, where he said the Republican plan would set back plans to update the country's infrastructure.

"We need to out-build our competitors because a world-class infrastructure – from highways to broadband connections to air traffic control systems – attracts and keeps businesses, creates jobs, and grows our economy," Hoyer said.

But House Appropriations Committee Chairman Hal Rogers, R-Ky., has defended the Republican plan.

"This year, our nation is spending $1.5 trillion more than we have, running our debt to $14 trillion," Rogers said in a statement released

Lecture Offered At GC Auditorium On Hydraulic Fracking

An informational program on Marcellus shale natural gas drilling will be offered by Dr. Thomas W. Beauduy on Thursday, Feb. 24, at 7 p.m. in the Garrett College auditorium. Hydraulic fracturing will be addresses, as well as the amount of water required for it and the effect withdrawing the water will have on the available supply.

Beauduy is deputy executive director and counsel to the Susquehanna River Basin Commission (SRBC), a federal-interstate compact commission with water resource management responsibility for the Susquehanna River Basin. As part of his management responsibilities, he oversees government affairs, policy development, and the commission's regulatory program. In that capacity, he has had a primary role in developing the program for the Marcellus industry.

"Hydraulic fracturing opens the dense shale to release the gas by pumping approximately 4 million gallons of fluid into the well

Beitzel's Marcellus Shale Bill To Be Heard Next Week

House Bill 411, a measure sponsored by Del. Wendell R. Beitzel (R–Dist, 1A), will be heard before the General Assembly's House Environmental Matters Committee next Wednesday, Feb. 23, in Annapolis at 1 p.m. The measure would require the Maryland Department of Environment (MDE) to submit regulations to the Administrative, Executive, and Legislative Review Committee by Dec. 31.

Sen. George Edwards has submitted a companion bill, SB 422, in the Senate. The proposed legislation has been assigned to the Education, Health, and Environmental Affairs Committed, which has scheduled a hearing for Thursday, March 3, at 1 p.m.

"This bill allows those who have the technical know-how to establish commonsense regulations regarding drilling that would ensure safeguards for the citizens of Garrett and Allegany counties," said Beitzel.

This measure is modeled after a similar proposal approved by the House Environmental Matters Committee during the 2009 legislative session regarding coal combustion byproducts.

Beitzel noted that MDE already has many regulations in place to deal with natural gas and well drilling generally. These regulations give the department the authority to set permit conditions for each well application on a case-by-case basis.

The bill, as presented, tackles the issue on two fronts, the delegate noted. First, it gives the department the authority to promulgate regulations generally dealing with the Marcellus shale.

"Such enumerated power has been the focus of many who have expressed their concerns regarding the possibility of Marcellus shale drilling in Maryland," Beitzel said.

Secondly, the bill specifically enumerates five aspects that the department must address in the regulations.

"MDE has broad authority in the state to regulate drilling for natural gas, both though statute and regulations found in COMAR," Beitzel said. "However, there is no specific provision for horizontal drilling into the Marcellus shale. That is why Senator Edwards and I believed it was best to pursue legislation to require the department to move forward in a timely fashion to promulgate specific regulation for this purpose. The aspects specifically covered in the bill are also things that we have been told the

IT'S WINTER FEST TIME! The streets of Oakland soon will be decorated with a variety of ice sculptures, as the fourth annual Winter Fest will get under way tomorrow, Feb. 18, and run through Sunday evening. The sculptures will be lighted, and a drive through the town in the evening can be particularly engaging for sightseers. The weather could possibly hamper the festival a little bit, as after months of bitter cold, the area is to experience a warm spell. However, Saturday's high is to be just 37, so the sculptures should remain intact. Many will be placed and lighted Friday night, and more will be carved "live" throughout the day on Saturday by returning artist Bill Sandusky of Frozen Assets. There will be "ice bowling," a campfire with s'mores, other food, and music. Brochures with maps and activity listings will be available. Photo by Deb Swiger.

State Legislators Hope To Close Cell Phone/Driving Loopholes

by Holly Nunn
Capital News Service

ANNAPOLIS – Maryland legislators are looking to close gaping loopholes and ease enforcement of laws prohibiting cell phone use behind the wheel.

Bills heard Tuesday in House and Senate committees would amend laws that took effect last October, which banned hand-held cell phone use while the vehicle is in motion. Under the new rules, cell phone use would be illegal any time the car is in the travel portion of the road, including when stopped at a stop light or in traffic.

One bill, sponsored by Delegate James Malone Jr., D-Baltimore County, would make cell-phone use without a hands-free headset a primary offense, which means law enforcement could pull drivers over when they are observed using a handheld device.

As the law is now, drivers have to commit another violation, like speeding or running a stop sign, while talking on a cell phone to be given a ticket for the secondary offense.

"If you look at what is happening, people were finding out that the cell phone ban was a secondary offense," Malone said. "Then they were finding out that they had to be doing something else wrong to get a ticket for using their cell phones. And people started using their cell phones again."

The bill is supported by

McHenry Resident To Give Presentation On Thru-Hiking The Pacific Crest Trail

by Mike Logsdon

McHenry resident Charlie Mead will be the featured speaker at the Garrett College Adventuresports Institute Colloquium on Tuesday, Feb. 22, beginning at 7 p.m. in Room 224 of the Continuing Education building on the campus of Garrett College.

His presentation will focus on pre-trip planning, gear selection, and the challenges of long-distance "thru-hiking" of the Pacific Crest Trail (PCT). A reception for the speaker will begin at 6:30 p.m. in the same room. The reception and presentation are free and open to the public.

Thru-hiking by definition is the process of hiking a long-distance trail from end to end in one continuous effort. For Mead, this latest accomplishment of thru-hiking the PCT took him 172 days. That's around 15.4 miles per day, on average. For an individual like Charlie, who stands just about six feet tall, that distance represents roughly 32,500 steps per day.

"Although my average PCT day hike was 15.4 miles, my longest was 32 miles," noted Mead.

Passionate about backpacking and hiking, when asked how he became interested in hiking the trail, Mead indicated, "Twelve years ago, when I thru-hiked the Appalachian Trail, someone I met made me aware of the Pacific Crest Trail and how challenging and beautiful it was. I put it in the back of my mind that, one day, I would hike that trail too."

The Appalachian Trail (AT) at 2,175 miles and the Pacific Crest Trail (PCT) at 2650 miles represent two of the United States' three longest north/south hiking trails. Only the Continental Divide Trail is longer at 3,100 miles. All are part of the National Scenic Trails

YOUNG ARTISTS' WORK EXHIBITED – An exhibit of the artistic works by local elementary school children is now on display at the Gallery Shop of the Garrett County Arts Council in Oakland. "Art is Elementary" is the title of the new exhibit that features the work of 62 area students from pre-kindergarten age through 5th grade. The display includes various types of paintings, yarn collages, repurposed items such as sea shells and wall paper, and special drawings using a foil technique. The work shown above was created by Aryssa Corby, a fifth grader at Bloomington School. See story on today's arts page. See two additional exhibit pieces on Page A-5.

LOCAL HIKER TO GIVE PRESENTATION – This remarkable scene is just one breath-taking glimpse of what McHenry resident Charlie Mead gets to experience on his thru-hikes across the some of the longest hiking trails in the nation. Mead will be giving a presentation at Garrett College next Tuesday, Feb. 22, on pre-trip planning, gear selection, and the challenges of long distance thru-hiking. A ski patroller at Wisp Resort, Mead has completed two of the three longest north/south hiking trails, the Appalachian Trail and the Pacific Crest Trail. See story for details.

Decorator Lueck Donating Services To Dove Center

The Dove Center's new facility now being built is being decorated by Odette Lueck, owner and principal designer of Odette Lueck Interiors, Oakland. She is offering her services as a gift to the Dove Center.

The Dove Center board member wished to note that they feel fortunate to have the professional talents and experience of Lueck to guide the decorating needs for the new building.

Lueck is past president of the American Society of Interior Designers (ASID) and has chaired many ASID committees, task forces, and councils, as well as served as a competition judge in numerous national design competitions. She is a past member of the national ASID board of directors, as well as chair of the ASID Foundation. She is a fellow of ASID.

"In any community there are many people whose lives have taken an unfortunate turn," Lueck said. "For those of us who are more fortunate, it is a gift to be able to help."

Lueck is working with Gosnell Builders LLC to apply creative and technical solutions that are functional, attractive, and beneficial to the occupants' quality of life and work, a spokesperson said. Designs must adhere to code and regulatory requirements, so Lueck serves as the liaison between the builder, the architect, and the decorating team.

The Dove Center's decorating team members are Lueck, Heather Hanline, Judy Finkel, and Sherry Bradshaw. Bradshaw noted that their goal is to create a "comfortable and comforting environment for counselors to help the victims of domestic violence and sexual assault become survivors and find happiness."

More than 500 first-time victims were served in 2010, Bradshaw noted, and this number is expected to increase in 2011. It is hoped that the new domestic violence/sexual assault resource center will open in October of this year.

MSP Seeking Info On Stolen Vehicle Found Unattended

Maryland State Police are investigating the discovery of a stolen car, which was found at approximately 9:30 p.m. last Wednesday. It was parked on Rt. 219 near Cove Road, Accident.

Police learned that the unattended maroon 2001 Hyundai Elantra had been reported stolen to the Baltimore Police Department in October 2010. A passerby of the vehicle said it had been parked there since approximately 3 p.m. that day.

Anyone with information regarding the vehicle is asked to contact the MSP McHenry Barrack at 301-387-1101 or 301-895-1101.

Recent Accidents Send Two To Area Hospitals

Two motor vehicle accident sent two people to area hospitals yesterday. Garrett County sheriff's deputies investigated the unrelated incidents.

Deputies responded to Garrett Highway at the Wal-Mart intersection for a two-vehicle accident with injuries. Investigation revealed that Jonathoan Cooper, 20, Oakland, had been traveling north on Garrett Highway, when he failed to stop for a red light and struck a vehicle driven by Kayla Yommer, 22, Oakland. Yommer was taken to Garrett County Memorial Hosptial by Southern Rescue Squad. Oakland Volunteer Fire Department also responded to the 7:30 a.m. scene. Cooper was cited for the accident.

In a separate incident, Deputies responded to Maryland Highway in the area of Bull's Restaurant at approximately 5 p.m. Investigation revealed that Scharolett Sue Saweikis, Westernport, had been traveling east on Maryland Highway, when she reportedly drove off the road and struck a culvert. Her vehicle rolled several times before coming to rest on its top. Saweikis was transported to the Western Maryland Regional Medical Center, Cumberland. Bloomington Volunteer Fire Department also responded to the scene. No charges were filed.

Maryland Awarded $6.2 Million Seed Money For Health Insurance Exchange

The Maryland Department of Health and Human Services announced Wednesday that Maryland is one of only seven states and state consortiums to receive a competitive federal grant to advance Maryland's efforts to create a statewide health insurance exchange. The $6.2 million award was announced by Health and Human Services (HHS) Secretary Kathleen Sebelius and Steve Larsen, director of the Center for Consumer Information & Insurance Oversight. It follows a $1 million insurance exchange planning grant and over $110 million in total federal funding to continue developing a national model for health care reform under the Affordable Care Act (ACA).

"Because of Maryland's leadership and innovation, we are ready to lead the nation in streamlining access to insurance as envisioned by the Affordable Care Act," said Lt. Governor Brown, the O'Malley-Brown administration's point person on health care issue. "I applaud Senator Mikulski and the rest of Team Maryland for their work to secure this important grant which provides an unprecedented opportunity for a federal-state partnership to move forward with ACA implementation, increase the number of individuals who enroll in health coverage and share technology among states."

The grant is awarded to states that demonstrate leadership in developing cutting-edge and cost effective consumer-based technologies and models for insurance eligibility and enrollment for exchanges. These two-year grants went to the states with ambitious and achievable proposals to build web-based, Information Technology (IT) and best practices that will serve as models.

"I fought for health care reform to save and strengthen Medicare, increase the quality of care, and end the punitive practices of insurance companies," Senator Barbara A. Mikulski said. "Health care exchanges help meet these goals by helping Maryland families and small businesses afford care and achieve long-term health security. This grant recognizes Maryland's role as an innovation state, and I'm so proud we're at the forefront of putting health care reform in action."

"The health care exchanges are the key to health care reform because they will provide affordable insurance options to those who need to purchase health coverage," said Senator Benjamin L. Cardin. "Maryland is a national leader in the health care field and this federal grant will provide our state with the resources it needs to develop a health exchange that is workable and affordable and that will meet the needs of Marylanders."

The $6.2 million award will help the state develop the essential technical components for the exchange, including automatically confirming consumer eligibility for key government programs, according to the MDHHS. The proposal builds on an effective pilot program using the Healthy Maryland (One e-App) eligibility solution, currently in place in Howard County and under development in other Maryland counties.

"This grant provides additional resources to help Maryland with the building blocks of health care reform," said Health and Mental Hygiene secretary Joshua M. Sharfstein, M.D. "It puts us in a good position to develop, step by step, an effective health insurance exchange."

Maryland is using nearly $1 million in previous planning grant funding to evaluate private sector resources that can be leveraged in the state, evaluate options to maximize available federal funding, and assess IT resource capabilities and needs. All states, including recipients of this award, will be eligible to apply for additional funding that will support ongoing exchange implementation.

This week, the O'Malley/Brown Administration's health reform implementation legislative package is being heard in House and Senate committees. The lead bill in that package (HB166/SB182), establishes the governance framework for Maryland's exchange. The other two bills amend Maryland's insurance laws to enforce consumer protection provisions contained in the Affordable Care Act (HB165/SB182) and support the state's ability to bend the cost curve by establishing the Maryland Health Quality and Cost Council in statute (HB170/SB183).

In the 10 months since the passage of the Affordable Care Act, Maryland and its partners in the healthcare and higher education community have secured 20 grants totaling over $110 million. Wednesday's announcement will help Maryland continue to lay the foundation for an effective, efficient, and consumer friendly health insurance exchange, according to MDHHS spokesperson.

Two Charged With Second-Degree Assault

Two people were arrested by Garrett County sheriff's deputies Wednesday evening on assault charges.

Deputies responded to 195 Trailer Court Road, Oakland, for a domestic dispute in progress. Sarah Denelle Smith, 24, and Brandon Delano Wilt, 26, were involved in the dispute. Both were charged with second-degree assault and taken to the Garrett County Jail to await bond hearings.

GCSO Warns Local Residents Of Phone Scam

The Garrett County Sheriff's Office has received several calls from area residents regarding a recent telephone scam.

Callers are reportedly advising local residents that they have either won some type of lottery (money and car) or that they need to send money to help a relative who may be in jail or may have been in an accident.

The caller requests that the resident send money via Western Union to an address provided. It is not a local address and may even be to a different country. The callers typically have an accent as well. The caller says once the money is received, the winnings will be forwarded to the one who was called.

Residents are urged to not send any money and to terminate these calls, as they are scams.

the Department of Transportation, AAA, insurance companies, and law enforcement.

"This gives a tool to the police," Malone said. "Once it's a primary offense, they can enforce it more effectively."

Another bill, also sponsored by Malone, would clarify that the law prohibiting texting while driving applies to drivers under the age of 18.

Legislation would also broaden the prohibition to apply to electronic messages such as e-mails sent while driving. Reading electronic messages of any kind would also be illegal.

Lawmakers last year did not take into account devices with e-mail capabilities, and only specifically prohibited text messaging.

Based on the new laws, legislators said, the only time drivers could legally touch their phones is when initiating or ending a phone call conducted through a hands-free headset.

Seven other states and the District of Columbia prohibit cell phone use. Cell phone use by young drivers is prohibited in 28 states and the district.

After the recent flurry of legislative activity on the issue nationwide, studies have told conflicting stories of how text and cell-phone bans are affecting safety on the road.

While studies by the Virginia Tech Transportation Institute and the University of North Texas Health Science Center have shown how dangerous texting and talking while driving can be, the Highway Loss Data Institute found that in three out of four states studied, accident rates because of texting stayed constant or even increased slightly following bans.

If passed, the legislation would take effect in October.

Run Amok, Indeed...

"Political correctness run amok" is how Delegate Kevin Kelly of neighboring Allegany County described a resolution that has been submitted in the Maryland Senate by nine senators from the Baltimore and eastern portions of the state. Slated for a senate hearing next Tuesday, Senate Joint Resolution 3 calls for the establishment of a commission to rename Negro Mountain in Garrett County and Polish Mountain in Allegany County. It seems that the primary sponsor of the resolution, Baltimore City Democrat Lisa Gladden, feels that the names are "inappropriate." She says that she may well toss Big Savage Mountain into the resolution as well.

The initial knee-jerk reaction to this includes feelings that Ms. Gladden and her co-sponsors really should focus their energies primarily on problems in their own neck of the woods, and secondly, that the significant sum of money and time that are expended on the introduction of each piece of legislation in the General Assembly could and should be far more wisely spent on matters of real importance.

But more importantly, Gladden et al. are attempting to rewrite history, or simply to ignore it, and there are elements of both arrogance and ignorance being demonstrated here.

Negro Mountain was, in fact, named in honor of a free, black American who bravely served in the militia led by Col. Thomas Cresap during the French and Indian War. One account says the man's name was Nemesis; another claims that it was Goliath. After he was killed in a skirmish, Cresap decided to name the ridge Negro Mountain in honor not only of Nemesis/Goliath, but of his entire race of people.

It has been only in recent decades that, for some reason, the word Negro has taken on a negative connotation, for reasons that really make little sense. (What about the United Negro College Fund?) The senators' suggestion to rename the mountain Mount Nemesis would actually obscure the fact that the man was black, thus the significance of Cresap's desire to honor the race would soon be lost. Perhaps similar work should begin on anything that includes the word Caucasian in its title.

In the case of Polish Mountain, the name came about not in anyway connected to the country of Poland and its people, but historical evidence said that it was originally named Polished Mountain because of various rock formations on the ridge that shine in the sunlight. Over the years, the "ed" faded away and folks call it Polish Mountain, as if related to Poland. Besides that, Polish – in reference to Poland – is not a "bad" word. We have Polish sausage, Polish music, etc.

And Big Savage Mountain? Wonder if Ms. Gladden will also try to change the surname of nearly 50 families in Garrett County.

This effort by these Maryland senators is worse than the recent demand that the 19th and early 20th century fiction writings of Mark Twain must be edited in order to make them "politically correct," another blatant attempt to rewrite history.

Letters to the Editor

Writers of letters to the editor are reminded that letters will not be published if they exceed 400 words, do not include contact information, and/or are deemed to be libelous.

To the Editor:

I write to express the unanimous consensus of the Garrett County Republican Central Committee in support of the excellent effort by Chuck Hoffeditz to bring Maryland TV channels into Garrett County. Your editorial of February 10 merits underlining. And Chuck Hoffeditz merits the enthusiastic thanks of the residents of Garrett County.

We are likewise delighted that Congressman Roscoe Bartlett, State Senator George Edwards, and Delegate Wendell Beitzel are actively working to achieve this goal.

As your editorial indicated, citizens of Garrett County need to see the information related to political campaigns in Maryland, not Pennsylvania. The Garrett County Republican Central Committee strongly supports that principle.

Furthermore, there is an important lesson in your editorial for our students learning about government in high school: "...with tenacity and perseverance, one person truly can make a difference..."

Tom Sheahen
Secretary
Garrett Co. Republican
Central Committee

To the Editor:

Over the last 15 years our commissioners have made decisions on three capital projects, which cost the wage earners of Garrett County approximately $3,300 per person! Three capital expenditures were the Marsh Mountain fiasco, the new two swimming pool buildings, and the $3 million building which the commissioners didn't know where to place. (It went to the fairgrounds). No matter how you distribute the cost, we are still paying individually – not some federal or state entity.

The wage earners of our county should have the decision to make any capital expenditure via referendum. These major-cost projects have been major disasters which, if the voters could have decided, would have been terminated before they started.

Let me expound just a bit: We have somewhere in the area of 15,000 wage earners who basically pay the taxes. Shouldn't they have a say in how big dollars are spent? The commissioners should be willing to yield those decisions and the legislators should care enough about their own citizens that they would gladly enact legislation to protect the people from quick, disastrous, major capital spending.

Had the Marsh Mountain project (so-called whitewater rafting course) been given to the voters, it would not have been born. That project alone will continue to cost us hundreds of thousands of dollars in maintenance and, eventually, will be filled in and reclaimed! The pumps should be sold while they are still valuable.

The citizens of our county need fairness. I urge the commissioners and the legislators to consider yielding those decisions to the voter.

To the Editor:

I'm writing to apologize to the Humane Society. The letter from my husband Ron in last week's paper was not directed at the Humane Society.

The two ladies who came to our farm were nothing but nice. They told us why they were there. Ron took them to the horses, showed them the feed and hay, and where they could get out of the snow, which is a barn with a shed on the side and front. They answered our questions and are even trying to help us get our stallion neutered.

I hope you all know these ladies are volunteers. They get no money for gas or pay or anything. They are there to help the animals. They go out of their way to help. These ladies go on hundreds of calls. Yes, I know some turn out like ours, where nothing is wrong, but many are for animals that are in desperate need of help. So please, Deb, and your friend, accept our apology. You two do wonderful work. You speak for the animals who need help.

Last week's letter was directed toward the people who mean well, but don't stop or slow down to see if there is really something wrong. Just because it's not the way some do things does not automatically mean that something is wrong. We might just do things differently.

Again, thank you for your help with our horses.

Danita Rhodes

Editor's note: The implication that Mr. Rhodes' letter in last week's issue was directed at the Humane Society was a mistake on our part, as we misinterpreted a portion of it in doing some minor editing.

To the Editor:

Garrett County held its first-ever Unified Indoor Bocce Tournament at Northern High School on Saturday. There were six teams involved from five area schools. Allegany, Mtn. Ridge, Fort Hill, Southern, and Northern. The tournament was well attended, and I believe all the participants had an enjoyable experience. This letter is to thank and recognize (hopefully) everyone who volunteered their time to make this event a success. I sincerely hope I haven't forgotten anyone who pitched, and if I have, I apologize for that.

The Special Olympics of Maryland sponsorship is vital to this program; we thank them for their support. We thank the administration of Northern High School, NHS athletic director Phil Carr, and assistant AD Tracy Brenneman for all the help with the building and paperwork involved.

Others involved with the tournament proceedings were Julie Brenneman, Terry Jo Stough, Ron Opel, Lisa Carr, Tracy Brenneman, Beth Shaffer, and Jason Rice for their help with officiating, scoring, and running the clock. Student helpers included Lexi Nicklin, Ashley Murphy, and Will Thatcher for manning the concession stand and doing a great job. Also Paul Edwards, Lynn Bell, and Phil Carr for pitching in when the stand got overwhelmed during intermission!

Other students who helped out were Lauren Yeager, who got the scores to the scorers' table and kept the game chart up-to-date after each game, and Kaitlynn Fratz, Terra McKenzie, Lauren Yeager, and Morgan Brosnihan, all members of the Lady Huskies basketball team, who stayed after practice on Friday to help set up. We thank Barb Law and her SSA class members for their help with the tournament game chart and the signs for each school.

To all the athletes and partners for their sportsmanship throughout the tournament, we hope you all enjoyed the competition.

I can't end this letter without thanking the fans. There was a very good showing and they were very supportive of not just their team's efforts, but of all involved. And I don't ever remember hearing so many comments about how clean the bleacher area was after the tournament. Great job in helping to keep our gym clean, which we appreciate as well!

Our season is short, and March 3 we will be traveling to the State Invitational in Sykesville. We wish all the players, coaches, and teams best of luck, and hope one of our local teams can "bring home the gold!" Go, Garrett County!

To the Editor:

People have been talking a lot lately about the Marcellus shale drilling and the amount of wealth that this will bring to a select few. We also talk a lot about windmills, but I really can't see how Garrett County benefited from these "green" pieces of sky art. Also, a lot of talk has been going around about having Baltimore stations in Garrett County and how people here need Baltimore television. This is fine, I guess, but hardly a topic to be wasting our delegate's time over. Again, how is one more station to skip over while channel surfing really benefiting Garrett County?

Not much has been said about the shortfall in the education budget this year because of the formula used by legislating bodies which makes Garrett County one of the wealthiest counties in Maryland. With Deep Creek Lake, the windmills, and probably soon natural gas drilling, we will lose even more funding.

But that's all right. It's just public schools that are going to be hurting. We can just send our kids to all the private schools that we have here.... What's that!? We don't have hundreds of private schools to choose from and spend our soon-to-be acquired gas fortunes on tuitions. Well, then, doesn't it make sense to try to keep Maryland's best teachers and one of the area's largest employers in business?

Why aren't our delegates fighting for Garrett County in Annapolis? Why aren't they fighting big drilling companies to make sure they set aside the proper time to test and make sure the safest possible procedures are in place before they "accidentally" ruin our drinking water? Instead they are initiating legislation that will expedite the process. Why are they letting big business and state government screw the toughest, most adaptable people in the state of Maryland?

We're a proud few who choose to live here and raise families, and I am tired of being knocked down and made to feel inferior by others who see Garrett County as just another bumpkin town ready for the taking.

To the Editor:

Recently, President Obama said he urged Egyptian President Hosni Mubarak to deliver on promised political, social, and economic reforms, further stating that Mubarak has "a responsibility to give meaning to those words." Earlier, in his State of the Union address, the president proclaimed, "To reduce barriers to growth and investment, I've ordered a review of government regulations. When we find rules that put an unnecessary burden on businesses, we will fix them."

I believe the president, likewise, has a responsibility to give meaning to his words. There are problems out there that need to be fixed. I work for a coal company, and in the past few days, I've seen the EPA revoke a valid surface coal mining permit in West Virginia that has effectively sent people home. Right now, the Office of Surface Mining is proposing new regulations that will cost (by their own estimate) 7,000 coal mining jobs, as reported by the Associated Press on Jan. 26.

Senator Joe Manchin of West Virginia and Senate Republican leader Mitch McConnell of Kentucky are leading the way in calling for an end of asinine rules that defy congressional approval and put people's lives in jeopardy. There are others out there as well, all across Appalachia, who share these ideals!

By this letter, I am asking all readers of The Republican to help the coal industry by standing up with us. Contact your government officials. Let them know that America needs coal, and an opportunity to mine it. Our jobs depend on it.

Thank you,
John F. Enyart

Proposals Fail

by the committee. "The taxpayers have told us loud and clear that this is simply unacceptable, and have demanded that we get our nation's fiscal house in order."

Rogers said Obama's budget proposal, submitted Monday at $3.7 trillion with an estimated $1.1 trillion deficit, did not go far enough in cutting the deficit.

Even Maryland's Democrat-heavy delegation has reservations about the president's plan. In an interview at his office Tuesday, Cardin said he had mixed feelings about it.

He said he likes the five-year freeze on domestic discretionary spending (estimated to save $400 billion), but said he opposes cutting funding to low-income energy assistance programs, Community Development Block Grants, the Small Business Administration and water infrastructure programs. He also criticized the plan to freeze resources for prenatal programs for at-risk women.

Cardin said that, though the president's proposal "really does make hard choices," it was incomplete.

"If we're going to balance the federal budget then we really do need to take a look at the other major factors," Cardin said. "That is, tax reform – because we know that we're hemorrhaging so much money through tax expenditures – and we do need to take a look at entitlement spending."

Cardin serves on the Senate Finance Committee and the Subcommittee on Taxation and IRS Oversight. He said the current tax code has too many exceptions to what is taxable income, the rates are too high and the system needs to be streamlined.

"What the president suggested for corporate tax reform I think also goes for individual tax reform," Cardin said. "We could have lower rates if we had a more comprehensive tax base."

Three entitlement programs – Medicare, Medicaid and Social Security – make up nearly 40 percent of Obama's budget proposal. Cardin said there is more money to be saved in health care by getting more people into primary care, managing chronic illnesses so they don't become crises and using technology to share medical records and reduce redundant tests.

With the Democrats in charge of the Senate and Republicans in charge of the House, the budget battle may rage until the March 4 government shutdown deadline.

Two members of the Maryland delegation say their plan will both help curb unemployment and, in the long run, reduce the deficit.

Edwards and Bartlett, who serve together on the Science and Technology Committee, introduced the "21st Century Investment Act of 2011" Monday. It would amend the federal tax code to permanently increase the Research and Development tax credit from 20 to 25 percent and increase the domestic manufacturing tax credit from 9 to 15 percent for the next 10 years.

Edwards sponsored a similar bill last year with four Democrats, but it did not get out of the House Ways and Means Committee.

"We're really excited that Congressman Bartlett has come on the bill and we're excited to kind of promote this in Maryland and around the country in the next couple of months," Edwards' spokesman Ben Gerdes said.

Lisa Wright, Bartlett's press secretary, said the bill would help make U.S. companies more competitive with those in other nations by reducing onerous tax burdens. She said that though it would seem to decrease tax revenues in the short-term, it would provide incentives for growth that would ultimately increase the tax base.

"Income has to be generated before taxes can be paid to the government," Wright said. "Congressman Bartlett believes that if we have increased business activity and increased income for companies and their workers we will in fact be generating more revenue."

department is already examining."

Because the Beitzel/Edwards bills require regulations to be established, they same must go through a through a public comment process.

"The regulation approach ensures that citizens will be able to review and comment on what goes into the regulations," the delegate said. "This bill will prevent the issue from being referred to a study or a report that may be subject to bureaucratic turf wars. I believe that the natural gas can be extracted from the shale formation with little risks to water and the environment, but also fully support the stringent enforcement of properly prepared regulation to further minimize any and all risks."

Those interested in submitting testimony about the bills may call Beitzel's office at 1-800-492-7122 for assistance.

system, a set of 17 individual continuous hiking trails that total a distance of just over 17,000 miles.

Mead, who holds a position as a full-time professional ski patroller at Wisp Ski Resort, has now successful completed thru-hikes of over 4,800 of those 17,000 miles.

"I didn't think about taking the AT and PCT hikes as one big journey. In order to psychologically manage such a task," he stated. "I had to look at each thru-hike as a series of mini one-week hikes that just happen to be strung together."

Hiking the PCT engaged Mead in climbing 60 major mountain passes; traversing three national monuments, seven national parks, 24 national forests, and 33 federally mandated wilderness areas. He began his journey on April 25, 2010, at the Mexico border and hiked northward through California, Oregon, and Washington, ending on Oct. 13 at the Canadian border. The U.S. Forest Service designates the PCT as a non-mechanized trail. That means it is only passable by foot, horse, or other pack animal.

A very challenging aspect of thru-hiking long distances is "resupply." Keeping the weight of the hiker's pack manageable requires that food drops be planned all along the route. Most long distance travelers send self-addressed food boxes from home to outposts along the trail to be held until their arrival. Sometimes these food drop locations are several miles away from the trail. Distances to and from the PCT to the food drop locations are not included in the PCT's stated length of 2,650 miles. As an alternative, Mead chose to cities and purchase his food hike to nearby towns and fresh from local markets.

"Food becomes a highly motivational part of the experience," he said. He made a resupply trek about once each week, in order to keep his food weight at a maximum of about 14 pounds.

When asked if he would consider finishing the final leg of the "big three," hiking the 3,100 mile Continental Divide Trail, he responded, "Once I fully recover from my PCT experience, I'll give it some real thought. Hiking and backpacking are in my blood. It's part of who I am."

For more information about Mead's presentation, persons may call the Garrett College Adventuresports Institute at 301-387-3330.

CHARLES L. DOUGLAS

Charles Lee Douglas, 81, passed away on Wednesday morning, Feb. 9, 2011, at Woodland Oaks Nursing Home, after a long battle with Alzheimer's disease.

He was born to Fred Douglas and Mary Stemple Douglas on June 11, 1929, in Grafton, W.Va.

He joined the U.S. Air Force in 1950, and he served in the Korean conflict in 1953. During his time in the Air Force, he married his wife, Bonnie Houser, with whom he had a son named Charles Lee Douglas Jr. He also completed his GED at that time.

Upon his return to the states, he enrolled at West Virginia University and went on to receive a degree in electrical engineering. He was inducted into the National Engineering Honor Society, Tau Beta Pi, and was also a member of Eta Kappa Nu fraternity.

While in Morgantown, he and his wife had a daughter, Susan Lynn Douglas. After graduation, he went to work for Galis Electric, and was later hired on by National Mine Service in Ashland, Ky., where he helped build and open NMS's newest plant in Greenup, Ky.

He would go on to build a house in Ashland that he would call home for 40 years. During those years, he worked for Envirotech in Pala Alto, Calif., NMS in Pittsburgh, Pa., and EIMCO Mining Equipment in Bluefield, W.Va., as the vice president of sales.

During his years in sales, he was able to travel to many different parts of the world. He was also very active in his community and served in many different clubs and organizations.

He thoroughly enjoyed hunting, golf, boating, and the outdoors in general. He was a very social man and enjoyed all of his many friends.

He retired from EIMCO and lived the rest of his days at his home in Ashland, until he developed Alzheimer's and eventually had to be moved to Woodland Oaks Nursing Home.

He is preceded in death by his brothers, Bill and Bobby Douglas; and his daughter, Susan Douglas Hahn.

He is survived by his wife, Bonnie Houser Douglas; his son, Charles Lee Douglas Jr. and wife Betty; his brother, Keith Douglas and wife Delores; his sister, Alice Roth and husband Earl; and his three grandsons, James Michael Hahn II, Charles Lee Douglas III, and Matthew Ryan Douglas.

Friends were received at Steen Funeral Home, Central Avenue Chapel, Ashland.

A funeral service was conducted on Sunday, Feb. 13, at Stemple Ridge Church, Aurora, W.Va.

Burial followed in Stemple Ridge Cemetery, with his grandsons and nephews serving as pallbearers.

MARY G. BECKMAN

Mary Geraldine "Jerry" Beckman, loving wife, mother, and grandmother, passed away on Wednesday, Feb. 9, 2011, after a courageous battle with cancer. Jerry was surrounded by her family at the time of her passing.

Born July 16, 1930, in Benbush, W.Va., she was a daughter of the late Thomas W. and Mary Fike Ford. She was also preceded in death by one brother, Cecil G. Ford.

Jerry graduated from Aurora High School and Morgantown Business School in West Virginia. Jerry married her childhood sweetheart, John H. Beckman. They shared their lives together for 60 years.

They had three children, Steve Beckman and companion Kelly Collins, Hutchinson, Kan., Laurie Beckman Hoag and husband Mike, Lindsborg, Kan., and John Beckman and wife Cindy, Derby, Kan.

Jerry is survived by her husband and children; grandchildren Ben Beckman, Kelsey Collins, Tabitha Hoag Wright, Olivia Hoag Gates, Christine Hoag, and Emily Beckman; six great-grandchildren; sister Arlene Bolyard and husband Doyle; brothers Donald Ford and wife Anne and Ray Ford and wife Julita; and sister-in-law Margaret Ford.

She was a loving wife and homemaker and a generous gift giver. Life for her was an adventure, and she lived it with passion.

Jerry will be sadly missed and always cherished by her family.

Friends were received at Old Mission-Heritage Funeral Home and Cremation Services Chapel, Hutchinson.

Memorial donations may be made in her honor to Hospice Care of Reno County, Kan.

DR. RAYMOND D. ZINN

Dr. Raymond Drummond Zinn, 87, Terra Alta, W.Va., passed away on Friday, Feb. 11, 2011, at his residence.

Born Dec. 19, 1923, in Cairo, W.Va., he was a son of the late Royden Scott and Lono (Law) Zinn Sr. He was also preceded in death by his wife, Mary Mann Zinn.

Raymond was a retired doctor of veterinary medicine and held licenses in Maryland, Ohio, Virginia, and West Virginia. Following his retirement from the U.S. Public Health Service, Dr. Zinn made his home near Cranesville, W.Va., in Preston County.

He earned a bachelor of science degree in agriculture in 1948 at West Virginia University and doctorate in veterinary medicine, summa cum laude, at Ohio State University in 1957.

Raymond was a veteran of WWII and the Korean conflict, serving with the U.S. Air Force as second lieutenant from 1943 to 1945, first lieutenant from 1951 to 1953, and captain, U.S. Public Health Service, from 1959 to 1975.

He was a commissioned officer for the U.S. Public Health Service, epidemic intelligence service officer at the National Communicable Disease Center, and staff officer at the National Heart Institute, NIH.

He was responsible for program development and implementation for the network of Regional Primate Research Centers. While at NIH, Dr. Zinn was responsible for the development/operation of the NIH Research Animal Center at Poolesville. He was subsequently awarded the Meritorious Service Medal for this period of service. This award, the second highest award given a public health service officer, was given in recognition of outstanding service and achievement while on active duty in the Commissioned Corps of the Public Heath Service and in recognition of the conception and successful development of NIH's unique Canine Blood Donor Colony, standardized research animals, and administration of laboratory auxiliary services for the National Institutes of Health.

He was the director of the Appalachian Center for Environmental Health, Morgantown, W.Va., and professor of public health and preventive medicine at the West Virginia University School of Medicine. He was a member, Interim Compliance Panel, Federal Coal Mine Health and Safety Act of 1969, and Public Law 91-173.

Societies and honors of Dr. Zinn's were the Meritorious Service Medal, U.S. Public Health Service; and Phi Zeta, Phi Epsilon Phi, Alpha Zeta, Gamma Signa Delta, Borden Scholarship Award in Veterinary Medicine, and American Veterinary Medical Association.

He is survived by one son, Roger D. Zinn and wife Betsy, Bethesda; and two grandchildren, Liam and Addie.

At Dr. Zinn's request, his body was cremated and will be buried at the National Cemetery, Grafton, W.Va.

A memorial service will be held at a later date.

David A. Burdock Funeral Home, Oakland, is in charge of arrangements.

Online condolences may be sent to the family at wwwburdockfuneralhome.com.

Notes From Bittinger

by Joan Glotfelty Sussman

Do you wish that you knew more about the many international "currents" that affect America? You would have a far better understanding of what goes on in Egypt if you knew Egyptian history over the last three centuries. And to understand what Egypt is facing to build a real democracy, you should know the history of Turkey. That's because many of the same factors were playing during World War I when it took its first step toward the only genuine Islam democracy in the world. But it took many decades, with many setbacks along the way.

Those looking for a simple way to fill in such knowledge gaps could spend a few dollars to get a wonderful reference book, the Oxford Dictionary of World History. It is a wonderful gift for young persons, because they can use it the rest of their lives.

All parents should urge their children to get the widest and best education possible, because it is an impossible task to be a knowledgeable, responsible American citizen without it. Without it, the only way anyone can react to any challenges in America is by relying on some public figure to tell them what they should believe about something.

But all public figures are not reliable, and the information on the Internet is questionable. For example, there was a web site that told about a creature called a "tree octopus." When school children viewed the information on the web site, they believed in totally made-up information without any question. There is no such thing as a tree octopus!

It is true that we can't know what kind of result the election will bring in Egypt, whether it is good for American interests or not. It is impossible to tell, especially since the only well-developed political party is the Muslim Brotherhood. But it does not seem to fit in with the kind of people who demanded change in Liberty Square. They were largely secular types, with good educations and many women, and the Muslim Brotherhood does not fit in with their aspirations. Radical Muslims are not supportive of women's rights.

If you believe the claim that the Holocaust never happened, you should drive to Washington, D.C., go through the Holocaust museum, and judge for yourself. Yes, that probably will be uncomfortable and cause you to feel very sad and depressed. But that is a natural response to what you see in that museum, and it will make you determined that this kind of thing can't be allowed to happen again.

That requires all of us to keep abreast of what's going on across the globe. That is simply a basic duty of any human being, especially if one believes he/she is a child of God, or a committed follower of Christ. Mere ignorance about what's going on in any part of the world because you choose that ignorance is not good will.

It is impossible to do too much for our canine friends. Because a long-suffering dog stays beside his trainer and owner. I heard about a soldier who was fatally wounded, and his dog crawled on top of his still body to try to protect him one more time. There was nothing the dog could do to help his master.

But the soldier's parents did the right thing for the always-faithful friend of their son. They were able to bring the canine hero to their home, where he will no doubt spend the rest of his life safe with his master's grieving parents. And he will probably be a big comfort for them, knowing that their son didn't die alone, and was protected as much as possible by his best friend.

My very old, dear Boo is a great comfort for me, because she reminds me of happier days when she was just a puppy and playmate for my three small daughters. Claire got her from a kindergarten classmate, the offspring of her family's black Labrador. I don't think she is a pure-bred, but that is not important, because she is a typical Lab: sweet, gentle, and loyal. She would defend me to her last breath if she needed to do that. But since she is close to 20 years old, that makes her in "dog years" nearly 140, so she is not as scary as she used to be when she was a young, large black dog with a powerful bark.

She is still hanging in there pretty well, and she still shows enormous joy when she sees my girls coming home. But it is sad that her feline best friend Bilogo disappeared. He first showed up at Lloyd's place in McHenry during a sleet storm. But when he entered my household, he became very fond of Boo, and wherever one went, the other was right behind.

But Bilogo is missing. If anyone sees a gray and white cat wandering around, it may be him. He had a striking resemblance to my brother Barry's cat Rockford. I hope a hawk didn't swoop down and carry him away. I wish I would have him home with me and Boo. But we still have our other cat Tigger, a tan cat with only half a tail and a pretty grouchy temperament. If anyone tries to pet him, he usually swats them, and sometimes even scratches. But now I often see him curled up between Boo's front legs and back legs whenever she lies on my smaller couch.

It is painful to watch how hard it is for Boo to get up on her couch. I think she is suffering from arthritis, or just old-age aches and pains. But most of the time, she does get up, even though it sometimes is a major struggle. If not, she seems happy to sleep on the bathroom floor.

You often hear that America has the best health care in the world. That only applies to the very well-to-do, who can get as much good health care as they need or want. The rest of us, forget it, unless you have the kind of job that includes health insurance. And the number of those kinds of jobs is rapidly shrinking.

But when American can't enact reasonable reform, what are the chances that Egypt can enact real reform? They have an even more obscene distance between the have-nots and the handful of very wealthy people, even greater than in America. And that is pretty extreme.

Some people think that people should be able to pay 10% of your income in taxes, then take care of yourself without any kind of help from the government.

I guess that would work all right for people with an annual income of about a million dollars. But what about a person with $20,000 per year? They would have $18,000 to meet all of their family's needs.

And what about roads, airports, the environment, and our education system? And good luck as far as things like disease control or food safety. Anti-terrorist intelligence gathering would be gone, and who knows how many serious criminals would go free into our streets.

It is only in a very simple society that Libertarianism could work. As well as a truly heartless society, like the kind that is willing to see its elderly and disabled living with serious wants, unable to afford heat, food, and certainly not any health care. But it has already been decided that they can go without that. And I have no interest in end of life care. I'd rather just do the patriotic thing and die as quickly as possible.

The ultimate result is America becoming a Third World nation.

The fact is that just about all Americans supported the idea of Social Security, so my generation paid our fair share for decades. Then the money disappeared, and now there is nowhere I can turn to enable me to live the rest of my life reasonably comfortably. I believe the U.S. Treasury should drain the bank accounts of those who took it.

Can you imagine being a mother with several children under 6 years old, homeless, and with barely any income, especially in this kind of weather? It is AVAILABLE THIS WEEK at the Garrett County Animal Shelter are a male white/black bulldog mix and a female black Lab mix. Also looking for homes are two black felines (not pictured) that were given up by their owner. One is a neutered male, and the other is a spayed female. Shelter personnel would like the felines to be adopted together. The two border collies that were recently featured and another dog were taken to a rescue facility last week by HART. Two other dogs at the local shelter were reclaimed by their owners. "Please make sure your dogs have ID tags and/or rabies tags so you can be contacted if they are brought into the shelter," said a Humane Society spokesperson. "There are hundreds of dogs and cats available for adoption within a 60 mile radius of Oakland. Go to Petfinder.com and enter what kind of animal you want to adopt and your AIP code. It will show you what is available in adjacent counties of West Virginia and Pennsylvania also. Straw is still available for your outside dog or cat boxes. It is under the tarps outside the Garrett County Animal Shelter. Take what you need and cover it back up to keep it dry." For more information, persons may call the shelter at 301-334-3553. Located along Oakland Sang Run Road, the facility is open Monday through Friday. Photos courtesy of HART.

Winners of the Photographer of Year and Photograph of the Year awards were announced at a recent Mountaintop Photography Club meeting.

Beth Spencer, Thomas, W.Va., earned the title of Photographer of the Year. Spencer received this honor based on an accumulated points system during the course of the year.

Photograph of the Year honors went to Pam Glotfelty, Oakland. Her photograph won first place in a monthly competition, which qualified her for the year-end competition. Other competition winners for the year included Spencer, Susan O'Neal, Mike Reed, and Lori Malcolm.

The club meeting also included a demonstration of online photo groups at FLICR.com, presented by club member Bob Carney.

Founded in 2006, this club of novice to professional photographers offers its members bimonthly competitions, monthly field trips, and group projects to explore the many facets of digital photography.

"The club is seeking new members to join the fun," said a spokesperson. "If you are a photographer passionate about creating artistic images, familiar with a computer, use an SLR or digital camera, the Mountaintop Photography Club may meet your needs."

Meetings are held the last Thursday of the month at 7 p.m. at the Mary Browning Senior Center in Oakland.

"We offer novice, intermediate, and advanced photography programs, fun photo projects, field trips, monthly competitions, and networking opportunities," the spokesperson said.

The next scheduled meeting will take place on Thursday, Feb. 24, at 7 p.m. and will feature guest speaker Paul Durham of Heritage Photography with a presentation on travel photography.

Durham specializes in landscape and travel photography, with an emphasis on the American West, Appalachia, Ireland, and the British Isles. He recently traveled on an assignment to Haiti to document the trials of its people as they recover from the January 2010 earthquake.

Rounding out the meeting, the club will conduct the bimonthly competition, with the subject being "emotions."

For more information about the club, persons may contact Spencer, club president, at 304-678-4063 or e-mail b3th@wildblue.net, or visit Mountaintop Photography Club–Maryland on Facebook.

Area Agency On Aging Sponsoring W.Va. Theatre Trips

The Area Agency on Aging, a division with Garrett County Community Action Committee Inc., is sponsoring four trips to West Virginia Public Theatre in Morgantown for performances of Cats, Chicago, Nunsense, and Oliver!. All performances are 2 p.m. Wednesday matinees.

Cats, slated for June 22, is based on the popular poetry of T.S. Elliot and tells the story, in song and dance, of the annual gathering of Jellicle cats, at which time one special cat is selected to ascend to the Heaviside layer.

Chicago, to be performed on July 6, is a musical tale of murder, greed, corruption, violence, exploitation, adultery, and treachery with the "merry" murderesses Roxie Hart and Velma Kelly and their hotshot lawyer, Billy Flynn.

Nunsense, scheduled for July 13, is a show about the accidental death of 52 Catholic sisters and the efforts of the remaining nuns to put on an outrageous variety show to raise money for their funerals.

The British musical Oliver!, set for July 20, brings to life Charles Dickens' timeless characters of Oliver, Fagin, and the Artful Dodger.

The cost of each performance is $45 and includes ticket and transportation costs. Prior to the matinee, the group will go the Boston Beanery for lunch (not included in the cost).

The deadline for reservations and a nonrefundable deposit of $24 for each performance is Friday, March 18. Seating is limited.

The trips are open to individuals age 60 and older; however, if openings exist following the deadline, the agency will make seats available to others.

To make reservations, obtain additional information, and/or to be placed on a waiting list if under age 60, persons may call 301-334-9431, ext. 143, or 301-895-5818.

Nine Local Arts Advocates Attend Md. Arts Day

Nine local individuals traveled to Annapolis last week for Maryland Arts Day, celebrated on Feb. 9. The arts advocates took part in the day-long discussions and recognition of the arts and the impact they have on the state and counties.

Maryland Arts Day is organized each year by the Maryland Citizens for the Arts. This year almost 500 arts advocates from across the state were in attendance, according to Karen Reckner, executive director of the Garrett County Arts Council, who went to the event.

The day opened with greetings from numerous elected officials, Reckner said, including Senate President Mike Miller and Speaker of the House Michael Busch. Matthew Gallagher, Governor O'Malley's chief of staff, and Christian Johansson, secretary, Dept. of Business and Economic Development, addressed the group.

The keynote speaker was Kal Kallaugher, award-winning editorial cartoonist and artist-in-residence at the University of Maryland, Baltimore County.

John Schratwieser, executive director of Maryland Citizens for the Arts, discussed the realities of this year's budget challenges, Reckner said. He also provided information to the group on how to advocate for the arts when meeting with legislators.

The group broke out into regional gatherings, Reckner said, with the western Maryland representatives visiting with numerous delegates and senators from the area, including both Del. Wendell Beitzel and Sen. George Edwards.

"Our Garrett County group had very positive interaction with the legislators, though they cautioned us that this is a very difficult year in regard to budget matters," Reckner said.

The afternoon consisted of professional development breakout sessions with topics related to making the most of resources available in difficult financial times, utilizing 21st century technology, creative fundraising for non-profits in rural areas, and volunteerism.

"Maryland Arts Day is the only time that arts advocates from all fields and all areas of the state gather as a group," Reckner said. "It is one of the largest groups advocating for a single cause during the entire legislative session. The strong turnout helps to emphasize the importance of individual arts organizations to our communities. It brings a united message to our elected officials."

Reckner added that Garrett County was well represented by the size of the group, which was larger than most of the other rural counties in attendance.

ADVOCATES RALLY FOR THE ARTS IN ANNAPOLIS – Maryland Arts Day was celebrated last Wednesday, Feb. 9, in the Maryland state capital, and several supporters attended the day's events. The events of the day were basically a recognition of the value of the arts, as well as discussions of the fact that the budget is tight this year and advocates must be ready to deal with cuts to arts groups and efforts. The group met with both Sen. George Edwards and Del. Wendell Beitzel. See story. Pictured above from left are Odette Lueck, president of the Garrett County Arts Council board of directors; Tiddle Wheeler, Garrett County Arts Council (GCAC) board member; Edwards; Karen Reckner, GCAC executive director; and Joan Lyon, GCAC board member. Shown below in the same order are Alan Arnson, GCAC member; Beitzel; Ruth Beitzel, GCAC board of directors; Reckner; Lyon; Lueck; Wheeler; and Marion Leonard, Allegany Arts Council president. Reckner noted that the contingent from Garrett County was larger than most other rural county groups.

WVU Choral Group Presenting Music Of Fauré

The West Virginia University Choral Area, directed by Kathleen Shannon, will present a concert titled "The Music of Gabriel Fauré" on Sunday, Feb. 20, in the Lyell B. Clay Concert Theatre of the Creative Arts Center, Morgantown, W.Va.

The concert begins at 3:15 p.m. and will feature special guest Dr. William Haller, organist. The show will feature the WVU Women's Choir, conducted by student Sara Nale, performing Messe Basse for Women's Voices, and the University Choir, conducted by Dr. Shannon, in Tu es Petrus Cantique de Jean Racine.

The entire WVU Choral Area, conducted by student Shou Ping Liu, will perform Fauré's Requiem, op. 48, featuring Dr. Haller.

For tickets, persons should contact the Mountainlair or CAC box offices, both reachable at 304-293-7469. Persons may also go to the web site: www.ccarts.wvu.edu.

Artists Asked To Submit Work For Special Exhibit

Local artists are being invited to submit a two-dimensional piece of work for a special exhibit in McHenry. In conjunction with the Smithsonian Institution traveling exhibit titled "Between Fences," Spruce Forest Artisan Village will produce a companion exhibit to be on display at the Chamber of Commerce Visitors Center from May 6 through June 25.

"Do good fences make good neighbors?" is the question being explored through this particular exhibit, according to a Spruce Forest spokesperson. This local showing of the Smithsonian Institution show is to explore this and other aspects of the cultural history of fences and land use. The Smithsonian Institution show is part of the Museum on Main Street project.

Work submitted should follow the theme "Between Fences."

"We live between fences, both literal and metaphorical ones," the spokesperson said. "Literal fences identify borders and boundaries, and provide security and decoration. Fences can also be symbols for identity and relationships, access and barriers.

"Metaphorical fences can represent or refer to a border, a barrier, or a meeting point," the spokesperson continued. "Throughout history these themes have come into play in the development of our country and our communities."

Spruce Forest is asking artists to submit two-dimensional artwork that explores boundaries or meeting points or any concept or theme related to fences. Space is limited so artworks will be selected based on their readiness to be hung and space availability. All work should be for sale.

Art work must be submitted on Friday, May 6, between the hours of 10 a.m. and noon at the Visitors Center, 15 Visitor Center Drive, McHenry. Questions about submitting work should be directed to Natalie Atherton at 301-641-8171. To learn more about Between Fences, persons may visit www.museumonmainstreet.org.

Local Youngsters' Art On Display At GCAC Gallery

"Art is Elementary" is the title of a new exhibit of artwork now on display at the Gallery Shop of the Garrett County Arts Council in downtown Oakland. The exhibit features the work of 62 area students from pre-kindergarten age through 5th grade.

"This exhibit is a celebration of color and imagination," said Karen Reckner, executive director of the arts council. "The children have expressed themselves in their own fun and unique ways."

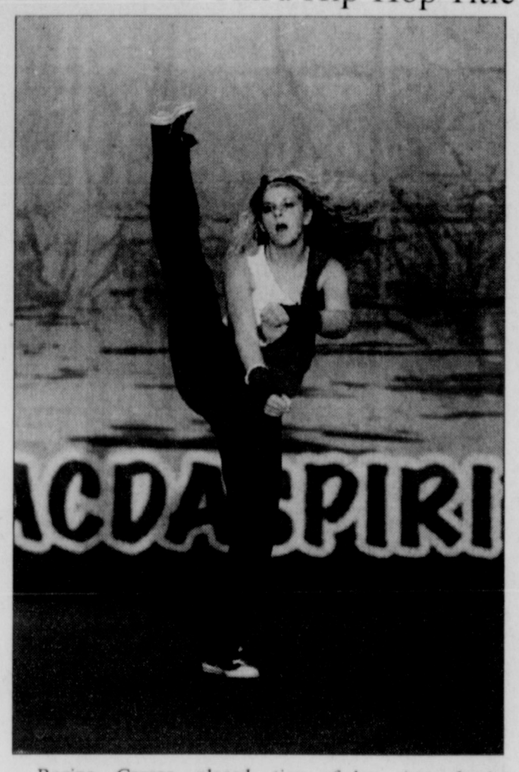
Crosco Wins Third Hip-Hop Title



Regina Crosco placed first in the hip-hop dance division during the Maryland Cup State All Star Cheer and Dance Championships in Upper Marlboro on Jan. 29. The win marks Crosco's third consecutive title as Maryland's solo hip-hop champion.

The Southern High School senior is the daughter of Roger and Kim Crosco of Mtn. Lake Park. She trains at Jessica's Dance Creations under the instruction of her sister Jessica Crosco.

The solo champion is a member of the hip-hop crew Toxic Twist and is also a Western Maryland Xtreme Cheerleader. She plans to participate in Reach the Beach Nationals on Apr. 2 to try to gain a national title.

"We are so proud of Regina—she wows the audiences, and her score climbs higher each year," said Crosco's sibling coach.

Beginning Braille Offered at GC's Northern Center

A course titled "Beginning Braille" will be held at Garrett College's Northern Outreach Center in Grantsville on Thursdays, March 17–April 28, from 6 to 9:15 p.m. Class will not be held on April 21.

This introductory course presents the fundamentals of the Braille code – including the letters of the alphabet, numbers, and methods of writing Braille – providing tools to communicate in writing with family members or clients who read Braille.

Students will learn how to read Braille as a sighted person. They will also be shown how to produce simulated Braille on a computer.

The instructor for the course will be Judy Hurst, teacher of the visually impaired for Marion County Schools in West Virginia. In 1998, she was presented with an international award from the Association for the Education and Rehabilitation of the Blind and Visually Impaired. Hurst has taught university level classes in Braille at West Virginia University and Marshall University.

For additional information, persons may contact Terry Beachy, Northern Outreach Center coordinator, at 301-895-4700 or terry.beachy@garrett-college.edu.

To register, one may call the Continuing Education and Workforce Development Division at 301-387-3069.

McKenzie Earns Nursing Degree

Alyson McKenzie, Grantsville, recently graduated from Allegany College of Maryland's nursing program at the Garrett campus. The ceremony was held on Dec. 17.

McKenzie is currently employed at Frostburg Nursing and Rehabilitation Center (WMHS), Frostburg.

She is the daughter of Rodney McKenzie, Frostburg, and Bryan and Tina Broadwater, Grantsville.

Intro To Anatomy Class To Be Held At Grantsville Ctr.

Garrett College's Northern Outreach Center in Grantsville will host a course titled "Introduction to Anatomy and Physiology" on Mondays and Wednesdays, March 2–April 4, from 6 to 9:15 p.m.

The course will provide an overview of human anatomy and physiology, including an introduction to structure and function of the human body by systems and on the cellular level.

The course may be taken alone or as one in a series of the medical coding and billing training program, which prepares participants for a position as a medical coding specialist.

Coding professionals work in a multitude of settings throughout the health care industry, including hospitals, physicians' offices and clinics, long-term care facilities, insurance companies, government agencies, home-care providers, or anywhere medical procedures are performed.

Additional information is available by contacting Terry Beachy at 301-895-4700 or terry.beachy@garrettcollege.edu.

To register, persons may call the Continuing Education and Workforce Development office at 301-387-3069.

not quite as bad as a couple of weeks ago, but still much too cold for a little child living outdoors without much food.

I don't know whether Garrett County has any homeless shelters at all. But while she served as a social work intern at the low-income community health clinic in Morgantown, my daughter encountered a family in so much trouble, and she had to perform like a fully qualified social worker to help them get to a livable situation. But Morgantown does at least have one homeless shelter.

I was happy to see that when a New York City billionaire learned of the serious needs out there, he decided to do something to help. What he chose was providing free milk for families in severe want. That is a small step, but an important one.

My father believed that American agriculture could feed the hungry people in every corner of the globe, and he worked with the Farm Bureau to make that a major goal in our agricultural sector. But that kind of effort needs constantly pushed on, and I don't know whether his successors took up that torch and ran with it. I wish I could think of someone who did or will do that.

There are many good things that could be done in private-sector organizations to benefit the world at large, if they have the right kind of voices and the will to do good for not just their own interests, but for all mankind. That is what my father taught his children, and we did devote more energy to the common good than we devoted to our personal interests. And there are 10 of his grandchildren who are working toward that goal. I doubt they will get rich by walking that path. But that doesn't mean that they are not successful; just the opposite. Or rewording that famous JFK quote, "Ask not what you can do for yourself; ask what you can do for all humanity."

Anyone can see in his words and deeds that President Obama is embodying the best Christian faith. He chose Christianity for his religion because its values are the same as his values. When he has some deep challenges to face, he deserves the prayers of every Christian, even if he had an Indonesian Muslim stepfather.

He was a kind, loving stepfather, so if Obama shows sometimes that he has, as some call it, "a soft spot for Muslims," that may be why. That is better than just mindlessly hating anyone who does not share your religion. That is not what our God desires from us, but exactly the opposite.

Let's face it. The presidency is the hardest job in the world, because its impact spreads across the world.

It is terrible news for me that among the cuts in the budget is the funding to provide assistance to low-income people to pay for heating their homes. I was very grateful to get $600 from that program, which did not even come close to paying for my heating oil for a winter like this one was. Every couple of months, I had to order another delivery of heating oil, and that cut deeply into my several months' budget. That is really painful for me and my daughters. I never imagined that I would ever become really poor.

But I heard a tiny bit of good news lately: that it's time for pitchers and catchers from professional baseball teams to report for spring training. Hooray! Because watching my beloved Pittsburgh Pirates games has yielded some of the brightest events in my life. Yes, that is a little pitiful, but nonetheless true.

The confirmation class for the Bittinger Lutheran Parish will meet on Sunday, Feb. 27, at 1 p.m. at the parsonage. All confirmation students are urged to attend.

The Bittinger Parish has invited all area Lutheran congregations to participate in a joint Reformation Day service on Oct. 30 at Emmanuel Lutheran Church in Bittinger. Rams Whip Sentinels, Get Upset By Trojans, Edged By Tornadoes

The boys' varsity basketball team of Southern High School handed host Fort Hill a 61-46 defeat on Friday, but the Rams were then upset 51-41 by visiting Hampshire on Tuesday and were edged in a defensive battle last night by top-ranked Keyser, 41-37, on the Golden Tornadoes' floor. The results left the Rams, who had dropped five of their last seven contests, with a 13-7 overall record and an 11-4 mark in Appalachian Mountain Athletic Conference games.

Calvin Hilliard led the Rams offensively in their win over Fort Hill on Friday, as he poured in 23 points with seven buckets and made good on all nine of his opportunities at the foul line.

Teammates Joey Kisselovich and Wyatt McBee also reached double figures with 15 and 12 points, respectively, with all of McBee's points scored from three-point range.

The Rams took an early lead and never looked back, up 21-12 at the end of the first quarter, leading 37-21 at intermission, and taking a comfortable 52-31 advantage into the final stanza.

Pacing the Sentinels (6-13, 2-12 AMAC) in scoring was Garrett D'Atri with 18 points.

The Southern junior varsity dropped the preliminary game, 49-29, with Jarrett Wolfe recording 14 points and a dozen rebounds for the winners. Alex Fike led the Rams with 10 points.

The varsity Rams really never got on track in Tuesday's game against the Trojans of Hampshire High, as they trailed by scores of 15-7, 27-16, and 42-32 at the quarters.

The Trojans had a strong three-point shooting night, hitting eight long-range shots for the evening.

Jordan Nelson hit a game-high 19 points for the winners, while Josh Moreland, who finished with three three-pointers, netted 13.

D.J. Ritchie led the Rams in scoring with 17 points and in rebounding with 10, while Kisselovich finished with 12 points. Kurt Gangler led Southern's defensive effort with eight steals.

Hilliard, who is the Rams' leading scorer, was held to just three points.

The win upped the Trojans' overall record to 12-6 and their AMAC mark to 10-3.

The Southern jayvees won the first game, 63-45, behind an 18-point effort by Kevin Colaw, and a 13-point, 12-rebound performance by Brandon Wilt. Caleb Landis and Logan Hill led the Hampshire junior varsity in scoring with 15 and 13 points, respectively.

The Rams came close to pulling off a mild upset of home-standing and AMAC-leading Keyser last night, as they held leads of 6-4 and 22-20 at the end of the first and second quarters. They scored the first six points of the second quarter to take a 12-4 lead, their biggest of the evening.

Coach Jon Hegeman's squad was down 33-29 going into the fourth quarter, but tied the score at 35-35 with about 3½ minutes left in regulation.

A Ram turnover led to a final go-ahead bucket by Keyser's Dustin Fertig. The Tornadoes (15-3, 12-2 AMAC) moved out to a 40-35 advantage at the 1:14 mark and held on for the win, their 10 straight.

Both teams played strong defense, as evidenced by the final score, but a total shutdown of Southern's McBee in the second half was a significant factor in the final outcome. McBee hit four three-pointers for 12 points in the first half, but failed to score at all in the second half.

Hilliard also reached double figures with 11 points, while Kisselovich pulled down seven rebounds.

Keyser was led in scoring by Damon Thorne with 13 points and in rebounding with seven. Wes Washington finished with 10 points, and Peyton Hartman pulled down a game-high 11 rebounds and also had four blocks.

"We're definitely struggling right now," said Coach Hegeman. "I think some of it is our lack of depth, plus we just aren't clicking on offense."

The Ram junior varsity team recorded a 45-42 win in the preliminary game behind a 14-point effort by Brandon Wilt. Josh Parill and Tyler Hoban led the Keyser jayvees with 18 and 14 points, respectively.

The Rams are scheduled to play at Tucker County this Friday and host Bishop Walsh next Tuesday.

Huskies Fall To Trojans, Tornados; Bounce Back For Win Over Falcons

After Appalachian Mountain Athletic Conference losses on the road to Hampshire on Friday, 68-66, and to top-ranked Keyser on Monday, 63-50, the boys' varsity basketball team of Northern High School bounced back Tuesday night to earn a 43-33 AMAC win over host Frankfort.

The results left the Huskies with an overall record of 9-11 and a 4-10 mark in conference games.

The Huskies built a 15-8 lead over Hampshire by the end of the first quarter last Friday, but were down by seven, 32-25, at intermission, and trailed 48-45 after three periods.

After an intentionally missed free throw by Hampshire's Dane Heavener with just three seconds left and the Trojans up by two, the Huskies put up a three-quarter shot that was no good.

Matt Gibson, the area's leading scorer, finished with a game-high 21 points for the Huskies. Tyler Wilt was close behind with 19 points and Austin Doerr netted 10.

Jordan Nelson paced the Trojans (11-6 overall, 9-3 AMAC) with 19 points, 11 of which were from the foul line. Heavener finished with 17 points and Josh Moreland recorded 14 points and 10 rebounds. Robbie Smelser had 12 boards.

Despite leading the area in scoring, Northern's Gibson was held to just three points by the Keyser defense on Monday.

Fellow Huskies stepped up, however, to keep the game close until the final period. After trailing by scores of 18-8 and 29-24 at the end of the first two quarters, the Huskies out-scored their hosts in the third stanza by a 17-13 margin to trail by just one, 42-41, going into the final frame.

Behind the offensive effort of Dustin Fertig, the Golden Tornadoes put 21 points on the board in the final quarter and held the Huskies to just nine.

Fertig scored all 15 of his points in the second half. Damon Thorne led Keyser in scoring and rebounding with 16 points and 16 rebounds, while Peyton Hartman grabbed 14 boards to go with his five points.

The Huskies were outrebounded by a lopsided 51-16 margin, but the Tornadoes committed numerous turnovers in the third period to allow Northern to stay close.

Tyler Wilt led Northern's offensive effort with 14 points, Cody Humberson was right behind with 13, and Garrett Rayner netted 10.

The Northern junior varsity was defeated in the first game.

Matt Gibson got back on track the following evening and led the Huskies in scoring with 13 points in the defensive win over Frankfort.

The Huskies held an 11-9 edge at the end of the first period, and the Falcons were up by three at the half, 17-14. Behind one three-pointer each by Gibson, Wilt, and Humberson, Northern moved out to a 30-24 advantage by the end of the third stanza.

Most of the Huskies fourth-quarter points were recorded from the foul line, from which they made good on 9 of 11 in that period, and were 11-for-16 for the game.

Humberson and Rayner were the second and third leading scorers for the Huskies with nine and eight points, respectively.

Matt Grogg led the Falcons with 11 points. Brian Bills recorded nine rebounds, four assists, and seven points. Ty Bowers netted eight points.

The loss dropped the Falcons to 1-17 overall and kept them winless in AMAC play (0-14).

The Huskies are slated to travel to Mountain Ridge this Friday and face Frankfort again next Monday at the Cove.

Northern Takes Six In A Row; Beats Mountain Ridge, Fort Hill

The Husky varsity girls' basketball team has won six in a row, completing their season sweep of rival Mountain Ridge at home on Monday night, 58-45, before squashing Fort Hill on the road in last night's matchup, 65-30.

As host to Mountain Ridge, Northern led 16-2 after the first quarter and 27-12 at halftime. The Northern High School team then ended the third ahead 40-29.

"We set the tempo from the start and it was probably the best defensive game we've played all year," said Northern coach Steve Fratz.

Morgan Brosnihan led a balanced Husky offensive in the win, with 17 points. Kaitlynn Fratz netted 15 points, and Terra McKenzie tallied a double-double with 11 points and 13 rebounds.

Madi Nightengale hit four three-point goals and scored a game-high 22 points for Mountain Ridge. Her teammate Shae Winner went 7-for-8 from the foul line and totaled 13 points.

The Huskies took the junior varsity win, 25-22. Caroline Bergstrom had 11 points for Northern, while Emma Baker and Jocelyn Hoffman both had six for the Miners.

In last night's defeat of Fort Hill, the Huskies jumped all over the Sentinels in the third quarter. Taking a sound halftime lead of 10 points (28-18) and tripling it before entering the final quarter, 54-24.

In the match, McKenzie came on strong and totaled 21 points, hitting five three-pointers. Fratz scored 15 points through the first three quarters before sitting out the fourth, and Taryn Brenneman finished with 11.

Fort Hill was led in scoring by Alesha Jackson's 12 points. Alyssia Twigg and Ashley O'Neal both scored six.

The Huskies dropped the jayvee game, 38-31. Alyssa Whitacre had 11 points for the Sentinels. Kayla Porter scored 10 points for Northern.

The Rams Crush Preston, BW; Take Back-To-Back 20-Point Victories

The Southern High School girls' varsity basketball team pulled away from a rough-and-tumble Preston squad last Thursday for a 55-33 win in Oakland. In last night's action, the Rams again beat their opponent by 20 or more points in a dominating win over Bishop Walsh, 61-41.

Hosting Preston last week, the Rams came out of a competitive first quarter tied 9-9, before running away with the game and winning by 22.

The Knights, though ineffective against the Ram defense, made their presence known on the floor with 42 fouls, including whistles for four technical fouls and one flagrant.

The aggressive play of Preston translated into 46 trips to the line for Southern, which converted the opportunities into 26 points.

The Rams' offense was not limited to free throws, however, as Alli Shaffer led Southern from the field with seven field goals made. She had 21 points in the game, while teammate Mandy Sweitzer scored 15 and had 10 rebounds.

Though tied after the first, the Rams went on to take a 28-17 lead at the half, and a 42-23 lead after three quarters.

Southern won the jayvee game, 32-30, as Tess Watson scored nine points.

In the win over Bishop Walsh, Mariah Stem led her team to victory, netting seven three-pointers on her way to 25 points. As in the Preston game, Southern started off slow before soaring past its opposition.

Southern managed just a four-point lead after the first quarter, but outscored the Spartans 11-6 in the second to go into halftime up 24-15. Southern entered the fourth quarter with a 49-29 advantage.

Shaffer drained 12 points for the Rams to join Stem in double-digit scoring.

For Bishop Walsh, Abbie Mathew accounted for a team-high 15 points, while teammate Ashley Turnbull gave a 10-point effort. Morgan Ruppenkamp added seven.

Tess Watson led all scorers in the jayvee game with 19 points for Southern, which claimed a 45-16 victory. Haley Mock had seven for the Spartans.

With the two games added to the win column, the Rams are now 10-9 overall and 8-6 in the Appalachian Mountain Athletic Conference.

Lakers Win Season Finale, But Ousted From JUCO By Rockville

The regular season is over and there will be no Maryland JUCO title this year for the Garrett College men's basketball team, as the Lakers were eliminated from the conference tournament via an 86-72 defeat by host Rockville on Tuesday.

The Lakers (16-11) wrapped up their regular season with an 86-84 win at Southern Maryland last Friday, but the 2010-11 campaign is still not over for Coach Dennis Gibson's squad, which will enter the Region XX Tournament next Thursday in Hagerstown.

The Lakers did not have their first lead in Friday's season finale in La Plata against Southern Maryland until Jordan Gipson drained a three-pointer with just 28 second left in the contest to put Garrett up 84-82.

A bucket by the game's top scorer, Craig Gaylord, knotted the score at 84-84, but Garrett's Frank Holloway iced the game with a layup with just seconds to play. The Hawks got off one final shot, but it was no good.

Gaylord ripped the nets for 38 points on a dozen buckets and eight of 10 free throws. Teammate Brian Dixon finished with 20 points, and Clensoe Branus also reached double figures with 10.

The Lakers were paced in scoring by Rodney Clark, who led five Lakers in double figures with a total of 29 points. Holloway finished with 16 points, Theo Dubuche recorded 14, and Callum Jenkins and Gipson each contributed 12.

The Lakers trailed pretty much throughout Tuesday's JUCO tourney game with Rockville, but rallied a couple times to make it close before the home team finally went on a 24-10 run in the final several minutes to seal the victory.

The Lakers were down by as many as 12 points in the first half before cutting Rockville's lead to 33-31 just before the half, which ended with Rockville up 35-31.

The margin grew again early in the second half before the Lakers staged another rally, and eventually knotted the score at 62-62 before Rockville went on their final scoring run.

Clark hit a game-high 23 points to lead the Lakers, Theo Dubuche scored 19, Holloway finished with 12, and Gipson netted 11 points.

Rockville was paced offensively by Whatley, who finished with 20 points. Bazelais scored 16, Ojunfolu netted 12, Osmond added 11, and Serile also reached double figures with 10.

"We played well enough to stay in the game, but not well enough to win it," said Coach Gibson. "If we had won a few more of our regular season games, we could have been playing our first tourney game at home instead of on the road."

The Lakers will be out of action until next Thursday when they enter the Region XX Tournament, which will be hosted by Hagerstown CC.

Garrett Beats CSM And Frederick; Suffers One-Point Loss To Dundalk

Laker Tanisha Williams scored 34 points, snatched 16 rebounds, and had seven assists and seven steals with two blocked shots in a big effort that brought the Garrett College women's basketball team an overtime victory at Southern Maryland, 72-63.

The Lakers then carried their momentum into Saturday's match with Frederick, and beat the Cougars at home, 55-48.

Garrett was unable to make it three in a row and fell in its last game of the season by a single free-throw in an away loss to Dundalk, 59-58.

Though they eventually claimed the win in Friday's matchup against Southern Maryland, the Lakers only managed 19 points in the first half of play. The team did adjust, however, and put up 36 points in the second half, enough to send the game into overtime.

In the five minutes of additional play, Garrett exploded over Southern Maryland and scored 17 points for the win.

Laker Alice Abiya had 15 points and 13 rebounds in limited play, and had six points in overtime. Williams, who hit 14 field goals and was 3-for-4 from the line, also scored six in the extra period. Teammate Jalesa Johnson contributed 11 points of her own.

Southern Maryland was led by Tashaun Green, who had 24 points.

In its home game against Frederick, Garrett's Abiya had 24 points on nine shots from the field and shot 4-for-8 from the free-throw line. Williams accounted for 17 points, and Johnson scored 12 in the match.

Priscilla Mosch led Frederick with 18 points, while her teammate Mecca Newton had 17 points.

In the final seconds of a close game at Dundalk, the Lakers watched Nicole Tyndle sink the game's last free-throw and steal a game the Lakers led 32-22 at the half.

Garrett was dominant for most of the game, but fell victim to poor shooting from the line. The Lakers made 18 of 33 foul shots, with the majority of their misses in the second half. Dundalk took advantage of the situation and crept back into the game.

Abiya led Garrett with 29 points, hitting 11 field goals and making 7 out of 13 free-throw attempts. Her 12 rebounds made for a double-double.

Williams knocked down 16 points of her own on six baskets and went 4-for-6 in free-throw shooting. She also pulled down eight rebounds, had six steals, and accounted for four assists.

Jeannie Iler was Dundalk's leading scorer with 18 points on nine field goals. Cassie Anderson was next with 15, and Tyndle finished with 11. Anderson made five baskets and was 5-for-7 from the line, while Tyndle had four baskets and made three of her four foul shots.

"We had the momentum and couldn't make a foul shot, and they kept making them," surmised first-year Garrett head coach Joanna Pennell.

The Lakers have concluded their regular season with an 8-16 overall record.

Southern, Northern Tie For Third Place At Bocce Tourney

The first ever Unified Indoor Bocce Tournament held in Garrett County is now in the record books. The tournament took place in the Igloo at Northern High School on Saturday. Current standings have Southern and Northern tied for third place and a single game behind Allegany and Mtn. Ridge Black, which share the top spot.

The six area bocce teams began their second round-robin tournament with four teams in first place, as Allegany, Mtn. Ridge Black, Southern, and Northern all compiled 3-2 records in the first tournament held at Mtn. Ridge in January.

Allegany and the Mtn. Ridge Black teams both came out of the latest tournament with 4-1 records.

The Campers' only loss came at the hands of the Miners of the Mtn. Ridge Black team, while the host Huskies got the upper hand against the Mtn. Ridge Black team. The Allegany and Mtn. Ridge Black teams now hold overall records of 7-3.

The Southern Rams and Northern Huskies remain tied for the third place spot with identical 6-4 marks. In fifth place are the Miners of the Mtn. Ridge Red team with three wins and seven losses, while Fort Hill's Sentinels have landed in sixth place with a 2-8 record after a couple of close games got away from them.

The next matches for all the teams will be at the 2011 Unified Indoor Bocce State High School Invitational. That tournament is slated for Mar. 3, and will take place in the former London Fog building in Sykesville.

Pair Of Rams Selected For All-Star Game

Calvin Hilliard and Joey Kisselovich, both senior members of the Southern High School varsity boys' basketball team, have been selected to play in the 2011 Buffalo Wild Wings Roundball Classic at Hagerstown Community College.

Hilliard is currently averaging just under a team-best 14 points and just over five rebounds per game for the Rams, while Kisselovich is netting just over 13½ points and pulling down a team-high of nearly 7½ boards per outing.

Media day was held Sunday, which was attended by over 150 players and coaches. The senior all-star game, which will be played Saturday, March 19, benefits the American Cancer Society and Big Brothers Big Sisters.

The players are selected from schools in Virginia, Maryland, Pennsylvania, and West Virginia. More information is available on the following web site: http://www.leaguelineup.com/welcome.asp?url=roundballclassic.

BRING HOME NUMEROUS AWARDS – The Western Maryland Xtreme Cheerleaders won numerous awards during recent weeks at the Maryland Cup State All Star Cheer and Dance Championships in Upper Marlboro and Live! competitions in Pittsburgh and Johnstown, Pa. The team and solo acts are coached by Jessica Crosco, Shasta Spiker, Kim Crosco, and Helena Slaubaugh at Jessica's Creations. The Maryland Cup awards are as follows: Mini Cheer Team, first place and division champs; Regina Crosco, three-time hip-hop champion; Madison Crosco, Keele Flanigan, and Lindsay Thomas, first-place solo awards; Olivia Gaither, Kailee Brandon, and Harleigh Wildesen, second place; Senior Cheer Team, third place; and both Toxic Hip-Hop teams placed second. An adult team composed of 18 area residents also competed at the Maryland Cup, winning first place in the Adult Cheer Division. The Johnstown awards included Senior Toxic Hip-Hop, first place and division champions; Senior Cheer, first place and division champions; and Mini Toxic Hip-Hop and Mini Cheer Team, second place. First place solo awards went to Lindsay Thomas, Harleigh Wildesen, Madison Crosco, and Kailee Brandon. The group will travel to Reach the Beach Nationals in Ocean City on April 2 and 3. Pictured, left to right, in the first row are Brielle Jobe, Randi Mayle, Nicole Schroyer, Mikala Spiker, Olivia Crosco, Sydney Tichinel, Natalie Ashby, Anna Layman, Harleigh Wildesen, Kailee Brandon, Rachael Tichinel, Jordyn Warnick, and Avery Root. Second row: Morgan Carr, Jennifer King, Regina Crosco, Chelsea Crosco, Kyla Slaubaugh, Lindsay Thomas, Natalie Wood, Alison Mullan, Emily Helms, Emily Dillsworth, Madison Crosco, and Caitlyn Bolyard. Third row: coach Shasta Spiker, Kim Crosco, Jessica Crosco, Angel Folk, Jaiden Harvey, Kearstin Losh, Sabrinia Spiker, Hannah Hintz, Rachel Lennox, and Hali Gebhardt. Below is the adult team. Second row: Ricky Hamilton, Tiffany Thomas, Kati Simmons, Kim Crosco, Harmony Carr, Lindsay Thomas, Holly Shaffer, Jannette Layman, Alayna Grove, and Jessica Crosco. Not pictured are Shasta Spiker and Ruth Hamilton.

DNR Announces Harvest Numbers For Deer Season

Maryland deer hunters harvested a total of 98,663 deer during the 2010-2011 bow, muzzleloader, and firearm seasons combined, according to the Department of Natural Resources. This figure is down just 2 percent from last year's record harvest of 100,663 deer.

The antlered harvest declined 1 percent to 33,341 deer this year, while the antlerless harvest decreased 2 percent to 65,322 deer. The harvest totals include 2,780 sika deer, a 17 percent increase over last year's total for this species.

"Deer hunting was more challenging this year, but success rates were high in most areas by the end of the season," said DNR Deer Project leader Brian Eyler. "The strong winds and very cold weather that plagued hunters during many of the most popular hunting days initially kept harvest down. We also had an abundant acorn crop that changed deer movements and had many hunters wondering where the deer were. Despite these challenges, hunters adapted and finished with a strong antlerless deer harvest – something we consider essential to managing the state's deer population."

A regulation change enacted in 2010 moved the western half of Washington County into Deer Management Region A, which includes Allegany and Garrett counties. The regulation change was instituted to reduce the deer harvest in that portion of Washington County. As a result of the boundary change, deer harvest numbers for the region are not directly comparable to previous years.

A total of 9,324 deer (5,412 antlered, 3,912 antlerless) were harvested in Region A during the 2010-2011 season. The Garrett County harvest remained stable, while the harvest in Allegany and Washington counties dropped approximately 30 percent.

There were 2,709 antlered deer taken in Garrett County, up 2.3% over the previous season total of 2,649. The number of antlerless deer harvested this past season was 2,189, down 3.7% from the previous season total of 2,189. So total harvest for Garrett County was 4,898, just under the 4,922 total of the previous season.

Numbers were down significantly in neighboring Allegany County, where a total of 3,157 deer were harvested, down 30% from the total of 4,508 taken the previous season.

The decline in Washington County was an expected outcome of the change in the Region A boundary. While the decline in Allegany County was partly because of a decrease in the overall deer herd, the boundary change further reduced harvest by putting several popular public hunting areas in the same Management Region, removing the option to take deer under two separate bag limits.

The reported deer harvest in the remainder of the state (Deer Management Region B) was similar to that of the previous year. Hunters in Region B reported taking 89,339 deer for the year; down 2 percent from last year. The antlered harvest of 27,929 deer was 3 percent lower than last year, while the antlerless total decreased 2 percent to 61,410 deer.

Frederick County led the state this year with 7,942 deer, followed by Baltimore County with 6,919 and Washington County with 6,035 deer.

Art On Display

Works include various types of paintings, yarn collage, repurposed items such as sea shells and wall paper, and special drawings using a foil technique.

One group of students was challenged to create drawings using the outline of different state maps, Reckner said.

"A particular item of interest is a black and white drawing by Sheridan Potts, a 5th grader at Bloomington Elementary," Reckner said. "Potts' artwork, created in the study of value, was selected by the Garrett County Board of Education for its 2010 holiday greeting card."

Artwork was submitted by students attending Accident, Bloomington, Crellin, Dennett Road, Friendsville, Grantsville, Kitzmiller, Swan Meadow, and Yough Glades. Art teachers contributing student work to the exhibit were Melinda Bishoff, Bonnie Frederick, Torria Quesenberry, and Sharon DiGioia.

"Art is Elementary" will be on display through March 11. The public is invited to view the exhibit during the normal Gallery Shop hours of 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday to Saturday.

The Garrett County Arts Council is supported by a grant from the Maryland State Arts Council. An agency of the Department of Business and Economic Development, the MSAC provides financial support and technical assistance to non-profit organizations, units of government, colleges and universities for arts activities. Additional funding comes from Garrett County government and annual membership support. For more information, persons may visit www.gar-ret-tarts.com or call 301-334-6580.

AURORA/EGLON

UNION SENIORS

The Union District Seniors had their first 2011 meeting on Feb. 10. The January meeting had been canceled because of inclement weather. A total of 18 club members were present and met at the Aurora United Methodist Memorial Building. Devotions were provided by Shirley Parsons and included a Valentine reading.

Janice Trickett opened the meeting with inquiry about any interest in a shopping trip, but there seemed to be none. She also made note that Social Security is to be made by direct deposit beginning March 1. Anyone needing to make arrangements for such need should do so by that time.

Nurse Galina distributed Matters of the Heart information, which included special emphasis on Valentine's Day choices and recipes. For those interested in obtaining home repairs this summer, the application forms are not yet available.

A special feature of a heart-shaped dish of candy was awarded to Ressie Conrad..

Wilma Mae Teets will be responsible for the March meeting's devotions.

Janice closed the meeting with one of her humorous stories, and they adjourned to play bingo.

NEW BABIES

A son, Adrian Scott was born to Robert "Robbie" and Crystal Wiles, Lantz Ridge, Feb. 9, 2011, at Garrett County Memorial Hospital. He weighed 6 lbs. 9 oz. and was 19¼ inches. He is their first son, and he joins his big sister, Kinsey. Paternal grandparents are Kevin and Kathy Wiles, Lantz Ridge. Maternal grandparents are Kenneth Reckart Sr., Crellin, Md., and Patsy Moats, Aurora. Carol Wotring and Edna Wiles, both of Aurora, and James and Linda Moon, Crellin, are the great-grandparents. Esther Holler, Oakland, is the great-great-grandmother of the new baby.

Major and Sarah (Snyder) Rettig, Fairmont, welcomed their first child, Parker Adam, on Jan. 29, 2011, at Ruby Memorial Hospital, Morgantown. He weighed 4 lbs. 5 oz. and was 18 inches long. Paternal grandparents are Melvin and Naurina Rettig, Grand Junction, Colo. Maternal grandparents are Leonard and Linda Snyder, Amboy. Great-grandparents are Merle Nice, Terra Alta, and Dean and Janet Marble, Minnesota.

Michael and Leslie Lantz, North Pole, Alaska, welcomed a second daughter, Madison Lindsey, on Jan. 9, 2011, and she has and older sister, Abigail. Both parents are members of the U.S. Air Force and serve as air traffic comptrollers. Grandmother Mary Lou Miller, Franklin, N.Y., visited with Michael and Leslie, as well as other son Steven and his family, before returning home on Feb. 7. David and Wilma Mae Teets, Horse Shoe Run, are the paternal great-grandparents.

PERSONAL

Jerry and Barbara Hauser are now at their Cash Valley home. Jerry spent several days at Garrett County Memorial Hospital with pneumonia.

Milnor "Putt" Corbin, Horse Shoe Run, was admitted last week to GCMH, where he is currently receiving care.

The body of Charles Douglas, Ashland, Ky., was brought to Aurora for burial on Sunday, Feb. 13. Widow Bonnie has since stayed to visit with her sisters. She plans to visit her brother as well while she's here. (A full obituary for Mr. Douglas appears in the A-section of this issue.)

Rose Ina Harsh has been hospitalized this past week at GCMH and seems to be improving since the diagnosis of her problem.

Word was received by local relatives that Geraldine "Gerry" Ford Beckman, Kansas, has pasted away. She was married to Johnny Beckman, who survives her, both former residents. (A full obituary for Mrs. Beckman appears in today's A-section.)

Maple Spring Church of the Brethren offered a St. Valentine's Day carry-in dinner last Sunday. Food included elk prepared by Marilyn Schalker, whose son shot it on a western hunting trip.

Nestor Elected To Tucker Community Foundation Board

The board of directors of the Tucker Community Foundation held its quarterly board meeting on Feb. 9. At the meeting, new board member Lyndsey Nestor of Parsons was elected to her first three-year term, a position she categorized as "an exciting opportunity."

"I enjoy hearing many opinions about issues relevant to our communities, and I hope to be involved for a long time," stated the 2009 valedictorian of Tucker County High School. Nestor currently attends Davis & Elkins College in addition to coaching girls' community basketball. She is the daughter of Craig and Robyn Nestor.

The officers re-elected for two-year terms were David Cooper, president; Mariwyn Smith, vice president; David Moran, secretary; and Marvin Parson, treasurer.

Additionally, Diane Beall, Mark Doak, Nancy Dotson, and Amy Fiorini were re-elected to three-year terms. Spencer Flanagan was appointed to serve as the 2011 Youth Community Volunteer representative, while Dan Butcher and James Cooper were re-elected to serve as members-at-large of the Executive Committee.

Tucker Community Foundation serves an eight-county region, including Garrett County. The foundation office is located on the second floor of the Tucker County Board of Education's annex building in Parsons.

4-H Club News

EGLON MOUNTAINEERS
by Jonathon Blamble, reporter

President Haley Rocha called the Eglon Mountaineer 4-H Club meeting to order on Feb. 14 at the Eglon Memorial Building. Devotions using the theme "What Kind of Example" were read by Alex Rinker of the music committee. Tyler Pomeroy led the pledges.

Stacey Evans and Stephanie Arnett presented a program on scrapbooking and showed how to organized 4-H projects and papers, and how to use these ideas when making posters and exhibits.

Eleven members answered the roll call, following the secretary and treasurer's reports.

The club submitted seven posters and 18 photos to the recent county contest. Money has been received from last fall's Buckwheat Festival project exhibits. The club will continue to collect can tabs, Campbell soup labels, and Box Tops for Education, and empty ink cartridges for the local schools. Another spring community project, other than picking up trash along Eglon Road and picking up winter debris at the Farmer's Wild life Park, will be cleaning up around the Smallest Church and planting flowers there.

Leader Linda Lewis announced several upcoming events, such as the County 4-H Day and Teen Leader/Charting Weekend at the county and state levels, and updated club enrollment.

The club decided to go as a group to see a movie on March 12, followed by pizza for supper. Haley Rocha will be getting more information on this event.

Talks and demonstration were given by Chelsee Rinker called "Making Sugar Cookies," Chad Vandevender called "My Beef Projects," and Sydnee Vandevender called "My Swine Projects."

Members attending were Jonathon Blamble, Sierra Evans, Tyler Pomeroy, Alex, Chelsee, and Matt Rinker, Haley Rocha, Jesse Schalker, Tevor Spaid, and Chad and Sydnee Vandevender. The next meeting will be held on March 14, with Ron Bolyard giving a presentation on home safety.

LIBRARY NEWS

Preston County Commission allocated a financial sum last September to the Preston County Library, which has purchased fiction, western, and mystery books, large print and small, for juveniles, young adults, and adults. Periodical shelves have been purchased. There is also now a Kik step stool for children and DVDs for families to watch together. Also with this allocation of funds, the Summer Reading Program materials have been ordered, which will be for students grade K through 8. The program runs for six weeks beginning in June.

Dr. and Mrs. Steven White and Frank and Barbara Ross gave monetary gifts for Christmas, with Harvey Gaylin purchasing a year subscription to Popular Mechanics and Cathy Nardi a year subscription renewal to the Rachel Ray magazine. Donna Keener has purchased more microfilm for Grafton Mtn. Statesman, Taylor County. Doug and Pat Auvil have donated some reference and mystery books. Cindee Cramer, Lawrence Sypolt, Patty Pennington, Lorie MacArgle, and Hildegard May have also made book donations.

Grades 5 through 8 have been invited to make a display of their favorite president for a Presidents' Day presentation at the library on Monday, Feb. 21. Teachers have agreed to add special bonus points to the social studies grades of those students who participate. The board of directors and other volunteers will be judging the presentations with awards. The public is encouraged to attend. The younger classes will be invited to participate in another activity in the spring, which will be set up with the same procedure, but different category.

The Gift by Katherine Stockett was presented in memory of Betty Lou Johnson by Mike and Ellen Pifer.

LOCAL CHURCHES SEND TEAM TO HAITI — Two local churches recently teamed up and sent 19 people to Haiti to rebuild homes and help with medical needs in the village of Damien, just 30 minutes from Port-au-Prince. Pleasant View Baptist Church of Oakland and Welsh Baptist Church of Frostburg organized the local team to assist the ongoing efforts of Baptist Global Response. The team assisted in the construction of block and metal homes for the inhabitants. Four from the team, including Dr. Andrew Foy of Eglon Clinic and Karen Youngblood of Western Maryland Health Systems, made over 300 visits to people in desperate need of medical attention. Their visits also took them to two orphanages to treat children. A presentation to the public with slides, testimonies, and a question-and-answer session will be given this Sunday at 6:30 p.m. at Pleasant View Baptist Church. The church is located two miles south of Oakland on U.S. Route 219. Individuals interested in further information may call 301-334-8515 or visit www.pleasantviewbc.org. The relief team is pictured above. In the front row, left to right, are: Sherry Frick, Barbara Diehl-Stahl, Elizabeth Radcliff, Kathy Tucker, Tinana York, Matt Friend, Delores York, Youngblood, Danielle Massey, Debbie Weeks, and Mary Heath. In the back row are: Chris Magruder, Chuck Stahl, Robert Snow, Foy, Sam York, Bob Filsinger, Scott Weeks, Josiah Weeks, Thomas Winborn, Mark Weeks, and Timothy Bowen.

MULTIPLE CHOICE

If you're looking for a bargain and considering purchasing a foreclosure, you'll first have to decide what kind of foreclosed property to pursue. The three categories are Pre-Foreclosure, Sherriff's Auction, and Repossession (or a bank-owned REO).

Pre-foreclosures are in the process, but have yet to be auctioned. Your offer will have to be negotiated with the lender as well as the owner, which makes the deal complicated and slow. Prices also tend to be highest in this category of foreclosures.

The lowest prices are found on properties that are being auctioned, but inspections are usually unavailable for these homes, and the transaction can get very sticky. These foreclosures are often best left to contractors, investors and developers who are well versed in the challenges these properties present.

Finally, if the home does not sell at auction, it is repossessed by the bank and offered as an REO (Real Estate Owned by the bank). These may list at a higher price than the auction price, but you may have the home inspected and avoid any repair surprises, not to mention the fact that you have clear title to the property.

However, homes in this stage are usually still offered in "as is" condition, so make sure to pay very close attention to the inspection report and as always, consult with your agent before making any offers.

If you are thinking of buying or selling a home but feel "out of touch" with real estate, give me a call today.

February 20, 2001 — June 28, 2008

I heard you crying again today, I know it's because of my birthday.
I would be 10 years old this year, But God wanted me up here.
So, I'm sending you this message, Now from Heaven above,
I know how much you miss me, I can always feel your love.
You're wondering if I'll celebrate my birthday way up here,
It isn't the same because you all aren't here.
God planned a special day for me, He told me with a wink–
He ordered me a special cake, it's Angel Food, I think.
I'm getting lots of hugs from GOD– He's really good at that and every time I walk by He gives my head a pat.
Balloons will fill the streets for me, they'll float up through the clouds– and we have lots of clowns up here that make us laugh out loud.
There is a birthday carousel– Jeweled horses ride the wind,
With music playing oh so sweet that the magic never ends.
I've made so many friends, you see– We laugh and play and sing.
We ride our bikes & play jump rope then we sleep in the angels' wings.
We'll have our cake & ice cream and open gifts, SURPRISE!
But we don't blow out our candles here, instead they light your skies.
So, when the day starts without me, Don't think we're far apart,
For every time you think of me, I'm right there, in your heart!

With loving thoughts of our darling granddaughter on her birthday –
Dwain & Judy Rodeheaver

Maryland Tops Rankings In AP Success For Third Straight Year

Maryland education tallied another number one national ranking this past week as the College Board released its annual report on the rigorous Advanced Placement (AP) program.

The percentage of Maryland seniors who earned a score of 3 or higher on one or more AP exams reached 26.4 percent in 2010, the highest percentage in the nation for the third straight year and 1.6 percentage points better than 2009, according to the College Board's "Annual AP Report to the Nation." A score of 3 or better is considered "college mastery level" on the AP exams, and many colleges and universities award college credit for high school students scoring in that range.

Maryland also ranked first in the nation in the percentage of graduating seniors who had taken AP exams in the mathematics and sciences disciplines. Maryland placed second to Florida in the total percentage of seniors completing an AP exam (43.4 percent to Florida's 43.5).

"Maryland is committed to strong educational programs for our children, and these results show once again that our priority investments are paying off," said Governor Martin O'Malley. "Rigorous cour-ses such as AP provide our children with an important foundation that will not only help them succeed individually, but also help our state move ahead as we transition to a new economy."

The announcement follows last month's news that Maryland schools ranked first in the nation by Education Week's "Quality Counts" report, also for the third straight year. That report looked at a variety of policy and performance measures, including last year's AP data.

"High standards and quality programs drive success in our high schools," said state Superintendent of Schools Nancy S. Grasmick. "By providing our children with a strong classroom experience, such as an Advanced Placement course, we give them a rock-solid foundation for future learning and growth."

The College Board sent a delegation to Maryland to tour several high schools and observe the instruction taking place in many classrooms throughout the state.

"Congratulations to the state of Maryland," said College Board president Gaston Caperton. "Under Dr. Grasmick's leadership, Maryland leads the nation with the highest percentage of public school seniors succeeding in AP for the third year in a row. Maryland students are rising to the challenge set by educators across the state and, as a result, more students graduate high school armed with the tools to succeed in college and beyond."

The Maryland State Department of Education has worked in close partnership with the College Board to strengthen the AP program by increasing access to all students – especially to students from under-represented groups, according to Grasmick. The program also has provided ongoing professional development to teachers, school counselors, and administrators. Twenty-two of Maryland's 24 systems have a 20 percent or greater participation rate among high school seniors, and 15 districts have 30 percent or greater.

"Advanced Placement Report to the Nation: 2011," the College Board's seventh annual analysis of the college-level assessment program, gives many high marks to efforts taking place in Maryland schools. For example:

•Just 10 years ago, in 2001, Maryland had just 14.8 percent of its seniors scoring in the college mastery rank. That number has risen 11.6 points over the past decade, the largest rate of improvement in the nation.

•Maryland is one of 14 states recognized for having eliminated the equity and excellence gap in AP achievement for the Hispanic and Latino population. While Hispanics were 7.1 percent of the Maryland population last year, 7.7 percent of the seniors who scored 3 or higher on the AP exam were Hispanic.

•Maryland also has seen a big increase in the percentage of Black/African Amer-ican students having success on the AP assessments. Nearly 10 percent (9.9 percent) of students receiving a grade of 3 or better in Maryland were Black/African American. That is the fifth-highest percentage among states in the nation.

•Two Maryland schools are being recognized by the College Board for the success of Black/African American students in AP: Eleanor Roosevelt High School in Prince George's County (for biology, chemistry, English language and composition, English literature and composition), and Paint Branch High School in Montgomery County (for world history).

The College Board's Advanced Placement Program, which began in 1955, allows students to pursue college-level studies while still in high school. Students of different interests and backgrounds can choose from more than 30 courses to demonstrate their knowledge of rigorous academic curriculum.

JUNIOR WOMAN'S CIVIC CLUB SCHOLARSHIP

The Junior Woman's Civic Club is offering a scholarship to one graduating senior from each local high school. The scholarships are available to students planning to pursue higher education in vocational, associate degree, or baccalaureate programs. The scholarship is a one-time $500 award. The recipients will be notified at the Senior Awards Assembly of each high school. Scholarship guidelines and applications may be obtained from either school's guidance office.

NORTHERN-SOUTHERN GAME WEBCAST

The girls' Northern-Southern Basketball Game on Thursday, Feb. 17, will be streamed live on the Internet. The webcast will start at approximately 7:15 p.m. Those interested may follow the link at http://www.ustream.tv/channel/NGHS.

YEARBOOK PDA ON SALE

The 2011 Highlander yearbook is once again offering the parents and family members of seniors the opportunity to purchase a PDA (Public Display of Affection) advertisement for their graduating senior. Yearbook PDA order forms will be mailed to parents on Feb. 1. Order forms can also be downloaded by going to Southern's web site. To download a PDA form go to http://cardinal.ga.k12.md.us/Schools/SH, click on the "students" link at the top of the page, and then click on the "yearbook" link. Orders and payments are due to Maria Zumpano by Apr. 15. Those with questions may contact Maria Zumpano at mzumpano@sh.ga.k12.md.us.

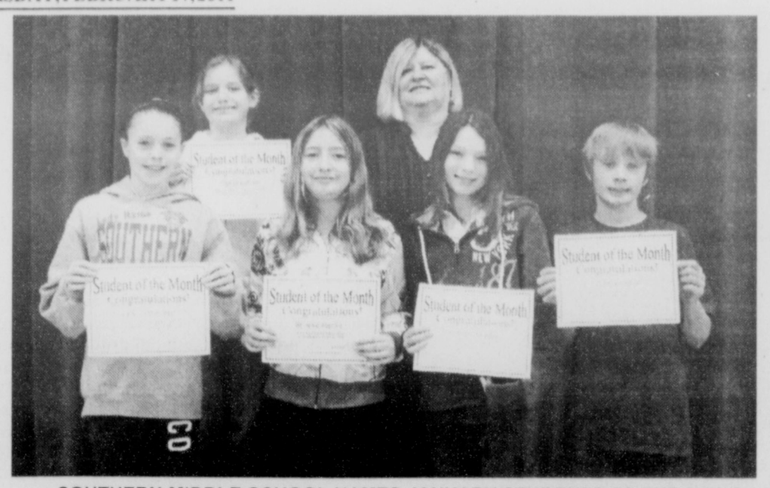
PDA space is limited so parents are encouraged to get their advertisement in as soon as possible. All sales will be on a first-come, first-served basis.

MANDATORY SENIOR TRIP MEETING

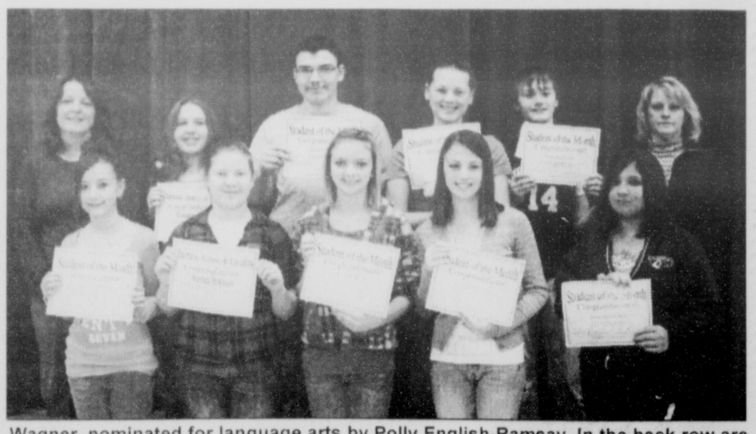
For the senior class trip to Disney World, a mandatory meeting is scheduled for students and their parents/guardians for Sunday, Mar. 6, at 2 p.m. The meeting will take place in the cafeteria. All money is due for the trip by Mar. 1.

FFA STRAWBERRY SALE

The Southern High School FFA is now taking orders for fresh Florida-grown strawberries and will do so until Feb. 28. The strawberries will be delivered the week of Mar. 14. Prices are set at $4 per quart, $14 per half flat (4 quarts), and $25 per flat (8 quarts). To order, those interested may see a Southern High School FFA member, call 301-334-1580 during the school day, or e-mail skisner@sh.ga.k12.md.us.



SOUTHERN MIDDLE SCHOOL NAMES JANUARY STUDENTS OF THE MONTH — Southern Middle School's students of the month for January have been selected. Students have been chosen from each grade for their achievement in a particular subject and for their demonstration of the month's assigned character traits: fairness, justice, and equality. The sixth grade students selected are pictured above left. In the front row, from left to right, are: Kamrin Weimer, nominated for physical education by Jane Metz; Brooke Martin, nominated for science by Jolene Scofield; Nichole Snyder, nominated for math by Bonnie Yommer; and John Wagner, nominated for language arts by Polly English-Ramsay. In the back row are Alyssa Bahner, nominated for social studies, with her nominating teacher Brenda Broadwater. The seventh grade Students of the Month are pictured above right. In the front row are: Falisha Arnold, nominated for family consumer science (6th grade) by Sherry Taylor; Avonlea Bowman, nominated for character education by Miranda Gallagher; Mariah Moon, nominated for family consumer science by Taylor; Alexandra Longest, nominated for language arts by Jane Nolan; and Vanessa Hilton, nominated for math by Helen Stephens. In the back row are: Nancy Pagenhardt, nominating teacher; Laura Pritts, nominated for character education by Pagenhardt; Quentin Sisler, nominated for science by Gayle Farrar; Kelsey Eichorn, nominated for physical education by Metz; and Nick Beckman, nominated for social studies by Terri Perando, who is pictured to Beckman's right. The eighth grade selections are pictured below. In the front row are: Christine Welch, nominated for science by Scofield; Emma Shaffer, nominated for math by Donna Durst; Heather Homberg, nominated for family consumer science by Taylor; Emily Pariseau, nominated for language arts by Tim Hinebaugh; and Joyce Wolfe, nominated for social studies by Perando. In the back row is Durst with Perando to her right.



Local Student Earns Two Scholarships

The Allegany College of Maryland Foundation has announced the awarding of two scholarships to Finzel resident Ryan Bailey for the 2010-11 academic year.

Enrolled as a criminal justice major, the 2009 graduate has earned the Milton Gerson Memorial Scholarship and the Susquehanna Bank Scholarship. He is the son of Rick and Sharon Bailey.

Gorman VFD Honors Its Last Charter Member

The Gorman Volunteer Fire Department recently held its annual firefighters' dinner at the White Church Community Building.

"We want to thank everyone in and around our community for their generous donations to our department, and hope everyone has a safe year," a department spokesman said.

The children of the late Paul Edward Weimer were invited to attend the covered-dish dinner and were presented a plaque in honor of their father. Mr. Weimer died on Sept. 24, 2010, at the age of 96, and was the department's last living charter member.

On hand to accept the plaque were Thelma Wilt, Darlene Reams, Wanda Foley, Darl Weimer, and Lyle Weimer. Their sister Lola Williams could not attend.

Local Student Named To WVU President's List

Kim Gilbert was recently named to the president's list at West Virginia University for the fall 2010 semester. To make the list, one must earn a 4.0 grade point average, while enrolled in 12 or more credit hours.

Gilbert is on track to graduate in December with a bachelor's degree in multidisciplinary studies, for which she has elected to earn minors in child development, communications, and political science. After graduation Gilbert plans to continue at WVU and enroll in its master's program for special education.

Beyond the president's list distinction, Gilbert has been selected as a member of the National Society of Collegiate Scholars. She has also received a $1,000 scholarship from the Garrett County Commission for Women.

A 1986 graduate of Southern High School and a 2009 graduate of Garrett College, where she earned an associate's in early childhood development, Gilbert currently works as a substitute teacher for the Garrett County Board of Education.

Tucker Community Foundation To Award Scholarships

Students from Barbour, Grant, Mineral, Preston, Pocahontas, Randolph, and Tucker counties in W.Va, as well as students from Garrett County, are eligible to apply for Tucker Community Foundation scholarship awards.

Endowed funds, the Kep and Alice Smith Trust, and other unrestricted funds of the foundation will provide more than $40,000 in awards for 2011. The awards will range from $750 to $4,000.

Awards are based on a competitive application process, and completed applications must be turned in to the foundation office postmarked by Apr. 1. Applications are available at the foundation office located on the second floor of the Tucker County Board of Education's annex building, in Parsons, W.Va., through area high school guidance counselors, and at the Five Rivers Library in Parson, W.Va., and the Mountain Top Library in Thomas, W.Va. A downloadable version of the application is available on the foundation's web site, www.tuckerfoundation.net.

The foundation currently manages more than 30 endowed scholarship funds that have a wide variety of distribution criteria. Students planning to further their education are encourage to apply for a scholarship regardless of their field of study.

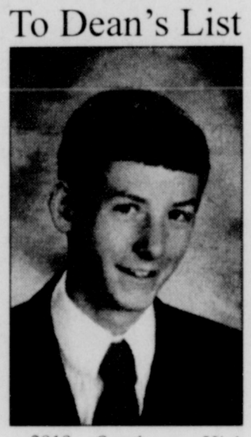
Awards will be announced in May. Those interested in more information may call the foundation office at 304-478-2930.

PHOTO CLUB PRESENTS DONATIONS – The Mountain Top Photography Club made a donation to Garrett County Meals on Wheels during this past holiday season. Club members donated money and voted to give it to Meals on Wheels, a five-day-a-week, home-delivered meal program for homebound elderly local residents coordinated by the Garrett County Area Agency on Aging. Persons interested in joining the Mountain Top Photography Club may call Ed Sipes at 301-387-8021. Those interested in donating to Meals on Wheels may call Adina Brode, Area Agency on Aging, at 301-334-9431. Pictured, left to right, are Pam Glotfelty, club treasurer, and Sheila Ford, kitchen manager, Mary Browning Senior Center.

Omission Noted

In a recent article about the Maryland State 4-H Awards Gala event in Clarksville, one person was inadvertently omitted. Alison Roth should have been listed as receiving the Diamond Clover Level 5 award.

RMU Names Local Student To Dean's List



2010 Southern High School graduate Travis Wolfe has earned a spot on the fall 2010 dean's list at Robert Morris University. Currently enrolled in the university's School of Communications and Information Systems, he has earned this recognition by maintaining at least a 3.5 grade point average on a 4.0 scale.

Wolfe is the son of Adam and Melissa Wolfe of Mtn. Lake Park.

ARMED SERVICES REVIEW

U.S. Army Pfc. Joshua A. Maust has graduated from basic military training at Fort Jackson, Columbia, S.C.

During the nine weeks of training, the soldier received training in drill and ceremonies, weapons, map reading, tactics, military courtesy, military justice, physical fitness, first aid, and Army history, core values, and traditions. Additional training included development of basic combat skills and battlefield operations and tactics, and experiencing use of various weapons and weapons defenses available to the infantry crewman.

Maust is the son of Keren Miller, Accident, and David Maust. He is a 2009 graduate of Northern High School.

Child Care Subsidy Program Will Now Have Waiting List

Maryland's Child Care Subsidy Program, which offers financial assistance to low-income families to help pay for their child care costs, is implementing a waiting list for new customers beginning February 28.

The action is in response to an increasing number of low-income families who, by re-entering the work force, are applying for child care subsidy. It is also a result of a reduction in federal funds from the previous years.

The Child Care Subsidy Program is overseen by the Maryland State Department of Education, but all applications for child care subsidy vouchers are processed by the local departments of social services. Local DSS offices have been instructed to place any families applying for child care vouchers on a waiting list.

Families who are already receiving services or who apply prior to February 28 are not affected by the waiting list. Those who apply after February 28 and receive Temporary Cash Assistance (TCA) or Supplemental Security Income (SSI), or have a disabled child may be eligible for services if all other criteria are met. The waiting list will remain in effect until funds are available to serve some or all of the eligible families.

NOTICE
GARRETT COUNTY TAXPAYERS!

According to the laws governing my office (Section 14-808/Tax Property), the Tax Collector must advertise and sell properties for delinquent County, State, Town and/or taxes due to other taxing agencies.

Delinquent notices were mailed Feb. 1, 2011. We have included all taxes on the property as required by law. However, only delinquent taxes (2009-2010) and prior years must be paid to avoid a tax sale on the property. Also, personal property taxes for 2003-2004 and prior years are delinquent and become a lien on the real estate (Section 14-808). (If you are involved in a bankruptcy proceeding, please contact our office as soon as possible). TAX BILLS MAILED JULY 2010 ARE NOT DELINQUENT!

According to legislation (Annotated Code 14-809), the county collector shall proceed to advertise and sell any real property located in any municipal corporation in the county on which municipal corporation taxes are delinquent. Unpaid amounts for other taxing agencies were shown at the bottom of the notices. PROPERTIES WILL ALSO BE SOLD FOR DELINQUENT WATER OR SEWER FEES. IF YOU HAVE ANY QUESTIONS CONCERNING PUBLIC UTILITIES, PLEASE CONTACT THEIR OFFICE AT 301-334-6983.

Property taxes may be paid at the Tax Office with Discover Card Only. Also, we accept payments by credit card on-line. To pay by credit card visit http://payments.garrettcounty.org. There is a nominal fee charged for this service. Cards that can be used are: VISA, MASTERCARD, DISCOVER and AMERICAN EXPRESS.

The annual tax sale will be held on May 6, 2011. Additional fees for attorney costs will be assessed after March 2, 2011. As of this date, certified funds will be required. Please contact our office for the correct figures. After approximately April 4, 2011, additional fees for advertising will be included in the total amounts due.

If you should have questions or if we can be of assistance to you, please do not hesitate to call anytime between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

GREATNESS BY EXAMPLE

On Presidents' Day we celebrate the memory of past leaders, each one an example of greatness. One was Abraham Lincoln, a man of character and perseverance. He won the presidency after being defeated for public office eleven times. He came from humble beginnings and took nothing for granted, having empathy for the poor and oppressed and believing that everyone should be treated equally, "with malice toward none and charity for all". Most importantly, Abraham Lincoln was a man of God. Of the Bible, he said, "Read this book for what on reason you can accept, and take the rest on faith…." Follow a great example and worship God this week.

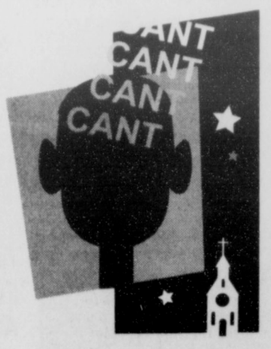
Clear Your Mind of Cant



When Samuel Johnson told his friend Boswell to "clear your mind of cant," he was using the word "cant" in the sense of "insincere speech full of platitudes or pious expressions." (American Heritage Dictionary, 3rd edition) In eighteenth century England, expressions such as "I am your humble servant" were considered cant, because the speaker probably had no intention of being anyone's humble servant. Johnson tells his friend Boswell that everyday speech is full of such expressions, but we shouldn't let them infect our minds. That is, we may say all sorts of insincere things that sound good, such as "I'm sorry to bother you" or "We really should get together sometime" or "How nice it is to see you," but we shouldn't be fooled by the expressions into believing them. We commonly use language to conceal, rather than reveal, our true feelings, and there is no need to spoil the decorum of polite society by constantly telling everyone the bitter truth all the time, but it doesn't mean we have to believe all the insincere drivel we are compelled to utter.

Let your speech always be gracious, seasoned with salt, so that you may knowhow you ought to answer every one.

R.S.V. Colossians 4:6

Award winner Sagal will have more 'Anarchy'

By Jay Bobbin

Katey Sagal

Q: Will "Sons of Anarchy" be back for another season? It seemed to have wrapped up all of its loose ends last season –Bob Cole, Bainbridge Island, Wash.

A: Co-star Katey Sagal's recent Golden Globe Award win didn't hurt, but well before that, FX already had renewed the series for a fourth season. Its new episodes typically start in the fall, so expect to see them then.

Q: As a fan of "The Defenders" and "Blue Bloods," I'm wondering why the switch of nights for both shows. –Carol Yorba, Fountain Valley, Calif.

A: Ratings. Part of the experiment is now over, since CBS has put "Criminal Minds: Suspect Behavior" in the Wednesday slot that was occupied temporarily by "Blue Bloods." But Tom Selleck's police drama performed strongly enough on Fridays for CBS to test how well it would do in a midweek position ... very possibly with an eye toward the show's scheduling for next season.

"Blue Bloods" is now back on Fridays, but that Wednesday test had its payoff. In its first run on that night, Selleck's show scored its biggest ratings since the first couple of weeks of its run. "The Defenders" also is on Fridays now, in the hour previously held by the now-finished "Medium."

Q: Could you tell me if the show "Undercovers" is coming back? It was one of my favorite shows. –Joy Williams, West Palm Beach, Fla.

A: NBC could have used a few more million viewers like you. Plenty of promotion was lavished on the J.J. Abrams-produced adventure-romance series, but the audience just never came in sufficient size. Thus, the initial episodes ordered ran their course, and "Undercovers" is now over.

Q: What's going on with the rumored "Heroes" movie that was supposed to tie up the loose ends? –Kay Hatfield, Denver

A: Nothing, at least according to one of the former NBC show's stars. Hayden Panettiere – alias cheerleader Claire – recently told us, "It would be fun to do, but I know nothing about it." At any rate, the principal cast members remain in touch with one another, since Panettiere also told us they all were planning to have dinner together several nights later.

Q: Will we ever have another "So You Think You Can Dance," or has it been canceled because the producer went back to "American Idol"? –Donna Smith, Milwaukee

A: Nigel Lythgoe previously served as a "Dance" judge while he also was working on "Idol," so that isn't really a factor. The bottom line is that "Dance" has been such a reliable summer performer for Fox, the network is planning another edition this year, with Lythgoe slated to return to the judging panel ... along with ballroom-dance champ Mary Murphy, returning to the show after a season away from it, and filmmaker-choreographer Adam Shankman ("Hairspray").

Strange BUT TRUE

• It was Irish author Oscar Wilde who made the following sage observation: "There are only two kinds of people who are really fascinating: people who know absolutely everything, and people who know absolutely nothing."
• The sun is one million times the size of the earth.
• Coffee was first discovered around 1000 A.D. by Arabs. At the time, it was used strictly for medicinal or religious purposes.
• Harper Lee's iconic novel "To Kill a Mockingbird" celebrated the 50th anniversary of its publication last year. The film will celebrate its anniversary next year, marking 50 years since Gregory Peck portrayed Atticus Finch, whom the American Film Institute named the greatest movie hero of the 20th century. Harper Lee was so impressed with Gregory Peck's performance, in fact, that she gave the actor her deceased father's pocket watch. Peck, however, lost it.
• Before the roller coaster was invented, some inspired entrepreneur began building deliberately undulating tracks for cars. Early thrill-seekers would pay a fee to drive on them.
• Those who calculate such things say that the odds of the same number coming out on top in eight successive rolls of a six-sided die are 1 in 1,679,616.
• Fifth-century conqueror Attila the Hun died on his wedding night, though it's unclear from the records whether he died from internal bleeding caused by too much drinking or was murdered by his bride.
• If you're like 24 percent of women in the United States, you shave every day.

THE HISTORY CHANNEL

• On Feb. 25, 1873, Enrico Caruso, the greatest tenor who ever lived, is born. After making New York's Metropolitan Opera his home base in 1904, Caruso recorded scores of arias of three- and four-minutes in length -- the longest duration that could fit on a 78 rpm record.
• On Feb. 26, 1919, more than 800,000 acres of the Grand Canyon is established as a national park. The Grand Canyon is the product of millions of years of excavation by the mighty Colorado River. The chasm is exceptionally deep -- dropping more than a mile into the earth -- and is 15 miles across at its widest point.
• On Feb. 21, 1927, humorist Erma Bombeck is born in Dayton, Ohio. Her first book, "At Wit's End" (1967), comprised a collection of her columns. Among her many other popular books were "The Grass Is Always Greener Over the Septic Tank" (1976) and "If Life Is a Bowl Of Cherries, What Am I Doing in the Pits?" (1978).
• On Feb. 27, 1934, auto-safety advocate and activist Ralph Nader is born in Winsted, Conn. Nader's 1965 book "Unsafe at Any Speed" criticized the auto industry for poor safety standards, and ultimately led to various reforms.
• On Feb. 23, 1958, five-time Formula One champion Juan Manuel Fangio of Argentina is kidnapped in Cuba by a group of Fidel Castro's rebels. He was released unharmed several hours after the Cuba Grand Prix. • On Feb. 24, 1969, after a North Vietnamese mortar shell rocks their Douglas AC-47 gunship, Airman First Class John L. Levitow throws himself on an activated flare and tosses it out of the aircraft just before it ignites. For saving his fellow crewmembers and the gunship, Airman Levitow was awarded the Medal of Honor.
• On Feb. 22, 1990, the Best New Artist Grammy is awarded to Milli Vanilli. Months later, German record-producer Frank Farian revealed that he had put the names and faces of the talentless Rob Pilatus and Fab Morvan on the dance records he was creating using real musicians. Four days later, Milli Vanilli's Grammy award was withdrawn.

Q: I have a Shubert upright grand piano that was made in New York during the early 1900s. I'd like to know if it is valuable. -- Maria, Albuquerque, N.M.
A: I hate to begin my answer on a sour note, but there is little market for vintage upright pianos. The pictures you sent me suggest that the cabinet is probably tiger oak, but there also appears to be a great deal of wear. It would be considered a practice piano and probably not worth all that much. A quick check of pianos being offered for sale in Albuquerque revealed dozens of uprights similar to yours, mostly priced in the $200 to $350 range.
For a second opinion, you might want to contact a dealer who specializes in vintage pianos. An established company is In Tune Piano Services, 2753 Glory Court SW, Albuquerque, and www.classicpiano.com. In Tune provides an ad service to help people who want to sell.

Q: I have an original handwritten letter from Charles Schulz, the cartoonist and creator of the "Peanuts" comic strip. I would like to sell it and was told by an appraiser for a major auction company years ago that it was worth $600. What do you think? -- Theresa, Apache Junction, Ariz.
A: I think your autographed letter is worth about $75. There are, of course, exceptions to every rule. For a second opinion, you might want to hire the services of an appraiser, and you should expect to pay for this service. I found several Schulz autographed items --- mostly books --- for sale at various Internet sites, the majority priced in the $50 to $100 range. Signed original comic strips are, of course, worth much more.

Q: I have an opportunity to buy five magic sets from the 1930s and '40s for $50. Since most appear to be complete, I am tempted. What do you think? -- Roger, Albuquerque, N.M.
A: Give in to your temptation. Most magic sets, especially vintage ones that are complete, are quite collectible and certainly worth more than $10 each. For example, a "Hokus-Pokus" magic set from the 1930s recently sold on eBay for $258.

Surprise Guest

Imagine my surprise when I looked out into my yard the other day and saw a female wild turkey eating white millet off the ground in my little bird area. She was quite spectacular. Cool fact: Did you know every state has wild turkeys except Alaska?

Potomac State Open House Set For Next Monday

College-bound students of all ages, parents, and other guests are invited to Potomac State College's spring open house, which will be held next Monday, Feb. 21, on the campus of PSC in Keyser, W.Va. Registration will begin at 8:45 a.m., and be followed by various events until 1 p.m.

"This is a great opportunity to meet our faculty, staff, and athletic coaches. We also encourage you to ask questions of current students," said admissions counselor Michelle Zumpano, coordinator of the event.

Registration and refreshments will be from 8:45 to 9:15 a.m. in the Church-McKee Arts Center, with a general welcome from 9:15 to 9:30 a.m.

A variety of informational sessions will be offered, including: financial aid and scholarships, residence life information, academic support services for students, and a Q&A session with admissions counselors.

A campus tour and complimentary lunch will be held from 10:50 a.m. to noon. Guests will be split into groups; while some tour the campus, others will have lunch (and vice versa) in the University Place Commons or Rapids.

An Academic and Student Services Fair will follow lunch from noon to 1 p.m. in the Davis Conference Center, where faculty representatives will be on hand to meet with students and their families. Information will also be available regarding the Academic Success Center, athletics, financial aid, application procedures, WVU referrals, residence life, health services, university police, disability services, and dining services.

All students who attend the open house are eligible to participate in a drawing for two $250 book scholarships. Guests must be present in order to claim the scholarships.

Optional activities available at 1 p.m. will include a tour of the college's agricultural/forestry/farm facilities, a visit to the Hospitality Demonstration Kitchen, and a tour of the bookstore.

Potomac State College is a division of West Virginia University and offers 56 majors in a wide variety of liberal arts and pre-professional programs. Students can earn an associate of arts degree, which will transfer to a four-year degree program, or a two-year applied science career and technical degree that can fast-track them into the job market, according to Zumpano.

Students can also start and finish at Potomac State, earning a bachelor of applied science degree with an emphasis in business management or criminal justice. Additionally, the college offers WVU's regents bachelor of arts (RBA) degree, which allows non-traditional students (or anyone who has been out of high school for at least five years) the potential to earn credit for life/work experience in conjunction with college courses.

Residence halls are available, including the newest residence hall, University Place, which opened in August 2007. This facility features suite-style rooms with semi-private baths. Other amenities include a new dining hall, theater, and fitness center.

The college offers clubs, an honors program, intramural sports and other organizations, as well as a winning athletic tradition in eight intercollegiate varsity sports.

"Our goal with Potomac State's Spring Open House is to showcase everything the college has to offer and to allow prospective students to experience the benefits of our campus first-hand," said Beth Little, director of enrollment services.

For further information or directions, persons may telephone call 1-800-262-7332 or 304-788-6820, or go online to www.potomacstatecollege.edu. Prior registration for Monday's open house is not required.

"Living Well" Classes To Be Held In G'ville

"Living Well – Take Charge of Your Health" is scheduled from 9:30 a.m. to noon on Wednesdays, March 23–April 27, at Garrett College's Northern Outreach Center in Grantsville.

This six-week workshop is for anyone with ongoing health conditions such as diabetes, asthma, emphysema, heart conditions, high blood pressure, and arthritis.

"Participants will learn skills to better manage symptoms and get the most out of life," said a spokesperson. "Individuals who have or are caring for someone with chronic health conditions may benefit from this program. Participants will learn to deal with symptoms and frustration, and how to design their own self-management programs."

The course will be led by Cathy Paine and Suzanne Carley. Paine is Garrett County coordinator for the Living Well Program, and Carley is director of the Grantsville and Mary Browning senior centers.

For additional information, persons may contact Terry Beachy, Northern Outreach Center coordinator, at 301-895-4700 or terry.beachy@garrettcollege.edu.

To register, one may call the Continuing Education and Workforce Development office at 301-387-3069.

The Living Well Program is presented by the Garrett County Area Agency on Aging, and made possible by funding under the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 and with funds granted to the Maryland Department on Aging by the Federal Administration on Aging.

"Virtual Business" Course Scheduled At Northern Center

"Starting a Virtual Business: Getting Started with Your Online Retail Business" is the descriptive title of a new course scheduled by Garrett College on Tuesday and Thursday, March 15 and 17, from 6 to 9:15 p.m. at the Northern Outreach Center, Grantsville.

This course will give an overview of all the aspects of setting up and running a home-based online retail business. Participants will explore topics that range from finding an individual niche and sourcing inventory, to advertising and staying profitable.

"This course will show students that they do not need to be web designers to run an online store," said a spokesperson. "They will be shown how to find hosting sites that are easily customizable to fit individual needs, along with other e-commerce tools."

Joe Friend, the course instructor, is the owner and senior consultant of Friend Consulting, a local information technology (IT) full- and managed-services company. Friend has more than 20 years of experience as a network and IT systems analyst, including more than 10 years doing IT consulting and support for small and medium-sized businesses. He is also a Microsoft certified professional and a small business specialist.

For additional information, persons, may contact Terry Beachy Northern Outreach Center coordinator, by calling 301-895-4700 or via e-mail at terry.-beachy@garrettcollege.edu.

To register, persons may contact the Continuing Education and Workforce Development Division at 301-387-3069.

Robotics Teams Schedule Open House For Sun.

FIRST robotic teams will demonstrate their robots during an open house event this Sunday, Feb. 20, from 3 to 5 p.m. at the Garrett Engineering and Robotics Society (GEARS) building, located in Accident.

Representatives from FIRST LEGO League (FLL) teams, FIRST Tech Challenge (FTC) 2818 and 4240 teams, and FIRST Robotics Competition (FRC) GaCo Team 1629 will be on hand to showcase their solutions for this season's challenges.

"The mission of FIRST (For Inspiration and Recognition of Science and Technology) is to inspire young people to be science and technology leaders, by engaging them in exciting mentor-based programs that build science, engineering, and technology skills that inspire innovation and that foster well-rounded life capabilities, including self-confidence, communication, and leadership," a spokesperson said.

The open house will be the last chance to see FRC Team 1629's robot in action before it gets shipped off to various regional competitions this year. According to the spokesperson, some 2,200 teams (close to 52,000 high school students) from across the country and around the world will have six weeks to design and assemble robots to play in a high-tech game field involving the FIRST logo.

Teams will have to use motors, batteries, and other parts from a kit put together by FIRST game designers. Teams will be placing elements of the logo – a circle, triangle, and a square – on pegs as high as 8.5 feet off the floor. The game pieces consist of inflatable tubes about 32 inches across.

Every year, FRC teams design a new robot to compete in a 3 versus three situation on a 27- by 54-foot playing field. This year's game (Logo Motion) celebrates 20 years that FIRST has been inspiring young people through robotic competitions.

Also demonstrating at the open house will be FTC teams 2818 and 4240, and various FLL teams. As with the FRC program, the FTC program targets high school age students. FTC teams build robots to compete on a 12 by 12 foot playing field in a 2 v. 2 game situation.

The five Garrett County FLL teams will be competing in the FLL State Championship on Saturday, Feb. 26, on the University of Maryland Baltimore campus. FLL teams use LEGO components to build autonomous robots to earn points by completing various missions on a 4- by 8- foot playing field. FLL teams can consist of up to 10 students, 9 through 14 years of age.

Both FTC and FRC robots are built to compete in both autonomous and tele-operated modes. FTC Team 2818 is in its third season, and FTC Team 4240 began its first season this year and is sponsored by 4-H and GEARS.

FRC Team 1629 will begin its seventh season this year and is partnered with the Garrett County Public School System, Beitzel Corporation Inc., Pillar Innovations, Wilson Supply Inc., NASA, and JCPenney.

Local Students On Dean's List At Frostburg St.

The following students from Garrett County have been named to the dean's list at Frostburg State University in recognition of outstanding academic achievement for the fall 2010 semester. To be eligible, a student must undertake a minimum of 12 credit hours and earn a cumulative semester grade point average of at least 3.4 on a 4.0 scale.

The following students were named to the dean's list with distinction for having earned a perfect 4.0 grade point average:

Tyler Southerly, Nicholas Valentine, and Meghan Voelkel of Accident; Andrew Sisler, Friendsville; Brian Brenneman, Jacquetta Brenneman, Tara Brenneman Wenger, Ashleigh Friend, Matthew George, Whitney Glotfelty, Adria Graham, Carl Koch, Lucas McMillan, and Brittany Stein, all of Grantsville; Sara Harvey, Kitzmiller; Amanda Fazenbaker and Madara Kanele, McHenry; and Mathew Foley, Mtn. Lake Park.

Also, Jennifer Cosner, Ashley Dick, James Riley, Andrew Sauder, Matthew Skidmore, Sarah Stephens, Sarah Trottier, Brianne Uphold, David Wall, and Briana Watson, all of Oakland.

The following students were named to the regular dean's list for earning at least a 3.4 grade point average:

Chelsie Custer, Jonathan Hamilton, Aaron Valentine, and Amanda Van Bogelen, all of Accident; Carolyn Maxim, Bittinger; Brent Harbaugh, Bloomington; Kelly Bean, Deer Park; Leah Frazee, Friendsville; Trevor DeVore, Neil Kamp, Stephanie Shapiro, and Blake Walker, all of Grantsville; Elizabeth White, Kitzmiller; and Amy Shaffer and David Vagnetti, McHenry.

Also, Jerica Bennett, Britni Brenneman, Paige Carr, Alyssa Dick, Patrick DiGioia, Seth Friend, Laura Grabosky, Meredith Pagenhardt, Jacob Pike, Tommie Reams, Lyndsie Rush, Stacey Sanders, Rachel Skipper, Alex Stuck, and Kaitlyn Swift, all of Oakland; and John Malecki and Julie Morton, Swanton.

Two Arrested By GC Deputies On DUI, DWI Charges

Two local residents were arrested by Garrett County sheriff's deputies this past weekend for drinking and driving violations. The following incidents are unrelated.

Deputies stopped Christine Marie Proctor, 36, Mtn. Lake Park, for a moving violation. Investigation revealed her to be under the influence of alcohol and/or drugs. She was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol, driving while impaired by alcohol, DUI of drugs and/or drugs and alcohol, and DUI of a controlled dangerous substance. She was taken to the Garrett County Jail to await a bond hearing.

A traffic stop was executed on Maple Street, Friendsville, for numerous traffic violations. The driver was identified as Tyler Wayne Hardesty, 20, Friendsville, and he was found to be driving under the influence of alcohol. He was charged with DUI, DWI, driving the wrong way on a one-way street, failure to drive right of center, and violation of license restriction. He was taken to the Garrett County Jail to await a bond hearing.

Miner Couple Celebrates Golden Anniversary By Renewing Vows

Reed and Rosella Miner recently celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary at the Bittinger fire hall. They married on Jan. 9, 1961, at Rev. Edward Wengerd's house in Mtn. Lake Park.

The couple renewed their wedding vows, with Pastor Paul Howsare officiating.

Members of the wedding party were Wayne and Kim Miner, Randy and Cindy Miner, Richard Miner and Becky Brewer, Beverly and Jim Sechler, and Betty and Marlin Stanczyk. Brooklyn Miner was the flower girl and Brandon Stanczyk was the ring bearer.

A steak dinner was prepared by Genny Miller and Margie Brenneman, with help from some of the Miner family.

Reed and Rosella each grew up on a farm. In 1967, they bought the Bowser property, where they ran a dairy farm for over 30 years. Then they raised beef cattle until their daughter Betty and son-in-law Marlin took over the farm. However, they still live on the farm and help out.

The couple have six children, Ronnie, Wayne, Randy, Richard, Beverly, and Betty; 16 grandchildren, Tosha, April, Amber, and Ronnie Miner Jr., Jasmine Klein, Karina, Trevor, Jazmine, Brooklyn, and Trisha Miner, Sasha Werner, Aaron and Ryan Wilburn, and Nicole, Dylan, and Brandon Stanczyk; and two great-grandchildren, Trenton Smith and Kearstin Klein.

Marriage Permits Recently Issued

Four couples recently applied for their marriage licenses, according to Sondra R. Buckel, clerk of the Garrett County Circuit Court.

Paul Alexander Clark, 32, and Brooke Elizabeth Evers, 31, both of Shepherdstown, W.Va.

Shan Duane Gank, 35, and Joanna Marie Upole, 31, both of Oakland.

Scott Gregory Rodeheaver, 42, Oakland, and Rebecca Anne Lantz, 32, Mtn. Lake Park.

Daniel Wesley Hall, 18, Bobtown, Pa., and Haley Noel Hardman, 16, Clarksburg, W.Va.

Community College Students Tell Legislators: "Support = Success"

by Peggy Santamaria

Keenen Royalty, Garrett College's recently elected Student Government Association president, was one of 10 GC students visiting the state legislature in Annapolis last week to learn about the legislative process and meet with government officials to advocate for full funding of community colleges. The event was the annual Student Advocacy Day, which is organized by the Maryland Association of Community Colleges.

The Garrett students were among the 240 students representing Maryland's 16 community colleges taking part in Advocacy Day 2011. These student ambassadors spoke directly to senators and representatives to thank them for the support they have given community colleges, and to urge them to continue this support in the governor's FY2012 budget.

"The student advocacy day call to action centered on the theme of "Support = Success" because community colleges can only help more citizens be successful if there is greater state support," a spokesperson from MACC said.

Speakers also included Dr. Carol Eaton, president of Frederick Community College and chair of the Maryland Council of Community College Presidents; Dr. Brad Gottfried, president of the College of Southern Maryland; Dr. Rich Midcap, vice president of student success and enrollment at Chesapeake College; MACC executive director Clay Whitlow; and Angela Majors, a student at the College of Southern Maryland.

After the meeting, students visited their respective delegates and senators. Armed with statistics and talking points, students advocated for the budget and legislative priorities of their colleges.

Sen. George Edwards and Del. Wendell Beitzel, who represent Garrett County in Annapolis, met with the group from Garrett College to hear their concerns.

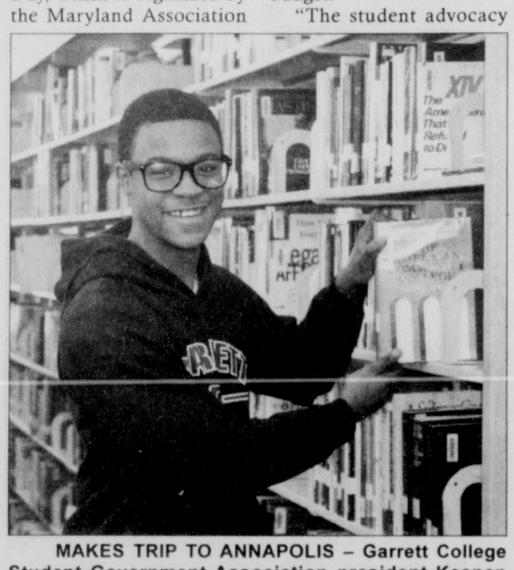
"It was great to see the students from our local college in Annapolis," said Beitzel. "They were seeing how the legislative process works and taking part in it."

Royalty noted the spirit of camaraderie among those participating in the event.

"It was very good to meet all these students from different community colleges who all feel the way we do at Garrett College," he said. "There was a sense of unity among them."

Other students representing Garrett College were Paul Brown, Alexander Frapart, Kevin Ramirez, Robert Lawler, Julius Niemand, Darrien Chandler, Kelsey Henderson, Cherra Mathis, and Raizel Benn.

"We all went with the same message," Royalty said. "We were there to tell them that we need increased financial support. We need more scholarships. We're not asking for much, but we are asking for more."



MAKES TRIP TO ANNAPOLIS – Garrett College Student Government Association president Keenen Royalty checks out a book in the school library on community colleges before joining other Maryland community college students at the state legislature in Annapolis. The group made the excursion to advocate for increased funding for the state's colleges.

Financial Aid Workshop Set For Wednesday

Garrett College will host a financial aid workshop next Wednesday, Feb. 23, from 6 to 8 p.m. in Room #511 of the college library. This will be the final workshop before the March 1 priority deadline for filing the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA).

First-time and continuing students are invited to attend the free program to receive assistance in filing the 2011-2012 FAFSA online. Individuals who plan to enroll at Garrett College in the fall also may complete the application for admission and the Garrett College Foundation Scholarship application during the program. However, the program is open to all students and not limited to those applying to Garrett College.

For more information, persons are invited to telephone the Garrett College Office of Financial Aid or Office of Admissions at 301-387-3000 or 866-554-2773 (toll-free).

Lecture Series In Memory Of Joan Crawford Slated

JOAN CRAWFORD

In memory and honor of former Garrett College educator Joan R. Crawford, the GC faculty has created the Joan Crawford Lecture Series.

"The intent is to provide a program that will reflect Joan's vitality and commitment to excellence in education," said Elizabeth Grant, director of liberal arts and juvenile studies. "We will offer at least one lecture or enrichment presentation per month in February, March, and April that would be consistent with her legacy."

Crawford, who died last October 5, had served the Garrett College community for more than 30 years. She joined the staff of the fledgling institution in 1972 and worked in many capacities in the decades that followed, including serving as head of the Humanities Division and as director of enrollment. After her retirement from GC, she was named the college's first professor emeritus.

The Joan Crawford Lecture Series schedule is as follows:

• Wednesday, Feb. 23, "Still I Rise" – Black History Monologues, coordinated by Terry Kasekamp, professor of psychology, and presented by GC students in the GC auditorium, noon to 1 p.m.

• Wednesday, March 30, "Making Waves, Making History" – Women's History Monologues, coordinated by Kasekamp and presented by GC students in the GC auditorium, noon to 1 p.m.

• Wednesday, April 6, "History of the White House," presented by Beth Luers, professor of social sciences, in Room 511, noon to 1 p.m.

• Wednesday, April 20, "South Africa," presented by Lyz Grant, director of liberal arts and juvenile studies, in Room 511, noon to 1 p.m.

These presentations will be open to the public. For more information, persons may telephone Beth Luers at 301-387-3020.

4-H Club News

RED HOUSE
by Theo Evans, reporter

The Red House 4-H Club meeting was held on Feb. 3 at Red House Church.

All records were handed in on time. Three new Clover Bud members were introduced: Mara Evans, Nick Stahl, and Braxton Warsaw.

Ronnie Schrock, Lucas Stahl, Randy Cussins, and Kerri Skipper gave demonstrations. Austin Graham reported about going to the 4-H Ski Day.

The calendar year has been planned out for the club for 2011.

The Livestock Association will hold its annual tubing at the Wisp on Thursday, Feb. 17. This is free to any 4-H member who sold livestock at the fair last year.

Quality Assurance must now be completed online. This will be up and running by March 1.

Achievement Night will be held on Saturday, April 2, at Northern High School. The club will provide coffee, and everyone is required to bring a finger food.

Members voted to make a gift basket for the door prize.

Nominations were also taken for Club Family of the Year, Club Friend of 4-H, 4-H Alumni, and the Dr. Scott Glotfelty Award.

Becky Graham spoke to the group about planning a trip to Pennsylvania. The trip would be overnight and would involve a tour of the Mason-Dixon Farm and a trip to Hershey Park. Fundraisers will begin with a raffle, and tickets will be distributed at the March meeting. The group will try to plan a fundraiser activity for each month.

SNOWY CREEK
by Kendra Friend, reporter

The Snowy Creek 4-H Club met on Feb. 10 at the Sand Spring Church. The club received five new members: Hunter Friend, Koti Humbertson, Tess Humbertson, Morgan McKenzie, and Shaila VanSickle.

The program was given by club leader Wanda Guard, and was called, "Do you know your grains?"

Under old business, Colton attended the County Council meeting and gave the club a report on the meeting. Members voted to continue the Adopt-A-Senior Citizen, and planned to meet at Goodwill Nursing home to decorate valentines with the residents.

The club also voted to continue the Adopt-A-Highway program, and a committee was formed.

Under new business, club members are coordinating the food for Achievement Night, which is on April 2 at Northern High School.

Members voted to take the online Quality Assurance at the Friendsville Library at their April meeting.

Club members also decided to have a hoagie fundraiser which began on Feb. 11 and will run through March 10. Hoagies will be delivered on March 17.

Trinity Friend gave a demonstration on her rabbit.

The next meeting is planned for March 10 with Clyde Mostoler, Southern States nutritionist.

Ask The Everyday Scientist

ACOUSTICS IN THEATERS
by Dr. Tom Sheahen

Q. I went to a theatrical production and learned that the ancient Greeks performed in amphitheaters, where audiences of thousands could hear the actors clearly. Nowadays many theaters have a similar shape. Why does an amphitheater work so well?

A. Presumably the Greeks discovered the principle of an amphitheater by trial and error, but over the centuries an understanding of the science of acoustics has improved, and by today the design of a good concert hall is a tour de force of computational excellence in engineering.

The basic idea is simple with hindsight, but would not have been obvious thousands of years ago: The audience is gradually elevated, so that sound projected from the stage travels in a straight line to every listener, even those in the back; then it is reflected up into the sky, to prevent echoes. This probably began when people would congregate on a hillside, but it worked for the Romans, for Shakespeare, and all over the world. It's important to have a reflecting surface right behind the performers, so as to project sound out toward the audience. In the 19th century, the branch of physics called acoustics developed, and engineers who drew lines showing how sound bounces around began to see how to place walls and baffles that would preferentially absorb or reflect sound.

Certain concert halls have a characteristic sound all their own. For example, Symphony Hall in Boston is an early 20th century building originally designed without special acoustic features, but the people of Boston love the way their orchestra sounds there; Severance Hall in Cleveland is more amphitheater-shaped, and again concert-goers there love the distinctive sound. More detailed computations went into newer facilities, such as Lincoln Center in New York and the Kennedy Center in Washington, D.C. (which are both clusters of several theaters used for different purposes).

The equations governing the trajectory of bouncing sound are reasonable enough to write down, and can be cast into a computer program. But there are several thousand little things to consider and include: The reflection/absorption characteristics of clothing are different from faces, so the designer makes an educated guess at the numerical values to put in the equations. The speed of sound is 343 meters/sec (about 1,080 ft/sec), so if the concert hall is 270 feet deep, sounds that leave the stage will partially bounce back a half second later – unless the back wall is very absorbing.

The computers of the 1950s would run for countless hours to figure out a concert hall; but it was considered worth it to improve the total sound. Even after lots of design computations, still it's necessary to hang baffles from the ceiling here and there to refine the quality of sound. A concert hall "feels right" when there is a tiny reverberation, making the sound "fuller."

Even more modern, the Sydney Opera House in Australia likewise is a complex of several theaters, which opened in 1974. The concert hall there was designed with amazing computational precision, and even in the nosebleed seats it sounds like the pianist is right next to you. The design was so thorough that it even sounds the same when the orchestra is rehearsing and nobody is there. The seats are made of material that reflects just like clothing, and the wooden armrests between seats reflect sound just like a human forehead.

There are some outdoor amphitheaters that have excellent acoustics as well. Wolf Trap near Washington, D.C., is a good example. For most of a century, the Hollywood Bowl has enabled 100,000 people to hear a concert very well. The best of all is Red Rocks in Morrison, Colo. (a suburb of Denver), an amphitheater that was built into a zone ringed by huge natural stones. Pollster magazine used to give an annual award for the best-sounding concert locale, but after Red Rocks won it 11 times the award was renamed the Red Rocks Award, and Pollster started giving it to other facilities that came close.

Acoustic engineers have learned a lot by studying why Red Rocks sounds so good. Performers ranging from classical to country musicians to hard rock bands have played there over the years, and have made many recordings there.

Dr. Sheahen lives at Deep Creek Lake and has taught physics at Garrett College. Persons wishing to submit questions for this column may e-mail them to newsroom@therepublicannews.com.

Loch Lynn Church To Hold Spaghetti Dinner This Sat.

A spaghetti dinner fundraiser will be held at Loch Lynn Church of God this Saturday, Feb. 19, from noon to 6 p.m. Carry-outs will be available.

The meal will consist of spaghetti, bread, salad, dessert, and beverage (dine-in only). Proceeds benefit the church's African mission trip.

A group from the church will return to Kenya in March for its second trip to the Kibera Children's Home. The local residents will join the district bishop, Ron Martin from the Church of God's Delmarva-DC Region, and others form district churches. The team will minister to the children through special services, provide clothing and other supplies, host a women's crusade, and provide flour to women who live in the slums that surround the Kibera Children's Home.

Loch Lynn Church of God is located beside WKHJ radio station at 8649 Gorman Road. For more details, persons may call the church office at 301-334-3221.

Disaster Assistance for Livestock Producers Affected by Ice, Cold and Heavy Snowfall Available

The Preston County Farm Service Agency reminds livestock producers that FSA programs may be available to assist them.

Producers need to document the number and kind of livestock that have died as a direct result of these winter storms and timely notify the FSA office of these losses. For producers who are transporting feed to their livestock, these additional costs should also be documented.

FSA administers several programs that help producers recover from livestock deaths that are beyond normal mortality rates, losses of purchased and/or harvested forage, and with the additional costs of providing or transporting feed. Among the key programs are the Livestock Indemnity Program (LIP) and the Emergency Assistance for Livestock, Honeybees, and Farm-Raised Fish Program (ELAP). For livestock death losses to be eligible under LIP, producers must file a notice of loss with the FSA office within 30 calendar days from when the loss is apparent to the producer.

Fact sheets for these two programs can be found online at http://www.fsa.usda.gov; click on Newsroom, then Fact Sheets.

Producers are also reminded of the availability of the Hay Net on the FSA web site (http://www.fsa.usda.gov/haynet), an online service that allows producers with hay and those who need hay to post ads so they can make connections. Hay Net is a popular site for farmers who have an emergency need, such as the one caused by the current wintry conditions. Individual ads can be posted free of charge by producers who complete a simple online registration form the first time they use the site. The FSA office also has a West Virginia listing of hay for sale that is available to the public.

Milk Producers Reminded of Policy Change

Eric McCartney, executive director for USDA's Farm Service Agency in Preston County, reminds dairy producers of the Milk Income Loss Contract (MILC) production start month change policy. McCartney said it is "very important" that producers take a moment to review their MILC contracts or contact the FSA Office to determine whether to make a change to the production start month to start receiving MILC payments for this upcoming fiscal year.

Changes to the production start month must be made on or before the 14th of the month before the month originally selected by the dairy operation as its MILC production start month or the newly selected MILC production start month for the dairy operation.

Changes must be made in advance of payment rates being known by the public for both the original production start month that the dairy operation is changing from and the production start month to which the dairy operation is changing.

For those producers who fail to make a production start month selection for this upcoming fiscal year, then by perpetual designation the production start month for the upcoming fiscal year for which a production start month is not selected will be the production start month initially designated on MILC Contract (CCC-580), unless a Contract Modification (CCC-580M) is submitted to modify the production start month. If a recent CCC-580M was submitted to modify the production start month for the dairy operation, the newly designated production start month becomes the perpetual designation month for all subsequent fiscal years for which a production start month is not selected.

Interested dairy producers are invited to visit the Farm Service Agency located in the Corner Mall of the Kingwood Plaza or telephone 304-329-1923.

SDAT I.D. No.: 02-012006 (Assessed as 19.78 acres)

The Property will be sold in "AS-IS" condition, subject to all conditions, restrictions, easements, covenants, rights-of-way and agreements of record affecting the Property, and subject to whatever an accurate survey or inspection of the Property would disclose, without any express or implied warranty of any kind.

A deposit of $7,500.00 cash, certified or cashier's check, payable to the undersigned Trustees, shall be required at the time and place of sale. The balance of the purchase price shall bear interest at the rate of 6.50% per annum from the date of sale to the date of delivery of payment to the Substitute Trustees. No deposit shall be required of the noteholder where the noteholder bids on the Property at sale and payment of the purchase price by the noteholder shall be made by crediting the purchase price against the foreclosure costs and expenses and the indebtedness secured by said Deed of Trust. In the event that settlement is delayed for any reason, including, but not limited to, exceptions to the sale, bankruptcy filings by interested parties, court administration of the foreclosure sale or unknown title defects, there shall be no abatement of interest.

Adjustment of all taxes, public charges and special or regular assessments, annual front foot benefit charges and deferred connection fees, if any, shall be made as of the date of sale and thereafter assumed by the purchaser. Condominium fees and/or homeowner's association fees, if any, shall be assumed by the purchaser from the date of sale. Title examination, conveyancing, transfer taxes, recordation tax and all other costs of conveyance and settlement shall be paid by the purchaser. Purchaser agrees to pay $295.00 at settlement to Seller's attorney for review of the settlement documents.

The Property is sold subject to the right of any persons in possession of all or any part of the Property under recorded or unrecorded leases or rights of occupancy, if any. Purchaser shall be responsible for obtaining possession of the Property.

Compliance with the terms of sale shall be made and the balance of the purchase price shall be paid within ten (10) days after final ratification of the sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, unless said time is extended by the undersigned Trustees in their sole and absolute discretion for good cause shown, time being of the essence; otherwise the deposit shall be forfeited and the Property will be resold at the risk and expense of the defaulting purchaser. In the event of resale, the defaulting purchaser shall not be entitled to any benefit, surplus proceeds or profits resulting from such resale.

The Trustees are not liable, individually or otherwise, for any reason. If title to the Property is not or cannot be transferred consistent with the terms hereof for any reason, the Trustee's liability is limited, at its sole discretion, to return any deposit, without interest, thereby rescinding the sale, and there is no other right or remedy against the Trustee at law or in equity.

In the event settlement is delayed for any reason, there shall be no abatement of interest. If the purchaser defaults, the entire deposit is forfeited. The Substituted Trustees shall resell the property at the risk and expense of the defaulting purchaser. The defaulting purchaser shall be liable for the payment of any deficiency in the purchase price, all costs and expenses of both sales, attorney fees and all other charges due and incidental and consequential damages. Real property taxes and assessments shall be adjusted to the date of sale and assumed thereafter by the purchaser. Ground rent and water/sewer charges, if any, whether incurred prior to or after the sale shall be paid by purchaser. Cost of all documentary stamps and transfer taxes shall be paid by the purchaser. Purchaser shall have the responsibility of obtaining possession of the property. In the event the Substituted Trustees do not convey title for any reason, purchaser's sole remedy is return of the deposit. The Substituted Trustees shall have the right to terminate this contract in the event the holder or its servicer has entered into any agreement with or accepted funds from the mortgagor. Upon termination of the contract, Purchaser's sole remedy shall be return of the deposit. Purchaser agrees to pay a deed preparation and document review fee of $350.00 to the Seller's attorney. An additional fee of $250.00 shall be paid to the seller's attorney by purchaser in connection with the review of any motion to substitute a purchaser.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR STRIP MINE PERMIT

Notice is hereby given that LAOC Corporation, 3388 George Washington Highway, Oakland, Maryland 21550, has submitted an application to the Maryland Bureau of Mines for a surface coal mine operations permit.

The proposed operation occupies a 24.00 acre tract, near Deer Park, Maryland, on the west side of the North Prong of Lostland Run, 4.5 miles southwest of Deer Park in Election District No. 10, Garrett County, N 575,640, E 160,780. Access to the site will be from Potomac Camp Road, a continuation of Upperman Road which lies approximately 2 miles east of the intersection of Boiling Springs Road and Bethlehem Road.

The application proposes to mine within 100 feet of the right-of-way of Potomac Camp Road. The Maryland grid coordinates of the segment of road where mining will be within the specified distances are: N 577,710, E 160,536, and N 576,410, E 160,526.

The surface of the area to be mined is owned by LAOC Coal Corporation, 3388, George Washington Highway, Oakland, MD 21550.

The mineral to be mined is owned by LAOC Corporation, 3388 George Washington Highway, Oakland, MD 21550.

The permit area is within the U.S. Geologic Survey Deer Park 7.5 minute quadrangle.

The application includes plans to construct 3 ponds to control sediment and stormwater on the mining area. The ponds will be located within the proposed mine permit area.

A copy of the mine permit application is available for public review during regular office hours at the Bureau of Mines office and the Soil Conservation District Office in Oakland, Maryland.

Questions concerning any aspect of the application may be directed to the Maryland Bureau of Mines, Permitting Section, 301-689-6104. Written comments, requests for a public hearing, and requests to be included on the interested persons list regarding the application will be received until March 25, 2011, by the Bureau of Mines, Permitting Section, 160 S. Water Street, Frostburg, Maryland 21532.

Further notices about this application will be provided only by mail to those persons that submit comments, request a public hearing, or request to be included on the list of interested persons. Attention: File No. OPA-99-36.

ONE-STORY CONTEMPORARY STYLE HOME
WITH APPROX. 150 FEET OF LAKE FRONT
2524 STOCKSLAGER RD.
"DEEP CREEK LAKE"
Oakland, Md 21550

Under a power of sale contained in a certain Purchase Money Deed of Trust and Security Agreement from Robert M. Boston and Caron L. Boston, dated December 28, 2005, and recorded in Liber 1185, folio 47 and modified in a Modification Agreement dated June 9, 2009, and recorded in Liber 1452, folio 476, both recorded among the Land Records of Garrett County, MD, default having occurred under the terms thereof, and at the request of the parties secured thereby, the undersigned Substitute Trustees will sell at public auction

ON THE PREMISES, ON
MARCH 4, 2011, AT 1:00 P.M.

ALL THAT FEE-SIMPLE LOT OF GROUND AND THE IMPROVEMENTS thereon situated in Garrett County, Maryland, and known as Tax ID #18-044765 and more fully described in the aforesaid Purchase Money Deed of Trust and Security Agreement.

The property consists of approximately 150 feet of lake front. The property is believed to be improved by a one story contemporary style home. The first floor contains a foyer, living room, dining room, kitchen, family room, library, 2 bedrooms and 3.5 baths. The lower level contains a family room, recreation room, 2 bedrooms, 2 baths and wine cellar. Amentities include 3 fireplaces, patio, 2 porches, 3 decks and 3-car attached garage. Lot size approx. 2.08 acres.

The property will be sold in an "as is" condition and subject to all covenants, conditions, liens, restrictions, easements, rights-of-way as may affect same, if any and with no warranty of any kind.

TERMS OF SALE: A deposit of $75,000 will be required at the time of sale, such deposit to be in cash or certified check, or other form acceptable to the Substitute Trustees in their sole discretion. The deposit must be increased to 10% of the purchase price within 2 business days. If the deposit is not increased to 10% of the purchase price within 2 business days, the deposit will be forfeited and the property will be resold at the purchaser's risk and expense. Balance of the purchase price is to be paid in cash within ten (10) days of the final ratification of sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County. If payment of the balance does not take place within ten (10) days of ratification, the deposit(s) will be forfeited and the property will be resold at the risk and expense of the defaulting purchaser. The defaulting purchaser shall not be entitled to any surplus proceeds or profits resulting from any resale of the property. Interest to be paid on unpaid purchase money at the rate pursuant to the Deed of Trust Note from date of sale to date funds are received in the office of the Substitute Trustees in the event the property is purchased by someone other than the holder of the indebtedness. In the event settlement is delayed for any reason, there shall be no abatement of interest. All taxes, ground rent, water rent, condominium fees and/or homeowner association dues, all public charges, assessments payable on an annual basis, including sanitary and/or metropolitan district charges, if applicable, owed against the property shall be adjusted to date of sale and assumed thereafter by the purchaser. Cost of all documentary stamps, transfer taxes and settlement expenses for the property shall be borne by the purchaser. Purchaser shall be responsible for obtaining physical possession of the property. Purchaser assumes the risk of loss or damage to the property from the date of sale forward. If the Substitute Trustees are unable to convey good and marketable title, the purchaser's sole remedy in law or equity shall be limited to the refund of the deposit. Upon refund of the deposit to purchaser, this sale shall be void and of no effect, and the purchaser shall have no further claims against the Substitute Trustees. The conveyance of the property by the Substitute Trustees to the purchaser at settlement shall be by Trustees' Deed without covenants or special warranties. Purchaser(s) agrees to pay $295.00 at settlement, to the Seller's attorney, for review of the settlement documents. Purchaser agrees to pay $295.00 to the Seller's attorney for review of Motion to Substitute Purchaser payable at the time of execution.

The Substitute Trustees reserve the right to: (1) accept or reject any and all bids and to sell the property in any manner which the Substitute Trustees determines, in their sole discretion, may provide the highest yield to the secured party, (2) modify or waive the requirement for bidders' deposits and terms of sale and/or settlement, and (3) to withdraw all or any part of the property from the sale prior to acceptance of the final bid.

The property will be sold in an "AS IS" condition and without any recourse, representations or warranties, either express or implied, as to its nature, condition or description. No representations are made as to the property. Neither the Substitute Trustees, nor any other party, make any warranty or representation of any kind or nature regarding the physical condition of, the description of, or title to the property. The property will be sold subject to any violation notices and subject to all conditions, restrictions, easements, covenants, encumbrances, and agreements of record and all terms, conditions, notes, and matters as set forth and described in the Deed of Trust. The purchaser is responsible for, and the property is sold subject to, any environmental matter or condition, whether latent or observable, if any, that may exist at or affect or relate to the property and to any governmental requirements affecting the same.

NOTE: The information contained herein was obtained from sources deemed to be reliable, but is offered for informational purposes only. Neither the auctioneer, the beneficiary of the Deed of Trust, the Substitute Trustees nor their agents or attorneys make any representations or warranties with respect to the accuracy of information.

PROSPECTIVE PURCHASERS ARE URGED TO PERFORM THEIR OWN DUE DILIGENCE WITH RESPECT TO THE PROPERTY PRIOR TO THE FORECLOSURE AUCTION. For additional information, please contact the Substitute Trustees.

Dr. Richter To Present Talk On Diabetes

DONALD RICHTER

Diabetes, a chronic (lifelong) disease marked by high levels of sugar in the blood, will be among the topics discussed at the Garrett County Health Fair on Saturday, April 16, at Wisp Resort in McHenry. Dr. Donald Richter, a local family practice physician, will examine and discuss the prevention of diabetes, which reportedly affects more than 20 million Americans.

Richter will give a brief historical perspective on the understanding and treatment of diabetes. His presentation will cover some topics related to primary, secondary, and tertiary prevention, as well as specific issues related to diet, exercise, medication, and supplements. Included will be a focus on individual behavioral changes and their impact on diabetic outcomes and wellness.

The Garrett County Health Fair will feature more than 60 information booths and free health screenings, as well as several other health-oriented presentations. The fair is open to the public free of charges with activities for all ages. Additional information about the event is available by calling 301-533-4178.

WHAT WILL HAPPEN TO THE KITTENS? The Garrett County Humane Society will take part in the Humane Society of the United States' nationwide Spay Day USA the week of Feb. 22. As in past years, the GCHS will offer free discount vouchers to county residents to help defray the cost of having their pets spayed or neutered. Vouchers will be available on a first-come, first-served basis at the Garrett County Animal Shelter on Thursday and Friday, Feb. 24 and 25, from 9:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. The vouchers will defray a large portion of the cost of spaying/neutering of dogs and cats. They can be used at Pineview Veterinary Hospital, Countryside Animal Hospital, and Casselman Veterinary Services, but not at HART's low-income clinic in McHenry. According to the HSUS, more then 4 million homeless pets – about half the number that enter shelters each year – are euthanized. "U.S. shelters can't save and support the huge number of accidental litters, strays, and family pets that are brought in every week," noted GCHS president Lisa Baker. "Locally, an estimated 40 percent of the animals are 'put down' because they are unadoptable or the shelter is full to capacity. Most of these are cats. Cats can produce three litters a year, beginning at the age of 6 months or younger. If you have feral (wild) cats or barn cats on your property, they need to be 'altered' so they don't keep producing more litters. Large populations of cats will compete for food, may spread disease among themselves, and may eventually interbreed. Please spay/neuter them or trap and bring them into the county shelter. When they are kittens, they have a better chance of being adopted or taken to a rescue facility downstate. There are now three animal welfare groups in the county to offer you help, so don't put it off or you will end up with dozens of cats on your property, which then overflow to your neighbor's property." It is estimated that more than 200 kittens, like the ones pictured from last year, will be brought into the local shelter this spring and summer. "There aren't enough adopters to adopt them all," Baker said. For more information, persons may call 301-616-4425.

How much physical activity do older adults need?

Physical activity is essential for healthy aging. According the CenterS for Disease Control, physical activity can help prevent many of the problems that come with age. Maintaining a good level of physical activity can help you remain independent longer by making day-to-day activities easier. Performing any amount of activity is better than none at all. Activities can be done in 10-minute increments instead of all at once. For good health benefits, follow the isntructions below. Additional workout time leads to better health benefits.

If you're 65 years of age or older, are generally fit, and have no limiting health conditions, you can follow these guidelines:

Older adults need at least:

•2 hours and 30 minutes (150 minutes) of moderate-intensity aerobic activity (i.e., brisk walking) every week and muscle-strengthening activities on two or more days a week that work all major muscle groups (legs, hips, back, abdomen, chest, shoulders, and arms).

•1 hour and 15 minutes (75 minutes) of vigorous-intensity aerobic activity (i.e., jogging or running) every week and muscle-strengthening activities on two or more days a week that work all major muscle groups (legs, hips, back, abdomen, chest, shoulders, and arms).

•An equivalent mix of moderate- and vigorous-intensity aerobic activity and muscle-strengthening activities on two or more days a week that work all major muscle groups (legs, hips, back, abdomen, chest, shoulders, and arms).

According to Medicine Net, physical activity helps increase the number of brain neurons (special cells that help your body think, move, and perform all the bodily functions that keep you alive) just after a few days or weeks of regular exercise. This becomes extremely important as we age to maintain our independence. Exercise also helps improve your memory; those who perform regular physical activity have more brain tissue than those who do not. Individuals who perform regular activity have the highest scores on tasks like coordination, scheduling, planning, and memory.

As we age, these factors become more important to our daily routine and help us maintain our independence. Remember, a little exercise is better than none at all, and doing exercise in increments makes it easier. If you're having trouble getting started, get a workout partner to help you.

The Flowery Vale Center offers a full line of cardio and weight equipment, as well as instructed classes. For more information on Fitness After 50 or Flowery Vale, please call us at 301-746-8050 or stop in for a visit. We are located in the big yellow building in Accident.

The fitness center promotes the Garrett County Community Action Committee strategy of creating environments that enable older adults to have access to health care and remain physically active, thereby increasing the number of individuals who are able to live independently.

Deep Creek Lake Safety Warning Issued By Service

The Maryland Park Service reminds all snowmobilers of the potential for unseen safety hazards on Deep Creek Lake, particularly at night. An area of ice has been removed near Uno Chicago Grill along Garrett Highway to create open water for the Special Olympics Deep Creek Dunk, scheduled for this Saturday.

An area of ice has also been removed along the shoreline of the Discovery Center near Deep Creek Lake State Park to accommodate an ice rescue and cold water diving training for emergency services personnel, conducted by the Maryland State Police. These areas will remain unsafe for quite some time and will be marked with reflective traffic cones.

The park service says that those recreating on the lake should also be aware that surface conditions under bridges are often particularly hazardous, and that snowdrifts or pressure ridges can act as ramps, causing sleds to become airborne.

Deep Creek Lake is a part of the designated ORV trail system, permitting riding on the lake surface by registered snowmobiles only. Permits are available by mail or at any of the local state park offices during normal business hours.

Snowmobiles may operate at night if equipped with working headlights and taillights. Access to the lake may be made at Deep Creek Lake State Park or with permission from a private landowner with a permit site adjacent to the lake.

Ice fishermen, hikers, and cross-country skiers traveling on the lake should also exercise caution. The wearing of or having a readily accessible personal flotation device could prevent a tragedy, the park service says.

Persons who happen to encounter people, pets, or wildlife that have fallen through the ice are urged to telephone either 911 or dial the toll-free DNR Communications number, 1-800-628-9944, for assistance.

TIME FOR A LITTLE DIP? It is indeed time, despite the snow and ice still piled around Garrett County. The annual Deep Creek Dunk will take place this Saturday, Feb. 26, at Uno's. The dunk serves as a fundraiser for Special Olympics Maryland and is to involve hundreds of people, with at least a thousand on hand to either watch or dunk. Last year's Deep Creek Dunk raised approximately $150,000. The festivities will kick off early with the pre-dunk event Goosebumps & Grapes: An Evening of Fire & Wine. This wine-tasting event, jointly hosted by Honi-Honi, Uno's, Long & Foster Vacation Resort Rentals, and Arrowhead Market, will feature a variety of wines courtesy of Republic National Distributing Company. There is a $20 donation required to attend the event, which will allow individuals to taste wines around a bonfire or inside a heated tent. Dunkers will also be able to register that evening, between 6 and 9 p.m. Dunkers must raise a minimum of $50 in pledges. Each registered dunker will receive a complimentary Uno's meal, a commemorative sweatshirt, and a group color photo. Special prizes will be awarded to the top three fundraisers. Heated changing tents will be available on the lawn for both men and women to change in before and after taking the plunge. Day-of registration will begin at noon on Saturday, and the dunk will take place at 2 p.m. There is no fee for spectators or any age requirements for dunkers, though participants under the age of 18 must have a signed parental consent. To register, persons may go to www.dunkmd.com, or call 800-541-7544, ext. 503 (Md. only), or 410-789-6677, ext. 503. The hotline is open 24 hours a day. Photo by Donny Boyd.

Kitzmiller Could Become A Ghost Town If School Closes, Mayor Browning Fears

Kitzmiller mayor Jim Browning does not want his town to become another death statistic in a local history book. But that could very well happen if Kitzmiller Elementary School closes, according to town officials.

"We don't want to become a ghost town," Browning told the Garrett County commissioners last Thursday afternoon.

The mayor, town council, and about 30 other residents met with the commissioners in an effort to rally financial and moral support to keep the school open.

Located along the North Branch of the Potomac River, Kitzmiller was incorporated in 1906. The former booming coal town's current population is about 300. Community Action president Duane Yoder noted that the population had been decreasing, but raw census data indicates it has stabilized and may be increasing.

Kitzmiller is one of only four remaining Maryland communities of 31 identified in a Garrett County Historical Society publication titled Ghost Towns of the Upper Potomac, the mayor noted.

"A decision to close the school is a permanent solution to a temporary problem fueled by a depressed economic situation," Browning said.

KES currently has 55 students in kindergarten through fifth grade, plus 12 in Community Action's Head Start program. The annual cost to operate the facility is about $410,000.

The school is the heart of Kitzmiller, the mayor said, and a focal point for activities and services for residents of all ages, including after-school and basketball programs and the town's annual homecoming event. In addition, a branch of Ruth Enlow Library has been located within the school's library since 1987.

"We're in partnership with the best education we can give this community of Kitzmiller," said branch manager Diane Kisner. "For the school to be lost, it would be detrimental to the town of Kitzmiller. I just see so many positive things going on in the community, as the public librarian there."

The library board announced it will discontinue the Kitzmiller branch if the school is closed, as funding will not be available to maintain the library in that or another building.

"The town will lose its identity as a community and become just an aggregation of residents," Browning said about the possible school closure.

State allocations to local schools were significantly cut early last year because of economic conditions, an increase in the county's SHARING A STORY at Accident Elementary School this week were Landan Schaffert, national FFA secretary, and third grade student Brandon Pickrel. Schaffert visited the county in observance of National FFA Week, and the North Garrett and Oakland FFA chapters each donated agricultural themed books to the county's elementary schools. FFA members visited the classrooms and read books to the students. Since both Schaffert and Pickrel are blind, they shared a Braille book as they listened to the story being read by FFA member Tyler Wilt. Schaffert is currently a sophomore at the Colorado School of Mines in Golden, Colo., and aspires to be a motivational speaker. As he spoke to the students at Accident Elementary, he told them that each of them has special talents to help others, and in this way, everyone can become "a super hero." He noted that his philosophy is that each day he wakes up prepared to be embarrassed in some way. "I learned that you just have to laugh and go with it," he said. Pickrel is the son of Bill and Trudy Pickrel of McHenry. Photo by Lisa Broadwater.

Local Businesses Fined For Selling Alcohol To Minors

The Garrett County Board of License Commissioners/Liquor Control Board held violation hearings earlier this month for four retail establishments for the sale of alcohol to a minor. The hearings were a result of the businesses failing recent compliance checks conducted by underage cadets and troopers from the Maryland State Police.

The establishments that failed the compliance checks were El Canelo's Restaurant, Oakland; Cin-dy's Place, Finzel; Swanton Grocery, Gas & Liquor, Swanton; and Keyser's Ridge Liquors, Grantsville.

In accordance with the rules and regulations of the Board of License Commissioners of Garrett County, the fine and suspension guideline for a first offense is a $100 fine and a "letter of reprimand" in the licensee's file; the second offense is a $500 fine and up to a 10-day suspension; the third offense is a $1,000 fine and up to a 30-day suspension; and a fourth offense is the maximum fine and up to a one-year suspension of the license.

Along with these fines and suspension, the board may require additional alcohol awareness training and review and evaluate internal procedures concerning sales to minors at the licensed establishment. If the licensed establishment goes two years with no additional sales to minors, the establishment's record is expunged.

The licensees for the above-mentioned establishments were summoned before the board at the violation hearings. They received the following penalties: El Canelo's Restaurant and Cindy's Place both received a $100 fine, and a "letter of reprimand" was placed in their file; Swanton Grocery, Gas & Liquors and Keyser's Ridge Liquors both received a $500 fine and a five-day suspension of their alcoholic beverage license.

The clerks who sold the alcohol to the underage cadet were charged criminally by the Maryland State Police and will have to appear in the District Court for Garrett County.

The compliance checks are conducted by the MSP with Drug Free Communities grant funds from the Garrett County Health De-

Two Men Charged With Possession Of Marijuana

Two men were arrested this past weekend on marijuana and paraphernalia possession charges. The two incidents are unrelated and were investigated by separate police agencies.

Garrett County sheriff's deputies stopped a vehicle on Weber Road at approximately 11:30 p.m. Friday night. During the stop, a grocery bag was thrown from the window, which was found to contain several smoking devices with marijuana. Nicholas Alan Dewitt, 22, was the passen-

Commissioner Crawford Testifies On Behalf Of Marcellus Shale Legislation

Board of Garrett County Commissioners chairman Gregan Crawford and Commissioner Bob Gatto attended a public hearing in Annapolis yesterday to provide support for House Bill 411. Sponsored by Del. Wendell Beitzel, the proposed legislation requires the Maryland Department of the Environment (MDE) to establish certain regulations regarding natural gas drilling.

"The Board of Garrett County Commissioners desires to see the process of exploration into the development of Marcellus gas resources managed in the best possible manner," Gregan told the House Environmental Affairs Committee, which was assigned HB 411. "That requires oversight on both state as well as the local level. The board does not desire to see drilling commence without a prudent and in-depth review. Our county is reviewing the local aspects of this industry, and we believe that House Bill 411 is an essential step in the pro-cess."

A companion bill, Senate Bill 422, sponsored by Sen. George Edwards, has been assigned to the Senate Education, Health, and Environmental Affairs Committee, which will hold a hearing next Tuesday, March 1, at 1 p.m.

The proposed legislation outlines several issues that the MDE would have to address. Those include requirements relating to the following:

1. A water testing plan to ensure drinking water resources are protected, including requirements for surface well casing, grouting, and inspections.

2. The containment and disposal of fluid used in hydraulic fracturing processes.

3. The identification of all chemicals and materials used in hydraulic fracturing processes.

4. Prohibiting the unregulated discharge of drilling materials and fluids into streams, ponds, and other bodies of water for which the discharge has not been approved by the department.

5. Site reclamation and bonding.

HB 411/SB 422 would require MDE to submit regulations to the Joint Committee on Administrative, Executive, and Legislative Review regarding natural gas exploration and production in the Marcellus shale formation no later than Dec. 31.

"With the proposed deadline of Dec. 31, 2011, MDE will have had almost 26 months to develop new regulations since receiving the first drilling permit application in October of 2009," Crawford testified. "Undoubtedly within this time period, MDE has developed an understanding of the technical, scientific, and practical implications of this

BPW Approves Preservation Of Garrett Acreage

Governor Martin O'Malley announced yesterday Board of Public Works (BPW) approval to preserve 26 acres of land in Garrett County through Program Open Space. The Maryland Department of Natural Resources (DNR) will purchase the land, known as the White property, which is adjacent to Potomac State Forest, and add to the state forest system, which protects plant and wildlife habitat.

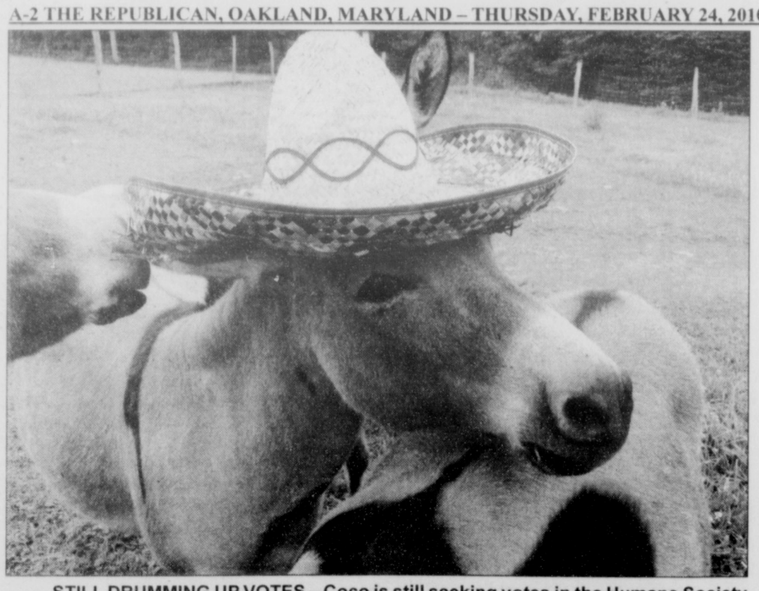
Located within a Target Ecological area, the property is contained in the Savage River Watershed, one of the only locations of an intact, connected brook trout population. The purchase is consistent with the fisheries management plan for the area and will protect critical habitat for rare and uncommon plants as well, according to the DNR.

The three-member Board of Public Works consists of Governor O'Malley (chair), Treasurer Nancy Kopp, and Comptroller Peter Franchot. The BPW is authorized by the General Assembly to approve major construction and consultant contracts, equipment purchases, property transactions, and other procurement actions.

Since 2007, Governor O'Malley and the BPW have preserved more than 33,076 acres of natural areas for public recreation and watershed and wildlife protection across Maryland. Since 1969, Program Open Space has provided funding for acquisition of 354,120 acres for open space and recreation areas.

Most Maryland residents live within 15 minutes of an open space or recreational area funded by Program Open Space.

WIN PAGEANT CROWNS – Three young Garrett County women were crowned during the recent Miss University City 2011 Scholarship Pageant at Mountain Ridge High School in Frostburg. Nineteen-year-old Grace Herpel, a mass communications major at Frostburg State University, won the title of Miss Francis Scott Key. Olivia Gaither, a 16-year-old junior at Southern Garrett High School was crowned Miss Francis Scott Key Outstanding Teen, and SHS student Stevee Royce, 15, won the Miss University City Outstanding Teen title. The winner of Miss University City was Danna Thomas, 21, an arts administration and jazz studies major at the University of Virginia. Alyssa Todaro, 21, a PhD student in behavioral and community health at Pennsylvania State University, won the title of Miss Appalachia 2011, and Hannah Brewer, 13, a home-schooled student from Manchester, was named Miss Appalachia Outstanding Teen. The Miss University City Scholarship Pageant is an official preliminary to the Miss Maryland Scholarship Program. The winners will compete at Miss Maryland and Miss Maryland's Outstanding Teen pageants in Hagerstown. Preliminaries for Miss Maryland will be held on June 22 and 23, and Miss Maryland's Outstanding Teen preliminaries will be June 23–24. The final for both Miss Maryland and Miss Maryland's Outstanding Teen will take place on Saturday, June 25. Left to right are Gaither, Brewer, Royce, Thomas, Todaro, and Herpel.



STILL DRUMMING UP VOTES – Coco is still seeking votes in the Humane Society of the United States Spay Day 2011 Photo Contest. If this local miniature donkey does not get more votes, she and her friends may have to eat her festive hat. The contest runs until March 4. "You still have time to vote for your favorite pet, which in turn benefits a shelter or animal welfare organization," noted Garrett County Humane Society president Lisa Baker. Votes for Coco will benefit the GCHS. Interested persons can go to humanesociety.org/photocontest, enter "Coco" in the search box, locate this specific Coco, and purchase votes for her. Proceeds will support the GCHS's efforts to help animals that do not have the love and care that she receives. As part of Spay Day activities around the world, the GCHS will distribute spay/neuter discount vouchers, on a first-come, first-served basis, today and tomorrow at the Garrett County Animal Shelter. Maryland Retains AAA Bond Rating, To Sell Nearly $100 Million In Bonds

Maryland State Treasurer Nancy K. Kopp announced Wednesday that all three bond rating agencies have affirmed the state's Triple A bond rating in preparation for the upcoming sale of up to $485 million of General Obligation bonds on Wednesday, March 9, at the Board of Public Works meeting.

This offering will include the direct retail sale of approximately $100 million of bonds with first priority to Maryland citizens, similar to successful transactions in 2009 and 2010.

"Marylanders get first preference in buying highly desirable, conservative quality bonds while investing in their state – a win-win situation," Treasurer Kopp said.

The retail bond sale will begin Friday, March 4, and likely will end on Monday, March 7. For more information, potential buyers are invited to go online to www.buymarylandbonds.com.

The bond sale will conclude with two competitive bids for the remaining bonds, which are expected to be sold to institutions. The sale will include approximately $378.48 million tax-exempt bonds and $6.52 million in taxable Qualified Energy Conservation bonds.

As has always been the case with the issuance of Maryland's General Obligation Bonds, the state uses the proceeds only to finance necessary capital projects, such as schools, community colleges, university projects, and hospitals.

"While Maryland has historically received Triple A ratings from the three major bond rating agencies, today's recognition of Maryland's fiscal strength and prudent management is an extraordinary accomplishment in what remains a very difficult economic climate," Kopp said. "Simply, the rating analysts believe that Maryland's government leaders consistently make tough budgetary and fiscal decisions in challenging times.

"Retention of the Triple A rating allows us to continue to save millions of taxpayer dollars resulting from the low interest rates achieved because of these ratings, she added.

The Maryland Board of Public Works, comprising Governor Martin O'Malley, Comptroller Peter Franchot, and Treasurer Kopp, will preside over the competitive bond sale on March 9 in the Assembly Room in the Goldstein Treasury Building in Annapolis.

Maryland is one of only eight states to hold the AAA rating, the highest possible rating, from all three bond rating agencies. Standard and Poor's has rated the bonds AAA since 1961. Moody's Investors has assigned the bonds a rating of AAA since 1973, and Fitch Ratings has rated the bonds AAA since 1993.

Fitch, in assigning its AAA rating and stable outlook, said, "The state's AAA rating reflects its sound financial operations, a wealthy, diversified economy, and solid management of debt. The state's economy is returning to growth after a recession, during which widespread job losses and a deep housing market downturn affected state revenue collections."

The Maryland State Treasurer's Office expects to conduct another bond sale either in late July or early August 2011.

FREE TUBING EVENT SLATED – The Garrett County Health Department is hosting a night of free snow tubing for Garrett County youth, sixth graders through 20-year-olds. This is a "Play Hard. Live Clean." event, and is slated for Monday, Feb. 28, from 6 to 8 p.m. at the Bear Claw Snow Tubing Park, Wisp Resort. Registration forms are available at county public middle and high schools, can be found online at www.garretthealth.org, or may be picked up in Room 206 of the health department. Registration forms must be signed by a parent or legal guardian if the participant is under 18 years of age. Forms will be accepted at the event until the 150-participant limit is reached. There will be no pre-registration through the schools or health department. "Play Hard. Live Clean." is a campaign to discourage underage drinking, tobacco, and drug use, and to promote positive lifestyles. It is sponsored by the Garrett County Combating Underage Drinking Committee through a grant from the Governor's Office for Children through the Garrett County Partnership for Children and Families, Inc./Local Management Board and the health department, with support from the Wisp. For more information, persons may contact Venessa Stacy at the health department at 301-334-7730 or 301-895-3111.

Two Arrested By MSP Following Friday Accidents

Maryland State Police investigated two separate vehicle accidents this past weekend that resulted in one driving citation and one arrest.

Police responded to a two-vehicle accident on Rt. 42 near Second Ave., Friendsville, at approximately 7 p.m. Friday evening. Investigation revealed that a 1998 Honda Accord driven by Darrell Huttenstine, 58, McHenry, had pulled off onto the shoulder of the southbound lane. A 2004 Ford F150 driven by Joshua Ringer, 28, Mtn. Lake Park, drifted across the white line and into the rear of the Accord. Both vehicles were towed from the scene, and Huttenstine suffered minor injuries, but refused medical treatment from Northern rescue Squad. Ringer was cited for negligent driving.

In a separate incident, troopers responded to Slopeside Market at the intersection of Sang Run Road and Rt. 219, McHenry, for a hit and run collision. Investigation revealed that a 2010 Ford Escape had backed into a GMC Denali and fled. The suspect, Tyrane Lionel Cox, 35, Waldorf, was located at Arrowhead Market, where he was taken into custody. He was charged with driving under the influence and related charges, unsafe backing, leaving the scene of an accident, driving without a license, and DUI while transporting minors. He was later released until his court date.

A vehicle was stopped on Garrett Highway at approximately 10 p.m. Thursday evening. The driver was identified as John Edward Wilson, Aurora, W.Va., and he was found to be intoxicated. He was charged with DUI, DWI, and other traffic violations. He was later released until his court date.

Two Arrested On Drinking And Driving Charges

Garrett County sheriff's deputies arrested two men on drinking and driving charges this past week. The following incidents are unrelated.

Deputies stopped a 1996 Subaru on Rock Lodge Road for a tag violation at approximately 2 a.m. last Thursday morning. Investigation revealed that driver Bryan Anthony Burns, 23, Imperial, Pa., was intoxicated. He was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol and driving while impaired by alcohol. He was taken into custody to await a bond hearing.

To our friends and community:

All through our sad journey these past months we have been greeted with "I don't know what to say." We completely agree. There aren't words. There aren't words to adequately express how incredibly thankful we are to have been wrapped in the warmth of you and all of our family and friends.

The outpouring of your visits, cards, letters, flowers, plants, donations to such worthy causes in Chris' name, wonderful nourishing food, warm embraces, household supplies, help with our animals, taking out the garbage and taking down our Christmas decorations, snow removal, even to the cleaning of our salt and dirt covered car to take to the funeral has been so needed and so welcomed.

To all of you we say "Thank You." If it weren't for all of you, we could not have survived this horrible tragedy in our lives.

Chris was all about the positive. He enjoyed every minute of his life here with us all. His enthusiasm and love will be with us forever.

Gratefully,
The Lantz Family

SHS Seniors Planning Prom Preview Event

Senior students at Southern High School are planning to host the 2011 Prom Preview, a fundraiser to help offset prom expenses this spring, and to promote local businesses to persons shopping for prom items.

Ashley Crosby and Rachael Beeman are organizing the event, which will be held at the Oakland Community Center (former armory) on March 19. Southern senior girls and boys will model prom attire at the preview.

The point of the event is to highlight the selected students, and to advertise locally owned businesses which students can patronize for their prom needs. It is also a fundraiser for the prom.

All items are donated for the preview, and all the help is voluntary, Crosby noted. Local businesses and individuals are invited to assist in the preview, either via donations of money, gift cards, refreshments, or other items, or by offering help.

While this event has in the past been sponsored by the high school, the usual prom advisors are not able to attend this year. So the students have taken on the responsibility of hosting it.

"Prom Preview has been a tradition at the school for several years," Crosby said. So with the advisor unavailable, the senior class of 2011 made the decision to proceed with it on their own.

"Our dream is to make this 'fashion show' happen for our senior class, and to be more memorable than any other year," Crosby said.

Persons who wish to help may contact Crosby at 301-334-1640 or Beeman at 301-616-4958. Crosby noted that she and Beeman can come pick up donated items as well.

Businesses that donate to the effort will be added to the event flyers. Persons who donate items will be invited to the event admission-free.

"We would greatly appreciate your contributions," Crosby said. "Please contact us with any questions or concerns."

NATIONAL FFA WEEK was celebrated this week at the schools in Garrett County. Agricultural themed books were donated to the elementary schools, and a reception and luncheon were held. Above are those who attended. In the front row, from left, are Kala McKenzie; Rebecca Winegardner, state FFA president; Landan Schaffert, national FFA secretary; J.D. Repp, state secretary; and Scarlett Fost, state treasurer. In the second row are Kasondra Rounds, chapter secretary; Austin Lowdermilk, chapter second vice president; and Toby Grove, chapter vice president. In the back are Phil Frantz, Northern FFA alumni president; Kevin Keith, national FFA local program specialist; Tyler Wilt, chapter president; Michael Frantz, chapter junior advisor; Colton Grove, chapter treasurer; Tyler Gilpin, chapter sentinel; and Rick McCrobie, chapter advisor. National secretary Schaffert is pictured below with Accident Elementary School kindergarten students, as FFA members spoke to the students and read books in each classroom. The national FFA organization has more than 520,000 members in nearly 7,500 chapters nationwide. In Maryland, FFA includes 36 chapters with over 1,600 members. Schaffert is shown with Avery Sevigny as she answers a question for FFA member Toby Grove. Other students in the photo are McKenna Stanton, Robert Clem, Adrian Cedro, Bethany Comer, Chloe Smith, and Ashton Sober. At right, Schaffert talks with Gary Reichenbecher, Northern High School principal.

Two Charged With Second-Degree Assault

Two men were charged with second-degree assault following a physical altercation at a private residence on West Ashby Ellis Road, Oakland, on Saturday. Garrett County sheriff's deputies responded to the scene.

Upon the deputies' arrival, two adult males were identified as Brooks Robert Reckart, 46, Oakland, and Shane Dixon Latta, 24. It was learned that Reckart was in violation of a protective order by being at the residence, for which he was also charged. Both were treated and released at Garrett County Memorial Hospital. Southern Rescue Squad also responded to the scene.

Office Skills Class Slated At GC's Oakland Center

Office skills training will be offered by Garrett College at the newly renovated Southern Outreach Center in Oakland. This 64 hour course, which begins March 22, will be held on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 9:30 a.m. to 2 p.m.

This course includes a focus on professional and technology skills, as well as job search preparation. It will provide a hands-on approach to computer technology (keyboarding, Microsoft Office products, and QuickBooks), preparation of portfolios, and information on proper dress and interview techniques.

Financial assistance may be available for those who qualify. Students may receive more information by calling the Southern Outreach Center at 301-334-8304.

Maryland State Police observed a vehicle sitting in the parking lot of Deep Creek Marina after closing hours at approximately 1 a.m. Saturday morning. Two people were found to be smoking marijuana in the vehicle. A search was conducted on the vehicle, and two bags containing marijuana and a glass pipe with burnt marijuana were found on Austin Blake Snyder, 21, Westernport. He was charged with such and taken before a Garrett County commissioner before being released on personal recognizance.

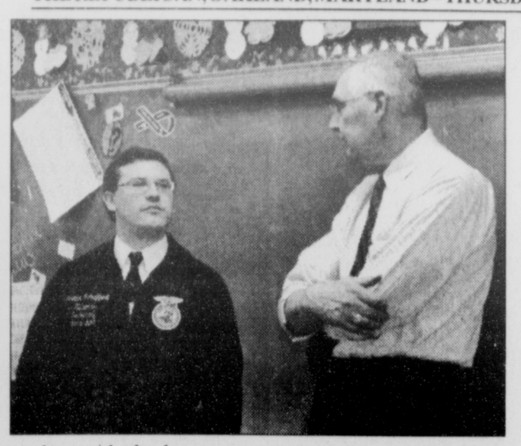
wealth index, and the expiration of "hold harmless" legislation, which previously ensured level funding despite enrollment decline. As a result, the GC Board of Education is facing a more than $4 million budget shortfall in fiscal year 2012.

As a cost-saving measure, Dr. Wendell Teets, superintendent of Garrett County schools, proposed on Sept. 15, 2010, that Kitzmiller and Bloomington elementary schools be closed. He explained that these two schools have the highest cost of operation per student with the lowest enrollments. The cost to operate the Bloomington school is about $426,000 a year.



Kitzmiller and Bloomington advisory groups were formed two days later to evaluate the advantages and disadvantages of the proposal and to report to the BOE in March 2011. The Kitzmiller group includes Browning, town councilman Matt Paugh, school personnel, parents, and other concerned residents.

The mayor noted, however, many stakeholders saw the "writing on the wall" long before the superintendent's announcement and had already begun studying the impact of closing their community schools.

Browning presented a few of his group's findings to the commissioners. A full report will be given at the next BOE meeting, scheduled for Tuesday, March 8. The board is scheduled to make a decision on the closures in April.

The mayor said the only advantage to closing KES is a "potential" savings of $409,405. He noted the figure represents .6 percent of the county's FY 2011 expenditures and .75 percent of the BOE's FY 2011 budget.

"It's real easy to look at this as an economic problem," the mayor said. "But we feel it goes far beyond dollars and cents. It can't be treated as a business decision."

Browning pointed out that closing Kitzmiller and Bloomington schools will result in larger class sizes at Broad Ford and Yough Glades elementary schools, diminishing the educational experience of all the students.

He also indicated the outlay of less than 1 percent of the overall county and BOE budgets seems like a worthy investment when it means the survival of a community with plans for its future. The Kitzmiller Strategic Revitalization and Comprehensive plans outline ways to improve the Tough Decisions, Sacrifice...

The ultimate result of financial irresponsibility at the highest levels of government seems to finally be upon us. Simply put, state and federal governments have for far too long been spending way more money than they have. All of the "credit cards" are maxed out. The various governmental pots of money are empty, so the robbing of Peter to pay Paul is no longer an option. The various lines of credit have been extended so far that some are beyond recovery.

This is why such radical steps are now being pursued by many lawmakers, steps that have the citizenry in an uproar, particularly those who are members of public service unions. Their cherished bargaining rights are being threatened, and the various benefits promised to them are in jeopardy as the flow of red ink is now a raging torrent.

While the concerns of those in public service are so noted and, to a certain extent, legitimate, it is interesting to compare their situation with those of us who work for privately owned companies and businesses. When it comes to health insurance, the majority of those in public service are generally covered 100% without having to share in payment of the premium. With many private companies, particularly small businesses, if employees have any health insurance at all, they generally must pay a share of the premium. The same goes for more retirement plans.

The retirement benefit offered by private employers, usually paid into by both employer and employee, typically is in the form of an IRA or some other kind of investment that is tied directly to the stock market. Thus there is always some level of risk involved, so clearly demonstrated by the huge devaluation of so many individuals' retirement benefits during the market crash a few years ago. That money was lost, plain and simple, and there is no expectation that the government should or will step in and restore those funds. And if a business suddenly can't afford to continue to offer its employees health insurance, and those employees cannot afford it on their own, then the benefit ceases to exist. Again, there is no expectation by anyone that the government should pick up that tab for those employees.

But that does not seem to be the case when the benefits of public employees are cut or threatened. There is outrage at such a notion, and there does seem to be an expectation that government has the responsibility to absolutely guarantee those benefits.

We are in a nationwide financial crisis, and getting out of it is going to require extremely tough decisions by our elected officials, coupled with a measure of sacrifice on the part of every American. We might as well accept that reality right now.

To the Editor:

A recent letter-to-the-editor on wind technology posed the question, "How do you explain the wind generation that is going on worldwide?" Implying, how can so many people, including leading experts, be wrong about wind power? To wit, they must be right!

I agree that many well-intentioned people and organizations believe that renewables are the solution to global climate change, as well as the energy crisis. It is obvious to them, as renewables are supposedly free, green, and inexhaustible. To make it work consistently, we need only an upgraded, smart grid, more transmission lines, or hydroelectric storage.

However, upon what is this belief based? Where are the scientific studies demonstrating that wind is a substantial contributor toward helping with global climate change or is commercially viable as an independent source of energy? Where is the environmental impact assessment covering manufacturing through decommissioning, so we can understand environmental costs or benefits? Unfortunately, none of these things has been done yet.

Everyone is in a hurry to solve the problem, and studies and experiments take time. It is easy to pick an obvious solution and accept it as fact. Once in this mindset, it is extremely difficult for most people to change their position. Politicians with constituent support oftentimes make financial or regulatory decisions based on a set of accepted beliefs, rather than on results of scientific studies.

On the other hand, scientists are fundamentally skeptical. One study or experiment is not enough, so it has to be repeated in different situations by different investigators over time. There is always a healthy exploration of alternatives. Eventually, a consensus develops in the scientific community. This sometimes takes decades.

There are numerous examples throughout history of accepted beliefs that were later shown to be scientifically false, including that the earth is the center of the solar system, that heavier-than-air machines cannot fly, or that stress is the main cause of ulcers. Being well-intentioned, having eloquent arguments, or being persistent and repetitive does not make one correct. We need to reach conclusions based upon independent and objective scientific evaluations.

In the childhood story of The Emperor's New Clothes, reality is recognized when a child cries out, "But he isn't wearing anything at all!" The "Wind Emperor" is not completely naked, but wind comes at a very high price, environmentally and economically, and fails in the most basic of electric power requirements – it is not dependable!

To the Editor:

I am writing this to ask the assistance of the community. I am new to the county (here a little more than a year), and I am the new chair for the Relay for Life of Garrett County.

I have seen what this community can do in all the charity events around the county. From what I understand, this generous county has had very successful relays in the past. Last year almost $70,000 was raised to help battle cancer with fewer than 300 people participating in the relay.

This year we really want to outdo ourselves and blow that number out of the water. But we can't do it without people getting involved. Even though Relay for Life is only one night (June 10, 2011), fundraiser events go on throughout the year.

We have local folks who have been involved in the relay for more than 13 years from all over the county, but mostly from Oakland. This is a plea to call upon the communities around the county to join us. We ask that churches, businesses, schools, and individuals get involved. We really need people who can help us recruit new teams by making phone calls to local businesses and organizations.

We would love to have more participation from the northern part of the county, but anyone will do. If you have time to commit only a few hours a month, we need you. We meet once a month at Garrett College or the Garrett County Health Department, usually on the second Monday of the month.

If you know someone who has or you, yourself, have been affected by cancer, this is your chance to fight back! Get involved by helping raise money for research. You can find out more information at http://RelayforLife.org/Garrett, and while you are there, create a team! Get your family, your workplace, your church involved. If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to contact me or Brittany Friend, Garrett County ACS community manager, 301-707-3663.

Thank you,
Bob Carney

Garrett County residents are invited to attend a free film screening and debate on the topic of hydraulic fracturing (fracking) next week in Frostburg. Excerpts from the documentaries Gasland and Shale Gas and America's Future will be shown, followed by a moderated debate between Josh Fox, the Oscar-nominated director of Gasland, and Gregory Wrightstone, director of geology for Pittsburgh-based Texas Keystone Inc. and president of the American Association of Petroleum Geologists. The debate will address the potential benefits and potential risks of the fracking process.

This event is sponsored by the Maryland Humanities Council (MHC) as part of its Practicing Democracy initiative, which seeks to promote informed discussion about issues critical to Marylanders. MHC does not have a side in the debate, but rather provides a forum in which people with opposing perspectives can learn, listen, and share their opinions. The goal is to encourage and model civil and respectful public dialogue.

The program will be held from 7 to 9 p.m. next Wednesday, March 2, at the Palace Theater, 31 E. Main St., Frostburg.

To the Editor:

Garrett County's winter last year featured 21 feet of snow and an average nighttime temperature of about zero (including the wind chill factor) January through February.

More than Alaska's, Garrett County's production of winter precipitation is staggering. Last year's record snowfall was rarely published (out of county), not discussed in the rest of Maryland, and little known, if at all in the rest of the U.S.

My point is, if these winter statistics were widely published, Garrett County might be able to attract a small, but lucrative, job sector base for research and development, defense, and/or recreational sports manufacturing/testing companies. Having the most prolific snow mass east of the Mississippi River could, if marketed properly, potentially generate a new micro-industry, generating jobs and tax revenue for the county. This is a silver lining the chamber of comerce may find comfortable.

town, but most of them revolve around retaining the school in its current building.

Thanks to volunteers and such agencies as Community Action and the GC Health Department, several facets of the plans have been implemented or are in the works, the mayor added.

"There are so many people who have had a hand in trying to keep Kitzmiller a thriving community," Browning said.

Revitalization projects include restoring the company store and creating a visitor center, strengthening building codes and razing blighted properties, making streetscape improvements, and improving housing stock. The mayor noted that two new single family affordable homes were recently constructed.

His advisory group has concluded, however, that the most promising direction for revitalization and survival rests with education and the linkages that can be developed and sustained between the school and community.

The mayor noted that the Garrett County Comprehensive Plan, adopted in 2008, stresses the need to "maintain and upgrade school facilities to high standards, regardless of projected system-wide declines in enrollment" and identifies KES as "a target for renovation or replacement beginning in 2010, despite identified enrollment decline through 2015."

In addition, Browning pointed out, the Maryland Department of Planning models and guidelines indicate the "ideal" public school should, in part, be a community centered facility located within a neighborhood that will serve as a community anchor, be adjacent to recreation areas and parks, offer additional community oriented uses that serve neighborhood residents, and be within walking distance of other community facilities such as libraries.

The advisory committee concluded that "ironically, closing Kitzmiller Elementary School would mean closing a school that the Maryland Department of Planning describes as 'the school of the future.'"

The county and BOE are both working on their FY 2012 budgets. Details will not be finalized for several weeks. County administrator Monty Pagenhardt indicated, however, that funding issues regarding education will be known before the BOE makes its decision on the school closures in April.

The BOE's FY 2011 operating budget is about $56.6 million, which includes federal, state, and county funding. Garrett County's allocation alone was about $23 million.

Commissioner Gregan Crawford said he would like to see education fully funded, not just through stop-gap measures.

"We need to take a long perspective on this, because it does greatly impact our county," he said about school closures.

Crawford expressed his appreciation to Browning for briefing him on the subject and said he looks forward to the Bloomington Advisory Committee's presentation.

"I worry that if we close the Kitzmiller school or Bloomington school, we really devalue a whole section of our county, from east of Swanton to Kitzmiller to Bloomington," Crawford said.

The commissioner added he did not want to see the strategic and comprehensive plans and all the work that has gone into them abandoned.

Commissioner Jim Raley indicated the tremendous amount of other entities' money that has been invested in Kitzmiller's revitalization would also be lost.

"There's no doubt what the state's doing, beating us over the head. . . ." Raley said. "The state's proposing about a 10.5 percent cut in education funding to Garrett County public schools next year. That's a real crime."

The commissioner is a former elected BOE member and a vocal supporter of keeping small community schools open. Raley noted the negative effects that the closing of Loch Lynn Elementary School had on that small town.

"That community tried to hold together as long as it they could and keep that [school] building," he said. "And guess what? That building's going to need to be razed."

He indicated Loch Lynn is currently seeking funding to tear the school down, because, as with many towns, it can barely maintain its own infrastructure, let alone a school building.

"It's a real shame, and it's a long-term loss, for what is probably a short-term problem," Raley said. "Is this economy going to rebound? Sure, it's going to rebound. Is it going to take longer than we all thought. Sure, it's going to take longer than we all thought."

But, he noted, "budget" will be the buzz word for the next couple of months, as the BOE will need an additional $4 million from the county or some other source to cover its pending shortfall.

"I hope they (BOE) listen; I hope that your proposals continue to influence them," Raley told Browning about keeping the school open. "I encourage you to scrutinize their budget, and ask questions."

Pagenhardt noted that county BOE funding is not restrictive. The commissioners cannot earmark money specifically to keep certain schools open; that decision up to the BOE.

"If Kitzmiller [school] closes first because of funding issues, what's next on the chopping block?" Browning asked earlier in the meeting. "Is Crellin next? Is Friendsville after that?"

The commissioners' next public meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, March 1, beginning at 9 a.m. at the courthouse.

AURORA/EGLON

MOVIE NIGHT

The film Letters to God, will be shown at Maple Spring Church of the Brethren on Saturday, March 5, beginning at 7 p.m. The film is about an 8-year-old boy who has cancer. His prayers take the form of letters to God. A time of fellowship will follow the movie. Those attending are encouraged to bring a snack to share.

AURORA CEOS

Six ladies were in attendance for the Feb. 15 meeting of the Aurora Community Education Outreach Service held at Melanie's Restaurant after a luncheon. President Opal Myers opened the meeting and used a Valentine theme for devotions.

A discussion of "Healthy Body – Healthy Mind" was conducted by Ressie Conrad. Heart Healthy foods are in many of the choices involved in keeping the body healthy. Many of those play a large part in making the mind healthy as well. Fruits and vegetables should be the main choice for consumption, with whole grains and low-fat proteins rounding out the menu.

The countywide Achievement Dinner will be held on April 7 at 6:30 p.m. at the Preston County Inn, Kingwood. The theme this year is Hats Off to CEOS.

Lesson assignments were given out, and the health motivator had this advice for aging gracefully – staying active socially, making friends, and staying positive.

The vice president's special feature was on Matters of the Heart.

This was the first meeting of 2011 since the January meeting was cancelled because of weather. The next meeting is scheduled for March 15, and Opal Myers will provide leadership.

PERSONAL

Jerry Brown, Aurora, was again hospitalized at Garrett County Memorial Hospital last week. He has returned home.

Rose Ina Harsh remains a patient at GCMH, where she is receiving IV antibiotics.

A fun-filled afternoon was hosted on Saturday by Amanda Teets and her children Zachary and Elora, Horse Shoe Run. Local guests were her parents, Paul and Karen Teets, her grandparents, David and Wilma Mae Teets, and other relatives and friends, Joey and Elma Slaubaugh and Ethan and Jolena, Aaron Teets and children Jaryn and Araya, and friend Myra, who was visiting from Los Angeles, Calif. Talisa and Isabella Teets, Cleveland, Ohio, and Mark Utterback and Quintin were other visitors present.

Jerry and Barbara Hauser continue their recuperation at their home with some further outpatient treatment.

Relatives here were notified of the death of Vernon Beckman, 82, who died on Dec. 11, 2010, at his home in Inwood, W.Va. (A full obituary for Mr. Beckman appears in this week's A-section.)

Mary Rembold and sons Shawn and Craig, Aurora, were Sunday visitors of her mother-in-law, Eileen Rembold, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Bonnie Lantz was in Baltimore, Md., this weekend for medical attention, but has returned to her Aurora home.

In a recent article concerning the awarding of a master's degree to Tim Harsh, he was listed as living in Lancaster, Pa. He actually lives in Landenberg, Pa., and is a former resident of Eglon, where his parents, Wade and Judith "Mary" Harsh, live.

Notes From Bittinger

by Joan Glotfelty Sussman

Many Americans are terrified watching the events in Egypt unfold, because they think a large portion of Egyptians are Muslims, but that isn't true by any means. There are a large number of Egyptians who are Christians.

I would love to spend an evening with Michelle Obama and Hillary Clinton. I'm sure we could have some interesting conversations about many things. Like any group of women, we would love to talk about men, and I would love to hear the inside story of living in the White House, and a number of political subjects (and maybe dissect some prominent Conservative gals).

A thought-provoking story on the Free Speech Network was about the food that is produced by the prison system in Virginia. If they sold it on the commercial food market, it would be much cheaper than what the ordinary farmers could sell what they produce, because they have labor costs. Is it not common sense that the food produced in our government-supported prison system should either be sold for a low price to our school systems and homeless programs or as food for our very own poor? Actually, they should give it away to those kinds of programs. That would be a major savings for the government, and would allow our ordinary farmers to survive.

I assume the Free Speech Network is part of the Public Broadcasting Service. It covers the kinds of stories which are not covered by for-profit commercial broadcast networks. And that is why some in our House of Representatives slashed the funding for public broadcasting because it covers the troublesome stories that the invested power structures would rather keep out of sight and mind of the American people.

The next story on that network was about Canada's national celebration of its First Nations (Native Americans or Canadians). At least they are honest about the role our native people played in both nations. But America continues to refuse to engage in this painful issue.

I salute John Ross Sr. of Friendsville, who gave a piece of his property to the Shawnee Nation. That is the tribe I descended from; only a tiny bit, but I feel that Indian blood in all parts of myself every day.

There are many Native Americans who served honorably in all the American wars.

It's kinda nice to see players at any university 30 or 40 years later becoming the head coach of their alma mater, like Gary Williams of the University of Maryland.

It's lovely watching the Mountaineers leading by nine points over Notre Dame. And now on the floor is the son of Jerry West, the most famous Mountaineer, now playing in Morgantown.

I wonder about the former Northern High School hoops star Bill Aiken, who played at WVU close to 1970, or probably a few years earlier. Both Jerry and Bill have a son at WVU now. Ian Aiken is a friend of my daughters and also a member of the WVU Young Democrats Club.

I guess my brother-in-law Kevin Bass was at WVU at the same time as Bill Southerly. They share a birthday, but I don't think it's the same year. He was at WVU several years after Pastor Randy Richardson, because Randy has several grandchildren already.

Pretty soon, the preseason baseball games will start up. I can't wait! And the new manager of the Pirates said he is somewhat optimistic for this season. "Beat them, Bucs!"

No teams have more of my love than the 1960 Pirates. That World Series was unforgettable, even if I was only 7 years old then. But ever since, I have been a passionate fan of Pirates baseball, as are Lenny Poholsky and many other Bittinger folks.

It was obvious that the kind of weather we enjoyed yesterday (Friday, Feb. 18), couldn't last. It seemed like spring. And almost all the snow around my house was gone. But I guess the cold and snow were set to return Sunday and the early part of the week. In fact, I just forced Boo to go out, but it is far less awful as when it was really cold with lots of snow and blowing. That was when I really hated to put her out, because I was never sure whether she would make it back inside.

I did discover a way to make her feel better. I feed her a small meal every couple of hours: not dry dog food, but either cheap cat food or the cheapest ground beef, and that seems to give her more strength.

Brother Barry came up this weekend to do a bit more cross-country skiing, not on our farm, but at New Germany State Park. And my friend Walter Haydel went over to the Wisp to do the same thing, while his poor wife is home with a stomach ailment that struck her for the second time this week.

I heard about a major sun storm with many intense solar flares, and that often leads to seeing some northern lights. The best chance was last night, but maybe tonight will work, too.

My social life in the theater department was regulated by my beloved professor of set design, my mentor and dear friend Charles Vaughn (Chuck). I was sick at heart when I called the theater department after my New York days to hear that he had died from a heart attack.

I was terribly sorry that I never got the chance to tell him what kind of impact he had on my life. He was a stern task master to me, because he said he expected "nothing except world-class work" from me. And since then, I have always tried to live up to his high expectations. I wish I could have known if he was proud of what I accomplished during the 10 years after I graduated.

I did resent him a bit when one of the cutest chorus boys in the department came over when I was busy painting a piece of scenery and sang a song from the musical we were putting together. He said, "I never saw any girl look so good dirty as you do," and then he asked when I would get off work that evening.

But Chuck put a stop to that plan, saying, "I forbid you to get involved with actors." His voice showed that his opinion of actors was about on par with insects. But really, what harm would it have been to have a quick midnight date with one of the prettiest boys on campus? Maybe it was because he wasn't a serious actor, but merely a chorus boy who depended on looks, singing, and dancing to get on stage. But he was adorable.

Shakespeare once said to gather rosebuds when you have the chance. Because as the decades roll through, you probably will not get as much chance for that kind of fun. These days, I don't know a single datable male within 100 miles of here; except some married men, and I don't intend to go into that territory.

But, of course, one's looks do not last forever in any woman's life; not even those of supermodels and academy award-winning actresses. But they usually have plenty of money to ease their pain, while I am barely hanging in there with my fingertips. And it is still two weeks away before any significant income will come to me.

Luckily, my Social Security check is due on March 3, a day before the threatened government shutdown. But what about April, when I really need income for taxes?

I am in a little higher tax bracket than "dirt poor" (barely). At least I'm not homeless, but that is another big tax bill I am facing. At least it seems big to me.

Things have certainly changed big time since I was a teenager and used to hang out with lake kids. Their families had cottages or even house trailers as their lake residences. I can only remember one party in an upscale lake house along Rock Lodge Road, maybe half a mile before Rock Lodge meets Garrett Highway. I can remember the appearance of the hostess with her long blonde hair. We never developed a real friendship, not like the one with the Geisler family and my friend Nancy, who went to the University of Maryland at the same time I was there. Her dorm was just across the street from mine. And I remember vividly the sight of Nancy at my father's funeral crying her eyes out.

That was in our old beloved church, the 175-year-old white wood church with the unusual bell tower, where so much of my family history occurred.

My parents' wedding was there in 1952, as was my wedding, and my mother's second wedding to Dino DiPaolo. How lucky they were to find each other after their first spouses died too early.

And Carol's wedding and Rodney's wedding were also there, along with all of my daughters' baptisms, all four of my grandparents' funerals, and horribly, my little brother Scott's funeral, which I think was in 1988 in early spring while I was expecting my second daughter Caitlin.

When I heard the terrible news about his death, I fainted, and perhaps then his spirit entered the unborn baby inside me, because she shows his spirit in many ways, including the desire to change the world for the better, especially in faraway lands. She also has the same kind of open nature, and cares so deeply about people, like those who are homeless and very needy. They also share a spirit of adventure, and the enjoyment of making friends with someone from a very different culture.

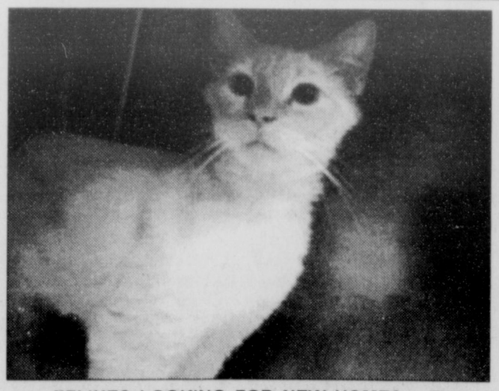
I'm thankful that I can call my dear friend from history, Marla Frickey, and talk about our memories. She is just about the only person I had a close relationship with who is still available to talk with.

There was much made about a Jeopardy competition between two human players and a super computer. I guess the computer won.

I believe my horse Little Joe showed more genuine intelligence than the super computer. I was at the gate to the horse pasture with about six horses, including a mare and her young foal, and a bunch of other horses separated the foal from her mother. I was frustrated because I couldn't straighten out that very wrong situation, so I started to cry hard and just talked over with Joey what was going on in his field.

Very few people believe that a horse can understand or comprehend complicated messages. But the fact is that Joe saw my emotional state and heard the words I spoke to him. Then he analyzed the situation with the rest of the horses, and was able to figure out what was wrong with that picture and put it together. He simply galloped away, separated the foal from the other horses, and chased it back to its mother. It involved many thinking skills and understanding emotions, but he was able to put all those things into one clear idea, then act on it quickly.

Adorable Adoptables



FELINES LOOKING FOR NEW HOMES – This scrawny looking buff-colored feline (above left) has blue eyes and may be part Siamese. She was adopted from the Garrett County Animal Shelter, but was brought back and, once again, needs a new home. "She will need to be in a home with gentle older children or adults," noted a Garrett County Humane Society spokesperson. Also looking for a home is a very nice big grey cat (above right), and Daisy (below), a 10 year-old calico that was given up by her owner. "She needs someone to take care of her, as she can live another 10 years or so," the spokesperson said. "There are also a young and older tabby here (both are nice), and a large orange tabby that is so tired of waiting to be adopted. There is only one adoptable dog – the black Lab featured in last week's adoptables. Last week's white/brown dog was adopted, and several other dogs were taken to rescues by HART. There are three animal groups in Garrett County to help you with the cost of having your pet spayed or neutered. Please have it done to prevent unwanted litters and to improve your pet's health." For more information, persons may call the shelter at 301-334-3553. Located along Oakland Sang Run Road, the facility is open Monday through Friday. Photos courtesy of the GC Humane Society.

CELTIC CROSSROADS TO PERFORM AT MTN. RIDGE – Frostburg State University's Cultural Events Series will present Celtic Crossroads, performing Irish music, on Sunday, March 13, at 6:30 p.m. Because of the show's popularity, this performance has been moved from FSU's Pealer Recital Hall to the larger venue of the stage at Mountain Ridge High School in Frostburg. The name Celtic Crossroads originates from a time in Ireland when neighboring communities met at the crossroads between towns and villages to socialize. The show will feature seven musicians playing more than 20 instruments. They will play a wide range of music in the Irish genre, including Eastern European gypsy, American bluegrass, world classical, jazz, and the various forms of Celtic music from around the rest of the world. Tickets for Celtic Crossroads are $22 for adults and $15 for those under 17. Corporate and group discount ticket rates are also available. Tickets may be ordered by calling 301-687-3137 or online at http://ces.frostburg.edu. The Cultural Events Series is supported by grants from the Maryland State Arts Council.

JULIUS CAESAR BEING PRESENTED AT WVU – William Shakespeare's retelling of the betrayal and assassination of the first Roman emperor could be considered greatly relevant to today's world, with dictators being deposed and coups on the rise across the planet. The play based on the true murder of Caesar will be staged at West Virginia University over the next two weeks, opening on March 4. "A country polarized and divided by political ideology, a country dominated by political celebrity and mass media, a country on the brink of upheaval and revolution... sound familiar?" asks director Jerry McGonigle. "Experience Julius Caesar, the classic story of political celebrity, intrigue, and assassination, seen through a shockingly relevant contemporary lens." The lead role of Caesar is being played by a woman, Blaire Wendel. McGonigle said Shakespeare wrote few roles for women, so he prefers to challenge female students with the traditionally male roles. Other actors pictured above are Ashley Shade, Matthew Webster, Greg Holt, Kara Haas, and Greg Jernigan. The play will be given in the Gladys G. Davis Theatre of the Creative Arts Center, Morgantown, W.Va., on the following schedule: March 4 and 5, 7:30 p.m.; March 6 at 2 p.m.; March 8-12 at 7:30 p.m.; and March 13 at 2 p.m. Tickets and more information may be obtained by calling the box office at 304-293-7469.

FSU PRESENTING GLASS MENAGERIE – One of Tennessee Williams' most well-known plays, The Glass Menagerie, will be presented at Frostburg State University on Tuesday, March 8, at 7:30 p.m. Part of the Main Stage Series of the Cultural Events Series, the play, presented by Walnut Street Theatre, will be performed in the Drama Theatre of the Performing Arts Center. The play takes place in 1937 in a small apartment in St. Louis at the home of Amanda Wingfield and her two children – Tom, an aspiring poet and shoe factory worker, and Laura, a painfully shy girl who wears a brace on her leg and spends her free time playing with her small glass animal collection. Amanda is Laura's mother and a former Southern belle, who, since her husband left her, has been obsessed with finding an appropriate "gentleman caller" for Laura. Pictured clockwise from top left are actors Damon Bonetti, Wendy Scharfman, Jared Michael Delaney, and Jillian Louis. Tickets are $22 for adults and $15 for those under 17. Group discount tickets are available. For ticket information, persons may call the Cultural Events Series office at 301-687-3137 or visit ces.frostburg.edu. This tour engagement of Walnut Street Theatre is funded through the Mid-Atlantic Arts Foundation's Mid-Atlantic Tours program with support from the National Endowment for the Arts and the Maryland State Arts Council.

STUNTMAN! MY CAR-CRASHING, PLANE-JUMPING, BONE-BREAKING, DEATH-DEFYING HOLLYWOOD LIFE

by Hal Needham

C. 2011, Little, Brown and Co., $25.99; 320 pages

Review by Terri Schlichenmeyer

A towel is not a cape.

That's a hard lesson you learned once, long ago, when you jumped off the roof with a rectangle of terrycloth tied around your neck. Likewise, flapping your arms will not allow you to fly, and walking into a wall doesn't guarantee you'll go through it.

Several cuts, scrapes, maybe a broken bone later, and you learned, but there'll always be a part of you that wishes you could have done cool tricks like in the movies. So read about a guy who lives the dream in Stuntman! My Car-Crashing, Plane-Jumping, Bone-Breaking, Death-Defying Hollywood Life by Hal Needham.

If you're a movie buff, you know how much you hate fakey stunts. Not only does your brain scream, "That's impossible!" but it also ruins the film. Such was moviegoing before Hal Needham began his career.

Needham was born in the hills of Arkansas, the son of a sharecropper. Life was hard. There was no running water in their two-room home, the family's meals came out of the garden or the nearby woods, and they moved a lot. Still, Needham says, it was all he knew then.

When World War II began, Needham's stepfather moved the family to St. Louis, where Needham learned to work hard. Though he was just 10 years old, he brought money into the household, to the detriment of his education.

By ninth grade, Needham had left school and started working with a tree-cutting service because the pay was good and he was unafraid of heights. When he was old enough, he joined the Army to fight in the Korean War and became a paratrooper. He also became a seamster and a loan shark while in the service, and he met a man who was on his way to Hollywood. That man hired Needham to jump from an airborne Cessna 150 airplane onto a galloping horse. And a stuntman was born.

Throughout his career, Needham worked with dozens of stars in dozens of movies, TV shows, commercials, and promotional films. He founded the first stuntman group to include women and minorities. His creativity changed the way stunts were done and movies were made.

And he broke 56 bones, and his back – twice.

You know how you like to watch a really good, action-packed movie? Well, reading Stuntman! is like that, only better.

Needham made his story as exciting as a stampede, as free-wheeling as a 10-story fall, and as funny as a cannonball run. He brags a bit (which he says stuntmen usually hate), and he drops names all over the place (something I usually hate), but it fits in this memoir, so I didn't mind here. I thought reading Stuntman! was a very different, surprisingly revealing, wildly fun way to spend some free time, somewhat like sneaking off to a Saturday afternoon 99-cent matinee on a rainy day. The only difference is, the book lasts longer.

So take off your X-ray glasses and pass the popcorn. For movie buffs and daredevil wannabes, scoring Stuntman! is a pretty cool trick.

GCAC Accepting Applications For Arts Funding

The Garrett County Arts Council is now accepting applications from nonprofit organizations requesting funding support for public arts programs and projects scheduled in Garrett County between July 1, 2011, and June 30, 2012.

The annual deadline for organizations applying for funding support grants in amount of $500 or more is March 21. Applications must be mailed or delivered to the Garrett County Arts Council on or before the deadline to qualify for consideration.

According to Karen Reckner, executive director, one of the main purposes of the Garrett County Arts Council is to support community arts development and the public presentation of local arts programs through this grant program. Primary support is provided by a grant from the Maryland State Arts Council.

During the current year, the Garrett County Arts Council provided $44,850 in community arts development funding grants.

Copies of application forms, eligibility guidelines, and program requirements are available at the GCAC office located inside the Gallery Shop on Alder Street in Oakland, or may be obtained by calling 301-334-6580. Additional information about the Garrett County Arts Council and scheduled community arts events is available online at www.garrettarts.com

Huskies Wrap Up Regular Season With Wins Over Miners, Falcons

The Northern High boys' varsity gained some momentum for the sectional playoffs this past week, as the Huskies wrapped up their regular season with a pair of victories. The Huskies used tenacious defense to roll over host Mountain Ridge on Friday, 51-28, and then stopped the visiting Falcons of Frankfort High School on Monday, 55-46.

The wins evened the Huskies' overall record at 11-11 and improved their Appalachian Mountain Athletic Conference mark to 6-10. They will travel to Allegany this Friday for their opening playoff contest.

The score of Friday's game with Mountain Ridge was close through the first half, with the Huskies ahead 13-9 at the end of the first quarter and up by just two points, 21-19, at halftime.

But the Northern defense stiffened in the third quarter, which concluded with the Huskies on top by five, 30-25, and the Miners would then score only three points in the entire fourth quarter, while Northern erupted for 21 points in that frame to win going away.

Matt Gibson led three Huskies in double figures, netting 15 points, while Cody Humberson finished with 12 and Steven Holtschneider netted 11.

Tyler Whitaker paced the Miners with 11 points.

The Northern junior varsity was edged in the first game, 43-39, behind a 21-point scoring performance by Mountain Ridge's Jacob Kyle. Trey Evans led the Huskies with 10 points.

The game ended the Miners' regular season and dropped their records to 7-14 overall and 6-10 in AMAC games.

Gibson was also the scoring leader for the Northern varsity in its win over Frankfort on Monday, as he poured in 23 points, and also recorded four steals.

The Huskies were on top 12-9 after one period, led 26-21 at halftime, and outscored the Falcons in the third stanza by a 16-8 margin to take a 42-29 advantage into the final quarter.

Tyler Wilt also reached double figures for the Huskies, hitting 11 points. Humberson scored nine, Garrett Rayner pulled down a team-high eight rebounds, and Austin Doerr recorded seven boards and four assists.

Brian Bills and Ty Bowers led the Falcons in scoring with 13 and 12 points, respectively. The loss gave Frankfort a 1-20 final record, and was the 15th AMAC loss in as many conference starts.

RAMS CONCLUDE WITH VICTORY – The varsity boys of Southern High School wrapped up their regular season with a mild upset win over visiting Bishop Walsh on Tuesday. The Rams, ranked fourth in the area, recorded a 50-43 win over the second-ranked Spartans, and will now go into the West Sectional tournament as the top-seeded team. Pictured at the conclusion of a fast break in the photo above is Ram junior D.J. Ritchie making an easy layup. Ritchie would finish the game with 11 points. Other Rams identifiable in the photo are Wyatt McBee (#5), Kurt Gangler (#3), and Calvin Hilliard (#34). Below, Hilliard lofts a shot over a Spartan defender while teammate Joey Kisselovich (#15) positions himself for a possible rebound. Hilliard led the Rams in scoring with 15 points, and Kisselovich recorded 11 points, six rebounds, and four assists. Rams End Regular Season With Loss To Tucker, Victory Over BW

The boys' varsity of Southern High School fell to host Tucker County on Friday, 54-42, but then bounced back Tuesday evening to pull off a mild upset over visiting Bishop Walsh, 50-43, in the final regular-season game for the Rams.

Southern, which is 14-8 overall and 12-4 in Appalachian Mountain Athletic Conference games, is the top seed in the Maryland Class 1A West Sectional Tournament, which will begin this Friday.

In the loss to Tucker County on Friday, Mountain Lion Logan Snyder was basically a one-man wrecking crew against the Rams, as he scored all but 14 of his team's points.

Snyder hit 11 field goals, five of which were from three-point range, and connected on 13 of 15 free throws to finish with 40 points.

The Rams trailed by 10, 17-7, at the end of the first quarter, and closed the gap to 27-22 by halftime, but were down by nine, 40-31, going into the fourth period.

Calvin Hilliard accounted for more than half of the Rams' points, as he finished with 22, while D.J. Ritchie also reached double figures with 10 points.

The game was practically won at the free throw line, from which the Lions (12-7) made good on 15 of 22 attempts, and the Rams netted just four of seven tosses.

The Southern junior varsity was victorious in the first game, posting a 40-36 win.

Tuesday's game against the Spartans of Bishop Walsh was close through the first half, with the Rams down 13-11 at the end of the first period, and holding a 22-18 advantage at intermission. The Rams outscored the Spartans in the third stanza by a 15-10 margin to take a 37-28 lead into the final quarter. The third period ended with a three-point bucket by Southern's Ritchie.

The Spartans rallied to cut the Ram lead to four points midway through the fourth period, but they were then forced to foul, and the Rams took full advantage, making good on nine of 10 free throws in the final period.

The Rams went 12-for-16 for the game from the charity stripe, while the Spartans (18-6, 11-4 AMAC) hit six of eight attempts.

Hilliard led the Rams in scoring with 15 points, Joe Kisselovich recorded 11 points, six rebounds, and four assists, and Ritchie also netted 11 points.

Leading BW's offensive effort was Quincy Redmon with a dozen points. Richie Mann just missed double figures with nine points.

The Southern junior varsity fell in the preliminary game, 46-31. Lucas Bruck and Liam Rhodes paced the BW jayvees with 17 and 14 points, respectively. Nevin White led the Rams with eight points.

Because the varsity Rams are the top seed in the playoffs, they will not play until next Monday when they host the winner of Friday's game between Hancock and Clear Spring in a quarterfinal game. Coach Jon Hegeman's squad is also guaranteed a home game in the semifinals with a win Monday.

Rams To Face Campers Tonight In Jayvee Final

The Southern High School girls' junior varsity team has won its first-round game in the Mountain Ridge Junior Varsity Tournament and is set to face Allegany in tonight's championship game at 7:30 p.m.

The Ram's Tess Watson tallied 13 points in yesterday's first-round win over Fort Hill, 44-37. In the game, the Southern squad found itself behind for much of the second half, but rallied in the fourth to take the win and advance.

Alicia Roth had 10 points and Raeslee Weimer nine for the Rams, who trailed by seven with 2:28 to go in the third quarter and allowed only five points the rest of the way. Karisa Weissgerber made five big free throws to help seal the win for Southern.

Sarah Lowery had 15 points and Erin Amoruso eight for Fort Hill.

In the matchup that followed, Allegany took Mountain Ridge 33-16. The Rams will face Keke Paige, who scored eight points on Mountain Ridge, as well as Kristen Sell and Cassidy Williams, who both had six.

Courtney Nightengale led Mountain Ridge with six points scored.

SOUTHERN BLOWS PAST TUCKER IN REGULAR SEASON FINALE — The Southern High School girls' varsity basketball team defeated Tucker Saturday, 50-42, and capped its regular season with a win at home. Pictured left, junior guard Corinne Fike (1) looks to score for the Rams, while teammate Hannah Horne (24) boxes out her defender. Rams Take Two Wins At Home; Send Tucker, Mtn. Ridge Packing

The Southern High School varsity girls' team dropped its rivalry game last week (details in Northern girls' article), but rebounded to win two straight and end the regular season on a high note.

In a Saturday matchup with Tucker, Southern had three key players in double figures and took the win at home, 50-42. In Monday's regular-season finale against Mountain Ridge, the Rams completely dominated on the defensive end, limiting their opponent to just seven field goals to take a second-straight home game, 42-35.

Hosting Tucker, Southern pulled away late in the fourth quarter to claim victory. Alli Shaffer finished with a team-high 16 points and also tied for a team-best five rebounds. Mariah Stem had 12 points, and Hannah Horne added 10.

The lead shifted from team to team throughout the game, as both teams took turns holding the advantage. Tucker was ahead by five at one time in the second quarter, but in the fourth the Rams pulled away before claiming the victory.

Kaitlynn Maxwell had a game-high 19 points for the Mountain Lions.

Tucker won the junior varsity game 46-34. Raeslee Weimer scored 12 and Faith Tichnell had 11 for Southern.

Against Mountain Ridge, the Rams ended their regular season with an impressive defensive performance. The swarming Southern squad held the third-ranked Miners to just seven field goals in the match.

The Rams also excelled from the foul line, hitting 13 out of 16 in the game. They were led offensively by Mandy Sweitzer, who had 13 points and five rounds. Teammates Gina Stuck scored eight points, while Shaffer pulled down six rebounds.

Mountain Ridge was led by Shae Winner with 14 points and by Madi Nightengale, who tallied 11.

The two teams entered the final quarter tied at 24 before Southern turned up the heat and went on an 18-11 scoring drive and closed the game strong.

"We just exploded in the fourth," said Southern coach Danny Bosley. "The key to the game was holding them to seven baskets. Our defense—I've never seen anything quite like it. It was as good a defense as we've played all year—without a doubt."

Lakers Open 2011 Baseball Season With Two Victories And Four Losses

The 2011 spring baseball season has opened for the Garrett College Lakers, who vied in three doubleheaders this past week and came away with a record of 2-4.

The Lakers were swept by the junior varsity of host West Virginia State last Friday, losing the first game, 14-2, and dropping the second, 7-6. The Lakers then recorded a 16-15, 21-1 sweep of Prince George's CC on Saturday in the Richmond Tournament, but were then crushed by Pitt Community College of North Carolina in the same tourney on Sunday, 20-1 and 12-1.

In the first game of Friday's twinbill with W.Va. State, the Lakers found themselves down 11-0 before scoring a run in the fifth inning.

GC's six-hit effort included a triple by Dan Warnick, a double by Willie Poteat, and two singles by Joey Lawler. Jason Ashby took the loss on the mound.

The Lakers took a 3-0 lead in the first inning of the second game, but their opponents rallied to take a 6-3 advantage by the bottom of the fifth. Then Laker Luke Szymanski smacked a two-run pinch-hit double in the sixth to make it 6-5, and later in the same inning tied the score at 6-6 with an RBI groundout.

A pair of Laker errors put the Yellow Jackets back on top, 7-6, in the bottom of the sixth. The Lakers had a golden opportunity to win the contest in the top of the seventh, as they loaded the bases with no outs. But two consecutive strikeouts followed by a groundout squelched that opportunity and sealed the win for W.Va. State.

The Laker bats came alive in the doubleheader on Saturday against Prince George's, as they put 15 hits in the book in the opener, and added 13 more in the second game.

The Owls stayed almost even with the Lakers in terms of hitting and scoring in the first game, recording 15 hits and nearly pulling out a win in the final inning.

The Lakers trailed 10-6 by the end of the fourth inning, but put eight runs on the board in the fifth to take a 14-10 advantage. The Owls battled back to knot the score at 14-14 in the top of the sixth, but the Lakers added a pair of runs in the bottom of that same inning to make it 16-14.

After scoring one run in the top of the seventh, the Owls had the tying run at second base with two outs, but Laker reliever Caleb Hill struck out the next batter to get the win.

Dan Warnick stroked a pair of RBI doubles and scored four times for the Lakers, while Jose Soto rapped two triples and a single for four RBI. Luke Szymanski added a double and a single for three RBI.

The second game was no contest, as the Lakers scored 10 runs in the first inning, and added seven more in the second to take a commanding 17-0 lead.

Drew Mason hit a triple and two singles for four RBI for Garrett, while teammate Cam King hit a double and two singles, also for four RBI. Corey Brown contributed two doubles that plated three runs.

Getting the win on the mound was Kevin Ramirez, who strike out six and allowed just one run in five innings of work.

The Lakers failed to muster anything close to their offensive performance against Prince George's when they faced Pitt CC on Sunday. They managed only four hits in each of the two games.

Pitt, meanwhile, ripped the Laker defense with 22 hits in the first game and scored in all five innings. The winners had just seven hits in the second game, but gained a dozen runs anyway to bring the game to an early close.

Andrew Mason had two of the Lakers' four hits in the first game, both singles.

The Lakers are slated to return to action at Southern Maryland this Saturday, with another doubleheader scheduled to get under way at noon.

Northern Star Is CAC's Player Of The Week

Frostburg State senior and former Northern High School star Corey Carr has been selected as the Capital Athletic Conference Player of the Week in his very first week as a Bobcat.

Carr helped FSU to a 3-1 opening weekend at the Methodist Diamond Tournament by going 7-for-14 with three multi-hit games.

In one such game, FSU's 9-1 win over Roanoke, Carr went 3-for-5 with two doubles, two RBI, and two runs scored.

The catcher finished with three doubles, a home run, and a walk in the four-game stretch, while tallying four runs scored and six RBI total.

FSU will now face St. Mary's on the road and begin a three-game set with the Seahawks today at 3:30 p.m.

Laker Men Will Face Beaver CC In Region XX

The Garrett College men's basketball team will be in action tomorrow evening in the first round of the Division II NJCAA Region XX Men's Basketball Tournament at Hagerstown Community College.

The Lakers, seeded fifth among the eight teams, will face fourth-seeded Beaver CC at noon Friday. The winner of that contest will face the winner of the Cecil (#1) vs. Catonsville (#8) game at 3 p.m. on Saturday.

The Lakers lost an early season game to the Beavers, 73-71, in the Potomac State Invitational Dec. 4. Callum Jenkins recorded 25 points and 11 rebounds for Garrett in that contest.

Cecil CC is ranked 9th in the nation, but the Lakers fared well against Cecil in the regular season, falling in overtime, 78-75.

Ram Freshmen Defeat Keyser And Allegany

A 15-point scoring effort by Reese Haskiell led the Southern High freshman boys to a 50-36 win over host Keyser last Wednesday in their final regular-season game of the season, and then last night the Rams whipped Allegany, 45-37, in the championship game of the Mountain Ridge freshman tournament.

Kyle Sherbin and Derek Hinebaugh also reached double figures for the Rams against Keyser, scoring 12 and 10 points, respectively.

The freshman Golden Tornadoes were led by Danny Fife, who had a game-high 18 points.

Haskiell also led the Rams in last night's win over Allegany, again scoring 15 points. Hinebaugh and Sherbin each finished with 10 points, while Darion Lopez and Colton Sivic led the Campers with nine and eight points, respectively.

The Ram freshman ended their season with an overall record of 14-2.

Northern Girls Freeze Out Southern, Smash Fort Hill In Reg-Season End

In the intra-county rivalry played on Freeze Out night in Accident, the Northern High School girls' varsity basketball team soared over Southern, 63-56, behind a 38-point Kaitlynn Fratz effort. In the team's regular-season finale Monday at Fort Hill, Northern claimed another victory, 77-52.

In last Thursday night's rivalry game, the Igloo was standing-room only as the Huskies took down the Rams. One side of the gym seemed a sea of blue after 500 free T-shirts were handed out before a game categorized by Northern head coach Steve Fratz as one "great atmosphere."

In the game, Fratz made 10 baskets to include four three pointers, which all came during the Huskies' 22-point second quarter. The scoring drive gave Northern a 17-point lead at halftime.

Fratz also asserted herself from the free-throw line, where she made 14-for-18 foul shots. No other Husky reached double figures.

After the half, Northern's foul trouble allowed the Rams to chip away at the lead. Southern outscored the Huskies 14-12 in the third quarter and 22-14 in the fourth.

"Our big girls got in foul trouble," explained Coach Fratz. "Southern started going inside and got it to within six with about two minutes to go."

The Huskies outrebounded Southern, 28-25.

Alycia Horner led the Rams with 15 points, and Mandy Sweitzer was next with 12.

Northern won the junior varsity game, 50-34. Kirsten Rayner and Mandi Monahan each scored 12 points for the Huskies. Tess Watson and Allie Alt each had 11 points for Southern.

To cap the regular season, Fratz scored 28 points as Northern finished on top of Fort Hill. Fratz had 2 field goals, including three three-pointers, while teammate McKenzie matched her with three three-point shots of her own. Northern finished the game with seven total.

The Huskies took an early lead and ended the first quarter, up 25-14, and maintained the advantage before they entered the half, 44-29. Northern entered the fourth quarter ahead 61-47.

Fort Hill received 14 points from Mariah James and 12 from Alyssia Twigg, who also snatched seven rebounds.

The Sentinels won the junior varsity game, 34-22, as Sarah Lowery scored 11 points and Alexis Kimmel had eight. Rayner and Monahan both scored six points for Northern.

The Huskies are now set to enter the Maryland Class 1A West Sectional tournament as the second seed and will host Clear Spring on Saturday at 7 p.m. Only MPSSAA passes will be accepted. Admission will be $5 per person with no charge for those under the age of 7.

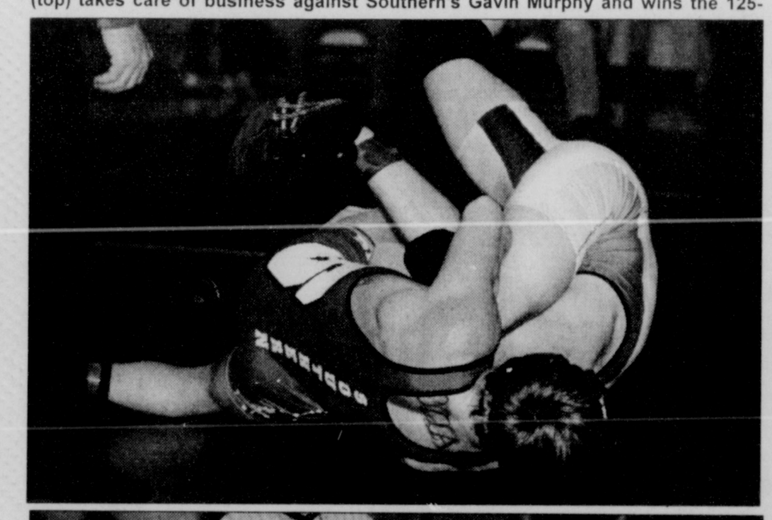
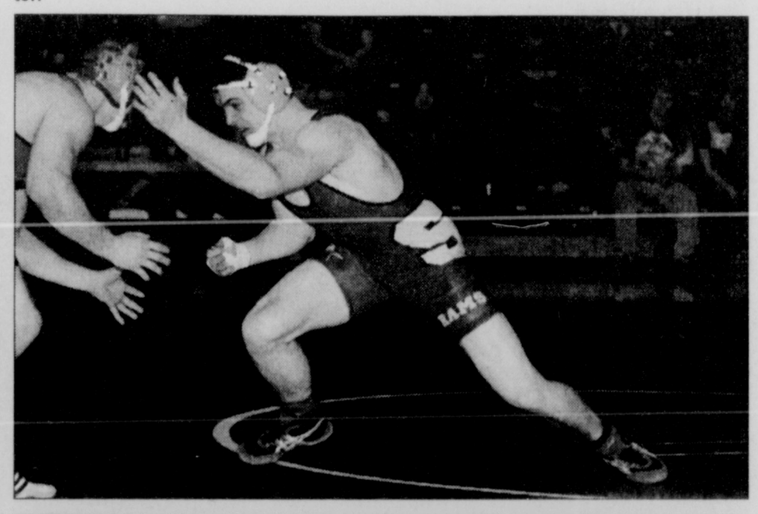
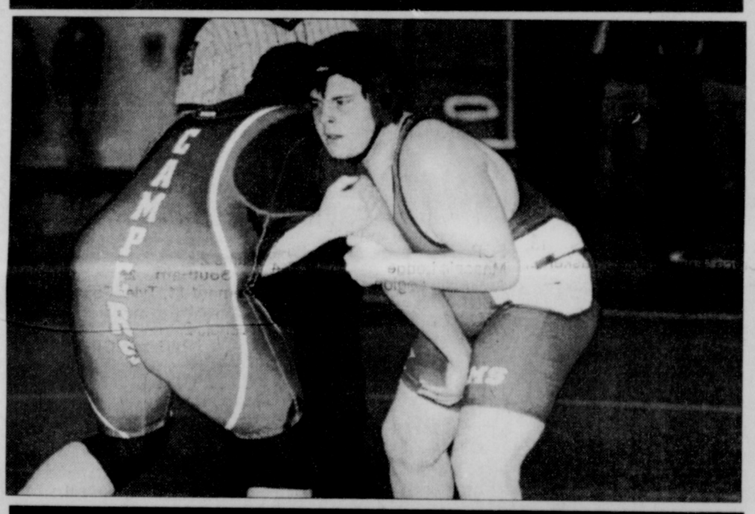
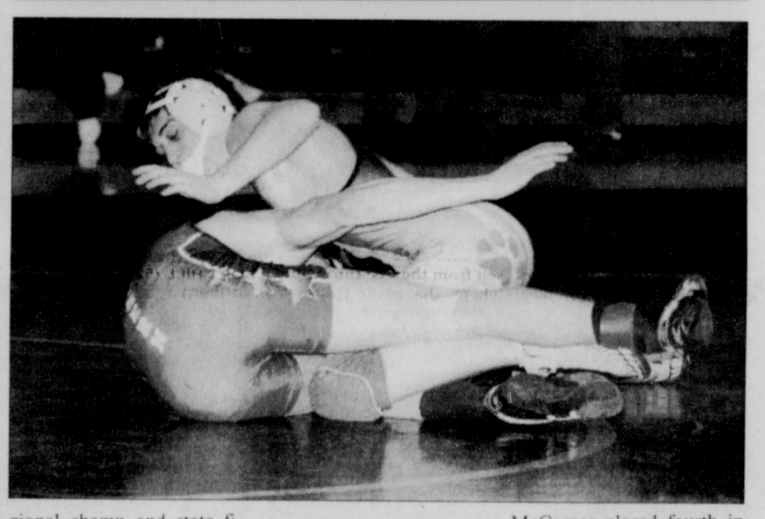
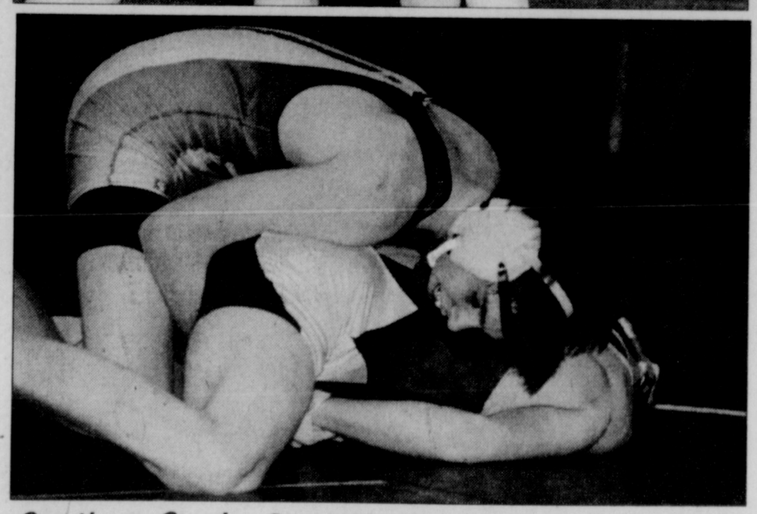
BI-COUNTY CHAMPIONS – Of the 13 area high school wrestlers who won individual championships in the annual Bi-County Tournament, held Saturday at Mountain Ridge in Frostburg, nine of them were Garrett County grapplers. The Southern Rams, who won the team title for the fifth consecutive year, had five individual champions, while the Northern Huskies, who placed second as a team, finished with four individual champions, all but one of whom are pictured here in action during their title bouts on Saturday. Not pictured is Southern Ram Austin Shaffer, who was the champion in the 112-pound division. Above left is Southern freshman Coy Ozias, undefeated so far this season, as he controls and eventually pins T.J. Thomas of Mountain Ridge in the 103-pound division. Above center, Carlos Howard (top) tangles with Southern's Sean Chapman and goes on to win by decision in the 130-pound final. In the photo above right, Northern's Adam Finzel (top) takes care of business against Southern's Gavin Murphy and wins the 125-pound division title by decision. Below left, Lex Ozias, who like his brother Coy is undefeated this season, pins Sean Kamp in the finals of the 152-pound division. Below center, Ram Jakob "Bubba" Scheffel, right, goes after Nick Owens of Northern and eventually pins him to win the 171-pound final. In the next row down, left, Southern heavyweight Austin Miller, right, locks the arm of Andy Day of Allegany and eventually wins via a pin. In the photo to the right of that one, Kameron Kamp of Northern, top, battles Southern's Mikey Skipper in the 145-pound title bout and earns a 5-3 decision. In the photo at the bottom, Husky Matt Thomas earns riding time and records a decision over Tom Patterson of Mountain Ridge to win the 140-pound division championship. The Rams and Huskies will be back in action this weekend in the 1A/2A West Region Tournament. Photos courtesy of Delos Carpenter.











Rams Win Bi-County Team Title; Huskies Place Second

With five individual titles, plus five runners-up and two third-place finishes, the Southern High School wrestling team successfully defended its Bi-County Tournament team championship at Mountain Ridge High School in Frostburg on Saturday.

The Rams finished with 186 points, while the Northern Huskies placed second as a team with 152 points. Host Mountain Ridge was third with 147 points, Fort Hill followed with 81 points, and Allegany placed fifth with 43 points.

Coy and Lex Ozias, both undefeated this season, and once-defeated Jakob "Bubba" Scheffel each won individual titles for the Rams, as did Austin Shaffer and Kevin Miller.

Coy Ozias was the top grappler in the 103-pound division, and pinned J.T. Thomas of Mountain Ridge in the final bout of that weight class.

Shaffer was the champion in the 112-pound division, and recorded an 8-0 major decision over Jacob Taylor, also of Mountain Ridge, in his final clash.

Lex Ozias pinned Sean Kamp of Northern in the finals of the 152-pound division, Scheffel pinned Northern's Nick Owens in the 171-pound finale, and Miller pinned Allegany's Andy Day in the heavyweight division title clash.

The Northern Huskies finished the day with four individual titles.

Adam Finzel captured the 125-pound championship when he recorded a 6-0 decision over Southern's Gavin Murphy.

Carlos Howard was the top finisher in the 130-pound class when he gained a 9-3 decision over Sean Chapman of Southern.

Matt Thomas handed Mountain Ridge's Tom Patterson an 8-4 decision in the finals of the 140-pound division.

Kameron Kamp was a 5-3 point winner over Mikey Skipper of Southern in the 145-pound final.

Runners-up for the Rams, besides Murphy, Chapman, and Skipper, were Dakota Pritt, who lost via a decision in the 135-pound division final, and Dale Marple, who was edged by a single point, 6-5, by Fort Hill's James Bender in the 160-pound title bout.

Runners-up for the Huskies, besides Kamp and Owens, were Cody Osselburn in the 119-pound division, Jason Opel, who was nipped 1-0 in the 189-pound division title clash, and 215-pound Anthony Cervi.

Rams garnering third places were Nick Stewart (119) and Scott Cooper (189), while Northern's Chris McCann (135), Chad Wilburn (160), and Brandon Platter (285) all placed fourth.

Other individual champions in the tournament were Brian Thompson (119), Dillon Darr (135), and Bender (160), all of Fort Hill, and Jason Wright (189) and Drew Winters (215) of Mountain Ridge.

The Rams, who are the defending Maryland 1A/2A state champions, and the Huskies will be back in action this Friday and Saturday when they compete in the Maryland Class 1A/2A West Region Tournament. It will be hosted by North Hagerstown High School. The top finishers will advance to the state tournament, slated for the following weekend.

Southern Grad Daniel Carr Sets UMBC Win Mark

Daniel Carr, Oakland, currently a sophomore wrestler for the University of Maryland Baltimore County's club team, recently set a single-season win record at his college by earning an 8-2 decision over Luke Fedechko of Penn State in the 149-pound division.

It was Carr's 38th victory of the season, which eclipsed the previous mark of 37 set by Alex Broadwater, brother of Carr's coach Luke Broadwater, in 2009.

Carr also is second to Broadwater in number of pins in a season with 21, while his former teammate had 27 in a single year.

"I knew going into it that I needed one more win," Carr said. "This was actually one of their better kids, so I was a little nervous."

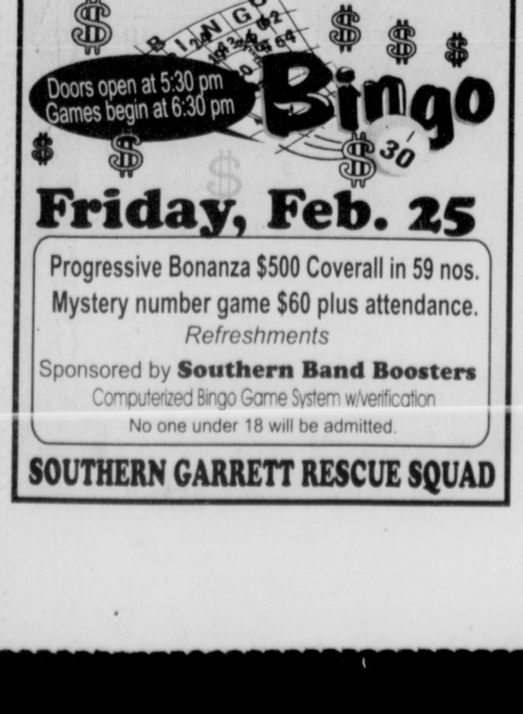
Coach Broadwater said the dual meet brought one of UMBC's largest crowds in the program's eight-year history.

"There was a bunch of Southern fans with signs, holding them up and cheering for him," Broadwater said. "It was really nice to see the Southern Garrett contingent."

Carr, a 2007 graduate of Southern, has wrestled at both 149 pounds and 157 pounds this season and has compiled a 38-14 overall record. He finished 27-13 as a freshman.

Carr was two-time regional champ and state finalist when he wrestled for the Rams under Coach Dave Taylor.

Recently named a team co-captain for the Golden Retrievers, Carr placed third last season at the NCWA Mid-Atlantic Conference championship. He says he hopes to improve on that finish this year.



Glotfelty Keeps On Winning At McDaniel College

Brock Glotfelty, a former athletic standout and graduate of Northern High School, continues to be the top wrestler on the McDaniel College team, as he has upped his season record to 29-1 in recent matches and extended the institution's all-time career win record.

Glotfelty won four matches in a multi-team event on February 12, including two by first-period pins. He then captured another victory in a match against nationally ranked York (Pa.) last Friday to extend his record number of wins to 122 against just 21 losses in nearly four seasons of competition.

Spaghetti Dinner To Benefit Cheerleaders

A benefit spaghetti dinner will be held for Western Maryland Xtreme All-Star Cheerleaders on Sunday, Feb. 27, at the Oakland fire hall. The dinner will begin at 11 a.m. The price for adults is set at $8 a person, while kids ages 4-10 and seniors 65 and older will be charged $6.

The proceeds will be used for travel expenses as the group plans to attend a national dance competition.

Southern Mat Club Wrestlers Keeping Busy

Members of the Southern Mat Club have been busy over the past couple of weekends participating in several tournaments.

Devan Hamrick represented the SMC at the Williamsport Wrestling Club's annual tournament on Saturday, Feb. 12, and placed second in the age 11/12, 75-pound class.

Then this past Saturday, the SMC participated in the Connellsville Area Wrestling Tournament in Connellsville, Pa., and Hamrick finished fourth in the 11/12, 75-pound class, while Joey McComas placed fourth in the 7/7, 55-pound class. Other SMC participants were Nathan Tasker, Jake Sweitzer, Tanner Dropplemman, and Quentin VanGorder.

Also on Saturday, Reid Schenk represented the SMC in the Maryland State Wrestling Association tournament held at Shipley Arena in Westminster. He placed fourth in the 7/8, 52-pound division.

The SMC participated in the Trinity Youth Wrestling tournament in Washington, Pa., on Sunday. Devan Hamrick finished third in the 11/12, 75-pound class, and Marshall Smith placed fourth in the 7/8, 45-pound division. Anthony Smith also was a participant.

PLACES FOURTH AT STATES – Reid Schenk, a member of the Southern Mat Club, captured fourth place in the age 8 and under, 52-pound weight division of the Maryland State Wrestling Association youth tournament on Saturday. He is pictured with his coach/father Gene Schenk.

Fishing Contest Winners Named

The winners in the Garrett County Ice Fishing Contest, sponsored by Deep Creek Outfitters Hardware and Bait House and the Garrett County Chamber of Commerce, for the week ending February 19 are:

Chain pickerel: 1 lb., 12 ozs., 21½", caught by Lindsay Wolf, Friendsville.

Yellow perch: 1 lb., 10 ozs, 14½", caught by J.D. Hardesty, Grantsville.

Weekly winners are awarded a certificate, and plaques are awarded for the season's largest catches of bluegill, brown trout, chain pickerel, crappies, largemouth and smallmouth bass, northern pike, rainbow trout, walleye and yellow perch. To enter the contest, catches must be taken to Deep Creek Outfitters Hardware and Bait House at 32 Outfitters Way, McHenry. The ice fishing contest will continue as long as the lake has sufficient ice cover.

Showcase Bowling Tourney Concludes; SHS Eyes Adjusted

The Showcase Tournament of the Allegany County Inter-Scholastic Bowling League was held at the Par-Matt Lanes in Oakland/Mtn. Lake Park on Saturday. The Mountain Ridge girls and the Allegany boys won the Actual Division, while the Hampshire girls and Calvary Christian boys took the Adjusted Division.

The Mountain Ridge girls continued their winning ways and perfect season by taking first place in the Actual Division. On Friday night, the girls defeated Hampshire by the score of 30-6 to go 16-0 on the season.

In the four years since Mountain Ridge High School was formed, the girls' bowling team has amassed 60 wins, tallied only two losses, and had one tie. Ali Eller and Ashley Jenkins have led the team all four years.

Mountain Ridge had 173 points, with its closest opponent being Southern with 147.5 points. Hampshire followed with 135 points, then Fort Hill with 125. Bishop Walsh came in fifth at 89 points over Frankfort at 87 points. Rounding out the scoring was Keyser (80.5), Calvary Christian (61), and Allegany (47).

In boys' play, Allegany (161) scored 4.5 points more than regular season Actual Division Fort Hill (157.5) to take first place in the Showcase. Fort Hill finished the season with a perfect 16-0 record, while Allegany came in third with a record of 11-5. Third place went to Hampshire with 125.5 points, followed by Mountain Ridge at 121 and Southern with 109. Keyser scored 82 points, followed by Bishop Walsh (74.5), Frankfort (74), and Calvary Christian (40.5).

In Adjusted Division play, Hampshire took first place in the tournament with 143.5 points. Taking second place was Southern at 121 points, just one point ahead of Frankfort (120), while Keyser was a half point behind that mark in fourth with 119.5 points.

Allegany had 102, one ahead of Bishop Walsh's 101. Mountain Ridge follows with 93.5, Fort Hill at 77, and Calvary Christian with 67.5.

By the end of the boys' tournament, Calvary Christian, which ended the season in last place, had taken the top spot with 163 points. Bishop Walsh came in second with 144 points, followed by third place Southern at 123. Allegany was next at 122 points, with Frankfort posting 105 points. In the last four spots were Hampshire at 83.5 scored, Mountain Ridge with 82, Keyser at 78.5, and Fort Hill with 44 points.

Individual high-game efforts were rolled in the tournament by Rae Heavner of Calvary Christian, who had a 180 game, and Hampshire's Dylan Pepper, who had a 239 game. Also scoring high games were Karisa Saville from Hampshire with a 176, Keyser's Sarah Bryon with a 171, Southern's Megan Stolbom with a 169, and Mystie Benson (Fort Hill) with a 161. For Mountain Ridge, Eller had a 163, while her teammate Jenkins had a 158.

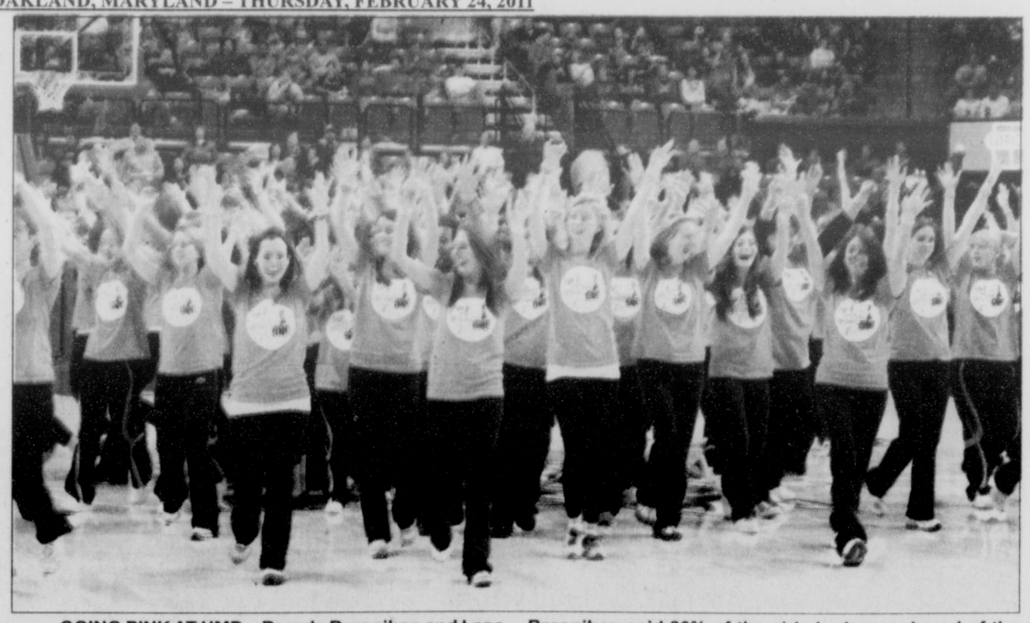
Daylan Pepper (Hampshire) not only had the high game of 239, but a high set of 553. Fort Hill's Tanner Smith posted a 200, while Ryan Keifer had a 198 game and a 543 set. Matthew Clark of Fort Hill rolled a 185 followed by Danny Walch with a 181 (Mountain Ridge), Adam Brant with a 180 (Fort Hill), Michael Bane with a 178 (Keyser), Kyle Rhodes with a 177 (Bishop Walsh), and Brogen Andrews with a 171 (Allegany).

The Josh Aman Memorial Sportsmanship Award is given each year to the boys' or girls' team that has demonstrated good sportsmanship throughout the year. Cathy Aman presented the plaque to the Allegany boys.

Plaques were also given to the bowlers who had the highest average for the year. Fort Hill had both of the high averages in Tanner Smith with a 213 and Mystie Benson with 167.

Dee Self was also recognized for her 15 years as coach of the Keyser High School bowling teams. She began the varsity program at the reins over to her daughter Rae Piraino.

The Girls Adjusted Division Champion is to be decided on Wednesday, Feb. 23 at Wilson Lanes in Romney, W.Va. The make-up match pits Southern against Hampshire. The match will begin at 3:30 p.m.



GOING PINK AT UMD – Brenda Brosnihan and Lesa Whittemore of Get Inspired Events hosted yet another Pink Zone event last Sunday, this time at a University of Maryland women's basketball game. The week before that, they coordinated another one at West Virginia University. The two rounded up 75 dancers at Maryland, 20 from Oakland and the rest from sororities on the campus. The event actually involved 400 sorority girls who were either in attendance at the game or were dancers. Brosnihan said 80% of the girls had never heard of the Pink Zone or Kay Yow, and for about 70% this was the first women's game they attended. "So for us the influence of our event was very positive in their ranks," Brosnihan said. Get Inspired Events has so far raised more than $3,000 for the cancer fund through various Pink Zone events. Brosnihan and Whittemore have already been invited back to WVU for next season, they said, and are excited about the potential with such an early start.

Basketball Rec League Results Are Announced

Fox's Pizza, Jones Store/Monumental Insurance, and East Preston Tire all won their games in Oakland Recreational Basketball League play on Sunday.

Fox's Pizza took Hutton Auto, 69-56, behind 15-point scoring efforts by Jonathan Price and J.J. Bolyard. Hutton Auto's Joey DiSimone led all scorers with 18 points.

Jason Shank and Ted Kitzmiller matched each other in scoring with 19 points in Jones Store/Monumental Insurance's 54-47 victory over Taylor-Made. Jason Brenneman had 18 points in the loss.

The games scheduled for Sunday, Feb. 27, are as follows: D&L Coal/A.L.L. Construction will play Jones Store/Monumental Insurance at 6 p.m., East Preston Tire takes on Hutton Auto at 7 p.m., and the game pitting Fox's Pizza against Taylor-Made is set for 8 p.m. proposed activity, and we appreciate that MDE is acting with due diligence in reviewing the permitting process in Maryland."

He added that the commissioners trust that MDE has been able to capitalize on drilling actions and findings from Pennsylvania, West Virginia, and New York in order to revise, as necessary, existing regulations and will be able to develop comprehensive regulations to prudently and reasonably manage the development of Marcellus gas resources in Maryland.

"The bill's provisions will enable the Maryland legislature to act in its next session to determine if the regulations are appropriate and will then permit the legislature to determine if legislation will be necessary to manage the development of these resources," Crawford continued.

He said the commissioners know this process will take time, but they believe that a public process – including legislative hearings, review, and public input – is essential to allowing all who have an interest in these issues to have their positions heard.

"We believe that the bill will establish a reasonable time frame for the process and will ensure that considerations of how to develop a potentially viable, energy source will not languish indefinitely," Crawford told the committee. "It allows our citizens, the gas companies interested in conducting business in the state, as well as local governments time to plan and to determine how best to manage the development of these resources."

He added that the commissioners will continue to monitor the legislation reflected in HB 411.

"We are willing to consider any revisions or amendments so long as they do not drastically change the intent of the bill," Crawford said. "As regulations are developed and legislative initiatives are proposed, we believe that it is essential that any such actions include discussions with the local county governments overlying the Marcellus shale."

The Allegany County commissioners also expressed their support for the bill.

Students Go Where The Wild Things Are; Take Field Work To New Level

by Peggy Santamaria

Wildlife in a rain forest – the brilliant colors of the toucan with its improbably large bill, the little-old-man face of the mantled howler monkey, the huge eyes of the tiny red-eyed leaf frog. For most people these are mesmerizing images found on the Discovery Channel or in the pages of National Geographic.

But for a dedicated group of intrepid students and instructors from Garrett College, these wonders are all part of the school day at the

This intensive 15-day learning experience is offered each winter through the Natural Resources & Wildlife Technology Program at Garrett College. Developed by the adventurous scholar and professor of biology Peter Skylstad, this field study has provided students with a hands-on-and brains-in-gear educational opportunity since 2008.

La Suerte is one of two biological field stations where Garrett College students have studied. The other, Ometepe, is in Nicaragua. Both are privately owned by the Molina family of Nicaragua and Costa Rica. The Molinas host hundred of students from across the globe each year.

This year, 10 GC students embarked on this rigorous natural history course.

"We are there for 15 days, and the students have both classroom work and field work," Skylstad said. "They attend 10 lectures and put in 40 hours of field studies focusing on amphibians, reptiles, birds, and mammals. Their days are long."

The trip in no way resembles a vacation at a Caribbean resort.

"The conditions at the field station are primitive," said Skylstad. "The students sleep in a sort of bunk house. Some of the places we go are only accessible on foot."

This is, after all, a rain forest, so walking often includes slogging through boot-sucking mud. One must always be alert for well-camouflaged snakes and nightmare-inspiring insects.

"You have to be an explorer to go on this trip," he added, with a grin.

Skylstad views this Costa Rica field study program through the eyes of a Renaissance man.

"For the students, this is such a broad learning experience. Of course, there is the science of ecosystems and climates, and species identification. But there is so much more. There is history in the experience. These students are literally walking in the footsteps of the 1790s German explorer and naturalist Alexander Von Humboldt and Charles Darwin, who visited the region in the 1830s. And they have the daily cultural experience of hearing the Spanish language, socializing with local people and students from all over the world, and enjoying the unique cuisine," he said.

The benefits of this study/travel opportunity are recognized and embraced by the students.

"The time we spent in Costa Rica was great," said Michelle Knotts, a student in Natural Resources and Wildlife Technology Program. "I am sure now that I really would like to continue studying to become a zoologist or mammalogist."

Knotts, who is vice president of the Garrett County Wildlife Club, said that the creatures of the rain forest fascinated her.

"The birds in Costa Rica were really cool, but the toucans were super cool," she said. "I would usually just see a picture of one on a cereal box. But there they were right in front of me. They are amazing. With such huge beaks, you would think they would tip over."

Another of her favorite critters was the three-toed sloth. These arboreal leaf-eaters have a laid-back manner and a rather whimsical face, Knotts said. "The sloths seem to accept the humans around them, and they always look like they were smiling," she said.

With all her delight in her Costa Rica experience, Knotts did not describe it as a walk in the woods.

"It was hardcore work," she said. "We spent long hours in classrooms and even more hours in the forest. There were poisonous snakes and biting ants – you couldn't stand in one place too long or they would crawl up your legs. But what did I think of the whole trip? It was great, and the instructors are really knowledgeable."

Skylstad's Costa Rica staff includes two dedicated teaching assistants, Amo Oliverio and Justin DeVault. Both men graduated from the NRWT program, earned bachelor degrees, and continued into studies at the master's level.

"These two former students who are now working with me are an invaluable part of my effort to make this course a reality," said Skylstad. "I couldn't do it without them!"

The field study course has created a seminal diverging point in the lives of some of his students, Skylstad said.

"Each year, one or two of them return with very clear career choices," he said. "They undertake independent studies programs that are extremely advanced. And these are only sophomores."

According to Skylstad, kudos go to the Garrett College administration and staff for the success of this unique educational experience.

"I have received great support for this program from Kevin Dodge, director of the Natural Resources and Wildlife Technology Program, Dr. Rebecca DiLiddo, dean of academic affairs, and Dr. Richard MacLennan, Garrett College president" he said.

More information on the Neotropical Natural History field course or other Natural Resources and Wildlife Technology courses may be obtained by contacting Peter Skylstad at 301-387-3332 or via e-mail at Peter.skylstad@garrettcollege.edu.

GC Board Seeks Nominations For Contributor Award

The Garrett College board of trustees has announced that it is inviting nominations for the Award for Outstanding Contributions to Garrett College. This award is typically presented at Garrett's commencement ceremony in the spring.

The purpose of the award is to recognize individuals or organizations who/that have significantly and positively influenced Garrett College's mission and goals. Any member of the community may submit a nomination. Those wishing to do so are asked to contact Marcia Knepp, executive assistant to the president, at 301-387-3056 to receive further information and a nomination form.

To be considered for this year's award, nominations must be submitted to Knepp no later than Friday, March 11.

When you need a colonoscopy or gastrointestinal endoscopy exam...ask the endoscopy expert,

Digestive Diseases Specialist
FAISAL A. BUKEIRAT, M.D., F.A.C.G.

Is it time for a colonoscopy or upper gastrointestinal endoscopy exam? Another year is gone, and as the years go by, it becomes more important to understand the importance of screening for your long-term health. There's no reason for you to put yourself at risk for colorectal cancer. If we don't take the time to be screened, the consequences are deadly, for both men and women.

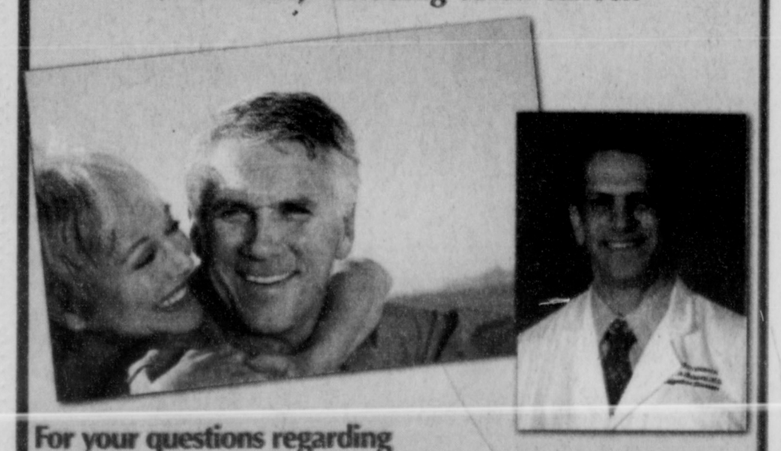
A colonoscopy or endoscopy is a key tool which allows your doctor to detect early colorectal cancer and precancerous polyps.

Good News – Endoscopic Ultrasound!

Working in conjunction with Mon General Hospital, Endoscopic Ultrasound combines ultrasound technology with endoscopy to better visualize the tissues of the digestive track and adjacent anatomical structures inside the human body.

Dr. Bukeirat has been trained extensively in this area, and can help you or a loved one to know what is happening inside.

Call his office at (304) 599-1448 with any questions pertaining to the early detection of GI cancers, including colon cancer.



For your questions regarding colonoscopy or endoscopy, ask the expert, Faisal Bukeirat (304) 599-1448

Local Physician Slated To Speak At Health Fair

Local physician Dr. Margaret Kaiser is among the line-up scheduled to speak at the Garrett County Health Fair slated for Saturday, April 16, at Wisp Resort, McHenry. She will speak on a variety of topics including bone health, calcium, vitamin D, and osteoporosis.

Dr. Kaiser specializes in the practice of geriatric and internal medicine. In her practice, she emphasizes disease prevention and wellness while also providing primary care. In addition to her private practice in Oakland, she is the medical director for Courtland Acres Nursing Home, Thomas, W.Va.

Other local speakers at the Health Fair will be Dr. Donald Richter, Dr. Charles Walch, and Dr. Ronel Williams. In addition to the guest speakers, there will be nearly 70 booths offering free health-related information, health screenings, promotional giveaways, and prizes.

The Red Cross bloodmobile will also be set up that day in the Timbers Room at Wisp Resort to accommodate attendees interested in donating blood. Additional information is available by calling 301-533-4178.

Red Cross To Honor Grantsville Resident With Blood Drive

The American Red Cross will hold a blood drive in honor of local resident Lela Bender on Monday, Mar. 7. The drive will be held at the Grantsville Volunteer Fire Department at 178 Springs Road from noon to 6 p.m.

The organization has set a goal for 50 productive blood donations, one for each year of volunteer service donated by Bender.

Formerly the sponsor coordinator for all Red Cross blood drives held in Grantsville, Bender has passed on that position and its duties to her daughter, Lila Maust. She continues to lend her time and services as a blood-drive volunteer, however.

"I got involved after our son was diagnosed as a hemophiliac. As a child he was hospitalized numerous times and needed blood transfusions. We realized the importance of blood donations. My husband and our children have all given blood, volunteered, or both," Bender stated.

The blood-drive honoree and her husband Philip are the parents of five living children, two sons and three daughters. They have 18 grandchildren and 18 great-grandchildren. Their hemophiliac son died in 1972 at the age of 23.

Bender is a member of the Maple Glen Mennonite Church, where she has served on various committees and taught Sunday school. She still sews tops for the Sewing Circle, which sends the items to missions.

Individuals may schedule an appointment for this blood drive or any other American Red Cross blood drive by calling 1-800-733-2767, or by visiting redcrossblood.org.

Most individuals who are at least 17 years of age, or 16 years of age with parental consent, and weigh a minimum of 110 pounds are eligible to donate blood. Those 18 years of age or younger must also meet specific height and weight requirements. Individuals should bring their American Red Cross blood donor card or other form of positive identification if they plan to donate.

The Red Cross may also be followed on Twitter: www.twitter.com/redcross-GAR.

GOP WOMEN MAKE DONATION — The Northern Garrett Republican Women recently donated a book titled Seed, Soil, Sun by Cris Peterson to the Friendsville Elementary School. At left, Carol Frazee, club representative, presents the book to Dawna Ashby, principal (center), and Lori Schmidt, librarian.

Ruth Enlow Now Offering Self-Help Legal Collection

The Ruth Enlow Library now offers a self-help legal collection to help patrons locate the information that they need to understand civil legal issues. Funded by a grant from the Western Maryland Regional Library, the collection includes materials on topics such as family, business, and environmental law, and natural gas extraction.

"I was inspired to create this collection by the work of the Maryland Access to Justice Commission, of which I am a member," said library director Cathy Ashby. "The collection addresses issues that really impact people's lives, including property rights, family situations, inheritance, and landlord/tenant responsibilities. Many people don't realize that there is no right to a government provided lawyer in the vast majority of civil cases."

The legal collection resides at the Oakland branch of Ruth Enlow and can be checked out from the library. A sampling of titles includes Understanding Today's Natural Gas Business, Oil and Gas Law, Every Dog's Legal Guide, and How to Start a Business in Maryland. Questions should be directed to Ashby at 301-334-3996, ext. 102.

For more information about the Maryland Access to Justice Commission, persons may visit the web site at www.mdcourts.gov/mdatjc/about.html.

The purpose of this commission is to develop, consolidate, coordinate, and implement policy initiatives to expand access to and enhance the quality of justice in civil legal matters for persons who encounter barriers in gaining access to Maryland's civil justice systems.

St. Peter's To Hold Lenten Fish Dinners

St. Peter the Apostle Catholic Church in Oakland will hold its 12th annual Lenten big fish dinners every Friday during Lent, excluding Good Friday.

The meals will be served from 4:30 to 6:30 p.m. in the parish hall, located at 208 S. Fourth St., beginning on Mar. 11 and continuing until Apr. 15.

The menu will consist of an eight ounce haddock fillet with cheese on a deluxe roll, french fries, coleslaw, stewed tomatoes, an assortment of homemade desserts, and hot and cold drinks.

The cost is $8 for adults and $5 for children under 12 years. Individuals may purchase a big fish sandwich for $5. Carry-outs will be available. Those interested in more information may call 301-334-2202.

GED Preparation Advising Sessions Slated In Oakland

Anyone wishing to earn a high school diploma via the GED exam is invited to attend a free advising meeting at the Garrett College Southern Outreach Center in Oakland. Two separate advising sessions are scheduled for Wednesday, March 2, at noon and Thursday, March 3, at 6 p.m.

During these sessions, information will be provided about adult basic education (ABE) classes, which are designed to help prepare individuals for the high school diploma exam. Instruction, books, and materials are free for all students.

ABE offers individual instruction paced to meet the student's needs. Classes are offered at a variety of locations in the county and at various times. Additionally, mileage reimbursement is available for qualifying individuals.

Garrett County residents who earn their Maryland high school diploma by exam also qualify for the Garrett County Scholarship Program.

More information may be obtained by calling Patricia Baer at 301-334-8304 or 301-387-3781.

NOTICE
GARRETT COUNTY TAXPAYERS!

According to the laws governing my office (Section 14-808/Tax Property), the Tax Collector must advertise and sell properties for delinquent County, State, Town and/or taxes due to other taxing agencies.

Delinquent notices were mailed Feb. 1, 2011. We have included all taxes on the property as required by law. However, only delinquent taxes (2009-2010) and prior years must be paid to avoid a tax sale on the property. Also, personal property taxes for 2003-2004 and prior years are delinquent and become a lien on the real estate (Section 14-808). (If you are involved in a bankruptcy proceeding, please contact our office as soon as possible). TAX BILLS MAILED JULY 2010 ARE NOT DELINQUENT!

According to legislation (Annotated Code 14-809), the county collector shall proceed to advertise and sell any real property located in any municipal corporation in the county on which municipal corporation taxes are delinquent. Unpaid amounts for other taxing agencies were shown at the bottom of the notices. PROPERTIES WILL ALSO BE SOLD FOR DELINQUENT WATER OR SEWER FEES. IF YOU HAVE ANY QUESTIONS CONCERNING PUBLIC UTILITIES, PLEASE CONTACT THEIR OFFICE AT 301-334-6983.

Property taxes may be paid at the Tax Office with Discover Card Only. Also, we accept payments by credit card on-line. To pay by credit card visit http://payments.garrettcounty.org. There is a nominal fee charged for this service. Cards that can be used are: VISA, MASTERCARD, DISCOVER and AMERICAN EXPRESS.

The annual tax sale will be held on May 6, 2011. Additional fees for attorney costs will be assessed after March 2, 2011. As of this date, certified funds will be required. Please contact our office for the correct figures. After approximately April 4, 2011, additional fees for advertising will be included in the total amounts due.

If you should have questions or if we can be of assistance to you, please do not hesitate to call anytime between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

THE NORTHERN LIGHTS
by Dr. Tom Sheahen

Q. I got a message from a friend in Minnesota saying that the "northern lights" might be seen some night soon. I know they're kind of rare, but how can anyone predict when they'll happen?

A. The "northern lights" are known scientifically as aurora borealis, an optical phenomenon caused by gigantic magnetic storms on the sun. People look northward to see them because the main activity is taking place in the upper atmosphere in the vicinity of the north magnetic pole. The exact same thing happens near the south magnetic pole (at the very same time) and is known as aurora australis.

It all begins when there is a violent explosion on the surface of the sun, and a huge number of ionized particles are blasted off into space. That is called a coronal mass ejection (CME). At the same time, huge loops of magnetic field lines leap outward from the sun. We don't know enough about the sun to be able to predict such events, but when one takes place, we can detect it by observing sunspots. Sunspots occur in pairs, because they are the places where the two ends of the loop of magnetic field leave the sun's surface. A special instrument is used to observe the surface of the sun, which is so bright it would blind anyone who looked at it directly. Sunspots are points of comparatively less intensity, so they look black to our instruments.

Light from the sun reaches Earth in about eight minutes, so we find out about new sunspots promptly, and that observation tells us there has been a CME. But all we know is that the ejected mass went somewhere off into space, not necessarily toward Earth. Even if they are coming toward Earth, the travel-time of the outflowing particles is several days, because they're moving much slower than the speed of light. That difference in speed is what enables a prediction to be made a few days ahead.

Not much happens as ionized particles traverse across 93 million miles, but when they get close to Earth, they encounter the magnetic field of the earth, and then interesting things start to happen. Any charged particle will spiral around a magnetic field line as it moves forward. This means that such particles will be funneled toward the north or south magnetic poles, where the lines of magnetic field get closely bunched together. (The north magnetic pole is not the same as the north pole; it's offset by some distance, currently located on an island north of Canada, directly north of the Utah-Nevada borderline extended).

As the fast-moving ionized particles spiral downward and enter the atmosphere, they run into molecules of nitrogen and oxygen. Those collisions cause air molecules to be knocked into higher-energy states, and immediately thereafter the molecules give up this energy by giving off radiation. Some of that radiation lies in the visible range: often green, but sometimes yellow or red.

That radiation is the aurora borealis, or the northern lights. It looks like a shimmering curtain swishing in the sky, with changing colors. It isn't just a flash or a few seconds; it lasts as long as the particles continue to arrive in Earth's atmosphere.

Of course, to see anything, conditions have to be just right. First of all, there has to be a lot of mass ejected toward Earth to cause a lot of upper-atmosphere collisions and increase the intensity of the aurora. Second, the timing matters: If the particles arrive in the daytime, the aurora is too faint to be visible. Bright moonlight makes it harder to distinguish. If it's cloudy, you're out of luck. If you're far from either magnetic pole, very little light reaches you. Residents of Alaska and parts of Canada can see the northern lights several times each year, but in Minnesota it's a maybe-once-a-year spectacle. At latitudes like Washington, D.C., at best it's a once-in-a-lifetime event.

According to records kept for several hundred years, the number of sunspots has fluctuated in cycles lasting roughly 11 years. For the last several years, solar activity has been exceptionally low, with remarkably few sunspots, and therefore auroras have been very uncommon. However, the number of solar eruptions seems to be on the rise, because the observed number of sunspots is increasing. It is plausible to figure that some of those ejections will be heading for Earth, and auroras may start to occur more frequently.

Dr. Sheahen lives at Deep Creek Lake and has taught physics at Garrett College. Persons wishing to submit questions for this column may e-mail them to newsroom@therepublicannews.com.

MARCH SUN – As March begins, the sun appears in front of the stars of Aquarius moving a degree a day eastward relative to the stars. The sun moves into the star group Pisces on March 12, where it stays until April 18. (These dates correspond to the actual star group boundaries, not the dates of the astrological signs.) The star group Aries can be seen low in the southwestern dusk; the planet Jupiter is in western Pisces. On the other side of the sun is the star group Capricornus, appearing briefly in the southeastern dawn sky. Venus is in Capricornus for most of the month. In early March, sunrises in Garrett County are at about 6:45 a.m., while sunsets are at about 6:10 p.m. (11.4 hours of daylight). Around the end of March, Garrett County's sunrises are at about 6:55 a.m. (DST) and sunsets occur at about 7:35 p.m. (12.7 hours of daylight). So during March, the brighter stars are last seen around 6 a.m. (early dawn) and then reappear at about 8 p.m. (late dusk).

MARCH MOON – On March 1, the moon appears as a razor sharp crescent near the brilliant planet Venus low in the 6 a.m. southeastern dawn sky. On the afternoon of March 4, the moon swings from the morning to the evening side of the sun. On March 6, a slender crescent moon will appear to the right of the bright planet Jupiter. The evening moon will appear half full on the evening of March 12. For a few days before and after this date, the moon's craters and mountain peak are seen at their best through a telescope or binoculars held steadily. Along the straighter edge of the lighted moon, the rising sun catches the raised rims of the craters and mountain peaks, while their surroundings are still in darkness. The moon appears full on the evening of March 19, then appearing in western Virgo. Late in the evening of March 20, the moon will appear below the planet Saturn. On March 26, the moon will be rising after midnight and appear half full (like a reversed "D") in the southern dawn. On March 31, the crescent moon will appear above and to the right of brilliant Venus at dawn.

MARCH PLANETS – The five nearest planets are easily seen by eye during the year, four of them shining steadily in contrast to the twinkling stars. (Mercury, only seen close to the horizon, may flicker as heat currents move past it.) Mercury and bright Jupiter appear close in mid March, then seen very low in the western dusk. To be sure of seeing them, find a place with a very flat western horizon. Look at little before 8 p.m. DST. Binoculars may help in sighting the two planets. Before March 15, Mercury will be below Jupiter; after March 15, Mercury will be higher. The brilliant planet Venus appears in the southeastern dawn. At the start of March, Venus rises two hours ahead of the sun, which drops to 75 minutes at the end of the month. Mars is lost in the sun's glare this month. The bright planet Jupiter appears low in the western dusk; during March, Jupiter's setting time drops from about 8:15 p.m. EST (early in the month) to about 7:50 p.m. DST (at month's end). In March, the planet Saturn moves from the late evening sky (early March) to the early evening hours (end of March). At month's end, Saturn will be rising in the southeast at about sunset (7:40 p.m. DST). Good views of Saturn's rings through a telescope start at around 11 p.m. when Saturn is high enough in the sky.

MARCH STARS – The Big Dipper is easily seen in the north-northeast with its scoop on top. Its two top stars point left to the North Star, a modest star suspended about half way up in the north. (As Earth's north polar axis nearly points to the North Star, all the stars, planets, and the moon seem to move in circles about the North Star.) The same two stars point rightward to the sickle of Leo the Lion in the eastern sky. Easy to spot in northwest is Cassiopeia, a zig-zag pattern of five moderately bright stars. Orion, the night sky's brightest star group, appears in the southwest in the early evening hours of March. Orion's belt of three stars (in a row) points left to Sirius, the night's brightest star. High in the western sky is the bright golden star Capella.

MARCH PROGRAMS – The Frostburg State Planetarium is open most Sundays, with free programs starting at 4 p.m. and 7 p.m. on March 6, 20, and 27. The Planetarium is in Tawes Hall 203, across the street from the Compton Science Center and near the Performing Arts Center. The March program is titled "How the Ancients Used the Sky," considering how, without numbers and writing, early people used the sky as a calendar. Also included is an introduction to the March and April evening skies. Persons are advised to come early, as seating visitors after the program starts is difficult. To receive a Planetarium schedule (or bookmark), persons may telephone 301-687-7799 and give name and mailing address. Persons may also access the Planetarium section of the Frostburg State web site at www.frostburg.edu/planetarium.

Dr. Doyle writes this column for those who like to identify the brightest stars, planets, and sights in their backyards.

Ruth Enlow To Kick Off Read Across America

The Ruth Enlow Library invites the community to celebrate Read Across America with several library events planned in March.

Read Across America, an initiative of the National Education Association, is an annual reading motivation and awareness program that calls for every child in every community to celebrate reading.

On Wednesday, Mar. 2, the Accident Library plans to hold a birthday party for child author Dr. Seuss from 4:30 to 6:30 p.m. At the party, The Cat in the Hat and Bartholomew and Oobleck will be read, and there will be snacks and crafts.

On Monday, Mar. 7, a Celebrate America evening is scheduled at the Oakland Library from 6:30 to 7:45 p.m. The event will include fun stories, crafts, and games. Children age 8 and younger are invited to attend, and each participant will receive a free book.

Story time at the Grantsville Library on Wednesday, Mar. 2, will feature Dr. Seuss with stories and activities for children age 1 to 8. On Monday, Mar. 7, the library will celebrate with a Read Aloud program from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m., which will feature Newbery and Caldecott books. Refreshments and door prizes will be available.

Kitzmiller Library's story time, on Tuesday, Mar. 1 from 11 to 11:30 a.m., will feature the Celebrate America theme.

Those interested in more information concerning these events or the library system's regularly scheduled programs may check the web site at www.relib.net, call his or her local library, or contact Keela at 301-334-3996, ext. 115, or by e-mail at keela@relib.net.

The Human Connection

Most of us can remember a time when we spoke to people instead of recordings, when addresses were for physical places and did not consist of www.com, when "service" station did not mean self-service. We spoke person to person and eye to eye on nearly every occasion. Today when you are face to face with someone, let your spirit shine through. Visit God's house each week and greet your fellow worshippers warmly.

Make the most of your human connections.

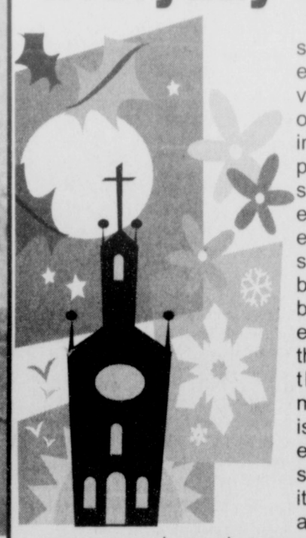
Everyday Miracles



There are those who see miracles only in the extraordinary, the vastness of the cosmos or the infinitesimal interstices of subatomic particles, while others see miracles everywhere, from the evening sunset to the spider's web on the back porch. They are both right: miracles are extraordinary, and yet the everyday aspect of the world is also miraculous. The world is truly miraculous in every aspect, from its size and scope down to its minute detail. How amazing that the sun comes up each morning, or more accurately, that the earth spins on its axis to face the sun each day. How amazing that our sun makes plants grow and that eating these plants makes animals grow, and that animals having eaten plants will then deposit seeds with fertilizer to keep the whole cycle going. These everyday miracles are everywhere, if only we have eyes to see them. The how and the why of our world is indeed a miracle beyond all comprehension, exceeded perhaps only by the sheer fact of the universe itself. That the world exists at all, that there is something rather than nothing, is that not the greatest miracle of all?

All things were made through Him, and without Him was not anything made that was made.

Piper Perabo is destined for more 'Affairs'

By Jay Bobbin

Piper Perabo

Q: I notice that "White Collar" is back, but I don't see "Covert Affairs," which was on right before it last year. Will it be back on this season? –Kathy Pettibon, Beaver, Pa.

A: Not if "season" means winter, nor the official television season that ends in May ... but we can say that the show will be back this year, and USA Network has to be happy about star Piper Perabo's recent Golden Globe Award nomination for it. The spy drama is expected to return in the summer for its sophomore round.

Q: Did Kristen Stewart ever go by the name Kate Stewart? There was a young girl in the "Crow" television series who looked like her, but her name was Kate and not Kristen. –Terri Calhoun, Indiahoma, Okla.

A: Actually, the actress on "The Crow: Stairway to Heaven" was named (and spelled) Katie Stuart, and she went on to appear in "The L Word" and such movies as "The Sisterhood of the Traveling Pants" and "She's the Man." She and Kristen Stewart are not the same person.

Q: When is "Flashpoint" appearing again? It is coming back, right? –Pam Kaplan, Dallas

A: It is, and on more than one network. Not only will CBS be running new stories, likely in the summer (as has been the tradition for "Flashpoint" there), but ION has made a deal to pick up original episodes of the Canadian-made police drama as well as repeats of earlier ones.

The math is tricky on this. CBS didn't air several episodes of what was Canada's third season of the show, so it will combine those with several episodes from the Canadian fourth season to form the fourth CBS year. The remaining episodes from that fourth season, as it exists in Canada, will appear on ION.

Q: What happened to "The Whole Truth"? I can't seem to find it anymore. Will it return? –Donna Decuir, San Antonio

A: No. The Rob Morrow-Maura Tierney law drama became one of the current season's first casualties when ABC canceled it.

Q: What has happened to singer-actress Lorna Luft, Judy Garland's daughter? –Robbie Boardman, El Reno, Okla.

A: According to her website, www.lornaluft.com, she's been touring with the show "Songs My Mother Taught Me: The Judy Garland Songbook." She has performed recent engagements in New York, Connecticut and Vermont, and she'll be doing at least one March show in California; Luft also has released a corresponding CD, and she's scheduled to perform in Winnipeg with that city's symphony orchestra at the end of the year.

Strange BUT TRUE

• It was British author and publisher Ernest Benn who made the following observation: "Politics is the art of looking for trouble, finding it whether it exists or not, diagnosing it incorrectly, and applying the wrong remedy."

• If you live in Michigan, make sure you keep this in mind: If you want to hunt with a slingshot, you'll need a special license.

• If you took all the other planets in our solar system and rolled them into one big ball, that ball would fit inside the gas giant Jupiter.

• The next time you're heading to Chicago, plan a stop in the nearby town of Niles. While there you can visit the Leaning Tower of Niles, a recently renovated half-size replica of the somewhat more famous Leaning Tower of Pisa. The attraction was built in 1934 by industrialist Robert Ilg as part of a recreation park for employees of his Hot Air Electric Ventilating Company of Chicago.

• Although Billy the Kid was a notorious 19th-century outlaw, he never robbed a store, a stagecoach, a bank or a train. • A flea can jump 13 inches in a single leap. That may not seem like much, but to achieve a comparable feat, you would have to make a 700-foot jump.

• Those who wish to cut federal spending today might want to take note of this historical fact: In 1790, United States senators earned a grand total of $6 per day -- and only when Congress was in session. • The ancient Romans appreciated smooth, hairless skin -- but to get that look they used pumice stones to sand off the hair. Ouch.

• On March 3, 1887, Anne Sullivan begins teaching 6-year-old Helen Keller, who lost her sight and hearing after a severe illness at the age of 19 months. Under Sullivan's tutelage, Keller flourished, eventually graduating from college and becoming an international lecturer and activist.

• On March 6, 1899, the Imperial Patent Office in Berlin registers Aspirin (acetylsalicylic acid) on behalf of the German pharmaceutical company Friedrich Bayer & Co. The brand name came from "a" for acetyl, "spir" from the spirea plant (a source of salicin) and the suffix "in," commonly used for medications. • On March 2, 1904, Theodor Geisel, better known to the world as Dr. Seuss, is born in Springfield, Mass. Geisel's first book, "And to Think That I Saw It On Mulberry Street," was rejected by more than two dozen publishers before making it into print in 1937.

• On March 1, 1932, Charles Lindbergh III, the 20-month-old son of aviation hero Charles Lindbergh, is kidnapped from the family's new mansion in Hopewell, N.J. Days later the baby's lifeless body was discovered near the Lindbergh home.

• On Feb. 28, 1940, Mario Andretti, whose name will become synonymous with American auto racing, is born in Montona, Italy. His long list of achievements includes a Formula One World Championship and wins at the Indianapolis 500, Daytona 500 and Pikes Peak Hill Climb.

• On March 4, 1966, a John Lennon quotation that was ignored in England sets off a media frenzy in America: "We're more popular than Jesus now." Bible Belt disc jockeys declared Lennon's remarks blasphemous and vowed an eternal ban on all Beatles music, past, present and future.

• On March 5, 1977, the Dial-a-President radio program, featuring President Jimmy Carter and CBS news anchorman Walter Cronkite, airs for the first time. Carter answered calls from all over the country from his desk in the Oval Office. Some 9 million calls flooded the CBS radio studio during the two-hour broadcast.

Collecting

Q: I purchased an ashtray at a church sale in Minnesota last summer. It was made by Red Wing pottery and features a cowboy-hat design to commemorate the centennial of Minnesota in 1949. It is a yellow color. I paid $15 and hope I got a good deal. -- Susan, Pecos, N.M.

A: Your ashtray is worth about $60, according to Warman's "Red Wing Pottery: Identification and Price Guide" by Mark F. Moran (Krause, $24.99).

Q: I have approximately 80 Hit Parade and Song Hits magazines from the 1950s. Do they have any value? Some of the issues are coming apart. What should I do to repair them? -- Peter, Southbury, Conn.

A: The value of your magazines depends on who is on the cover. If it is Elvis Presley, maybe $35. If it is the Cordettes, maybe as little as $5. Typical values include a 1959 issue with Fabian on the cover, $15; Paul Anka from 1962, $2.75; and Bing Crosby, also from the 1960s, $10. Since collectors prefer items in their original condition, do not make any repairs, but store them carefully and out of bright sunlight.

Q: I have a set of 24 volumes of the works of William Shakespeare published by Knickerbocker Leather & Novelty Company of New York. Could you inform me if they have some value, or where I could look for other information about them? -- J.P., Barre, Vt.

A: Your set was published in about 1920. I went to www.abe.com, where I found dozens of individual volumes from this set being offered for sale by dealers throughout the country. "Twelfth Night," for example, is available from an Ohio dealer for $8.50. Your complete set might be worth about $250, depending on condition and the demand for Shakespeare in your region.

Q: While clearing my mother's house, I found a mint copy of the Duncan Hines Dessert Book from the 1950s. Is it worth keeping? -- Susan, Carbondale, Ill.

A: According to the Antique Trader Collectible Cookbooks Price Guide by Patricia Edwards and Peter Peckham (Krause, $21.99), your Duncan Hines cookbook is worth in the $11 to $19 range.

ARMED SERVICES REVIEW

U.S. Navy Seaman Paul W. Logan, whose former guardians are Jeff and Barbara Law, McHenry, was recently promoted to his current rank upon graduation from recruit training at Recruit Training Command, Great Lakes, Ill.

Logan received the early promotion for outstanding performance during all phases of the training cycle, training which included classroom study and practical instruction on naval customs, first aid, firefighting, water safety and survival, and shipboard and aircraft safety. An emphasis was also placed on physical fitness.

The capstone event of boot camp is "Battle Stations." This exercise gives recruits the skills and confidence they need to succeed in the fleet. According to a Navy spokesperson, "Battle Stations" is designed to galvanize the basic warrior attributes of sacrifice, dedication, teamwork, and endurance in each recruit through the practical application of basic Navy skills and the core values of honor, courage, and commitment.

Logan is a 2006 graduate of Northern High School.

BUSY BIRD – This pileated woodpecker has been quite busy this winter, as evidenced by the holes he has created on this particular tree. Dorothy Tuel of Paradise Point spotted the large and noisy bird a few weeks ago, drilling away, and she grabbed her camera for the shot. About the same size as a crow, the pileated woodpecker is the largest woodpecker in most of North America. Its loud ringing calls and huge excavations in dead trees announce its presence in forests across the continent. There are several species of woodpecker in Garrett County, but the pileated is seen less often than its cousins, such as the smaller downy, red-bellied, and hairy woodpeckers.

Knitters Invited To Help "Warm Up America"

A local group of knitters have joined the national organization Warm-Up America, and are inviting local knitters to take part.

The Garrett County Warm-Up America group is working to provide shawls to the Dove Center for battered victims, and is creating baby blankets for those in need.

Garrett County Warm-Up America is open to both women and men. More knitters are needed, as well as yarn donations.

For more information about Warm-Up America, persons may go to the web site at www.WarmUp-America.org. The local group can be found on Facebook, called Garrett County Warm-Up America.

Knitters are welcome to join the group at Pine Lodge Steakhouse on Deep Creek Drive every Wednesday night from 4 to 6 p.m. For further information, persons may call 301-616-4085.

Municipal League Essay Contest Deadline Noted

The deadline is approaching for the Maryland Municipal League's 2011 "If I were Mayor, I would..." essay contest, which challenges fourth graders across the state to share their thoughts on how they would lead local municipal government as mayor. Participation is free, but essays must be received by MML no later than Friday, April 1.

Since 2001, MML's "If I were Mayor..." essay contest has challenged students to learn about municipal government through creatively sharing their thoughts on being a mayor. Each 275-word essay must open with the line "If I were Mayor, I would..." and answer three questions revolved around the 2011 theme, which is "Working Together Works."

Any Maryland student enrolled in the fourth grade during the current school year may participate. Each municipality decides if and how it would like to honor local participants. In addition, 11 regional winners, along with their parents and teachers, are invited to be recognized in a public ceremony in Annapolis in May.

"This contest is a fun, yet important, way to bring together students from all over Maryland to not only share their creative ideas as mayor, but also help them learn more about the importance of municipalities and inspire them to become our next generation of local leadership," said Scott A. Hancock, executive director of the Maryland Municipal League. "This year's theme is especially important as MML works together with the General Assembly during the 428th Session."

The contest is sponsored by MML in partnership with the Maryland Mayors' Association, Local Government Insurance Trust, and Injured Workers' Insurance Fund. Essays are judged on: essay relation to contest topic, displayed knowledge about municipal government and the role of a mayor, creativity, and proper use of grammar. More information is available online at www.mdmunicipal.org.

4-H Club News

COUNTRY KIDS
by Ann Holtschneider, reporter

The Country Kids 4-H Club met on Feb. 15 at Deer Park Community Center. Eight members attended the meeting. Megan DeBerry led the pledges and Bethany Rexroad gave the treasury report. Derek DeWitt read the "thank you" notes that the club received.

New business was discussed, and leader Becky DeBerry gave a report on the County Council meeting, which included the District Show and 4-H Achievement Night.

All the members gave a "radio spot" or prepared speech. All were within their time limits and received a blue ribbon.

Megan DeBerry and Anna Holtschneider will participate in the county public speaking event on March 11 at Garrett College.

The meeting was adjourned by Brianna Fitzwater, with the motion seconded by Bethany Rexrode.

The next meeting will be held on March 15 at 7 p.m.

GC Democratic Central Comm. To Fill Three Seats

The Garrett County Democratic Central Committee presently has openings for one male and two female members. The committee is responsible for supporting the policies and encouraging the growth of the Democrat Party in Garrett County.

Any person interested in filling a position on the committee should send a letter of interest or a resumé to Zelma Neary, committee vice chair, at 128 B Street, Mountain Lake Park, MD 21550, or call 301-334-4643 for more information. The deadline is Monday, March 7.

Coviello, Morin Named To Garrett Board Of Trustees

The Garrett College board of trustees welcomed two new members during the regularly scheduled meeting held February 15. Albert Coviello and Donald Morin were sworn in by Sondra Buckle, clerk of the Circuit Court of Garrett County. Coviello assumes the seat vacated by Lillian Mitchell, and Morin will replace Dale Schroyer.

NEW GC BOARD MEMBERS SWORN IN – New members of the Garrett College Board of Trustees, business owner Don Morin, left, and educator Al Coviello, were sworn in last week by Sondra Buckle, Clerk of the Circuit Court of Garrett County. The seven members of the college's board of trustees are appointed by the governor. See story.

The governing body of the college, the GC board of trustees consists of seven gubernatorial appointees who each serve six-year terms. These members, who have legal authority only when the board is in formal session with the prescribed majority quorum, are chosen from among the citizens of Garrett County. The members come from various communities throughout the county, have a history of community involvement, and represent a range of educational, economic, and professional backgrounds, according to a GC spokesperson.

Coviello, an educator, served as a mathematics teacher, school counselor, and administrator in the Montgomery County Maryland Public Schools for 11 years prior to accepting a position with the Garrett County Board of Education, for which he served as the supervisor of pupil services, director of pupil services and special education, and assistant superintendent for curriculum and instruction. In 1998 he was hired as superintendent of the Clinton, Conn., public school system, a position from which he retired in 2009.

In addition to earning a bachelor of science degree from Indiana University of Pennsylvania, Coviello earned a master of education degree as a Grant Foundation Fellow from the University of Maryland at College Park. He has also taken postgraduate courses at the University of Maryland, University of Kentucky, West Virginia University, Frostburg State University, and West Chester University. Coviello has served as an adjunct instructor of mathematics, psychology, and children's literature at Garrett College, and as an adjunct instructor and guest lecturer at Frostburg State University.

Morin began his career as a computer programmer after graduating from Pennsylvania State University. He moved from programming into sales and marketing while working at Wang Labs, and later joined C3, where he was involved in sales, marketing, and program management for the development of a computer system used by the armed forces. In 1991, he founded Garrett Container Systems (GCS) to develop shipping and storage containers. GCS currently employs 140 people.

Many new systems have recently been implemented at Morin's plant to increase the company's potential to design and produce high-quality products. Sales have grown from $100,000 to $40 million. GCS achieved the ISO 9001 registration and certification as a Historically Underutilized Business (HUB) Zone business.

Morin is also a member of the Western Maryland Economic Development Task Force.

Coviello and Morin join the following other current board members: chair Linda Sherbin, attorney; vice chair Ruth Seib, co-owner of Coldwell Banker Deep Creek Realty; Vianne Bell, innkeeper of Good Timber Bed and Breakfast and a retired CPA; Duane E. Yoder, president of the Garrett County Community Action Committee; Jason Rush, senior vice president and director of operations for First United Bank and Trust; and ex-officio member Dr. Richard MacLennan, president of Garrett College.

"Living Well" Class Scheduled At GC's Northern Center

"Living Well – Take Charge of Your Health" is scheduled from 9:30 a.m. to noon on Wednesdays, March 23–April 27 at the Northern Outreach Center, Grantsville.

This six-week workshop is for anyone with ongoing health conditions such as diabetes, asthma, emphysema, heart conditions, high blood pressure, and arthritis. Participants will learn skills to help them better manage symptoms and get the most out of life, according to a spokeswoman.

"If you have or are caring for someone with chronic health conditions you are sure to benefit from this program," she said. "Learn to deal with symptoms and frustration, and how to design your own self-management program."

The course will be led by Cathy Paine and Suzanne Carley. Paine is Garrett County coordinator for the Living Well Program, and Carley is director of the Grantsville and Mary Browning senior centers.

For additional information, persons may contact Terry Beachy, Northern Outreach Center coordinator, at 301-895-4700 or terry.beachy@garrettcol-lege.edu.

To register for this course, one may contact the Continuing Education and Workforce Development Division at 301-387-3069.

The Living Well Program is presented by the Garrett County Area Agency on Aging and made possible by funding under the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 and with funds granted to the Maryland Department on Aging by the Federal Administration on Aging.

Garrett To Host Armed Services Career Assembly

For its second in a series of five spring 2011 colloquium presentations, the Adventuresports Institute (ASI) of Garrett College has assembled a diverse panel of military personnel, officers, and enlisted men and women from both the active and retired ranks to share information and answer questions relating to career and service opportunities the United States armed services may provide.

The presentation will be held in Room 224 of the Continuing Education building on the campus of Garrett College on Tuesday, Mar. 1, at 7 p.m. A reception for the panelists will be held in the same room at 6:30 p.m. prior to the presentation. The reception and presentation are free and open to the public.

The panel of eight military personnel will represent all five military branches. The panel includes, in alphabetical order: Spec. Daniel Fazenbaker, U.S. Army Reserve and student of Garrett College; Col. Mike Herdering (ret.), U.S. Marine Corps; Sgt. Aaron Miller, U.S. Army National Guard and student at Garrett College; Chief Petty Officer Robert Paugh, U.S. Naval Reserve and current student at Garrett College; Capt. Dave Powell (ret.), U.S. Coast Guard; Maj. Gen. Melissa Rank (Ret.), U.S. Air Force; Lt. Col. Jack Riley (ret.), US Army; and Rear Adm. Richard Schiff (ret.), U.S. Navy. The panel moderator will be Staff Sgt. Benjamin Turmel, a member of the U.S. Army who is actively serving at the LaVale army recruiting office.

ASI has assembled this diverse and experienced group of military experts into one place at one time so that its students majoring in adventure sports management at Garrett College may gain insights into the various options offered by different branches of the armed services.

The panel moderator will begin the presentation with a general overview of the physical and academic requirements for entry into the various branches of the military, as well as give information about the current status of the military and the areas within it that most need trained specialists.

The session will then be opened for questions form the audience. It is anticipated by ASI that with the representation from the recruiting office and the retired and active personnel, those in attendance may get an accurate picture of the opportunities the U.S. military may afford.

Those interested in further information may contact the Adventuresports Institute of Garrett College at 301-387-3330.

SALVAGING CREDIT AND EQUITY

The issue of pricing strategies was recently addressed here, particularly for facing moving deadlines or selling a home that's languishing on the market. But what if you're experiencing financial hardship or losing valuable equity in your home?

If you're facing mortgage default and want to avoid foreclosure, you're probably looking at a short sale, an agreement with your lender to sell your home for less than what you still owe. This pricing strategy is challenging, because you have to list high enough to satisfy the lender, but low enough to attract buyers.

First, complete a short sale application from your lender and get a quote for how much they're willing to accept. Work with a reliable real estate agent to find the sweet spot between what the lender wants and what will excite buyers, and you may be lucky enough to receive multiple offers.

If you're not defaulting, but your home has lost significant value, you're still in a tough situation. If you bought during the peak years, you may have trouble salvaging your equity in today's market. While painful, the best pricing strategy in this case is to ask your agent for a Comparative Market Analysis (CMA) and price your home at fair market value or below. Again, if your price is right, you may encourage multiple offers, resulting in a higher sale price.

If you are thinking of buying or selling a home but feel "out of touch" with real estate, give me a call today.

General Signup Period for the Conservation Reserve Program Announced

Eric McCartney, executive director for USDA" Farm Service Agency in Preston County, has announced that the next general signup for the Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) will begin on March 14 and continue through April 15. This is the second consecutive year that USDA has offered a general CRP signup.

Through CRP, eligible landowners receive annual rental payments and cost-share assistance to establish long-term, resource conserving covers on eligible farmland. Land can be enrolled for a period of up to 15 years. During the general signup period, farmers may offer eligible land at Preston County Farm Service Agency (FSA) Office.

Land currently not enrolled in CRP may be offered in this signup, provided all eligibility requirements are met. Additionally, current CRP participants with contracts expiring this fall may make new contract offers. Contracts awarded under this signup are scheduled to become effective October 1, 2011. The general signup for CRP will not affect cropped acres for this growing season. Acres will be enrolled in the program in the fall.

To help ensure that interested farmers are aware of the signup period, USDA has signed partnership agreements with several conservation and wildlife organizations that will play an active role in USDA's 2011 CRP outreach efforts. They include: Pheasants Forever, Ducks Unlimited, National Association of State Foresters, Playa Lakes Joint Venture (Lesser Prairie Chicken/Sage Grouse), and the Longleaf Incorporated Bobwhite Conservation Initiative.

The FSA implements CRP on behalf of Commodity Credit Corporation. FSA will evaluate and rank eligible CRP offers using an Environmental Benefits Index (EBI) that shows the environmental benefits to be gained from enrolling the land in CRP. The EBI consists of five environmental factors (wildlife, water, soil, air, and enduring benefits) and cost. Decisions on the EBI cutoff will be made after the sign-up ends and after analyzing the EBI data of all the offers.

In addition to the general sign-up, CRP's continuous sign-up program will be ongoing. Continuous acres represent the most environmentally desirable and sensitive land. For more information, persons are invited to go online to http://www.fsa.usda.gov/crp.

CRP protects millions of acres of American topsoil from erosion and is designed to safeguard the Nation's natural resources, according to McCartney. By reducing water runoff and sedimentation, CRP protects groundwater and helps improve the condition of lakes, rivers, ponds, and streams. Acreage enrolled in the CRP is planted to resource-conserving vegetative covers, making the program a major contributor to increased wildlife populations in many parts of the country.

Through the 2008 Farm Bill, CRP is authorized for a maximum enrollment of 32 million acres. USDA estimates that contracts on 3.3 million to 6.5 million acres are scheduled to expire annually between now and 2014.

Producers interested in obtaining information or enrolling in the Conservation Reserve Program may visit the Farm Service Agency office, located in the Corner Mall of the Kingwood Plaza, or telephone 304-329-1923. Office hours are Monday through Friday, except federal holidays, from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Man Sentenced To Six Months For DWI Charge

A Pennsylvania man was sentenced to six months jail time and three years of supervised probation in a recent District Court hearing presided over by Judge Leonard J. Eiswert.

Glenn Joseph Lewiski, 58, was found guilty on a driving while impaired charge stemming from a traffic stop by Maryland State Police in October. Five months and 16 days were suspended of the sentence, leaving 14 days to be served in seven weekends. His three years of probation will be monitored by the Maryland Division of Parole and Probation. He was not prosecuted on a driving under the influence charge and additional traffic violations.

Terry Edwin Eskridge, 30, West Virginia, was found guilty on a DWI charge stemming from a traffic stop in December by Garrett County sheriff's deputies. He was sentenced to 60 days suspended and fined $500. He was also placed on 18 months of unsupervised probation. Eskridge was not prosecuted on a DUI charge.

Glenn Edward Burden Jr., 52, Virginia, was found guilty of DWI by drugs, alcohol, or drugs and alcohol. He was sentenced to 60 days suspended and fined $500, of which $300 was suspended. He was also placed on 18 months of supervised probation. Burden was stopped by Garrett County sheriff's deputies in November. He was not prosecuted on DWI, DUI, DWI by a controlled dangerous substance, and additional traffic charges.

Andrew David Betz, 22, Maryland, was given a probation before judgment (PBJ) verdict on a DUI per se charge that stemmed from a January traffic stop by GC deputies. He was fined $1,000, of which $700 was suspended, and sentenced to 60 days suspended. He was also placed on 18 months of supervised probation. He was not prosecuted on DWI and DUI charges.

Cathleen Margaret Mitchell, 52, Md., was given a PBJ on a DWI charge stemming from a December traffic stop by Garrett County sheriff's deputies. She was sentenced to 60 days suspended and 18 months of supervised probation. She was also fined $500, of which $300 was suspended. She was not prosecuted on a DUI charge.

Justin Ray Davis, 22, Md., was given a PBJ on a DWI and sentenced to 30 days suspended. He was ordered to pay $200 of a $500 fine and placed on two years of unsupervised probation. Davis was stopped by Maryland State Police in January. He was not prosecuted on DUI and DUI per se charges.

Shawn Lee Cardiff, 30, Md., was given a PBJ on a DWI charge stemming from a January traffic stop by GC deputies. He was sentenced to 30 days suspended and placed on one year of unsupervised probation. He was also ordered to pay $200 of a $500 fine. He was not prosecuted on DUI and DUI per se charges.

Michael Brian Heslop, 32, Md., was given a stet verdict on DUI, DUI per se, and DWI charges that stem from a November traffic stop by Maryland State Police. The conditions of his stet are that he attend and complete alcohol education classes at the Garrett County Health Department and obey all laws.

Justin Lee Sheally, 20, Md., was given a stet verdict on DUI and DWI charges that stem from a traffic stop by Garrett County sheriff's deputies in January. The conditions of his stet are to attend and complete alcohol classes at the GCHD and obey all laws.

In other court news, Delmas George Sines, 63, McHenry, was found guilty on a theft less than $1,000 value charge. He was sentenced to 60 days with 40 suspended and two years of supervised probation. Sines was arrested by Garrett County sheriff's deputies in November after they were called to Wal-Mart for a shoplifting incident. He reportedly stole 3 CDs and seven DVDs from the Oakland business.

Tanner John Hyson, 19, Frostburg, was found guilty on a malicious destruction of property plus $500 value charge. He was sentenced to 30 days with 28 suspended and one year of unsupervised probation. A fine of $1,000 was suspended. Hyson was reportedly one of two male suspects who busted out three windows of a vehicle belonging to another adult male. He was not prosecuted on conspiracy of theft less than $1,000 value and telephone misuse charges.

Daniel Secrist, 29, Oakland, was not prosecuted on two counts of malicious destruction of property plus $500 value. He was arrested by Oakland City Police in February after damage was done to several pieces of property during a domestic dispute.

GROUND BROKEN ON NEW STABLES — Reflecting Heaven Stables is relocating to the junction of Chestnut Ridge Rd. and New Germany Road, a few mile off I-68 in Grantsville. Joseph Fischetti and Jonathon Fischetti are brothers and co-owners of the establishment. Gary Bauer of Bauer's Excavating broke ground and has started excavating the site of the new hunter/jumper riding facility. Once the new site is completed, Reflecting Heaven Stables will offer equine boarding training, riding lessons, and showings. The new 18 acre facility will consist of a 14 stall barn, an indoor riding arena, 10 acres of pasture, and with easy access to miles of New Germany State Park trails. The barn and arena are projected to be completed by the beginning of April. A grand opening is planned for this spring. Applications for boarding are currently being accepted. Those interested may call 814-279-4952 or 814-289-7710 for more information. Pictured above, from left to right, are: Kristen Fischetti, Joseph Fischetti, Jonathon Fischetti, and Amanda Garlitz.

Apostolics Plan To Hold Mar. 5 Turkey Dinner

The Apostolics of Oakland turkey dinner will take place on Saturday, Mar. 5, from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m.

The menu will consist of baked turkey, dressing and gravy, real mashed potatoes, green beans, applesauce or sauerkraut, desserts, and beverages.

The group suggests a donation of $9 for adults and $6 for children.

There will be eat-in, takeout, and delivery options for participants. The church is located on the corner of G St. and Rt. 135 in the Mtn. Lake Park area.

For more information individuals may call 301-334-5873.

2011 Colorectal Cancer Awareness Month To Begin

The Garrett County Health Department will celebrate the 12th annual Colorectal Cancer Awareness Month in March in an effort to inform the public about the importance of early cancer screening. Despite the preventive benefit of early screening, 25 percent of adults 50 years and over have not been screened for colorectal cancer with a colonoscopy or a sigmoidoscopy, according to the Maryland Cancer Survey of 2010.

Colorectal cancer is the second leading cause of cancer deaths in Maryland, according to a spokesperson. Nationally the American Cancer Society projects approximately 142,570 new cases and 51,730 deaths this year. Of those, 2,630 new cases and 950 deaths are projected for Maryland. Compared to Caucasians, African-Americans are more likely to develop and die from colorectal cancer.

The major risk factor for colorectal cancer is age. More than 90 percent of colorectal cancer is found in people age 50 years and over. The ACS recommends screening for all people age 50 years and over, and before age 50 for people with a personal or family history of colorectal cancer or adenomatous polyps (small growths that can turn into cancer), and individuals with a history of inflammatory bowel disease (ulcerative colitis, Crohn's disease). Women with cancer of the ovaries or uterus before the age of 50 also need to start colorectal cancer screening earlier.

Those within the early stages of colorectal cancer may show no symptoms and look and feel well. The GCHD encourages everyone to talk with their doctor in order to find out when they should be tested for the disease.

Though there are several tests available to individuals, the most commonly used test is a colonoscopy, a procedure in which a doctor uses a flexible tube with a light to look inside the large intestine and colon to find cancer or to find and remove polyps before they can turn into cancer.

Those interested in more information may contact the Health Department at 301-334-7770 or 301-895-3111.

would like to extend many heartfelt thanks to everyone who sent cards, called, texted or sent many prayers our way during the illness and then passing of our mom and grandma.

Thanks to those who sent flowers and made monetary donations.

Special thanks to Dr. Richter and staff at Mtn. laurel, and to the staff at Hospice for all your help.

Thanks to the Church of the Nazarene for the use of your church for the service. And special thanks to Rev. Gloria Georg for the beautiful service.

Thanks to the Ladies at Kurtz Chapel for the meal and anyone else who brought in or sent in food and helped with the dinner. Also to the Deer Park VFW for the use of their facility for the dinner.

And finally, thanks to David Burdock Funeral Home for the kindness shown and helpfulness given to us during this difficult time.

God blessed us with wonderful parents and grandparents who we have comfort in knowing are back together again and rejoicing in the presence of the Lord.

We will love and miss them always!

May God bless each and every one of you.

SDAT I.D. No.: 02-012006 (Assessed as 19.78 acres)

The Property will be sold in "AS-IS" condition, subject to all conditions, restrictions, easements, covenants, rights-of-way and agreements of record affecting the Property, and subject to whatever an accurate survey or inspection of the Property would disclose, without any express or implied warranty of any kind.

A deposit of $7,500.00 cash, certified or cashier's check, payable to the undersigned Trustees, shall be required at the time and place of sale. The balance of the purchase price shall bear interest at the rate of 6.50% per annum from the date of sale to the date of delivery of payment to the Substitute Trustees. No deposit shall be required of the noteholder where the noteholder bids on the Property at sale and payment of the purchase price by the noteholder shall be made by crediting the purchase price against the foreclosure costs and expenses and the indebtedness secured by said Deed of Trust. In the event that settlement is delayed for any reason, including, but not limited to, exceptions to the sale, bankruptcy filings by interested parties, court administration of the foreclosure sale or unknown title defects, there shall be no abatement of interest.

Adjustment of all taxes, public charges and special or regular assessments, annual front foot benefit charges and deferred connection fees, if any, shall be made as of the date of sale and thereafter assumed by the purchaser. Condominium fees and/or homeowner's association fees, if any, shall be assumed by the purchaser from the date of sale. Title examination, conveyancing, transfer taxes, recordation tax and all other costs of conveyance and settlement shall be paid by the purchaser. Purchaser agrees to pay $295.00 at settlement to Seller's attorney for review of the settlement documents.

The Property is sold subject to the right of any persons in possession of all or any part of the Property under recorded or unrecorded leases or rights of occupancy, if any. Purchaser shall be responsible for obtaining possession of the Property.

Compliance with the terms of sale shall be made and the balance of the purchase price shall be paid within ten (10) days after final ratification of the sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, unless said time is extended by the undersigned Trustees in their sole and absolute discretion for good cause shown, time being of the essence; otherwise the deposit shall be forfeited and the Property will be resold at the risk and expense of the defaulting purchaser. In the event of resale, the defaulting purchaser shall not be entitled to any benefit, surplus proceeds or profits resulting from such resale.

The Trustees are not liable, individually or otherwise, for any reason. If title to the Property is not or cannot be transferred consistent with the terms hereof for any reason, the Trustee's liability is limited, at its sole discretion, to return any deposit, without interest, thereby rescinding the sale, and there is no other right or remedy against the Trustee at law or in equity.

Time is of the essence. The purchaser, other than the Holder of the Note and its assigns, shall pay interest at the rate of 6.00000% per annum on the unpaid portion of the purchase price from the date of sale to date of settlement. In the event settlement is delayed for any reason, there shall be no abatement of interest. If the purchaser defaults, the entire deposit is forfeited. The Substituted Trustees shall resell the property at the risk and expense of the defaulting purchaser. The defaulting purchaser shall be liable for the payment of any deficiency in the purchase price, all costs and expenses of both sales, attorney fees and all other charges due and incidental and consequential damages. Real property taxes and assessments shall be adjusted to the date of sale and assumed thereafter by the purchaser. Ground rent and water/sewer charges, if any, whether incurred prior to or after the sale shall be paid by purchaser. Cost of all documentary stamps and transfer taxes shall be paid by the purchaser. Purchaser shall have the responsibility of obtaining possession of the property. In the event the Substituted Trustees do not convey title for any reason, purchaser's sole remedy is return of the deposit. The Substituted Trustees shall have the right to terminate this contract in the event the holder or its servicer has entered into any agreement with or accepted funds from the mortgagor. Upon termination of the contract, Purchaser's sole remedy shall be return of the deposit. Purchaser agrees to pay a deed preparation and document review fee of $350.00 to the Seller's attorney. An additional fee of $250.00 shall be paid to the seller's attorney by purchaser in connection with the review of any motion to substitute a purchaser.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR STRIP MINE PERMIT

Notice is hereby given that LAOC Corporation, 3388 George Washington Highway, Oakland, Maryland 21550, has submitted an application to the Maryland Bureau of Mines for a surface coal mine operations permit.

The proposed operation occupies a 24.00 acre tract, near Deer Park, Maryland, on the west side of the North Prong of Lostland Run, 4.5 miles southwest of Deer Park in Election District No. 10, Garrett County, N 575,640, E 160,780. Access to the site will be from Potomac Camp Road, a continuation of Upperman Road which lies approximately 2 miles east of the intersection of Boiling Springs Road and Bethlehem Road.

The application proposes to mine within 100 feet of the right-of-way of Potomac Camp Road. The Maryland grid coordinates of the segment of road where mining will be within the specified distances are: N 577,710, E 160,536, and N 576,410, E 160,526.

The surface of the area to be mined is owned by LAOC Coal Corporation, 3388, George Washington Highway, Oakland, MD 21550.

The mineral to be mined is owned by LAOC Corporation, 3388 George Washington Highway, Oakland, MD 21550.

The permit area is within the U.S. Geologic Survey Deer Park 7.5 minute quadrangle.

The application includes plans to construct 3 ponds to control sediment and stormwater on the mining area. The ponds will be located within the proposed mine permit area.

A copy of the mine permit application is available for public review during regular office hours at the Bureau of Mines office and the Soil Conservation District Office in Oakland, Maryland.

Questions concerning any aspect of the application may be directed to the Maryland Bureau of Mines, Permitting Section, 301-689-6104. Written comments, requests for a public hearing, and requests to be included on the interested persons list regarding the application will be received until March 25, 2011, by the Bureau of Mines, Permitting Section, 160 S. Water Street, Frostburg, Maryland 21532.

Further notices about this application will be provided only by mail to those persons that submit comments, request a public hearing, or request to be included on the list of interested persons. Attention: File No. OPA-99-36.

SUBSTITUTE TRUSTEES' SALE
ONE-STORY CONTEMPORARY STYLE HOME
WITH APPROX. 150 FEET OF LAKE FRONT

2524 STOCKSLAGER RD.
Oakland, Md 21550

Under a power of sale contained in a certain Purchase Money Deed of Trust and Security Agreement from Robert M. Boston and Caron L. Boston, dated December 28, 2005, and recorded in Liber 1185, folio 47 and modified in a Modification Agreement dated June 9, 2009, and recorded in Liber 1452, folio 476, both recorded among the Land Records of Garrett County, MD, default having occurred under the terms thereof, and at the request of the parties secured thereby, the undersigned Substitute Trustees will sell at public auction

ON THE PREMISES, ON
MARCH 4, 2011, AT 1:00 P.M.

ALL THAT FEE-SIMPLE LOT OF GROUND AND THE IMPROVEMENTS thereon situated in Garrett County, Maryland, and known as Tax ID #18-044765 and more fully described in the aforesaid Purchase Money Deed of Trust and Security Agreement.

The property consists of approximately 150 feet of lake front. The property is believed to be improved by a one story contemporary style home. The first floor contains a foyer, living room, dining room, kitchen, family room, library, 2 bedrooms and 3.5 baths. The lower level contains a family room, recreation room, 2 bedrooms, 2 baths and wine cellar. Amentities include 3 fireplaces, patio, 2 porches, 3 decks and 3-car attached garage. Lot size approx. 2.08 acres.

The property will be sold in an "as is" condition and subject to all covenants, conditions, liens, restrictions, easements, rights-of-way as may affect same, if any and with no warranty of any kind.

TERMS OF SALE: A deposit of $75,000 will be required at the time of sale, such deposit to be in cash or certified check, or other form acceptable to the Substitute Trustees in their sole discretion. The deposit must be increased to 10% of the purchase price within 2 business days. If the deposit is not increased to 10% of the purchase price within 2 business days, the deposit will be forfeited and the property will be resold at the purchaser's risk and expense. Balance of the purchase price is to be paid in cash within ten (10) days of the final ratification of sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County. If payment of the balance does not take place within ten (10) days of ratification, the deposit(s) will be forfeited and the property will be resold at the risk and expense of the defaulting purchaser. The defaulting purchaser shall not be entitled to any surplus proceeds or profits resulting from any resale of the property. Interest to be paid on unpaid purchase money at the rate pursuant to the Deed of Trust Note from date of sale to date funds are received in the office of the Substitute Trustees in the event the property is purchased by someone other than the holder of the indebtedness. In the event settlement is delayed for any reason, there shall be no abatement of interest. All taxes, ground rent, water rent, condominium fees and/or homeowner association dues, all public charges, assessments payable on an annual basis, including sanitary and/or metropolitan district charges, if applicable, owed against the property shall be adjusted to date of sale and assumed thereafter by the purchaser. Cost of all documentary stamps, transfer taxes and settlement expenses for the property shall be borne by the purchaser. Purchaser shall be responsible for obtaining physical possession of the property. Purchaser assumes the risk of loss or damage to the property from the date of sale forward. If the Substitute Trustees are unable to convey good and marketable title, the purchaser's sole remedy in law or equity shall be limited to the refund of the deposit. Upon refund of the deposit to purchaser, this sale shall be void and of no effect, and the purchaser shall have no further claims against the Substitute Trustees. The conveyance of the property by the Substitute Trustees to the purchaser at settlement shall be by Trustees' Deed without covenants or special warranties. Purchaser(s) agrees to pay $295.00 at settlement, to the Seller's attorney, for review of the settlement documents. Purchaser agrees to pay $295.00 to the Seller's attorney for review of Motion to Substitute Purchaser payable at the time of execution.

The Substitute Trustees reserve the right to: (1) accept or reject any and all bids and to sell the property in any manner which the Substitute Trustees determines, in their sole discretion, may provide the highest yield to the secured party, (2) modify or waive the requirement for bidders' deposits and terms of sale and/or settlement, and (3) to withdraw all or any part of the property from the sale prior to acceptance of the final bid.

The property will be sold in an "AS IS" condition and without any recourse, representations or warranties, either express or implied, as to its nature, condition or description. No representations are made as to the property. Neither the Substitute Trustees, nor any other party, make any warranty or representation of any kind or nature regarding the physical condition of, the description of, or title to the property. The property will be sold subject to any violation notices and subject to all conditions, restrictions, easements, covenants, encumbrances, and agreements of record and all terms, conditions, notes, and matters as set forth and described in the Deed of Trust. The purchaser is responsible for, and the property is sold subject to, any environmental matter or condition, whether latent or observable, if any, that may exist at or affect or relate to the property and to any governmental requirements affecting the same.

NOTE: The information contained herein was obtained from sources deemed to be reliable, but is offered for informational purposes only. Neither the auctioneer, the beneficiary of the Deed of Trust, the Substitute Trustees nor their agents or attorneys make any representations or warranties with respect to the accuracy of information.

PROSPECTIVE PURCHASERS ARE URGED TO PERFORM THEIR OWN DUE DILIGENCE WITH RESPECT TO THE PROPERTY PRIOR TO THE FORECLOSURE AUCTION. For additional information, please contact the Substitute Trustees.

WINTER SPORTS PLAYOFF ACTION

The boys' and girls' basketball teams will begin playoff action this Friday, Feb. 25. The boys finished the year as the #2 seed in the region and the #1 seed in the western section. They are guaranteed home games in the quarterfinals and semifinals. The wrestling team will be competing in its regional tournament beginning Friday after winning the Bi-County Tournament for the 5th straight year. For more information one may visit www.mpssaa.org

PARENTS NEEDED TO LEAD AFTER-PROM

The 2011 after-prom event marks 20 years since the important tradition began at Southern High School. Parents are needed to step forward and manage this year's event; without a dedicated group of parents the annual celebration will not occur.

Teenagers face tough choices everyday, and dangerous decisions are often made concerning drugs and alcohol. Safe alternatives are needed in every community, and this is why it is important to offer a fun, safe after-prom activity. It takes many volunteers to manage this all-night event. Please plan on becoming a part of this wonderful activity for our students. Without the help of many parents, this activity can not occur.

MARCH 1 DEADLINES APPROACH FOR SENIORS

Seniors are reminded of the Mar. 1 deadlines for the following scholarships and financial opportunities: Garrett County Foundation Scholarship, Guaranteed Access Grant, Frostburg Institutional Scholarships, and Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). Seniors may seek assistance from their guidance counselor.

SCHOOL CALENDAR UPDATE

Garrett County public schools will be in session on Monday, Apr. 18, through Thursday, Apr. 21, and Easter Monday, Apr. 25. These days are indicated as make-up days in the 2010-2011 school calendar. All other make-up days will be added to the end of the school calendar.

MCDONALD'S COUPON CARD FUNDRAISER

The visual arts, culinary arts, and world languages classes are selling McDonald's coupon cards for $5 each. They will be accepted at the following McDonald's locations: Oakland, Keysers Ridge, Deep Creek Lake, Westernport, and Cresaptown. This year's card has buy-one, get-one specials for Big Macs, salads, snack wraps, iced tea, smoothies, frappes, egg McMuffins, and bacon, egg, and cheese biscuits. Those interested may contact Cindy Ringler at the high school or a student involved with the fundraiser.

RAM GEAR FOR PLAYOFFS

Individuals may purchase T-shirts, V-neck pullover wind breakers, and/or twill dress shirts to wear for playoff week at the school store. There are limited quantities of Ram gear available as the winter-sports season ends.

NATURAL RESOURCES CAREERS CONFERENCE

Maryland Association of Forest Conservancy District Boards and the Maryland Forestry Boards Foundation in partnership with Allegany College of Maryland and the Maryland Department of Natural Resources Forest Service are hosting the Natural Resources Careers Conference. The seven-day conference is designed for Maryland and mid-Atlantic high school students interested in the career fields of forestry and natural resources. Students will learn about working in natural resources, educational requirements, employment and career opportunities in forestry, water resources, and other related disciplines from teams of natural resource professionals. Further information may be obtained at http://www.maryland-forestryboards.org/nrcc.cfm.

SUMMER PROGRAM OPPORTUNITY

Each summer, Drexel University offers highly motivated and talented students the opportunity to explore what college life is all about. In workshops led by Drexel faculty, students will gain a new understanding of the undergraduate experience. Various programs will be offered in the colleges of business, engineering, medicine, information science and technology, media arts and design, and the law school. Those interested in more information, including schedules and application instructions, may visit www.drexel.edu/summer or visit the Guidance Office.

FFA STRAWBERRY SALE

The Southern High School FFA is taking orders for fresh Florida-grown strawberries through Feb. 28. The strawberries will be delivered the week of Mar. 14. Prices are $4 per quart, $14 per half flat (4 quarts), or $25 per flat (8 quarts). To order, those interested may see a Southern High School FFA member, call 301-334-1580 during the school day, or e-mail skisner-@sh.ga.k12.md.us.

NORTHROP GRUMMAN COLLEGE SCHOLARSHIP DEADLINE – MARCH 31

A scholarship of $10,000 will be awarded to a graduating high school senior in each of the 23 Maryland counties and Baltimore City. The funds are to be used for tuition, books, lodging, and/or meals at the institution of higher education of the recipient's choice. To apply, one must: be a resident of Maryland, be a graduating senior of a public or accredited private high school in Maryland, plan to attend an accredited college or university as a full-time student in an approved engineering program, have a minimum composite SAT score of 1700, and have a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.5. A brochure explaining the scholarship is available in the Guidance Office. Applications may be obtained online at http://www.es.northrop-grumman.com/engscholars/

JO ANN VENT SCHOLARSHIP DEADLINE – MARCH 31

A scholarship has been established in memory of Jo Ann Vent, who served as a teacher and career and technology education supervisor with Garrett County public schools. A $500 scholarship will be awarded to one graduating Southern or Northern high school senior who has completed a CTE program. Application criteria includes evidence of enrollment in a post-secondary training program leading to a specific certification or a two- or four-year degree in a technical area and a 2.5 grade point average. Interested seniors are also required to write an essay describing how completing a high school CTE program has been beneficial to their academic progress and influenced their career plans. The essay should include the following: the importance of pursuing additional education, plans to complete an education in a technical field, and how future career goals are associated with a career and technology education. Essays are to be submitted to Beverly Sincell in the Guidance Office. Those with questions or concerns regarding application criteria or other issues related to the scholarship may e-mail joventscholar@gmail.com.

WOODMEN OF THE WORLD SPENCER W. GRAHAM SCHOLARSHIP DEADLINE – MARCH 31

Southern High School seniors who are members of the Woodmen of the World may apply for the Spencer W. Graham scholarship. The application requires an essay concerning career aspirations and explanation of involvement in the school and community. Additional requirements are: a 2.5 grade point average, plans to pursue a postsecondary education at an accredited institution, and the demonstration of leadership and financial need. Applications are available in the Guidance Office.

GARRETT SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT DEADLINE – APRIL 1

An area high school senior will be awarded a one-time $1,000 scholarship to use toward the full-time study of an agricultural or natural resources related degree at an accredited college or university. Applicants must have a grade point average of 3.0 or higher. A one-page essay is required. Applications are available in the Guidance Office.

JOYCE COLBERT VETERINARY SCHOLARSHIP DEADLINE – APRIL 1

The Tucker Community Foundation offers two $1,000 scholarships for high school seniors in Garrett County and in Tucker and Preston counties in W.Va. Recipients must plan to pursue a degree in veterinary science and to work with farm animals. Applications are available in the Guidance Office or at www.tuckerfoundation.net.

ARC Releases Schedule For March Classes

The Western Potomac Chapter of the American Red Cross has scheduled several health and safety services courses for next month.

An adult, child, and infant cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) class will be held from 6 until 10 p.m. on Tuesdays, March 1 and 15, at the Cumberland chapter house.

This four-hour course includes caring for and recognizing breathing and cardiac emergencies, includ-ing choking, in adults, children, and infants. Automated external defib-rillator (AED) instruction for adults and children is included with CPR.

The cost is $30 for new certification and $25 for recertification, and includes text, a CPR kit, and one-year certification.

A professional rescuer CPR/AED course will be held on Saturday, March 19, from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. at the Cumberland chapter house.

This is an eight-hour class developed for volun-teers and career profession-als who routinely respond to emergencies. It empha-sizes how to recognize and respond to respiratory and cardiac emergencies in adults, children, and in-fants. Two-rescuer CPR and AED training are included.

This course meets the standard requirements for nursing, allied health professions, and emergency medical services.

The cost is $35 for new certification and $30 for recertification, and includes text, pocket mask, and one-year certification.

A lay responder CPR/first aid/AED course will be held from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. on Wednesdays, March 9 and 23, at the Oakland ARC office; and Saturdays, March 12 and 26, and Thursdays, March 17 and 31, at the Cumber-land chapter house.

This eight-hour course combines adult, child, and infant CPR, AED, and first aid into one entire day of training. The cost is $40 for new certification and $35 for recertification, and includes text, CPR kits, a first aid practice kit, and two certification cards.

A first aid class will also be held from 6 until 9 p.m. on Thursday, March 3, at the chapter house in Cumberland.

This three-hour course offers recognition and car-ing for life-threatening emergencies in adults, such as burns, injuries to muscles, bones, and joints, sudden illnesses, bleeding, and poisonings, as well as heat- and cold-related emergencies.

This course meets OSHA guidelines and is designed to fit the needs of businesses and industries.

The cost is $25 for new certification and $20 for re-certification, and includes text, a practice first aid kit, and a three-year certification card.

The Wester Potomac Chapter will also hold lifeguard training sessions at Frostburg State University from April 28 through May 6. Interested persons may contact Lorri Wharton, health services director, at 301-722-1760, ext. 105, or lkwharton@allconet.org, for more information.

Registration and payment for all ARC courses is required in advance. For more information or to register, one may contact Wharton.

HEAVENLY SPOTLIGHT? The clouds parted to allow this shaft of sunlight to brighten Deep Creek Lake for a moment, and Judy Pitman snapped a picture of it. The scene is rather representative of the weather of late, lots of clouds, rain, and wet snow, broken occasionally by some hours of brilliant blue skies and warm sunshine. While springtime has not yet arrived, some promises of it have, with robins finding their way back and other birds beginning to sing their early spring songs. And the landscape continues to offer beauty to Garrett Countians, as shown above. The forecast for the next week is full of all sorts of weather, with tomorrow predicted to be messy with an expected "wintry mix" of rain, ice, and/or snow. Partly sunny for much of next week, though. So it goes on the Mountaintop.

House Committee Approves Beitzel's "Buy American" Bill

The House Health and Government Operations Committee yesterday gave the House its favorable report of House Bill 12, Del. Wendell R. Beitzel's "Buy America" bill.

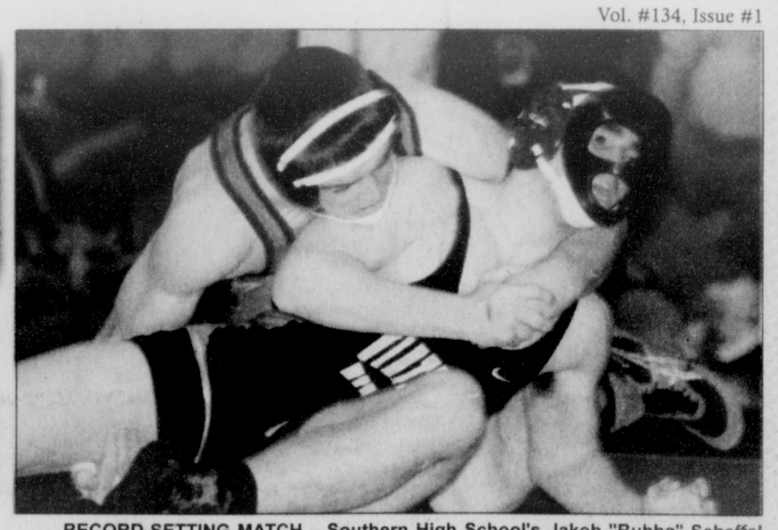
HB 12 would require Maryland's state and local governments to purchase American-made products when possible. A governmental entity would be exempt from the measure if the purchase would be made at a substantially higher cost, if the quantity offered is not sufficient, or if the quality is substantially decreased.

"This commonsense approach merely requires Maryland's tax dollars to be spent on American made products," Beitzel said. "It's a simple approach that merits the General Assembly's attention."

There are three ways in which a bill can be reported: favorable, favorable with amendments, or unfavorable. HB 12 was reported favorable with amendments. The only committee amendment on the measure merely added co-sponsors and provided clarifying language to the measure.

"I am honored that the Health and Government Operations Committee has, once again, believed so strongly in this measure that they have amended their names on as co-sponsors," said Beitzel.

He expects the bill to pass the House later this week. It will likely be assigned to the Senate Education, Health and Environmental Affairs Committee for a Senate hearing.



RECORD-SETTING MATCH – Southern High School's Jakob "Bubba" Scheffel not only won another regional wrestling title this past Saturday, but in that process also set an new all-time Maryland state record for total number of individual victories in a high school career. Scheffel, who will be going for a third straight Maryland state championship this weekend at College Park, is pictured above in control of Marshal Chang of Winters Mill High School in the 171-pound title bout on Saturday. It was Scheffel's technical fall of Chang that gave him 163 victories, breaking the previous record of 162 held by Matt Slutvky of Aberdeen. Scheffel and five teammates qualified for the state tournament, as did five members of the Northern High School team. See sports pages for details. Photo courtesy of Delos Carpenter.

Commissioners Hear Update On Broadband Proj.

Assistant director Frank Shap, Garrett County Department of Economic Development, presented an update report to the county commissioners on Tuesday about the status of a statewide Internet broadband initiative.

As part of the federal economic stimulus program, Shap said, Maryland recently received $115 million to create a "fiber backbone" throughout the state, from the lower Eastern Shore to Oakland. The state will match that grant with

Bloomington Community Pleads Case For Keeping Elementary School Open

More than 30 Bloomington Elementary School parents, students, teachers, and other supporters met with the Garrett County commissioners on Tuesday afternoon to plead their case for keeping the school open.

Located at the foot of Backbone Mountain near the Allegany County line, Bloomington Elementary has 34 students in prekindergarten through grade five.

"If the recommendation to close the school goes through, it's going to have an effect not only on the school kids, but on the community," said Greg Harvey, BES Advisory Group. "It's not just an issue that deals with 34 kids."

He said the school is the hub of the community, and closing it would have detrimental effects on Bloomington. Those include decreased property values, a decreased tax based for the county, the loss of after-school and community activities, the loss of school- related jobs, and the eventual loss of businesses, services, and residents.

Harvey pointed out how nearby Westernport declined after Allegany County closed Bruce High School.

"The reason for being in Westernport went away," he said about the exodus of numerous families.

The local BOE is facing a more than $4 million budget shortfall in fiscal year 2012 because of state cutbacks, an increase in the county's wealth index, and the expiration of "hold harmless" legislation, which previously ensured level funding despite enrollment decline.

As a cost-saving meas-

Community Events Surrounding GC President Inauguration Slated

Plans are well under way for the inauguration of Dr. Richard L. MacLennan as president of Garrett College, which will take place on Saturday, April 9, at 11 a.m. in the gymnasium on the McHenry campus. The theme of this installation ceremony is "Celebrating the College in the Community," and there will be a series of events and festivities open to the community.

"In selecting the events for this inaugural celebration, the planning committee members wanted to create a program that would reflect Dr. MacLennan's focus on the college as an integral part of the larger community it serves," said Dr. Jeanne Neff, planning committee chair and chair of the board of directors of the Garrett College Foundation. "It was his request that the Garrett County community be central to the celebration."

The festive three-day agenda will include the third part of the Joan Crawford Lecture Series on Wednes day, April 6; a county-wide community service day involving students, faculty, and staff, followed by a family-style picnic and a Garrett Lakes Arts Festival performance by the Iona Pan-Celtic Band on Friday, April 8; and the pageantry of procession in full academic regalia for the presidential inauguration on

NeXT GEN Earns Top Scores At FLL State Championship

by Arlene Lantz

The NeXT GEN Southern Middle School FIRST LEGO League (FLL) Team earned top honors at the Feb. 26 Maryland State FLL Championship held at the University of Maryland Baltimore Campus. The team is now eligible to attend the FLL World Festival in St. Louis, Mo., in April.

To earn the Champion's Award, NeXT GEN placed in the top in all judging areas out of the 64 teams competing from across Maryland, Pennsylvania, and Washington, D.C. The group excelled at the robot missions on the table, did an excellent research presentation on concussions, convinced the judges they had a great mechanical design, and pulled it all together with their teamwork. The students from Southern Middle School have practiced weekly since September at Swan Meadow School.

At the FLL World Festival, the students will meet and work with teams from all over the world. They will be competing with the best of the best teams. The team members will continue to practice to improve their table performance and technical presentation, continue their research on their innovative "Brain Freeze" idea to detect concussions, further develop their programming skills, and build important teamwork skills.

The team extends thanks to the Garrett County Board of Education, Dr. Teets, FRC Team 1629, Dr. Buczynski, Dr. Domenick, Tammy Ashby, Eric Tribbey, Adele Naylor, Jason Jobe, Kendra Todd, Coach Don Stemple, Coach Dave McLaughlin, the Aurora Lions Club, and Swan Meadow School for their support to the team.

Individuals or businesses interested in supporting the team's trip to the FLL World Festival may send a tax-deductible donation to GEARS, P.O. Box 277, McHenry, MD 21541. "NeXT GEN Team #971" must be noted on the memo line.

The team will present its research and technical talk, and will run the table at the 4-H Open House at the GEARS Center in Accident on Sunday, April 17, from 3 to 6 p.m. Everyone is invited to attend.

Oakland Couple Sentenced For Seven Counts Of Animal Cruelty

Richard Ray Friend, 54 and Carol Lynn Friend, 43, Oakland, pleaded guilty in the District Court of Garrett County on Tuesday to seven counts of animal cruelty for failure to provide sufficient food, necessary veterinary care, and proper drink, air, space, shelter, and/or protection from weather. Nineteen similar counts were dismissed upon the pleas.

Judge Leonard Eiswert then sentenced the Friends to 90 days' incarceration for each count, to run concurrently. Seventy days of Richard Friend's sentence was suspended, while all 90 days of Carol Friend's sentence was suspended. Both were fined $1,000, which was suspended, and placed on three years of supervised probation.

Conditions of the couple's probation include payment of court costs, having no horses in their possession or care, and the payment of $149,511.45 in restitution to the Days End Farm Horse Rescue Inc. Mrs. Friend also has to complete 80 hours of community service at the County Animal Shelter.

Last May officers with the Garrett County Humane Society (GCHS) seized approximately 50 animals from the Friend property along King Wildesen Road near Gorman. Twenty-six of these were horses, which were transported to Days End in Woodbine for evaluation and care. It was determined the horses suffered from malnutrition, dehydration, lack of veterinary care, lack of farrier care of their hooves, infestations of lice, "rain rot," and other conditions, the state's attorney noted.

The seven charges to which the Friends pleaded guilty involved the horses whose body conditions scored a 1 or a 2 out of a possible 9 on the Henneke Body Condition Scoring System.

The Friends were originally charged by GCHS officers, but upon receipt of veterinarian reports and records from Days End, the state entered nolle prosequi of those charges and State's Attorney Lisa Thayer Welch refiled charges, resulting in the 26 counts that were called in court this week.

Delegation Seeks Local Control For Modular Buildings

The House Environmental Matters Committee will hear a measure today sponsored by Del. Wendell R. Beitzel (R–Garrett and Allegany counties) that would allow local jurisdictions to optout of requirements relating to modular homes and sprinkler systems.

House Bill 711 is cosponsored by Delegates Kevin Kelly and LeRoy Myers, both of whom represent Allegany County. The proposed legislation also has broad, bi-partisan sup-

NOT EXACTLY A DAY AT THE BEACH – There's nothing like an invigorating jump in Deep Creek Lake, especially when the water is in the 30s. Just a glance at these folks' faces as they hit that frigid water tells the tale of how shocking it was for about 1,000 people to take that leap on Saturday at the Deep Creek Dunk. The event, held on the beach at Uno's Restaurant, raises money for Special Olympics Maryland, and this year brought in more than $163,000. For a wide range of photographs taken during the wild afternoon, persons may go to www.therepublicannews.com and click the blue button. Photo by John McEwen.

Deep Creek Lake Area Sees Strong Increases In Tourism

by Sarah Duck,
GC Chamber of Commerce

The Deep Creek Lake area is reporting strong increases in tourism in 2010 and into early 2011. In 2010, Garrett County had the highest total accommodations sales collections on record and, though they are historically strong months, reports the highest collections on record for the months of January, April, July, October, and December in 2010.

And the increases haven't been limited to lodging. Wisp Resort saw increases in last winter's and summer's activities and admissions, and winter 2010/2011 at Wisp has already outpaced last year.

Deep Creek Lake on-the-water activities are an important part of the county's spring, summer, and fall tourism, and local boating outfitter Bill's Marine Service saw increases in demand in 2010.

"As a business, in 2010 our gross income was up 16 percent, and our net profitability was up a healthy percentage over last year as well," said Bob Nickel, vice president/general manager at Bill's Marine Service. "There is no doubt that these numbers are up because of the increase in tourism over the last year. We have nine different profit centers within our business, and the most profitable ones are directly related to tourism. The two largest increases were in boat rentals and gas sales."

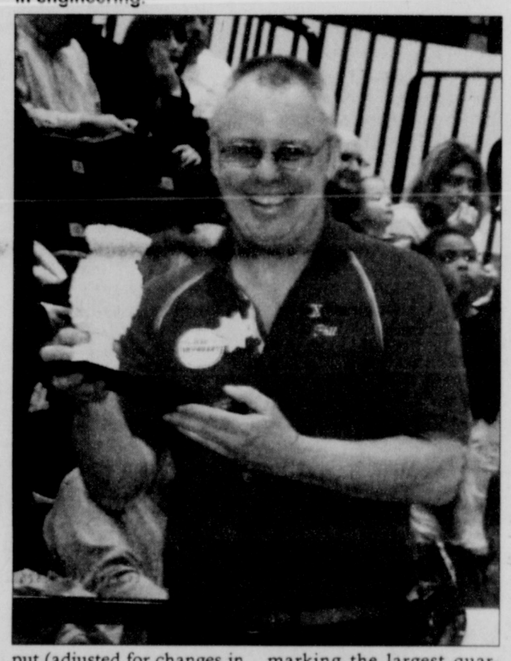
"Although tourism has remained strong in the Deep Creek Lake area throughout the recession, it is very exciting to see this uptick in an industry that has been so hard hit by the down economy," said Nicole Christian, president/CEO of the Garrett County Chamber of Commerce. "Because we've never taken our foot off the gas, Garrett County and Deep Creek Lake are primed for continued record-breaking numbers of visitors."

The county appears to be following a national upswing in tourism. The U.S. Department of Commerce recently announced that real U.S. travel and tourism output (adjusted for changes in price) increased at an annual rate of 8 percent during the third quarter of 2010, marking the largest quarterly increase in U.S. travel and tourism spending since the first quarter of 2004.

The recent growth in the travel and tourism industry is most notably seen in the passenger air transportation, lodging and restaurant sectors. Spending on passenger air transportation increased 29.8 percent in the third quarter of 2010, as lower fares stimulated the demand for air travel. Real spending on traveler accommodations increased 9.5 percent during the same timeframe, the third consecutive quarter of growth.

According to a local vacation rental home company, Railey Mountain Lake Vacations, summer rentals are filling up quickly and they are expecting a full economic recovery in 2011. If you're planning a trip to the Deep Creek Lake area, you should make reservations soon. Check out visitdeepcreek.com to learn about area lodging options, activities, and more.

FLL TEAMS TOUR AND LEARN – The local 4-H G-FORCE and Techno Clovers FTC Teams encouraged youth to have fun with robotics by traveling to Baltimore with their SuGO and team robots for the youth and adults to have some hands-on experiences. Above, Kevin Haenftling gets the wiffle ball shooting robot ready for the kids. NeXT GEN team members, families, and coaches learned about what the Engineering Club does at UMBC. Below is NeXT GEN mentor Phil Malone with the Adult Mentor Award, for which he was nominated by the team. "He was nominated because he is always there encouraging them to think through their challenges, test their ideas, and continue to improve to do their best," said Arlene Lantz. Malone is the founder of the county GEARS Center, Accident, and runs the monthly SuGO Sundays and other robotic camps and workshops. He also coaches the local FTC and FRC teams. At right, senior Eric Myer talks to the group about the club Baja car. The club members design, build, test, and redesign the car from scratch. It has various hill, rock, water, and speed track terrains it must travel across. The team has won top awards the past several years. Myer also encouraged the students who like designing and building things like the FLL robots to take all the math and science courses in high school and to consider a career path in engineering.



Bloomington UM Schedules Supper

A pancake supper will be held at Bloomington United Methodist Church on Friday, March 18, from 4 to 7 p.m.

Sponsored by the United Methodist Women, the meal will consist of pancakes, sausage, sausage gravy, and eggs. The cost is $7, but free for children age 3 and younger.

God's Heavenly Garden

Sometimes God picks a flower
That is still in full bloom;
Sometimes the rosebud's chosen
That we feel he's picked too soon.
Sometimes the flower is fading
With petals floating down,
But God knows the perfect time
To gather flowers from the ground.
There is a heavenly garden
In which God takes great pleasures
Because He's placed within it
The loved ones that we treasure.
He walks among the blossoms
Giving them eternal rest,
And I know that it must please Him
Because He chose our very best.
I miss you, my friend.
Love, Roxanne

Weather Trivia

What is the difference between the terms weather and climate?

Answer: Climate is the average weather over a prolonged period of time.

Weather History

March 4, 1909 - Though fair weather was forecast, President Taft was inaugurated amidst a furious storm. About 10 inches of wet snow disrupted travel and communications. The storm drew much criticism against the U.S. Weather Bureau.

Bruceton Mills Man Is Charged After Fight With Juvenile

A West Virginia man was arrested by Garrett County sheriff's deputies after they responded to Loch Lynn for a reported fight in progress.

Andrew Brent Hershman, 23, Bruceton Mills, was engaged in a fight with a 17-year-old male. He was charged with second-dergee assault and taken to the Garrett County Jail to await a bond hearing.

GCSO Seeking Info On Theft Of Construction Tool

The Garrett County Sheriff's Office is seeking information regarding a theft that occurred at a building in Oakland. Sometime between Feb. 18 and Feb. 21, unknown suspect(s) entered a building on Liberty Street and removed a construction tool.

Anyone with information concerning the incident is asked to contact the GCSO at 301-334-1911. Callers may remain anonymous. Tips may also be left at www.garrettcounty crimesolvers.org. Tipsters may earn a reward of up to $1,000.

Head Start And Early Head Start Accepting Apps.

The Garrett County Community Action Committee Head Start pre-school and the Early Head Start programs are in the process of spring recruitment and are accepting applications for enrollment in the 2011-12 school year.

Families with children age 6 weeks through 5 years old in Garrett County are encouraged to apply. Children must be 3 years of age by Sept. 1 to be age eligible for Head Start, when the new school year opens.

As early childhood care and pre-school education programs, both Head Start and Early Head Start offer services that support families and provide a safe learning environment for children. Both programs provide comprehensive early childhood care and education services to promote and ensure school readiness for all children who are enrolled in the programs. According to the 2009 Maryland Model for School Readiness Report, 92% of all the 4-year-old children that participated in the GCCAC Head Start program entered school ready to learn.

Both offer children the opportunity to participate on a daily basis in a variety of activities that are designed to promote positive development and growth. There are several locations throughout the county, as well as several options from which to choose. Parents who have children with disabilities are also encouraged to apply.

Head Start and Early Head Start services are provided by highly trained and qualified staff. All centers are accredited and licensed by the Maryland State Department of Education. The Head Start/ Early Head Start programs promote the GCCAC goal of creating a positive attitude about the value of education among working families and young people, thereby increasing the number of Garrett County families who are economically self-sufficient.

For more information or to make an appointment to complete an application, persons should call 301-334-9431, ext. 126, or toll free 1-888-877-8304, ext. 126.

Crime Solvers Program Now Has Web Site; Anonymity Guaranteed

The Garrett County Sheriff's Office recently adopted responsibility for the Crime Solvers Program in Garrett County. The sheriff's office worked with former Garrett County government intern and full-time college student Andrew Sauder of Oakland, who took on the project to place Garrett County Crime Solvers online last fall.

Sauder, who is majoring in information technology at Frostburg State University, worked with sheriff's office staff over a six-month period to develop a web site according to Sheriff Rob Corley's specifications.

"Andrew's hard work will be a tremendous benefit to the citizens of Garrett County," Corley said.

Sauder, a 2008 graduate of Southern High School, was awarded a gift card and certificate of recognition by Sheriff Corley for his efforts.

Sauder developed www.garrettcountycrimesolvers.org to be a user-friendly web site that will allow anyone using a computer to provide the sheriff's office anonymous tips on specific or general crimes, drug information, and information on individuals with outstanding warrants. The site also allows citizens to view specific, active cases of the sheriff's office. Tipsters will have the opportunity to check the web site to see if their specific information, which is pass-code protected, has earned them a cash reward.

Sheriff Corley urges citizens of Garrett County to become involved with his office by visiting the Crime Solvers web site to become familiar with it, and suggested adding it to their favorites list. Corley emphasizes that even though persons may not have information on a crime, they may know someone who does, and can forward the site on to them through e-mail.

"Or, you may think the information you have is not important, but it may turn out to be a substantial lead in a case," Corley added.

He said that he is "excited" about the future of Crime Solvers and hopes the citizens the county will join him "in the fight to keep our streets free of crime."

Corley also invites all municipal citizens to their local town meetings during April, at which members of his staff will give a presentation on Crime Solvers.

The Crime Solvers site can be accessed from any computer that has Internet access, and the Garrett County government's web site has a link to the site as well.

Crime Solvers is fully funded by private donations from citizens and businesses. Anyone wishing to donate monetary funds to the Crime Solvers reward fund may do so by contacting the Garrett County Sheriff's Office administrative assistant, Brenda Reckner, during business hours at 301-334-1911. The office is planning annual fundraisers and will rely heavily on private business for their donations, Corley said.

"Citizens and businesses working together will greatly increase a positive outcome to crime in this county," he said, "and Crime Solvers is one more tool to help that move forward."

The original land line number for Garrett County Crime Solvers, 301-334-1975, will also be maintained at the sheriff's office; however, the new web-based program will be the most efficient way to leave a tip.

CRIME SOLVERS ONLINE – Thanks to the technical work of a local college student, the Garrett County Crime Solvers Program is now online. Sheriff Rob Corley is pictured above presenting a certificate of recognition to Andrew Sauder, an information technology major at Frostburg State University who worked with sheriff's office staff over a six-month period to develop the web site according to Sheriff Rob Corley's specifications. Going to Bat for Us...

There is a piece of legislation about which we here in our newsroom have heard next to nothing, and yet seemingly could have a profound negative impact on Garrett County if it passes. We became aware of it just yesterday upon receiving the testimony that is being presented at a hearing today in Annapolis by none other than our state comptroller Peter Franchot, who is adamantly opposed to House Bill 918, titled Repeal of Tax Credit for Purchase of Maryland-Mined Coal. The fact that the comptroller is taking the time and effort to do this would make one believe that it is an extremely important issue, and yet we have received no comments about this bill from our local elected officials.

Rather than our rehashing of why Franchot is in opposition to this bill, providing his exact, well-written words seems to be the best way to tell our readers why he stands in opposition to this bill. So the following are excerpts from his testimony:

"This legislation, if passed and signed into law, would pose a challenge to the long-term viability of one of Western Maryland's most dependable sources of family-supporting jobs, tax revenue, economic activity, and community support. It would do so at a time when far too many families in the region are struggling to secure employment, save their homes, and rebuild their life savings in the aftermath of the national recession, and simply cannot afford another hit to an already fragile economy.

"The coal industry's critical role to the success of Western Maryland's economy can not be overstated. The industry accounts for 560 direct and 2,800 indirect full-time jobs in Garrett and Allegany counties, while creating $90 million a year in direct regional economic impact. A Penn State University study conducted in 1994 found that every dollar spent by the Maryland coal industry, and every dollar paid to a coal miner, will generate more than $2 in economic activity. That same study found that every employed miner helps to sustain almost three additional jobs. An investment in the Maryland coal industry is one that, over time, will pay for itself many times over.

"The Western Maryland coal industry has a $28 million annual payroll that coal miners so desperately rely upon in these tough economic times; a tax credit repeal would threaten this industry and the thousands of jobs it creates.

"In addition to these economic benefits, the Maryland coal industry has been indispensable to the civic and cultural vitality of the Western Maryland region. The philanthropic support of this industry has proven critical to the ability of this economically challenged region to provide support services for vulnerable families and children. It has partnered with our state and local governments to support the outstanding public schools of the region, just as it has helped provide Frostburg State University with the resources to emerge as one of Maryland's finest centers of higher learning.

"Finally, it would be fair to say that cultural and recreational organizations throughout the region – from the Little League teams that will soon begin play, to the fine arts and entertainment venues that are redefining downtown Cumberland – have benefited in some meaningful way from the support of this cornerstone industry. I would respectfully suggest that this is not the time to diminish the ability of this industry to compete successfully and sustain its contribution to Western Maryland's economy and quality of life.

"It is in that spirit that I urge the Committee to oppose this legislation. Thank you for your consideration."

And thank you, Comptroller Franchot, for going to bat for us.

To the Editor:

On Monday at the Adventure Sports Colloquium on military service at Garrett College, the audience had the privilege and pleasure of hearing and learning from a panel of enlisted and officers from the Air Force, Army, Coast Guard, Marines, and Navy (listed alphabetically to prevent bias), active and reserve, and military recruiters. This panel had experience in the fields of medicine, law, combat, combat, support, search and rescue, special forces, and aerial combat. Their ages reflected service in the Korean, Vietnam, cold, Iraq, and Afghanistan wars totaling hundreds (not 10s) of years of service. Simply amazing.

Think about it: If you had been in the audience, you could have received information about all branches of the military and experiences in a wide variety of subjects, and also how to enter and take advantage of service to the nation and training.

The colloquium, advertised in The Republican, was organized by adventure sports director Mike Logsdon. He did an outstanding job of not only organizing, but also seeing to it that the audience had its questions answered. This colloquium and many similar programs are produced by Garrett College in general and the Adventure Sports Institute in particular for the benefit of students and the public.

How did the colloquium end? By Director Logsdon leading everyone in the Pledge of Allegiance to the American flag. An outstanding meeting, primarily because of to Director Logsdon. Thank you, Mike.

In recognition of Social Work Month, I want to take this opportunity to educate the public on the Multi-Disciplinary Team (MDT) partnership of the Garrett County Child Advocacy Center (GCCAC).

The GCCAC is housed at the Oakland office of the Garrett County Department of Social Services. The purpose of the Child Advocacy Center is to work as a "one-stop shop" for investigating child abuse and neglect cases, getting children specialized medical and mental health care, and to increase the number of cases that are prosecuted.

The MDT members include Child Protective Service investigators and law enforcement officers from the Maryland State Police and the Garrett County Sheriff's Office. All CPS investigators and officers are trained in forensic interviewing. The Garrett County State's Attorney's Office also plays an active role on the MDT.

Medical personnel include a sexual abuse forensic examiner from the Garrett County Health Department and a local medical doctor who participates in the Maryland Child Abuse Medical Providers (CHAMPS) program.

Lastly, mental health workers comprise therapists from the Garrett County Department of Social Services, while some children are also referred to the health department or the Dove Center for therapy.

For more information on child advocacy centers, please go online to NationalCAC.org or mdcha.org. If you are interested in becoming involved or want to help with the GCCAC efforts, please contact the Garrett County Department of Social Services at 301-533-3040.

To the Editor:

Someone sure must love our road sign. This is the second time someone has taken it. I hope who did take it knows that the county puts up the first one and there afterward, someone has to buy the sign. They are not cheap, and when the sign is missing it can be very bad for someone who is trying to find a certain road.

Our road sign came up missing between Friday evening, Feb. 18, and Sunday morning, Feb. 20. And just the other night I got a call from an out-of-towner looking for our neighbor's house in the dark, and could not find the place with our road sign missing.

You who took the sign know who you are, and I'm sure you know it's against the law to destroy other people's property. You may think no one saw you take it, but someone is always watching. So have a heart and bring it back. We need it.

To the Editor:

I agree with last week's editorial. The country is in a crisis and everyone needs to sacrifice, including public employee union members.

But you miss the point of what is happening in Wisconsin, Ohio, and other states. Republicans are accelerating their assault on the middle class of this country.

The issue is not balancing the budget. There is no relationship between the deficit of a state and whether or not its employees are unionized. In Wisconsin, public employee unions have agreed to all of the financial concessions requested by the governor (paying more for health care and retirement) which balance the budget with an 8 percent pay cut.

The issue is an aggressive attack on the working class and low-income families. Governor Walker's proposed legislation gives his administration the power to make any changes to Medicaid that they think necessary without approval of the legislature. The new secretary of health in Wisconsin has been a long time advocate of states withdrawing from Medicaid.

In addition, the proposed bill gives the governor the right to sell the state's public utility assets to private investors without going through any public notification or review process, and without competitive bidding. This is government for special interests, not the common interest.

Most importantly, the proposed legislation, like proposals in Ohio and other states, would end collective bargaining rights for public employees. This is unrelated to the budget issues facing the state and is simply an effort to eliminate organizations that fight for the interests of working men and women.

A few facts illustrate how this strategy has destroyed the middle class:

1. Between 1976 and 2007, salaries for the average working person were stagnant or declined.

2. During the same period, nearly 60 percent of the growth in national income went to the top 1 percent of the population.

3. 83 percent of all U.S. stocks are in the hands of the top 1 percent of the population.

4. Today 61 percent of Americans live paycheck to paycheck, up from 43 percent in 2007.

5. The bottom 50 percent of income earners in the U.S. collectively own less than 1 percent of the nation's wealth.

The fight in Wisconsin and across the country is a fight for the middle class and all working men and women. I hope you support the hard-working men and women in this country against this assault.

Sincerely,
Michael Bell

To the Editor:

The Garrett Reading Council (GRC) invites families and readers of all ages to celebrate our 10th anniversary with us on Monday, April 4, at 7:15 p.m., in the Garrett College auditorium. How about calling together your book club for our free evening of fun? We'd love for families, grandparents with their grandchildren, librarians, educators, students, scientists, past and current officers and members of Garrett Reading Council – all who love to read – to fill the auditorium for our free event.

Scientist, author, and publisher Sneed Collard III will tell his story of becoming a marine biologist, a writer of more than 50 children's books, many of which have won awards, and how he recently opened a publishing company in Missoula, Montana. I encourage you to check out his web site at http://www.sneedcol-lardiii.com and check out our window display with some of his books at Ruth Enlow Library in Oakland this month.

Festivities will include a readers' theatre of original poems and short story excerpts by Garrett County's 2010-2011 Young Authors Contest (YAC) winners. The list of county winners will be in an article next week. Garrett Reading Council's current officers will share a 10-minute, 10-year retrospect on the projects and people of GRC, since Swan Meadow School principal Randee Craig founded it 10 years ago.

Garrett Reading Council's members, most of whom are local public school teachers, librarians, and education students, have provided our community with professional development, reading events, and books for the past 10 years. We'll have more articles this month on our projects in the community, such as support of Landon's Imagination Library with volunteer time. Through the State of Maryland International Reading Association Council (SoMIRAC), we have given SoMIRAC's $350 bundle of books and a bookcase to families with Habitat for Humanity homes in Garrett County. Through the International Reading Association (IRA), we have supported the International Book Bank, which provides books for community "libraries" around the world.

Please help us celebrate 10 years of meaningful projects in our community, state, and world. Let's show Sneed Collard III a Garrett County welcome at our celebration! Monday, April 4, will be a free and fun evening to remember. Thank you.

Yours truly,
Liz Rees Gilbert,
Garrett Reading Council
President

To the Editor:

I am the community manager for the American Cancer Society and am currently serving Garrett County. Not only am I responsible for the success of our Relay For Life event, but I also am responsible for the success of our mission programs and services in the county.

My goal for this year is to get Garrett County residents educated on the programs and services the American Cancer Society has available to Garrett County cancer patients and their families, and to be available for those residents to receive any information they may need. To help me accomplish this goal, Garrett County Memorial Hospital has allowed me to set up a table four times this year in its lobby to talk with residents and be available to hand out cancer information.

We have strategically planned these days to be two weeks before our Look Good, Feel Better sessions, which brings me to another goal. This year, GCMH and ACS would like to increase attendance at our special Look Good, Feel Better classes. These classes are geared toward women who are facing cancer and the treatment-related side effects that come with the disease. They are taught how to put on their wigs and makeup by a licensed cosmetologist, who happens to be our very own Tammy Eggleston. They also get to socialize with women who are going through the same treatment. It is a wonderful experience where women truly do walk away feeling beautiful, which is so important when facing a horrible disease like cancer.

I would like to extend my warmest welcome to anyone who would like to come speak to me at the hospital from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on May 4, Aug. 3, or Oct. 5.

Also, I invite any woman who is currently facing cancer to attend a Look Good, Feel Better class at the hospital. Hope is beautiful! Please join us for these free classes, scheduled from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. on March 16, May 18, Aug. 17, and Oct. 19.

Anyone desiring more information may contact me at the information listed below. I hope Garrett County will help me in creating a world with less cancer and more birthdays!

Sincerely,

To the Editor:

It never ceases to amaze me that people choose to be willingly ignorant of the truth when the spotlight of truth is shining directly in their faces. This goes double for those who would claim to be Christian in faith.

A certain weekly contributor to this publication opined recently about our current president, and I quote, "Anyone can see in his words and deeds that President Obama is embodying the best Christian faith." Huh? What planet does that come from?

President Obama is stridently pro-abortion in all its ugly forms, including the late-term, partial-birth abortion. How can you possibly reconcile that with any of the teachings of Jesus or any other scripture? It is completely at odds and in no way compatible with any aspect of Christianity. To claim otherwise serves only one purpose, and that is to further the agenda of the enemy of our souls.

Much has also been made the last few years of the Michael Vick dog abuse case. I am not in favor of torturing and abusing animals. I am not a hunter of wildlife in any of its forms, nor have I ever owned any type of firearm, although I am not opposed to gun ownership.

But let's get a little perspective and think about it. A dog is still a dog, regardless of how closely attached we may become to them, and I know; I've had dogs like that.

On the other hand, a baby is a precious human being, made in the image of God, and to deliberately abort a fetus in any stage of development or for any reason whatsoever is murder, plain and simple.

So let me get this straight: It's okay to be murdering millions of babies because they put an unwanted crimp in our lifestyle, and discard them as casually as we would an old worn out pair of boots.

But when someone unfortunately mistreats and abuses or even kills dogs, well now that's something we can really wrap our sick little pleasure-mad, self-gratifying minds around. Some people even expressed the opinion that Michael Vick should get the death penalty!

Is this really the state that our nation has come to? Has all logic and decency departed us? Only by returning to God can our nation be healed from its iniquities. God help us!

To the Editor:

In response to last week's letter from J. Edward Gates, I will attempt to answer some of his concerns.

First let me say that I do not believe that wind energy offers the total answer to our country's needs. For that matter, there are no single answers, including oil, coal, natural gas, or nuclear.

The "answer" lies in the combination of these various forms and the mix that provides the most benefit from the recipe. To pick out any particular source to discredit is easy enough to do, as every form of energy production has its own price to pay, like sending billions of dollars overseas to purchase oil from "dudes in robes."

The Wright brothers didn't fly a 747 at Kitty Hawk. If we continue to wait for perfection, then nothing happens and the problem continues. There sure seems to be a bunch of people saying all the things they don't like about something and Saturday, April 9. The inauguration ceremony will be followed by a reception and an evening gala event hosted by the Garrett College Foundation.

Dr. MacLennan assumed leadership as the 10th president of Garrett College in July 2010 after serving for 12 years as vice president of student services at Olympic College, a three-campus college in Kitsap County, Wash. A focus of his 25-year career has been helping people access training and education.

MacLennan's own path to higher education began as an adult student learner in 1981 after serving in the U.S. Army as an enlisted soldier and five years in the plumbing industry.

"I am devoted to the community college mission of access and opportunity," he said. "I recognize that students are unique individuals with meaningful differences in their learning styles and abilities, attitudes toward learning and life, past educational experiences, culturally based values, and interests and goals."

For more information, about the April 6-9 inaugural events, persons are invited to go online to www.garrettcollege.edu or call 301-387-3100.

Despite Unseasonable Warmth, 4th Annual Winter Fest Deemed Success

After a bitterly cold few months, the weather took a turn toward warmth as the fourth annual Winter Fest arrived in Oakland. The focus of the fest is the art of ice carving, so the warmer temperatures were not particularly welcomed by organizers, but the weekend was deemed a success despite the upturn.

"We don't have definite numbers on the crowds that turned out over the weekend," said Katherine Lee, Main Street manager for Oakland, "but the turnout was great. We do know that the Garrett County Historical Society's museum had nearly 1,000 visitors throughout the three-day event, with 700 of those just on Saturday."

Bill Sandusky of Frozen Assets Inc. was on hand again this year to create a wide variety of ice sculptures, which were displayed throughout the town. They were lighted for nighttime viewing as well.

The festival opened with the progressive dinner on Friday, which included sleigh rides to different locations for the courses. The group met at the Oakland train station and were transported via horse-drawn sleigh to Mooney's Pub for appetizers, then to Wendy's Towne Restaurant for salad. The next stop was Cornish Manor for the main entre. Mayor Peggy Jamison greeted the guests at the dessert stop at Oak and Apple Bed and Breakfast along Second Street.

Gift bags put together by the Garrett County Arts Council with gifts from Oakland merchants were given out to the participants near the end of the tour, which concluded with a visit to the museum.

Because of the strong response to this event, a second dinner was organized for Thursday evening, Lee said.

Ray Miller of Pleasant Valley Dream Rides said he remained busy throughout the festival.

"For some of the children and adults alike, this was the first time to experience a horse-drawn sleigh ride," Miller said. "Even though most of the snow was gone by Saturday, I don't think anyone noticed while they were riding through town."

The Electronic Diagnostic Center (EDC) sponsored an "ice throne" for pictures in the center of town, and also ran the ice bowling throughout the day on Saturday and Sunday. The winner of the competition was Dylan Stump, 11, of Pasadena. He was given a Toshiba Blue Ray DVD player, donated by EDC.

Girl Scout Troop #55021 sold s'mores over a campfire Proceeds from the girls' efforts are going toward their planned trip to the Girl Scout Chalet in Switzerland.

The Campus Life/ Mountaintop Youth For Christ group sold hot chocolate, and the Garrett Hotshots Girls Softball members sold hot dogs and drinks.

Local restaurants reported large crowds as well.

"There were wonderful visitors from all over," said Wendy Lewis of Wendy's Restaurant. "We had people from the Eastern Shore of Maryland, Southern Maryland, the Pittsburgh area, and beyond. Even though my staff and I were dog tired at the end of the day, it was a good feeling knowing people came to town to enjoy everything we offered here."

WINTER FEST WINNERS – Among the many activities at the fourth annual Winter Fest in Oakland two weeks ago were some contests and competitions. The annual Snowflake Toddler Photo Contest, hosted by Blair Glass and Marvin's Menswear, was held, and the winners are pictured above. Bradly Hamilton won for the boys' contest, and Ava Ann Friend won in the girls' category. Both children received $25 U.S. Savings Bonds, donated by First United Bank & Trust. From left are Ruth Hamilton, her son Bradly, Ava Ann, and her mom, Beth Friend. Shown below is the winner of the ice bowling contest, Dylan Stump, 11, of Pasadena. For his victory he received a Toshiba Blu-Ray DVD player, donated by the Electronic Diagnostic Center. Also pictured is Michelle Hall, office manager of the company.

DESPITE WARMER TEMPS, the fourth annual Winter Fest in Oakland was a success, with hundreds of folks streaming through the town throughout the weekend to see the multiple ice sculptures designed and created by Bill Sandusky and his crew from Frozen Assets, and to take sleigh rides with Pleasant Valley Dreamrides. Sandusky is pictured above as he creates an antique shoe in front of Oak'Tiques along Third Street. Photo by John McEwen. A group of folks are shown below as they embark on a sleigh ride (aided by some added wheels). In the back seat from left are Melissa Bywalski, Logan Henderson (mostly obscured), Lucas Henderson, and Tim Bywalski. On the facing seat are Kristin Henderson, Caroline Henderson, Charlie Bywalski, and Max Bywalski. In front is Amelia Henderson, and the horse's name is Bud. Photo by Kirk Henderson. After weeks of bitter temperatures, the weekend was unseasonably warm, so some of the sculptures did not last quite as long as in previous years. But much activity took place all weekend, giving residents and visitors alike a reason to enjoy the winter season. See story. More photos of the event can also be seen on The Republican newspaper's web site: www.therepublicannews.com. Persons may go to the home page and click on the blue button to see them.

Two Arrested For CDS Possession Following Stop

Two men were arrested by Garrett County sheriff's deputies following a traffic stop on Hutton Road on Monday.

A 2004 Chevy was stopped for failure to have a tag light illuminated. The occupants of the vehicle, Joseph Lee Gibson Moul and Carl Devin Sliger, were both found to be in possession of marijuana and paraphernalia. They were taken into custody to await a bond hearing.

Two Drivers Arrested On DWI Charges

Garrett County sheriff's deputies arrested two men on drinking and driving charges last week. The following incidents are unrelated.

Sheriff's deputies received a citizen's complaint last Wednesday of an intoxicated driver, who was located and identified as Scott Edward Steele, 48, Rogerstown, Tenn. He was found to be under the influence of alcohol. He was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol and driving while impaired by alcohol. He was taken to the Garrett County Jail to await a bond hearing.

In a separate incident, a vehicle was stopped on Garrett Highway near Rock Lodge Road on Saturday for numerous traffic violations. The driver, who was identified as Tyler Stephen Turner, Baltimore County, was found to be intoxicated. He was charged with DUI, DUI per se, DWI, and negligent driving.

Reunion Planned

A reunion is planned for the descendants of Cornelius Ward Friend and Emma Jane (Jennie) Friend and Cornelius Ward Friend and Lizzie Mae Friend. The event will take place on Sunday, Aug. 21, at the Friendsville Community Park.

Those interested are asked by the family members coordinating the event to bring a covered dish and any pictures or other genealogical items for a show-and-tell session. A dinner is scheduled for 1 p.m.

The coordinators ask that those planning to attend contact Shirley at 301-746-4247. They also ask that individuals contact any family members who may not receive The Republican and inform them of the reunion.

Free Snow Tubing Event Reset For Tuesday, March 8

Rain, lightning, and high winds forced the postponement of the Garrett County Health Department's free snow tubing event. The new date is Tuesday, March 8, from 6 to 8:30 p.m.

Garrett County youth from 6th grade age through 20 years old are invited to take part in the event at the Bear Claw Snow Tubing Park, Wisp Resort. Registration forms are available at county public middle and high schools, can be found at www.garretthealth.org, or may be picked up in Room 206 of the Garrett County Health Department.

Registration forms must be signed by a parent or legal guardian if the participant is under 18 years of age. Forms will be accepted at the event until the 150 participant limit is reached. There will be no pre-registration through the schools or health department.

This event is part of the "Play Hard. Live Clean." campaign designed to discourage underage drinking, tobacco, and drug use, and to promote positive lifestyles, a spokesperson said. For more information, persons may contact Venessa Stacy at the health department at 301-334-7730 or 301-895-3111.

SWANTON

DINNER

The Swanton Community Center will have an all-you-can-eat buckwheat cake, pancake, and sausage dinner on Saturday, March 12, beginning at 4 p.m. All are welcome.

CHURCH

The Otterbein youth hoagie sale was a success, with 550 hoagies made and sold. All help was greatly appreciated.

Otterbein United Methodist Church will hold an Ash Wednesday service on March 9 at 7 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

A church council meeting will be held at Otterbein on Tuesday, March 15, at 7 p.m.

BIRTHDAYS

Those celebrating birthdays this week are Charles Coddington on March 3, Melvin Custer on March 7, and Helen Friend on March 10.

ANNIVERSARY

Those celebrating anniversaries this week are Rodney and Barbara Sweitzer on March 9.

PICTURES

Otterbein United Methodist Church is looking for old photographs of local churches in the Swanton area. The pictures will be used for Heritage Sunday in May. Those who have photos they are willing to lend to the church may call Lois at 301-387-5929. All pictures will be returned after the festival.

PERSONAL

Holly Berry, Harrisonburg, Va., Addy Norman and son Wade, Powder Springs, Ga., and Joni Wilson were all home over the week and visited their parents, Dave and Mary Lou Wilson, and grandmother Freda Teets, as well as other area relatives.

Ellida Bernard and children Warren and Mary spent several days visiting Mary June Harvey, Brian and Sandy Schofield, Nancy and Alvin Bernard, and other family before returning to their Warrenton, Va., home.

HART Neuters 54 Cats On Annual Spay/Neuter Day

HART for Animals celebrated the 17th annual Spay/Neuter Day by neutering 54 male cats. Spay/Neuter Day, held this year on Feb. 22, is an annual campaign of the Humane Society of the United States designed to highlight the importance of saving animal lives by spaying or neutering.

HART's "Fifteen for Felines" campaign was one of 700 registered events worldwide. Male cats were neutered for $15 each, plus $5 for the rabies vaccination.

Dr. Linda Blakeley, who provided her services free of charge for the "neuter-athon," put into words her satisfaction and that of the HART staff by saying, "It was remarkable how many adult tom cats were brought in to be neutered. We were glad to see that. These are the boys that go around impregnating dozens of queens (female cats)."

The HART clinic provides low-cost spay/neuter services throughout the year for people who meet their financial guidelines. The clinic is made possible through the volunteer services of veterinarians Drs. Pat and Sue Bredel, as well as many hours of work provided by clinic volunteers Cathy Grimes, Betsy Herpel, Sandi Eaton, Guy and Hazel Hinebaugh, Charles Lefebure, and Candy DeGiovanni.

Their combined efforts, coordinated by clinic manager Caroline Robison and assisted by staff member James Lynch, resulted in the spaying and neutering of 836 animals in 2010.

In stressing the importance of neutering, Robison said, "The HART Clinic is becoming a model for other communities like ours; it represents the kind of grass-roots solution that is the only way to reduce the needless deaths of so many animals."

HART for Animals Inc. is a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization. For additional information on HART programs and the Spay/Neuter Clinic, persons may visit hartforanimals.org or call 301-387-SPAY (7729).

Notes From Bittinger

by Joan Glotfelty Sussman

I must tip my hat to Marci Glotfelty and her daughter Blakely for plunging into Deep Creek Lake with about a thousand other people to raise money for Special Olympics. I saw some photographs of them, one of which showed many chunks of ice around them. But Marci said that when she got out she felt warm all over.

Of course, before the dunk, she said standing with all those people was pretty warm because of all the body heat.

I do not have that much nerve. Even in the summer, Deep Creek Lake's water feels pretty cold for my taste. It is still about three weeks until spring officially arrives. Not that that means much, since we often have a few snowfalls in April, often around Easter. But I'm pretty sure the worst is over. It did seem like a very long and pretty harsh winter. So what else is new?

I was happy to see Meredith and Caitlin last weekend, but quite a bit of their weekend was spent working at Black Bear because they need the money. I wish I could just give some money to them, but it is the end of the month, so, as usual, I am flat broke. I wish I could think of a way to enhance my income.

This is partly because I now have to give my poor old dear Boo ground beef to give her enough energy to get around. And she lost so much weight last year. I don't like to have a skinny dog, especially since she used to be fat. But that happens when a dog gets over 20 years old, especially a large breed. She still seems happy, even if she is a little lame. I am happy to still have her around.

I don't know who or what will fill the void I will feel when Boo is gone. When I go somewhere, she is watching for my car to pull in. She joyously jumps up and down, pretty high for as old a dog as Boo is.

Our family farm contains many graves of our most beloved animals, including my first pony Misty and Carol's horse Rocket. And then in 1991 came the dreadful day when my Little Joe was gone at 31 years old. He spent just about all of those years with me. And he was an absolutely irreplaceable thing in my life.

Many dear dogs are buried around the line of the big pine tree, including Ralph, our main dog from my childhood, plus Grr, Walter, and little Emily, who was a former real friend of Boo. Also my barn cat Tinkerbell, who was part of my life from when I was a little girl through my college days.

There are probably many others, who all seemed like family members. Each one's passing was truly a sad event, although not as bad as the deaths of my dad and mother, my grandparents, and my brother Scott. My mother died last August, and that loss is still as painful as ever. But we were truly blessed that during the last stages of her long illness, we could have her at Rodney's house, so her children and grandchildren could lavish her with lots of love, as well as her many friends.

I guess it is already 23 years since we got horrible news. It was March 1988 when we learned that my utterly brilliant brother Scott was gone. He was talented in so many areas. Besides that, he was definitely a gifted student, enough to win a presidential scholarship to the University of Maryland so his undergraduate education was without cost to him.

He was a straight-A student through high school and his university years. I didn't even come close to that, because I got a D in both high school and college algebra. He was also a gifted singer. He had a major role in a Garrett Choral Society production, and his performance of "O, Holy Night" the last Christmas we had him was lovely. He earned affection from anyone who knew him.

He had such a generous soul that he was willing to turn his back on a promising career as a veterinarian and instead join the Peace Corps to better many lives in Africa. We used most of the money received in memory of him to put a well in the village where he was stationed.

When two of his aunts went to Togo to the dedication of the well, they met many people who remember him with much love. It is a real shame that his 10 nieces and nephews never got a chance to know him. In spite of the fact that they didn't know him, quite a few of them also chose to serve the less fortunate.

It is possible that my Meredith may go to Africa this summer to do mapping in a pretty underdeveloped nation in the southern part of that continent. That scares me a little, but she is excited about it. It is very far from the part of Africa that is now in turmoil (thank goodness). It is called Malawi, and has a huge lake and one of the highest mountains in Africa.

What I was dreading for awhile finally came – an electrical power outage because of some really high winds. As I result, I didn't have heat, lights, or television, which is a pretty dismal prospect for me. But it came back on at 2 p.m., well before darkness struck, which was what I was really dreading.

Apparently, it was a widespread outage from Beulah Moon's home (which is along Route 495 closer to Bittinger than Swanton) to about 150 households in McHenry. Many times an outage will affect Sheila Southerly and me, but next door at the home of Rodney Glotfelty it was also out, which is rarely the case. Apparently, they are on a different line.

I thought it was caused by the high winds, but that evidently wasn't the case, as it affected a much larger area than just the peat bog area. I definitely didn't have an adequate supply of flashlights and batteries, and no candles at all. I was also worrying about my heat, because last night got pretty cold, so when the electricity came back on, I acted quickly to warm up my house.

I don't understand why the news continues about cutting Social Security to cut the deficit, because Social Security benefits are paid out from a separate fund. So any cut in benefits should not have any effect on the deficit or our national budget. I can understand why the Republicans believe that our federal government shouldn't give any money to Planned Parenthood, because that organization does perform some abortions.

Despite the union conceding on pay and benefits, Governor Walker of Wisconsin gave a big tax cut to people like my former acquaintance, the CEO of Schlitz beer, whose daughter burned several hundreds of thousands of dollars every year to pursue her hobby, which was showing horses. If he would have paid a couple hundred thousand dollars in taxes, that would equal one fewer new show horse for his daughter, and have no impact on the overall economy.

Amy (his daughter) still has four top show horses, so she can continue her expensive hobby. So that 16-wheel big rig horse van will still fill its gas tanks, and she will still need to book a room in the nicest hotel around the time of the big horse shows.

When she acquired Mink and Pearl, a snowy white hunter, my workload got much greater, because to keep that white horse perfectly snowy white took a lot of work. Of course, that did not mean I got a raise, or rarely even a thank-you, even though the added work load meant that instead of sleeping in a motel room, I had to sleep in a stall because I couldn't do everything my job required if I wasted an hour or two.

I wasn't working for Amy's father. My employer was prominent Grand Prix jumper rider Bernie Traurig. In that area of the horse show world, most of the Grand Prix riders wanted to have the best looking horse.

Since the 1960s, I watched so many NASA launchings. I remember the launch of John Glenn, who orbited Earth for the first time. I remember getting up extra early to watch them. It was a very big deal. And today it was the final launching of the space shuttle Discovery. That countdown was delayed because a computer malfunctioned, but they were able to fix it.

Things were very different after the space shuttle Challenger exploded a few minutes after takeoff with that teacher on board. That ended the time that you could take for granted that everything would go perfectly.

Many jobs in government require a master's degree and above. Why bother to demand educational reform, which is the best way to attract more highly qualified people into the teaching profession? Any teacher, especially at the higher level, would tell you that their jobs require vastly more than 40 hours per week. Most college teachers have to spend almost every bit of their weekend just keeping up on their grading tasks.

As an English professor, I assigned close to 1,000-word writing assignments every week, or my students did not get enough experience with producing thoughtful, well-expressed pieces of writing. And it took as much time to evaluate those assignments as it took for the students to produce them.

Would it result in a better education outcome if a classroom held 60 students? How many teachers could accomplish that job? It's impossible, at least with any kind of high standard, especially if they must also perform the functions usually done by parents, like encouraging basic social skills and crisis intervention. But that is what America expects of its teachers.

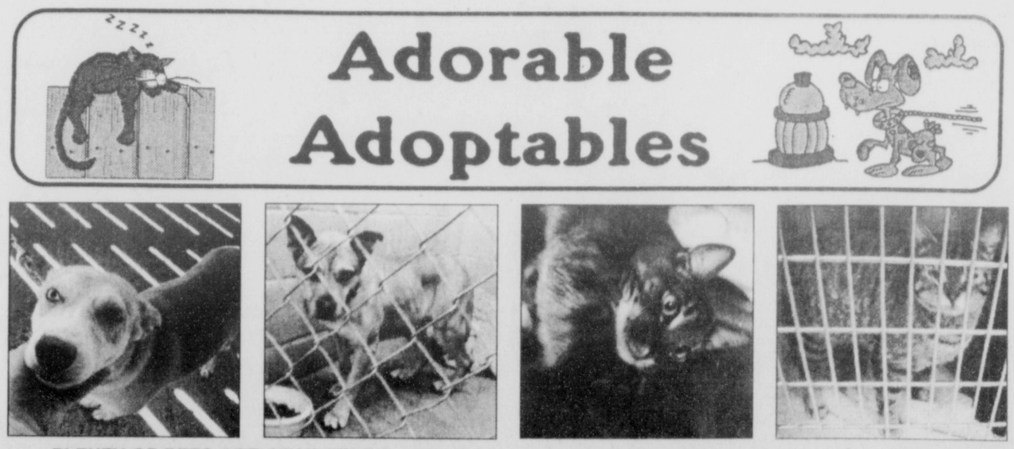
Altar flowers at Emmanuel on Sunday were given by Bill and Sheila Southerly in memory of Dave, Max, Bob, and Phyllis Buckel, and Jesse Southerly. Altar flowers were also given recently by Lesa King Whittemore in memory of Dottie Burton.

The parish audit committee met on Sunday and reviewed the financial records of the Bittinger Lutheran Parish, including those of the individual churches.

A "Litany for Bold Women's Day" was included in the regular worship service in the churches of the Bittinger Lutheran Parish on Sunday. This litany was written to celebrate all Lutheran women who have acted or are acting boldly on their faith in Jesus Christ.

Ash Wednesday will be commemorated on March 9 with a service of communion and the imposition of ashes. The service will be at Emmanuel, beginning at 7 p.m. Midweek Taize services will be held in the parish each Wednesday during Lent, each beginning at 6:30 p.m.

Adorable Adoptables



PLENTY OF PETS ARE AVAILABLE for adoption this week at the Garrett County Animal Shelter. They include (left to right) a female "Heinz 57" medium- size dog with one blue eye and one brown; female Heinz 57 stocky medium-size dog that needs to put on weight and is skittish around men, so she will need time to adjust to a new home; a male grey tabby; and a male dark tabby that has been at the shelter a long time. "A lot of dogs have come into the shelter this week to almost fill the dog area to capacity," the spokesperson said. "Then one dog was reclaimed, two were adopted, and several will be taken to rescues by HART, making much needed room. Several cats were adopted, too, but there are still no kittens. Remember, adult cats can be loving and playful, too, so come in and see the cats that are available. Some pretty longhaired tabbies just came in this week that were homeless strays – the result of a female cat not being spayed. "For more information, persons may call the shelter at 301-334-3553. Located along Oakland Sang Run Road, the facility is open Monday through Friday. Photos courtesy of the GCHS.

Local Scouts Join Forces To Warm, Feed Shelter Pets

Girl Scouts from across Garrett County joined together recently for a common purpose – to warm animals. Eileen Pender, an ambassador Scout in Morgantown, W.Va., had a vision to complete her Gold Award project by not only creating blankets for animals in local shelters but to educate other Scouts on the importance of this cause.

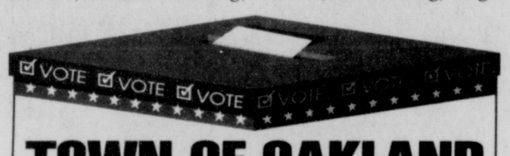
Thirty-five Garrett County Scouts joined in her vision and made 54 blankets to donate to local shelters. In addition, each Scout brought food to donate to the Garrett County Animal Shelter. Representatives of the HART for Animals organization volunteered their time to deliver the donated food to the shelter and to educate the girls on such subjects as the importance of spaying and neutering.

"Before the day was out, our local shelter received 125 pounds of food and other items," noted Scout leader Debbie Carpenter. "In addition, a quick vote was taken of the Scout leaders and it was decided to donate $40 worth of fleece to Eileen to continue toward her goal of 150 blankets. Girl Scouts of Garrett County continues to be active in our local community by encouraging our girls to be girls of courage, confidence, and character."

Project participants were Jian Travis, Katie Shreve, Quinn McClean, Rachael Huxford, Kyra Griffith, Elizabeth McClean, and Christina Cortez of Troop 55004; Emillie Baker, Taylor Ashby, Wendy Tichnell, Georgi Powers, Natasha Helbig, Cassy Baker, Samantha Moore, Ariel Georg, Angel Michaels, and Nichole Snyder of Troop 55005; Jenna Griffith, Madison Spurrier, Emal-eigh Gale, Lindsay Crawford, and Logan Miller of Troop 55006; Christine Carpenter, Jessica Klotz, Kristen Bennett, Katie Carpenter, Kylie Frantz, and Alex Miller of Troop 55021; and Isabella Gambetta, Nakayla May, Chloe Calhoun, Elizabeth Uphold, Carmen Smith, Gertrude Tesar, Brielle Jobe, and Brooke Martin of Troop 55022.

Anyone interested in information about Girl Scouts is welcome to contact Elizabeth Huxford at 301-387-2280.

VFW PRESENTS AWARDS TO EAGLE SCOUTS — Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 10077, located in Deer Park, recently presented cash prizes and certificates of achievement to four Garrett County students, who have earned the rank of Eagle Scout within the Boy Scouts organization. The VFW periodically presents awards to local students for outstanding performances as Scouts in an effort to encourage citizenship and patriotism. Pictured above, Ryan Cooper, a senior at Northern High School, receives a $50 certificate from Paul Everly, VFW commander. To Cooper's right, Southern High School junior Keith Miller receives his certificate from Richard Jordan, VFW post quartermaster. In the picture below, Daniel Uphold, a senior at Northern High School, receives his certificate from Everly and Jordan, with Principal Paul Edwards (far left) in attendance. Recent Southern High School graduate Derek Taylor also received an award.



TOWN OF OAKLAND ELECTION

Oakland Municipal Election
Monday, March 14, 2011
Polls open from 9 a.m. to 6:00 p.m.

Terms expire for:
Harvey (Jay) Moyer, Councilperson
Jack Riley, Councilperson
Ryan Wolf, Councilperson

Others now serving are: Margaret Jamison, Mayor
Elmer (Butch) Redinger, Councilperson

Any resident of Oakland age 18 or over may register to vote in the Municipal Election at Oakland City Hall during regular office hours until 4:30 p.m. on Friday, March 4, 2011. The Town of Oakland maintains a separate register of voters; however, if you have registered at the Board of Elections after January 1, 1990, and are a resident of Oakland you are automatically qualified to vote in the Municipal Election.

Applications for Absentee Ballots can be obtained at City Hall.

County Social Work Caucus Committee Begins Food Drive

The Allegany/Garrett County Social Work Caucus Committee considers March a month for social work and is currently sponsoring its annual food drive.

In the effort, the Garrett County Department of Social Services and the Garrett County Health Department will accept donations of canned food. Donations may be dropped off between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. on weekdays in March.

The canned food will benefit local food banks. Any and all canned food items are appreciated by the group in its effort to help those in need.

Local Graduate Receives Master's Degree In Nursing

Molly Ann (Wolf) Rikhye, currently of Johnson City, Tenn., and formerly of Garrett County, graduated Dec. 18, 2010, from East Tennessee State University with a master's degree in nursing.

She is the daughter of Dr. Michael A. Wolf and the late Linda Ann Wolf. Her husband is Dr. Somi Rikhye. While at ETSU, Rikhye was a member of Sigma Theta Tau Honor Society of Nursing. She is board certified by the American Academy of Nurse Practitioners as a family nurse practitioner, and plans to start practicing in primary care.

Rikhye is a 2003 graduate of Northern High School. She received an associate's degree in math/science from Garrett College in 2005, an associate's degree in nursing from Allegany College of Maryland in 2006, and a bachelor of science in nursing from the University of Maryland in 2008, where she graduated magna cum laude.

She has worked as a registered nurse in cardiovascular step-down, vascular step-down, and staffing.

Northern Music Boosters Hosting Dinner Concert

The Northern High School Music Boosters organization is hosting a pops concert and dinner on Friday, March 4, at the school. The event is a fundraiser for the band and choral programs at the high school.

The doors will open at 6:30, and dinner catered by Jearbryo's will be served. The pops concert will involve the music students of the school, presenting band pieces, ensemble works, choral pieces, and solos. Band director Duane Salisbury will sing a solo as well.

Tickets are $15 per person, or $25 per couple. There are a limited number of tickets available, so persons who wish to attend should make reservations as soon as possible by calling Salisbury at 301-616-9332 or the high school at 301-746-8668. Persons may also e-mail Salisbury at nghs_band.director@yahoo.com.

NAVY JAZZ BAND TO PERFORM AT WVU – The U.S. Navy Fleet Jazz Ensemble, directed by West Virginia University music alumna Kelly Cunningham Cartwright (music education 1998), will present a free concert at the WVU Creative Arts Center, Monday, March 7. The event will begin 7:30 p.m. in the Lyell B. Clay Concert Theatre. The group's visit to Morgantown includes a concert and clinic at the Metropolitan Theatre at 10:30 a.m. on March 7 for Morgantown area schools, prior to the public concert at the CAC that evening. The Fleet Forces Jazz Ensemble is comprised of some of the finest jazz musicians in Navy music and performs compositions by composers Sammy Nestico and Rob McConnell, as well as modern hits by the Brian Setzer Orchestra and many pieces by the band's own staff arrangers. The Jazz Ensemble is part of the U.S. Fleet Forces Band, the largest of the U.S. Navy's 11 fleet bands. For more information, persons may contact the WVU Division of Music at 304-293-4532.

"Writing Your Life" Course Slated At Northern Center

Cathy Paine – a local writer whose essays have been published in Contact Quarterly, New Moves, and In Touch – will instruct a class called "Writing Your Life" at Garrett College's Northern Outreach Center, Grantsville, on Thursdays from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. beginning on March 24. It will continue for a total of six consecutive weeks.

Paine will explain ways to review one's life and select the parts to write about.

"'Writing Your Life' is a course in which you will learn ways to discover and choose unique stories from your own life, find meaning in them, and write them with your personal perspective and voice," she said.

Students are encouraged to bring their preferred writing materials (pens, pads, notebooks, laptops, etc.), as there will be much writing during class time.

Additional information about the class is available by contacting Terry Beachy, Northern Outreach Center coordinator, at 301-895-4700 or terry.beachy@garrettcollege.edu.

To obtain fee information or to register for this course, one may call the Continuing Education and Workforce Development Office at 301-387-3069.

Pleads Case

ure, Dr. Wendell Teets, superintendent of Garrett County schools, proposed last September that Bloomington and Kitzmiller elementary schools be closed. He explained that these two schools have the highest cost of operation per student with the lowest enrollments.

Shortly after Teets' announcement, advisory groups of "stakeholders" from both communities were formed to study the proposal. They will present their findings at the next BOE meeting, scheduled for Tuesday, March 8. The board is to make its decision on the possible closures next month.

The cost to operate the Bloomington school is about $427,000 a year, while Kitzmiller's is about $410,000.

"While some people consider this an expense, we consider it an investment," Harvey said, indicating the payoff is evident 20 years later when students become successful, productive members of their communities.

Should the schools be closed, Bloomington students will be bused up the mountain to attend Broad Ford Elementary. Kitzmiller students will go to Yough Glades Elementary.

Harvey said one of his group's biggest fears about the closure is transportation. Bloomington students will have to travel more than one hour on crowed buses, often through hazardous fog, traffic, and snow.

"It's going to be quite a ride for the kids on a daily basis in the winter on Backbone Mountain," he said.

He also pointed out that the students will have to miss at least half a day of school for appointments, as most of their doctors and dentists are in nearby Keyser, W.Va. In addition, the distance to Oakland will impede Bloomington students' and parents' opportunity to participate in Broad Ford Elementary activities.

Harvey also noted that students' academic success declines in bigger schools that have more students per classroom.

"Students performed better in schools where principals actually knew their names," Harvey cited from a California study about smaller versus larger class sizes.

He asked the commissioners to look at all that has been accomplished at Bloomington.

"We don't want Bloomington to be a sacrificial lamb," Harvey said about the BOE's cost-saving effort.

He noted that his community is an often forgotten part of Garrett County.

"Some people don't realize it exists, but we feel it's an important part of the county," Harvey said.

The BOE's FY 2011 operating budget is about $56.6 million, which includes federal, state, and county funding. Garrett County's allocation alone was about $23 million. Both the BOE and county are in the process of compiling their FY 2012 budgets.

"You know where I stand on community schools," Commissioner Jim Raley told the Bloomington group about his support for keeping the facilities open.

He indicated the commissioners will be addressing tough budget issues, but it is the BOE's decision whether or not to close the elementary schools. The commissioner added, however, that he hopes the BOE will take a hard look at its budget and take the Bloomington and Kitzmiller groups' comments into consideration.

"We're ready to look at our budget," Raley said. "We're ready to take that budget to task, and try to figure out what we can do to disperse the funds that we have available this coming year to reach the majority, if not all, the citizens of Garrett County."

Following the official adjournment of their public meeting, the commissioners spoke privately with several Bloomington residents.

The commissioners' next meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, March 8, at 9 a.m. in the courthouse.

Town Hall

OAKLAND

The town will hold a meeting on Monday, March 7, beginning at 7 p.m., with a public hearing on the Fair Housing Ordinance O2011-01 will be held at 7:30, and the Garrett County commissioners scheduled to meet and discuss the annual tax differential at 8 p.m.

The regular meeting will begin with the utility bill adjustments, the March financial report. A decision will be made on the February Fair Housing Ordinance for CDBG following the public hearing. There is a request for an After Prom party donation, and a fireworks discussion slated, followed by a letter from Mtn. View Engineering regarding the Wood Products proposal. The meeting will adjourn following the budget updates, approval of bills, and committee reports.

Announces Town Council Candidacy

Lois Swartzentruber recently filed as a candidate in Oakland town council election slated for Monday, March 14. She is a lifelong resident of the Oakland area and the daughter of the late Hub Swartzentruber, a former mayor.

"I enjoyed serving the residents of Oakland previously as a council member and would appreciate the opportunity to do so again," she stated.

Swartzentruber owned and operated a fast food restaurant, the Big Tee Burger, for 25 years. "I understand the demands and challenges local business persons face in their daily operations," she said. "I also believe now is the time to personally listen to and address the issues of concern that each and every member of the town of Oakland wishes to express."

port from various delegates representing many of Maryland's rural counties, according to Beitzel.

"These homes have been an affordable alternative to homes of traditional construction," he said. "However, the added requirement for sprinklers has made, and will continue to make, these homes much more expensive."

Local governments can currently optout of similar requirements as they relate to traditional homes, otherwise known as "stick buildings." However, the Maryland Department of Housing and Community Development has specific authority over modular homes. The department, through reception of the International Building Code (IBC), now requires modular homes purchased in Maryland after Jan. 1, 2011, to be equipped with sprinkler systems.

"We are just trying to provide the same flexibility afforded to local governments to deal with home construction issues as they see fit," Beitzel said. "This is not a one-size-fits-all issue. It should not be fixed with a one-size-fits-all requirement for modular homes."

In a recent letter sent on behalf of the Allegany County Delegation to DHCD Secretary Raymond Skinner, the delegation wrote:

"Modular homes have been historically an inexpensive alternative for traditional home construction for those of moderate and low incomes, particularly in rural parts of the state.

"Though the reception of the IBC's requirements regarding sprinklers in modular homes may not be a difficulty for those individuals serviced by city and municipal water supplies, we believe that it poses a great burden for those who are required to drill their own wells for water.

"It is feared that such added expense may in fact shut some of our constituents out of home ownership due to this added expense."

The Maryland Association of Counties is expected to support HB 711, which will be heard at 1 p.m.

Sen. George C. Edwards (R–Dist. 1) has filed a Senate version of the measure. His bill, SB 581, is set to be heard before the Education, Health, and Environmental Affairs Committee on March 15.

Those who have had surgeries and pneumonia that followed are now also on the mend at their homes. They include Jerry and Barbara Hauser.

Master Naturalist Program To Be Offered In Canaan

The Canaan Valley chapter of the West Virginia Master Naturalist program, now a committee of the Canaan Valley National Wildlife Refuge's Friends of the 500th, will be offering classes one weekend a month for four months beginning in April.

The West Virginia Division of Natural Resources began the WVMN program in 2004 by providing the necessary 64 hours of coursework needed for certification on weekends (30 hours of volunteer work are also required).

Classes will be held on Friday evenings, entire Saturdays, and Sunday mornings. The tentative weekends for classes are: Apr. 29–May 1, May 13–15, June 24–26, and July 22–24.

The subjects covered in classes will include: birds, ecology, wetland habitats, terrestrial habitats, mammals, wildflowers, trees, amphibians, and reptiles. There will be classroom and field components to most classes. The minimum age for participants is 16. The majority of classes will be held at the Canaan Valley National Wildlife Refuge's Visitor Center located on Route 32 in Canaan Valley.

The cost of the program is expected by the West Virginia Division of Natural Resources to likely be $125. This will cover the cost of instruction and supplies. Prices are set to maintain the program's self-sufficiency; the group does not seek profits. Individuals usually pack a lunch and dinner or go out for meals between classes. Lodging arrangements are left to individuals, though the program may be able to assist with special rates.

Those interested in more information about the program may go to the WVDNR web site at www.wvdnr.gov/wvmn/index.shtm. One may also e-mail the volunteer local coordinator Andrea Dalton at ADalton2000@yahoo.com or call her at 304-866-7037. Interested parties are urged by the WVDNR to register as soon as possible as sufficient numbers of participants are needed to run the program.

TA Church To Hold Free Lenten Lunch

Joan Crawford Series Is Kicked Off By Black History Monologues

by Peggy Santamaria

The rhythmic cadence of the words of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and the unique jazz tempo of the songs of Billie Holiday were among the sounds that filled the auditorium of Garrett College last week, as "Still I Rise..., Black History Monologues" kicked off the Joan Crawford Lecture Series in a multimedia presentation of music, poetry, costumes, and slides.

In recognition of Black History Month, students from Garrett College and the Backbone College Program researched influential men and women to be the subjects of these monologues. The students then assumed the roles of the individuals and delivered the messages that changed the culture and lives of many Americans.

Selected by the students to be portrayed through monologues were Frederick Douglass, a leader of the Abolitionist Movement; George Washington Carver, scientist, botanist, and inventor; Billie Holiday, American jazz singer; Martin Luther King Jr., leader of the Civil Rights Movement and winner of the Nobel Peace Prize; Angela Davis, scholar and political activist; Ella Fitzgerald, jazz singer; Sammy Davis Jr., dancer, singer, and entertainer; Stevie Wonder, singer, musician, and activist; Gen. Colin Powell, retired four-star general and U.S. secretary of state; and Maya Angelou, poet and autobiographer.

The monologues were uniquely developed. Some were quoted from the texts and speeches of the individual portrayed, while others were delivered through their signature songs.

Dominique Gross wrote his from the point of view of George Washington Carver visiting the present to explain his work in botany. "Still I Rise," a poem by Maya Angelou quoted in the title of the production, formed the centerpiece of the concluding monologue by Angela Smith, an educational staff member at the Backbone Mountain Youth Center.

TiAra Allen-Washington, the Garrett student who served as master of ceremonies, said the experience was a new one for her.

"It was fun to work with all the different students in the group. I was nervous, but I really liked it. I learned a lot about the people presented that I didn't know before," she said. Asked if she would do something like this again, she did not hesitate. "Oh, yes, I would," she responded.

The monologue presentation was coordinated by Terry Kasecamp, professor of psychology, and Elizabeth Grant, director of Liberal Arts and Justice Studies.

"What can be learned by studying black history is important to all of us, regardless of our ethnic heritage," Kasecamp said. "The heroic courage, strength, moral conviction, and perseverance exemplified by the individuals showcased in this year's program, as well as the energy and talent of those participating, was inspiring."

"The program highlighted not only the rich and diverse talents of our students, but also their commitment to bring important history to life for the community," said Grant. "The efforts and performances by the students are a fitting tribute to Joan Crawford."

Kasecamp is already coordinating the next event in the Joan Crawford Lecture Series, which is titled "The Women's History Monologues; Making Waves . . . Making History," slated for March 30. For more information on the lecture series, persons may telephone 301-387-3005 or go online to www.garrettcollege.edu.

yet offering no other answers. Maybe Mr. Gates could outline his suggestions for America's energy independence and I'd be happy tell him why they won't work, but that gets us nowhere.

If being dependable is the criterion to judge our energy production, then maybe we should watch what happens to our oil prices and availability with all the turmoil in the Mideast. Between the oil companies and their buddies (both in Washington and the Mideast), we will not be getting out of this current upheaval without paying some kind of price that will only increase as world demand outstrips supply.

I don't know why we Garrett Countians can't embrace the future instead of clinging to the past. The wind that blows here is American wind, and that in itself should count for something. Maybe we should fly an American flag from all the turbines to remind us all of our ability as a nation to innovate and lead into the 21st century. As the president said, this is our Sputnik moment. Are we up to the challenge?

To the Editor:

Gas from the Marcellus shale has the potential to provide an economic boost to Allegany and Garrett counties, lower the production of greenhouse gases, and reduce America's dependence on foreign petroleum. At the same time, there are risks associated with drilling, hydraulic fracturing, and other aspects of the proposed operations. It is essential that the right precautions be taken to protect the people and the environment of western Maryland – today and for generations to come.

Legislation has been proposed that would prohibit the department from issuing a permit for the drilling of a well in the Marcellus shale unless a number of conditions can be met by the applicant. I presented testimony before the Maryland legislature last week, together with Secretary John Griffin of the Department of Natural Resources, that supported amendments to legislation that would require the departments to conduct a comprehensive study addressing the risks presented by gas extraction from the Marcellus shale, but would allow the department to issue permits with the appropriate safeguards if information becomes available during the course of the study that is sufficient to demonstrate that the natural gas can be extracted without adverse impact to human health, natural resources, or the environment.

The departments are already reviewing information from regional and national experts, and will examine the results of ongoing investigations by the Environmental Protection Agency and New York state. New York's environmental assessment report is expected to be completed in July. The EPA has submitted its draft study plan; preliminary results of the agency's study are expected by the end of 2012. The departments also would convene an advisory commission to assist in evaluating the results of these studies and other information that is obtained. Maryland's complete study is expected to take two years and would be funded by the industry that will ultimately profit from gas production.

We greatly appreciate the strong public interest, awareness, and thoughtful questions about this complex issue. We have reached out to local governments, elected officials, and citizens' groups in Allegany and Garrett counties and listened to their concerns and will continue to do so.

Secretary Griffin and I are looking forward to travelling to western Maryland on March 14 with Governor Martin O'Malley to attend the Governor's Forum on Jobs and the Economy, and will be meeting with many of you then to hear your thoughts on this important issue.

Carpenter Couple To Celebrate 50 Years Of Marriage March 11

Delos and Wanda Carpenter will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary on March 11.

They were married at the United Methodist Church in Mann's Choice, Pa., on March 11, 1961.

Delos is the son of the late Herbert and Alverna Carpenter of Hyndman, Pa., and Wanda is the daughter of the late Ray and Mildred Holler of Mann's Choice.

The Carpenters came to Garrett County 41 years ago when they bought Vann's Mobil Village in McHenry. They later renamed it the Del Wanda Motel and then Water's Edge Court Boat Rental, which Wanda ran when Delos was the owner of Grantsville Ford, Kingwood Ford, and Grantsville Truck Sales.

The couple have two children, Dale Carpenter and Trudy Carpenter Pickrel, both of McHenry.

Over the years, the Carpenters contributed to the community in many volunteer avenues. Delos was one of the original members of the Deep Creek Lake Lions Club and still is a lifetime charter member.

They are members of the McHenry United Methodist Church, were they serve on the board and sing in the choir.

The Carpenters have 10 grandchildren: Lee and wife Amanda Pickrel of Salisbury, Pa.; Michael, Nicholas, Victoria, Dylan, Brandon, Maria, and Miracle Pickrel, all of McHenry; and Christine and Katie Carpenter, also of McHenry. They also have one great-grandson.

Their time in the winter months is spent following the Northern wrestling team to every event. Delos is the photographer, and Wanda is the videographer and score keeper at times for the team.

They have followed the wrestling team for 37 years since their son was a wrestler for Northern. Last year, they were named to the Northern Sports Hall of Fame.

In the summer, the couple split their time between Deep Creek Lake and their farm in Mann's Choice.

about $40 million of its own money.

A fiber optic route is to be developed through each county and the city of Baltimore. Qualified Internet service providers will be able to connect to the routes and extend coverage to customers and the "critical community facilities" in the various counties. These facilities, Shap explained, are typically schools, health departments, governments, colleges, and public safety offices.

Locally, a fiber optic line already runs from along I-68 from Frostburg to Friendsville and is currently available only for public users. That line, however, will soon be accessible to private users. In addition, splice points at Grantsville, Keyser's Ridge, and Friendsville will enable broadband service to extend to other portions of the county.

"The state will construct approximately 50 miles of fiber in the county, starting at Keyser's Ridge and going down Rt. 219 to McHenry, through the Deep Creek Lake area, and through Oakland," Shap said.

From Oakland the proposed line will follow Rt. 135 through Mtn. Lake Park and into Allegany County.

Also proposed are lines running off the loop to the McHenry Business Park, along Memorial Drive in Oakland to Southern Middle and Broad Ford elementary schools, and along Rt. 39 out of Oakland to Crellin. Friendsville will receive service via the I-68 line.

In addition to providing high-speed Internet to approximately 30 community institutions, this backbone line will lead to other infrastructure being built to provide affordable service to numerous other residences and businesses, Shap noted.

"The analysis that we've done in the past shows that the county has approximately 60 to 65 percent of residential addresses with available broadband," he said, noting the definition of broadband being such services as DSL and cable Internet.

That means, Shap pointed out, 35 to 40 percent of homes in Garrett County do not have access to a high-speed connection.

"They're dependent upon satellite or, God forbid, staying with dial-up," Shap said.

GC Economic Development's goal is to have 90 percent coverage by the end of 2014.

"This fiber backbone will be an integral part of making that goal," Shap said.

He stressed that the fiber routes were not "locked in" yet. A meeting with a state representative on Monday will indicate if the project is to more forward, Shap noted.

"BEFORE AND AFTER" EVIDENCE – A case involving 26 counts of animal cruelty was heard this week in Garrett County District Court. An Oakland area couple pleaded guilty to seven of those counts, and were then sentenced and fined by Judge Leonard Eiwsert. To help fully explain its case against Richard Ray and Carol Lynn Friend, the state presented "before and after" photos of the horses to the court. Above is one of them at the time it was seized from the local property. Below is the same horse a few months later after it was relocated to the Days End Farm Horse Rescue in Woodbine. See story on front page. Photos courtesy of the Garrett County Humane Society.

After the pleas were taken and the court entered its findings of guilty, the state presented witnesses for sentencing to more fully explain to the court the various conditions of the horses at the time of seizure, to provide for the court photographs of the seven horses at seizure and three months later with proper care, and to introduce the expenses incurred for the seized horses.

Counsel for the defendants, Robin Ficker of Bethesda, called a number of witnesses to attest to the character of the Friends, the observations they had made at the Friend property, and the difficulties of maintaining farm animals in the severe weather conditions of the winter of 2010, the state's attorney noted.

"When pronouncing sentence, Judge Eiswert found that the Friends were not cruel in the sense of viciously mistreating their animals," Welch said. "However, he emphasized the responsibility one accepts when taking in animals and noted the total dependency domesticated and farm animals have on their owners."

After sentencing, Denise Lohr, GCHS animal control officer, said, "There are no winners in this situation. The animals suffered tremendously and some paid the ultimate price."

When the GCHS receives a call, a Humane Society officer evaluates the animals for compliance with Maryland law, which requires "...nutritious food in sufficient quantity, necessary veterinary care, [and] proper drink, air, space, shelter, or protection from the weather."

"It is a pass/fail inspection," explained Lisa Baker, GCHS president. "To remove livestock, Maryland law requires a veterinary examination. Our number one mission is education, which can result in improving the quality of care for Garrett animals."

While reiterating that the GCHS is here to help not only the animals but the community, Baker added that in 2010, the organization loaned or gave grants in the amount of $13,500 to county residents for the emergency care of their animals.

"If your animals are sick or injured, contact us yourself," emphasized Bernadine Friend, GCHS founder and executive director. "Don't wait until a neighbor or passerby calls. We do not want to confiscate animals."

Residents who need the GCHS resources or would like to volunteer or make a donation may call 301-334-4470 and leave a message. A GCHS representative will be in touch with them.

One Flown, Two Driven To Hospital Following Accident

Maryland State Police responded to a single-vehicle accident last Saturday that sent three people to the Western Maryland Regional Medical Center, Cumberland.

Investigation revealed that Matthew Orner, 24, Oakland, was operating a 2001 Chevy Cavalier south on Rt. 495, when the vehicle went off the side of the road and struck a tree. Passenger Brittany Bittinger 21, Oakland, and a 17-year-old juvenile were injured as well as Orner.

Northern Rescue Squad and Bittinger Volunteer Fire Department assisted at the scene to remove the three from the vehicle. Orner was flown by MSP Trooper 5 to the Cumberland hospital, while the two passengers were transported by Northern Rescue Squad.

The incident is still under investigation, and charges are pending.

U. of Md. Extension Office To Discuss Marcellus Shale

Local Marcellus shale natural gas drilling permit activity is prominently located in the northern end of Garrett County, but according to a spokesperson for University of Maryland Extension, Garrett County interest in the southern end is beginning to swell.

Lease holders and landowners in southern Garrett County have recently been contacted by energy companies to discuss drilling contracts and gas leases, and currently an operating rig in neighboring Preston County, W.Va., is being accessed through Maryland roads.

A sharp increase in the number of inquiries from residents is cited by the UMEGC as it plans to offer a presentation titled "Marcellus Shale Natural Gas Drilling in Our Community" at the Pleasant Valley Community Center on Tuesday, Mar. 15, at 7 p.m.

This overview discusses the geological formation, the horizontal drilling process, hydraulic fracturing as an extraction method, leasing guidelines, environmental impacts, and other issues surrounding this industry. Time will be allowed at the end of the presentation for questions.

Interested individuals may contact the Extension Office for more information at 301-334-6960, or e-mail Mikal Zimmerman at mzimmer8@umd.edu.

Board of Ed. Plans Mar. 8 Meeting At Southern Middle

The Garrett County Board of Education will hold its regular monthly meeting on Tuesday, Mar. 8, beginning at 4 p.m. The meeting will be held at the Southern Middle School cafeteria. Following public comment at 4 p.m., the board will meet in closed session until 5:30 p.m.

The Bloomington Advisory Committee and the Kitzmiller Advisory Committee will present their group reports on the proposed school closings.

Time will be set aside at 4 p.m. and 7 p.m. for public comment and participation on any topic. The public in invited to attend.

Dem Central Comm. To Meet; Three Seats Open

The Garrett County Democratic Central Committee will hold its regular meeting on Tuesday, March 8. This month's meeting will include the naming of new members to the committee. There are presently openings for one male and two female members, and persons may still request to join the group.

Any person interested in filling a position on the committee should send a letter of interest or a resumé to Zelma Neary, committee vice-chair, at 128 B Street, Mountain Lake Park, MD 21550, or call 301-334-4643 for more information. The deadline is Monday, March 7.

Burglary, Theft Charges Issued To Local Women

Garrett County sheriff's deputies arrested two women after responding to theft and trespassing complaints. The following incidents are unrelated.

Deputies responded to Family Dollar, Oakland, in reference to a shoplifting complaint on Saturday. Deborah Ann Smith, 42, Aurora, W.Va., reportedly stole two DVD movies. She was charged with theft less than $100 value and taken to the District Court Commissioner's Office.

In a separate incident, a Swanton woman was arrested Sunday evening after deputies responded to a Mtn. Lake Park residence for a trespassing complaint. When they arrived at the residence, the suspect's empty vehicle was parked in the driveway. Christie Lynn Feaster, 35, was found inside the home looking for the victim. She was charged with felony third-degree burglary and taken to the Garrett County Jail to await a bond hearing.

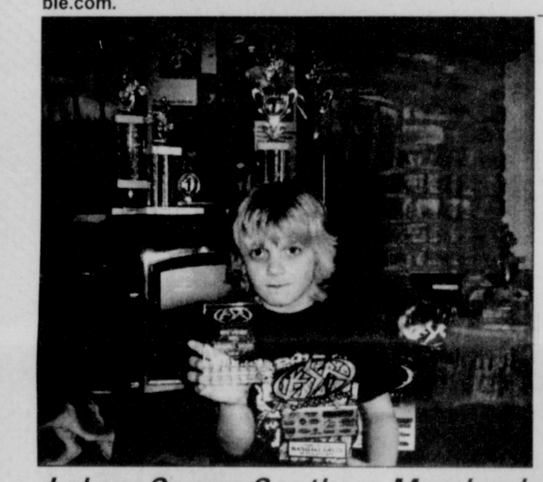
DEER PARK NATIVE TAKES SUPER PEE WEE HONORS — Eight-year-old Randall Ervin was recently awarded with a first place year-end trophy in the Super Pee Wee class of cross-country dirt bike racing after 10 first place finishes on his Suzuki RM 65. He accepted the award during the 2010 KSR Motorsports Cross Country banquet held on Feb. 19. The Super Pee Wee class consists of 7- to 10-year-olds on dirt bikes sized from 50 to 90cc. Ervin competed in 10 of the 12 scheduled races, which were half-hour long rides through rough, rocky, wooded areas, muddy crossings, with up and down hill stretches. The tracks were 1 to 3 miles long with the races averaging 5 to 7 laps. The race season began in March of last year and continued through last October. Randall, who can be seen here on his bike and holding his trophy, is the son of Randy and Chrissy Ervin. Those interested in the sport and future events may visit www.ksrmotorsportsharescramble.com.



Lakers Sweep Southern Maryland; Noe Has Great Day On The Mound

A strong pitching performance by Brandon Noe and a seven-run 10th inning by Garrett College highlighted a 7-0 shutout by the Lakers over host Southern Maryland in the first game of a Maryland JUCO doubleheader played Saturday in LaPlata.

The Lakers then took the second contest, 8-5, to even their overall record at 4-4 and up their conference mark to 2-0.

Noe tossed eight hitless innings for the Lakers in the first game and finally yielded the mound to teammate Caleb Hill in the ninth inning. Southern Maryland pitcher Brandon Sturgill was equally effective on the mound through the first nine innings, but got into trouble in the 10th as the Laker bats finally came alive.

Julius Neimand led off the Lakers' half of the 10th with a double. Two runs then scored on an infield error, Cam King followed with a two-run double, and Neimand followed with a two-run single later in the inning.

Noe struck out eight, walked four, and allowed no hits, but left with a no-hitter and no decision. Reliever Hill got credit for the win, firing two shutout innings, striking out three, and allowing only one hit.

Sturgill gave up four hits and fanned nine batters for the host team.

King finished with two doubles and a single in the Lakers' nine-hit performance, while Niemand and Corey Brown each provided a double and a single.

Southern Maryland's only hit in the first game was a bloop single in the ninth.

After the score of the second game was knotted at 1-1, the Lakers took the lead for good with four runs, all unearned, in the top of the second.

King provided a two-run single and Brown added a run-producing single for the Lakers.

The Lakers out-hit the Hawks (0-2) by an 8-5 margin, but each team committed five errors.

Getting the win on the mound for Garrett was Jason Ashby, who gave up two earned runs and struck out six in five innings of work.

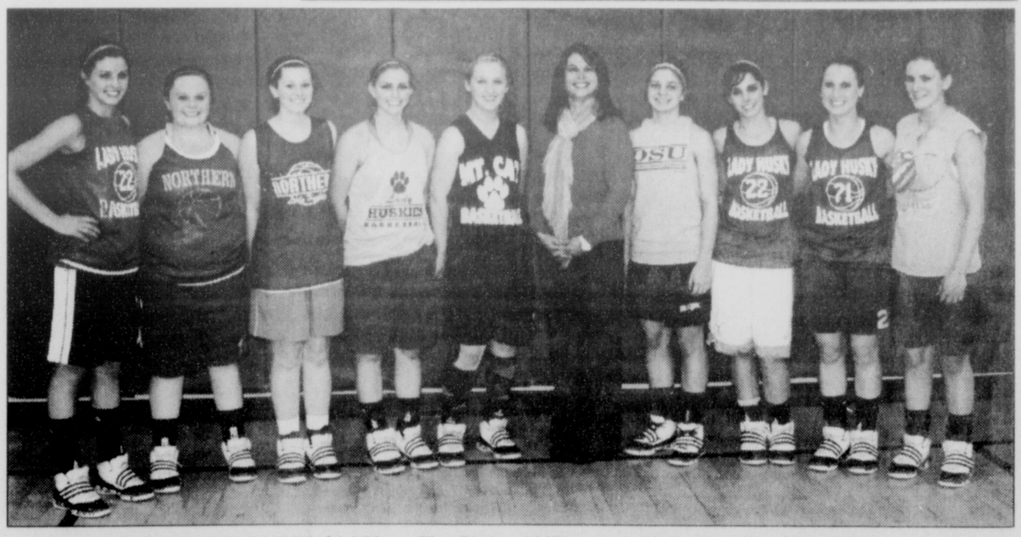
The Oakland Recreational Basketball League has concluded its season.



PINK ZONE AT NHS RAISES $1,300+ – The Pink Zone girls' basketball game at Northern High School, held on Feb. 14, was deemed a great success by organizers, with more than $1,300 being raised for the Kay Yow Cancer Fund. The focus of the evening was on breast cancer awareness, with pink gloves being handed out to the crowd (who wore them and raised their hands in a moment of silence in memory of those who have died of the disease). The gloves were donated by Thompson Gas. The Women's Basketball Coaches Association began the WBCA Pink Zone® in 2007 as an initiative to raise breast cancer awareness in women's basketball, on campuses, and in communities. Kay Yow, former North Carolina State University head women's basketball coach, served as the catalyst for the campaign after her third reoccurrence of breast cancer in 2006. She died in January 2009. The Pink Glove dance was performed at the Northern game, and raffles were held for gifts and prizes. Brenda Brosnihan and Lesa Whittemore organized the event, with the assistance of the girls' team. They will report their effort to the WBCA Pink Zone officials, giving their game attendance, pictures, videos, and the total raised. The campaign was a focus throughout the girls' season, with money being raised through T-shirt sales, pins, a pink ball raffle and during select home games at halftime when fans were invited to participate in foul-shooting contests. During the event last week, Angie Rush, wife of Jason Rush who is the owner of Rush Services, bought a case of a case of pink gloves for the company staff to wear when they clean furnaces. Rush also made a donation of $200 to the Kay Yow Foundation. There was a raffle held for free tanks for gas grills donated by Thompson Gas. The winner was Tina Jones, pictured below with her daughter Paige. Shown above from left are Allison Yommer, Taryn Brenneman, Heather Vincent, Kierten Butler, Morgan Brosnihan, Angie Rush, Kaitlynn Fratz, Lauren Yeager, Sydney McFarland, and Terra McKenzie. The evening was completed, Brosnihan noted, with the Huskies' victory over the Miners.

LOCALS TAKE TOP HONORS AT WISP CUP — Aryne Riley, left, of Oakland and Elizabeth Green, right, of McHenry were the top finishers in the Wisp Cup Slalom Race held on Feb. 21 at Wisp Resort. Riley and Green posted the fastest combined times in their two races and earned top honors. Eighty-five racers from six different resorts competed down Squirrel Cage Trail. At the event, racers 6 to 18 years old competed in six different age brackets. In the girls' division, age 7-8, Sloan Rost earned first place. In the boys' division, age 7-8, Kaylen Frederick had first place, Noah Forman second, and Charlie Olsen third. In the girls' division, age 9-10, Bianca Klepper took first place, Kyra Frederick second, and Aubrey Donohue third. In the boys' division, age 9-10, Danny Erdely earned first place, Charlie Smith second, and Trey Rouse third. In the girls' division, age 11-12, Cassie Lieblein won first place, Caroline Smith second, and Elizabeth Smilek third. In the boys' division, age 11-12, Matthew Sadler earned first place, James Morton second, and John Wagner third. In the girls' division, age 13-14, Rachel Sadler won first place, Halley McKinney second, and Lydia Montanino third. In the boys' division, age 13-14, Kyle Rouse took first place, Jan Smilek second, and Simon Illisevich third. In the girls' division, age 15-16, Green took first place, and Nicole Walch second. In the boys' division, age 15-16, Jesse Eicher earned first place. In the girls' division, age 17-18, Cara Stough took first place. In the boys' division, age 17-18, Riley earned first place, and Thomas Bruno second. The next race, the Governor's Cup, will be held on March 5 and 6 at Wisp Resort. The event will begin at 10 a.m.

Rams Second, Huskies Sixth At Regionals; Scheffel Sets Record

Garrett County will be well represented at this weekend's Maryland Class 1A/2A Wrestling Tournament, as six members of the Southern High School team and five members of the Northern High squad qualified for the event by virtue of their success at the 1A/2A West Regional tourney, hosted Saturday by North Hagerstown High School.

A major highlight of the regional event was the setting of a new high school career win record for the state of Maryland by Southern senior Jakob "Bubba" Scheffel, who recorded his 163rd win in four seasons as a Ram. A two-time defending state champion, Scheffel won the 171-pound division title at Saturday's regional event.

The previous state record of 162 victories was held by Matt Slutvky of Aberdeen.

As a team, the Rams finished in second place at the regional tournament, amassing 124.5 points. Winters Mill won the team title with 148.5 points. Placing third was Century with 109.5, followed by Liberty with 99.5, South Carroll with 85, Northern in sixth place with 78, Middletown with 71, Williamsport with 62, North Hagerstown with 58, and Catoctin with 57.

Right behind Scheffel in the number of personal victories is his senior teammate and co-state champion Lex Ozias, who also took first place at the regional tourney in the 152-pound division and now has 159 wins.

Ozias is undefeated this season, as his is brother Coy, a freshman, who took the 103-pound division title at Saturday's regional tourney and will be a favorite to win a state title this week.

Scheffel's record for this season is 40-1, while the respective marks of Lex and Coy Ozias are 40-0 and 39-0.

Both Scheffel and Lex Ozias will continue their athletic and academic careers this fall as members of the Virginia Tech wrestling team.

Northern's Kody Osselburn also earned a regional title on Saturday, winning the 119-pound division and upping his personal mark to 30-5 for the season.

Scheffel earned a 20-4 technical fall over Marshal Chang of Winters Mill in the 171-pound final. Lex Ozias did likewise, 16-1, over Luke Ziegler of Francis Scott Key in the 152-pound title bout. Coy Ozias pinned Chris McAleer of Manchester Valley in the 103-pound final, and Osselburn recorded a 7-1 decision over Liberty's Joe Kuegler in the 119-pound championship bout.

Earning a second place for the Huskies was Matt Thomas, who was edged by a 9-8 decision by champion Kemper Baker of Williamsport in the 140-pound division final. Thomas is currently sporting a 32-4 record for the season.

Husky Jason Opel, 32-4, will also be going to the state tourney, having recorded a 3-1 decision over Buckey Miller of Boonsboro to win third place in the 189-pound division.

The three other Southern grapplers who qualified for states with fourth places at the regional level are Austin Shaffer (30-6) at 112 pounds, Mikey Skipper 31-11) at 145, and heavyweight Kevin Miller (27-11).

Northern's Adam Finzel (125) and Anthony Cervi (215) also placed fourth. Finzel is 31-6 and Cervi has a record of 22-13.

Scheffel, both Oziases, and Osselburn are all #1 seeds in the state tournament, which will be held at the University of Maryland's Cole Field House in College Park this Friday and Saturday.

STATE WRESTLING QUALIFIERS – Six Southern Rams and five Northern Huskies have qualified to compete in this weekend's Maryland State 1A/2A Wrestling Tournament at College Park, having finished among the top four in their respective weight divisions at the West Regional Championships, held Saturday at North Hagerstown High School. Three of the Rams placed first in the regional event and will be seeded first in the state event. They are Lex and Coy Ozias, and Jakob "Bubba" Scheffel, who set a new Maryland state record for total number of personal victories in a high school career (163). Scheffel's photo is on the front page. In the photo above left, Ram senior Lex Ozias controls Lukas Ziegler en route to a technical fall to win the 152-pound division title at Saturday's regional tournament. Above right, younger brother Coy Ozias is shown pinning Chris McAleer of Manchester Valley to win the 103-pound division title. The Ozias brothers are both undefeated this season. Below left, Northern Husky Kody Osselburn ties up Joe Kuegler of Liberty and ultimately gains a 7-1 decision to win the 119-pound division. Below right is runner-up Matt Thomas battling Kemper Baker of Williamsport in the final bout of the 140-pound class. Thomas was edged in a 9-8 decision. At bottom left is Northern's Jason Opel recording points in a 3-1 decision over Bucky Miller of Boonsboro to place third in the 189-pound division. See story for other details. SMC Grapplers Compete In Md. State Tourney

Members of the Southern Mat Club participated in the Maryland Wrestling Association for Youth (MDWAY) State Championships on Saturday at Smithsburg High School.

SMC wrestlers who captured state titles were Jake Sweitzer, age 7/8, 60 pounds, and Devan Hamrick, 11/12, 75 pounds.

These were the 6th and 7th boys to capture state titles for the SMC in its history, following current high school standouts Bubba Scheffel, Lex Ozias, Coy Ozias, and Ryan Bennett, and WVU wrestler Brutus Scheffel.

Also placing for the SMC were: Aiden Schwab, 7/8, 45 pounds, third place; Marshall Smith, 7/8, 45, fourth; Josh King, 13/15, 91, fourth; Joey McComas, 7/8, 55, fifth; Quentin VanGorder, 5/6, 45, sixth; Jimmy Schwab, 11/12, 85, sixth; Reid Schenk, 7/8, 50, seventh; Anthony Smith, 5/6, 45, seventh; and Nathan Tasker, 9/10, 65, eighth.

Reid Schenk represented the SMC at the Mapletown Wrestling Tournament held in Greensboro, Pa., on Sunday and finished first in the 7/8, 50-pound class.

The SMC's end-of-season pizza party will be held Sunday, April 3, at Par-Matt Bowling Lanes, beginning at 1 p.m. All SMC members and families are invited to attend.

Glotfelty Earns Clifford Award; Going To Nat'ls

Grantsville resident and heavyweight collegiate wrestler Brock Glotfelty finished second, but did earn the conference's single wildcard selection, leading McDaniel College to a fifth-place finish at the 2011 Centennial Conference (CC) wrestling championships hosted by Washington and Lee on Saturday.

As a team, the Green Terror amassed 32.5 points behind four fourth-place showings in addition to Glotfelty's second. Merchant Marine won the team title with 115 points, outdistancing Johns Hopkins by 39.5 points.

The two-time defending champion, Glotfelty dropped a 6-5 decision to CC Wrestler of the Year and Most Outstanding Performer Jud Connell (Merchant Marine). Glotfelv had the bracket's lone bye to open the day before pinning Ursinus' William Cornely in 1:33 to reach the title bout for the fourth straight year.

Glotfelty, however, did receive the wildcard bid to the NCAA Division III championships, which will be held March 11-12 in La Crosse, Wis. Glotfelty, a graduate of Northern High School, was also named the Chris Clifford Award winner for the most career points in the tournament. He is the second McDaniel wrestler to earn the award, joining Charlie Conaway – the Green Terror's all-time wins leader before Glotfelty broke his mark earlier this season. Conaway won the inaugural award in 2000.

Huskies Eliminated From Playoffs By Second-Seeded Allegany, 72-60

The 2010-11 basketball season came to an end for the Northern High School boys' varsity Friday evening in Cumberland when the Huskies were defeated by host Allegany, 72-60, in a Class 1A West Sectional contest.

It was the third time this season that the Campers have defeated the Huskies, having stopped them twice in the regular season. The Huskies conclude their campaign with a 10-11 record.

The Huskies made a game of it, however, as they trailed by as many as 10 points in the second quarter, but cut the Camper lead to just two points by halftime, 28-26.

The third stanza was also close, and ended with the Huskies trailing by just three points, 49-46. But the home team out-scored the visitors in the final period by a 23-14 margin to gain the 12-point win.

Matt Gibson netted 17 points to pace the Huskies, while Garrett Rayner and Austin Doerr each finished with nine.

Leading the Campers' offensive effort in the fourth quarter was Brady Ellsworth, who scored nine of his 13 points for the game in that stanza. He also recorded eight rebounds and six assists.

The Campers were led in scoring by Aaron Murphy, who scored 17 points and also grabbed 13 rebounds. Also gaining double figures besides Ellsworth was Tylor Jessie with 10 points and 13 rebounds.

The Campers took their 14-8 record into their second playoff game on Monday, but were upset by cross-town rival Fort Hill, 60-55. The Sentinels will face top-seeded Southern this evening in the sectional title game, to be played on the Rams' court.

HUSKIES' END OF THE ROAD – The quest by the Northern High School boys' varsity to advance in post-season tournament play came to an end Friday when the Huskies were defeated by host Allegany, 72-60, in an opening-round playoff game. Rams Win Sectional Title By Defeating Blazers, Sentinels Behind outstanding individual performances by Calvin Hilliard, Joey Kisselovich, and D.J. Ritchie, the Southern High boys' varsity defeated visiting Fort Hill last night, 58-45, to win the Class 1A West Section championship.

The Rams earned the right to play for the sectional title by crushing visiting Clear Spring in a semifinal contest on Monday, 71-39, while the Sentinels gained their spot by upsetting favored Allegany on Monday, 60-55.

Southern will now face Williamsport this Saturday afternoon in Frederick to determine the West Region 1A champion.

Early in Monday's Southern/Clear Spring game in Oakland, it seemed that the Blazers didn't really show up, as the Rams scored 17 of the first quarter's 19 points. They continued to pour it on, both offensively and defensively, in the second period to build a commanding 41-15 advantage by intermission.

Coach Jon Hegeman began to substitute freely in the third quarter, which ended with the Rams on top 51-29.

Southern shot 55% from the floor and was led in scoring by Wyatt McBee, who finished with a game-high 18 points, half of which were scored from three-point range.

Kisselovich was close behind with 16 points and also pulled down eight rebounds. Hilliard scored 15 points, Ritchie netted nine points and grabbed 11 rebounds, and Kurt Gangler finished with 10 assists and three steals.

The Blazers were led in scoring by Nick Hill and Donald Schilling, who each scored nine points.

In last night's big win over Fort Hill, Hilliard, Kisselovich, and Ritchie combined for 56 of the Rams' total of 58 points and 22 of the team's 31 rebounds. Collectively, the trio hit 20 of 30 shots from the floor.

Hilliard led the way with a game-high 20 points, Kisselovich netted 18 and a dozen rebounds, and Ritchie also hit 18 points and grabbed eight rebounds. A dozen of Ritchie's points were scored from three-point range, from which he hit 80% (4-for-5) of his attempts.

Point guard Kurt Gangler scored the team's other two points and was once again key to engineering the Rams' offensive attack, dishing out seven assists.

The first half of the contest was close, with the Rams up by just one, 15-14, at the end of the first quarter, and leading by the same margin, 24-23, at halftime.

The Sentinels held a brief 29-26 advantage early in the third stanza, but two free throws by Kisselovich and a two-point bucket by Hilliard gave the Rams the lead for good. Back-to-back three-pointers by Ritchie and Hilliard stretched the Rams' lead to 38-30, and they took a 38-32 advantage into the fourth stanza.

The Sentinels pulled to within six points, 44-38, midway through the final quarter, but Ritchie hit two more three-point buckets to nearly put the game out of reach for Fort Hill, with Southern up 50-38.

The Rams were out-rebounded in the first half by a 12-10 edge, but dominated the boards in the second half and ended up with a 31-18 lead in that department.

"Joey Kisselovich did an outstanding job on the boards, defensively and offensively," said Ram head coach Jon Hegeman, "and D.J. had a fantastic night, hitting some key shots and also grabbing a couple of crucial rebounds late in the game.

"We executed a lot better in the second half," he continued. "We got the ball inside to Joey and Calvin, and D.J. hit the big three-pointers from outside."

Fort Hill coach Glenn Rice said that his team did accomplish one goal, which was to stop the scoring of Wyatt McBee.

"We did that, but D.J. Ritchie was the X-factor," he said. "We knew that Hilliard and Kisselovich would be tough inside, but Ritchie's threes in the fourth quarter put us away."

Leading the Sentinels (9-16) in scoring was Will Harris with 12 points. Mark Kelly also reached double figures with 10, while Brandon Remson netted eight.

The Rams now have little time to prepare for powerful Williamsport, a team that is sporting a record of 21-3. They have also been in a bit of a slump lately, losing five of eight games in the last few weeks of the regular season after building a record of 11-2.

"Complacency" is what Hegeman deemed the cause of the Rams' letdown late in the season.

"We seemed to get back on track when we defeated Bishop Walsh, and we have played well in both of our playoff games," he said, "so we will try to keep that momentum going into Saturday's game with Williamsport."

That contest will tip off at 2 p.m. at Frederick Community College. The West Region winner will advance directly into the Maryland 1A state championship semifinals.

Persons planning to attend Saturday's game should follow I-68 east and onto I-70, take the first Frederick exit to Rt. 40, follow Rt. 40 east to Rt. 15 junction, follow Rt. 15 north to Motter Ave., turn right onto Motter/Opossumtown Pike, travel one mile, and turn left at the entrance to FCC.

outside, goes so aggressiv e to the hole and hits the boards hard too. Those two, Terra and Kaitlynn, are two of the best guards in the area."

Southern pulled within four on a shot by Shaffer with 1:15 left, but the duo of Fratz and McKenzie hit decisive foul shots to seal Northern's 20th win of the season.

"At halftime, I told the girls that we had weathered the storm, that defense will win the game, and that no one would have a 10-point lead," said Coach Fratz.

"It was going to be one of those typical Northern-Southern games. Every girl will play until they can't play anymore. And that's the way it was."

Southern Knocks Out Hancock To Advance To Semis

In its first round of Class 1A West Region play, the Southern High School girls' basketball team defeated Hancock, 60-20.

In the match, Mariah Stem hit six three-pointers and outscored the entire Hancock team. She finished with a game-high 22 points for the Rams. Mandy Sweitzer chipped in with 10 points, Hannah Horne had nine and Alli Shaffer netted eight.

The win allowed Southern to advanced on to semifinal play against intra-county rival Northern.

In that matchup, the Rams fell to the Huskies, 52-44 (see other story) and concluded their season with an overall record of 13-11, and a 6-2 record in their final eight games.

RAMS WIN SECTIONAL TITLE – The Southern High boys' varsity will be gunning for the 1A West Region championship and a spot in the state tournament this Saturday when they face Williamsport at Frederick Community College. The Rams earned that opportunity last night by defeating visiting Fort Hill, 58-45, which gave them the 1A West Sectional championship. Scoring all but two of the Rams' points were the three players shown in action in these photos. Above, Joey Kisselovich soars toward the rim to sink two of his 18 points for the evening, while teammate Calvin Hilliard, right, pushed toward the hoop for a possible rebound. Directly below, Hilliard maneuvers into the lane and ends up scoring 20 points. In the bottom photo D.J. Ritchie goes up against some stiff Sentinel defense to record two of his 18 points for the night. A dozen of Ritchie's points were scored on four three-point buckets. See story on Page A-17. FRATZ HITS 2,000TH — In a close girls' basketball game pitting Northern against Southern on Tuesday, Husky standout Kaitlynn Fratz scored her 2,000th career point as Northern edged out the Rams, 52-44. Fratz's milestone shot, above left, came with 2:11 left in regulation on a pull-up jumper with Southern defenders Alycia Horner (3), left, and Alli Shaffer (12) swarming. Husky Terra McKenzie (21) is seen in the background. Fratz received support throughout the night from friends and family, who are pictured below keeping the point count. From left to right are: the record holder's older sister Kassie Fratz; Mandie Fazenbaker; Abbie Sherrard in the background holding an '11' sign, Fratz's number; Brittany Stein, former Northern standout; and Danielle Brenneman. Nothing came easy for the Huskies, however, in a game the Rams led through the first half. Pictured above right, Southern sophomore Shaffer (12) gets up for a shot under the basket. Teammate Mandy Sweitzer (13) readies for the potential rebound, as do Huskies Heather Vincent (20) and Fratz (11). Photos by John McEwen. Northern Drains Clear Spring, Slips By Southern To Play For Title Tonight

The second-ranked Northern High School girls' basketball team readies to face top-seeded Allegany in tonight's Maryland 1A West Region Title game. Northern earned the trip to Allegany and a shot at the title after completely overpowering Clear Spring on Saturday, 80-31, and edging out cross-county rival Southern on Tuesday night, 52-44.

In their home game against Clear Spring, the Huskies faced little opposition as they breezed through the first playoff round. In the outing, Terra McKenzie hit seven three-pointers to lead Northern with 26 points. Allison Yommer scored 18 points, while Husky teammate Kaitlynn Fratz scored 15, dished seven assists, and picked five steals.

Taryn Brenneman knocked down three three-pointers for nine points and contributed to Northern's 12 total from behind the three line.

The Blazers (4-19) were led by Heather Schloterbeck with 13 points, while teammate Samantha Staley netted seven and went 3-for-4 from the line.

Northern led 23-2 after the first quarter, and 45-10 at the half.

In the semifinal game pitting the Huskies against the Rams in Accident, Northern found itself down at the half, but denied Southern the upset by putting together a third and fourth quarter full of solid team play.

Fratz scored 24 points, pulled down seven boards, and tallied her 2,000th career point in the game, while McKenzie had 17 points and seven rebounds. Yommer contributed eight points and eight rebounds in the win, which marked the Huskies' sixth over the Rams in their last eight matchups.

Southern did not go quietly, however, as sophomore Alli Shaffer, who had 24 points, troubled Northern's defense all night.

The Rams, who upset the Huskies 50-45 in last year's playoff meeting of the two teams, led the majority of the first half and by as many as nine points.

Southern dictated the tempo, took an 11-9 lead late in the first and rolled it into the second period. By mid-second quarter the Rams held a 20-11 jump on the Huskies in a half in which they forced 12 Husky turnovers, six in each quarter.

Southern led 24-1 [illegible] a first half in wh[illegible]ratz picked up three [illegible]ls and Northern went cold on the floor and shot just 5-for-21.

"I think Kaitlynn was trying to do too much in the first half," said Northern head coach Steve Fratz. "At halftime she calmed herself down and really focused on what she had to do."

The Huskies, who scored 19 points in the entire first half, matched that total in the third quarter. After three-point baskets from both McKenzie and Fratz and some inside feeds to Yommer, Northern found itself with a 38-32 lead at the end of the period.

"When they got up they got as confident as they could be. Their dribble drive hurt us and twice late in the game we fouled with five seconds left on the shot clock and bailed them out after playing good defense," said Southern coach Danny Bosley.

The Rams opened the fourth with jumpers from Shaffer, 11-for-20 from the field, and cut the Husky advantage to 38-36.

McKenzie countered this effort by attacking the basket for back-to-back three-point plays. The six point effort made it 44-36 halfway through the final quarter and reclaimed the momentum for Northern.

"The three-point plays killed us," said Bosley. "We needed more help on defense and didn't get it."

In their final home game together, Husky seniors Fratz and McKenzie totaled 41 of their team's 52 points.

"Terra hit some big buckets and is so aggressive," mused Coach Fratz. "She's a good shooter

RING OF FIRE
by Dr. Tom Sheahen

Q. In less than a year, there have been two major earthquakes in New Zealand, and that is not considered unusual because New Zealand lies on the "Ring of Fire." What does that mean?

A. The "Ring of Fire" refers to a geological pattern on the earth where the boundaries of adjacent tectonic plates form a pattern that is somewhat circular, or ring-shaped. This ring is approximately the perimeter of the Pacific Ocean. There are a lot of volcanoes along the ring, which is where the "fire" part comes from.

The surface of the earth is covered by many tectonic plates, at least one per continent and one per ocean. These plates are able to move above the mantle of the earth, but it takes geologic times, millions of years, for them to move very much. Still, there are boundaries where the various plates touch each other, and even very slight relative motion of plates causes great friction and generates lots of heat. Moreover, some magma might slip through a crack and come up to the surface, bringing a lot of heat with it.

Over millions of years, the cracking and buckling at the plate boundaries causes the surface of the earth to lift up, and that's how mountain ranges are formed. Volcanoes are those mountains where magma repeatedly escapes. The extra material builds up such mountains at a faster rate than just from plate-boundary motion alone.

Going clockwise and starting up north, the Ring of Fire goes along the Aleutian islands to reach the North American mainland in Alaska; then it proceeds past Anchorage and down the coastal mountain range between Alaska and Canada, then into the Cascade Mountains of Washington and Oregon, into California, including San Francisco and down to Los Angeles, where the San Andreas Fault is a geological feature where risk of earthquakes is high.

Continuing clockwise, the Ring of Fire goes through Central America and down into South America, where it constitutes the backbone of the Andes mountain range. Beyond the bottom tip of South America it disappears under water, touches Antarctica and then bends around and comes back up under the Pacific Ocean. The ring rises above sea level at New Zealand. From there the ring proceeds northward and bends westward, going through Borneo and Indonesia, which includes Java and Sumatra.

Still moving clockwise, the pattern of connected plate boundaries goes through Burma, Thailand, and up into China, then to Japan and a peninsula of land in far eastern Siberia, eventually re-connecting with the Aleutian islands, thus completing the ring.

A large percentage of all the volcanoes and earthquakes occur along this ring. Islands such as New Zealand rose up from the sea floor via the upward motion of the surface where plate boundaries are colliding. New Zealand seems to be rising by about 7 millimeters per year. Keep that up for a million years and you have a mountain range 7 kilometers high, as high as the Himalayas.

Some activity along the Ring of Fire occurs below sea level and is thus hidden from sight. Undersea volcanoes are erupting all the time, and nobody cares. The Hawaiian Islands were built this way; the string of islands that rise above sea level is supplemented by a considerable number of "sea mounts," meaning volcanic bumps that rose up from the sea floor but never made it above sea level.

At any given time, various sections along the Ring of Fire are active or quiescent. Lately, there has been a lot of activity in Chile, New Zealand, and Sumatra. A huge earthquake leveled Anchorage, Alaska, in 1964. In California, an earthquake along the San Andreas Fault badly damaged San Francisco in 1906, and that is "lately" on the geological time scale. In fact, many Californians are resigned to the idea that "the big one" will occur someday, possibly within their lifetime.

On the opposite side of the earth is the Mid-Atlantic Rift, where the tectonic plates are moving apart. That happens without violent cracking and doesn't cause damage. Iceland gets wider by about 2 centimeters a year. But the amount of magma, ash, and dust released by a volcano can be dangerous, as we witnessed in spring 2010 when many airports in Europe were shut down by the smoke. There are assorted other smaller plates which can move too, such as in Haiti in January 2010.

The two very recent earthquakes in the exact same part of New Zealand (Sept. 2010 and Feb. 2011) clearly demonstrate the uncertainty and irregularities associated with plate-boundary motion. (There was yet another major earthquake in a remote part of southern New Zealand in 2009, but there was "nobody home" in that uninhabited region.) No fatalities occurred in the September 2010 quake, which was magnitude 7.1, but many were killed in February's magnitude 6.3 quake, because of greater shaking and falling buildings.

Dr. Sheahen lives at Deep Creek Lake and has taught physics at Garrett College. Persons wishing to submit questions for this column may e-mail them to newsroom@therepublicannews.com.

MUDDY CREEK ROARS – Heavy rains hit the Mountaintop earlier this week, causing the volume of H2O in various waterways to swell, particularly with some accompanying snow melt; however, no major flooding problems were reported in the county. This picturesque photo of Muddy Creek Falls in Swallow Falls State Park was taken and submitted by Brian Homberg. More precipitation, mostly in the form of rain, is predicted for Friday and throughout the coming weekend.

Course Scheduled On How To Create A Business Plan

A Garrett College course titled "Creating a Business Plan – Your Roadmap to Success" will be held at the Northern Outreach Center, Grantsville, on Tuesday and Wednesday, March 29 and 30, from 6 to 9:15 p.m.

The curriculum includes instruction on writing a business plan to help formalize thoughts and analyze feasibility.

"This is where you start mapping your business strategy and planning for the future," said course instructor Joe Friend, owner and senior consultant of Friend Consulting. "You are developing your roadmap to success. Developing a business plan takes time, but it helps you avoid costly, perhaps disastrous, mistakes later."

Students will use a generic business plan template and discuss how to modify it to use for a particular kind of business. The class will also include discussion of writing style and appearance of the final document.

For additional information on this course and fees, persons may contact Terry Beachy, Northern Outreach Center coordinator, at 301-895-4700 or terry.beachy@garrettcollege.edu.

To register for this course, persons may call the Continuing Education and Workforce Development Division at 301-387-3069.

Grantsville Group Schedules Events At Senior Center

The Grantsville Involvement Group will sponsor several activities during March and April at the Grantsville Senior Center. People of all ages are invited to attend free of charge.

The group will meet on Saturday mornings from 11 a.m. to noon from March 12 through 26. A story and a craft will be featured each day. McDonald's gift certificates will be given to those attending all three weeks of the reading activity.

The group will play Wii on Tuesdays from April 5 through April 19 from 6 to 8 p.m. A drawing will be held for a first prize of a Game Stop gift card and a runner-up for a Wal-Mart gift card for those attending all three weeks of this session. Snacks will be provided free of charge.

*Annual Percentage Rate (APR). The introductory rate is for the first twelve billing cycles after closing and requires an automatic deduction from a Susquehanna checking account to qualify. All lines require a minimum line amount of $25,000 to qualify for the introductory rate, and the maximum LTV is 85%. The disclosed regular variable rate will be based on an index (The Wall Street Journal Prime rate as of the 15th day of the preceding month), currently 3.25% APR as of 01/02/11, subject to a minimum APR of 4.00%, and may vary monthly. Disclosed regular rate is for a line amount of $100,000 or greater, an LTV of 70%, requires a credit score greater than or equal to 700 and includes a .25% discount for automatic deduction from a Susquehanna Bank account. This offer is for new Home Equity FlexLine of Credit applications only. Standard underwriting criteria apply. Other rates and terms available. The maximum APR is 18% (Maryland 24%, New Jersey 16%). This offer and the disclosed rates are effective beginning 01/18/2011 and may change without notice. Lines are for personal, family and household purposes. Property insurance is required. Property must be located in the Susquehanna Bank service area. Title insurance is not included in the Lender paid closing costs for loans over $250,000. For properties located in the state of Maryland, if the line is terminated within the first 30 months, all Lender paid closing costs estimated between $859.00 and $1,777.00 (estimate for a $100,000 line, varies by county) must be reimbursed to the Lender.

EAT SMART, SPEND LESS

by Lynn Little, Extension Educator, Family and Consumer Sciences
University of Maryland Extension

All families buy food, but they may not know the appropriate amount to spend for a family their size, or how much they actually spend each month on food eaten at home as well as food eaten away from home.

Thrifty spending can help you control your money and can even make you feel better. To help you to get a grasp on your food spending, check out the online calculator, featured on the SpendSmart.EatSmart web site at www.extension.iastate.edu/foodsavings/. This calculator will create a custom estimate for your family based on age, gender, and number of meals consumed within the home. The online calculator will give you a recommended weekly and monthly spending amount for your family you can use to compare with the amount you usually spend.

To help you stretch your food dollars you might also consider the following five steps:

1. Plan for meals and snacks. Planning is an important part of food buying and healthy eating. Plan the week's meals for your family before going shopping. Try to use up items that you have on hand so that no food has to be thrown out because of an expired date. Use ideas from the grocery store's sale ads that may be in the paper or online.

2. Cut those coupons! Find coupons in newspaper ads, magazines, in the store, on packages and online. Organize them by putting them in a small folder that you can take to the store. Throw away coupons that have expired, and do not spend money just because you have a coupon! If it is not something you would normally buy, chances are you will not use it.

3. Make a list and check it twice! Make a list of ingredients that you will need, and check them off as you are shopping so that you do not forget anything. If you are familiar with your grocery store, try listing your foods in the order that you walk through. Keep a pencil and paper near your cupboard/pantry to make an ongoing list of items as they run low.

4. Compare, compare, compare. Some store brands may be less expensive than name brands. Make use of coupons, but do not let them deceive you; some brands may cost less than others with the coupon. Do not just compare prices; compare nutrition labels. Choose healthy foods, even if it is just a few cents more. If it is too costly, think of substitutions. For instance, can non-fat dry milk powder be substituted for liquid milk, or can non-fat yogurt be substituted for mayonnaise in your recipe?

5. Shop. (But not 'til you drop!) Never shop on an empty stomach, and allow yourself plenty of time to shop. Buy only what is on your list. Avoid those temptations as you are waiting in the check-out line. When you are doing your shopping, only buy in bulk when you know you have enough storage space and plenty of time before the item expires.

When you get home from the store, remember food safety! Store staples, like flour and rice, in sealed containers to prevent insect infestation. Rotate canned foods so that you use the oldest ones first. If you are dividing meat to be put in the freezer, do not forget to label and date these items.

"Going green" is a widely used phrase that many have heard these days. By taking reuseable bags to the store you can help reduce waste. Likewise, recycling cans and plastic bottles will also make you feel good about contributing to an environment friendly economy, and it may even put a few more dollars in your pocket.

SHS STUDENT SELECTED AS PAGE – Del. Wendell Beitzel recently welcomed Southern High School student Caitlin Simpson to Annapolis. The daughter of Tom and Pam Simpson, Mtn. Lake Park, Caitlin is one of a few high school students to have been selected among a competitive field to serve as a page during the 2011 legislative session. In addition to receiving high marks for her studies at Southern, Caitlin received three undergraduate credits in a Clemson University's second summer session. She received an honorable mention as a Maryland Distinguished Scholar and has completed 176 service learning hours. "It is great to see students of Caitlin's caliber serving not only as a page with the Maryland General Assembly, but also the community in her many good works," Beitzel said. "With students like Caitlin and others, I am sure that Garrett County has a bright future."

Masonic Lodge To Meet; Mar. 22 Dinner Planned

The Oakland Masonic Lodge #192 will meet on Mar. 8 at 7:30 p.m. The group plans to confer a Master Mason egree on one unnamed candidate. Refreshments will be offered after the meeting.

A dinner will be served on Mar. 22 at 6:30 p.m. by the Oakland Assembly #8, International Organization of the Rainbow Girls, under the supervision of the Sisters of the Order of the Eastern Star, #67.

The menu will consist of: pork chops, stuffing, sauerkraut, glazed baby carrots, applesauce, and cake. All Master Masons, Eastern Stars, and their family and friends are invited. All free-will donations will be used for travel expenses by the IORG.

To make reservations for the dinner, individuals may contact Bill Skinner at 301-334-6282 by Mar. 20.

RIGIDPLY DRIVERS RECOGNIZED – Rigidply Rafters Inc. officials, for the third straight year, recently recognized 10 truck drivers for their exceptional driving record. "In 2010, they drove nearly 400,000 miles without any at-fault accidents," said a spokesperson. "Between our five tractor trailers and four straight trucks, our drivers handle hundreds of oversized loads each year. Rigidply would like to congratulate these drivers and thank all of our employees for the success of the company." The drivers received a personalized Rigidply Rafters shirt that identifies their Safe Driver Award on the sleeve. Rigidply Rafters employs about 60 people at the local facility, with 12 of these employees working in the Shipping Department. The company is located three miles south of Oakland on Joni Miller Road and is a manufacturer of wooden roof and floor trusses, as well as laminated beams and posts. Left to right are John Beckman, Dennis Maust, Dave Tice, Buster Orendorf, Danny Swartzentruber, John Matthews, Merlin Yoder, Millard Schrock, and Danny Tice. Merlin Beachy is not pictured.

Lenten Services Set In Bittinger

The Bittinger Lutheran Parish has announced its Taize Lenten services schedule.

They will be held every Wednesday during Lent at St. John's Lutheran Church, Meadow Mountain, beginning at 6:30 p.m. on March 16, March 30, and April 13.

Emmanuel Lutheran Church will hold the services on March 23 and April 6, also beginning at 6:30 p.m.

Rev. Randy Richardson extends an invitation to the public to attend these services.

LOOK BEFORE YOU LEAP

If my recent column about the three types of foreclosures peaked your interest in making such a purchase, read on to learn a few of the common mistakes to avoid when you're ready to make an offer.

First, don't get caught up in a bidding frenzy. Banks may under-price their offering, hoping to generate multiple bids and sell quickly. Don't get overexcited - there's another foreclosure to bid on tomorrow!

Second, don't underestimate your repair costs. Carefully read the inspection report, and factor in an additional 10-20 percent of the purchase price for unexpected repairs.

Third, don't ignore the "comparables" for similar properties in the area. If there are abundant foreclosures in the neighborhood, be sure that you have the latest home prices to compare against, and keep your offer at or below those figures.

Fourth, if you're buying for the short-term because you may relocate or upgrade in a few years, don't go house hunting in a neighborhood full of foreclosures. These properties may continue to decline in value, meaning you may have to sell at a loss in the near future. Protect your investment by purchasing the only foreclosed home in a better neighborhood.

Finally, do secure loan pre-approval, because you'll need to move quickly once you've found your ideal property. With your agent as your field guide, your hunt should be successful!

If you are thinking of buying or selling a home but feel "out of touch" with real estate, give me a call today.

Man dreamed of flying long before the Wright brothers finally achieved success. After innumerable attempts, they succeeded where others had failed. What faith they must have had to believe that they could do what no man had done! We all have the potential to do great things. We must use the gifts God has given us and have faith in His Word. Worship this week and meet others who will encourage and counsel you... you will find the faith to fly toward your dream.

Flotsam and Jetsam

According to the American Heritage Dictionary, "Flotsam, in maritime law, applies to wreckage or cargo left floating on the sea after a shipwreck. Jetsam applies to cargo or equipment thrown overboard (jettisoned) from a ship in distress and either sunk or washed ashore." Sometimes our lives feel like shipwrecks, with wreckage and debris all around us as we tread water to stay afloat. Other times we feel like the ship is sinking and that we need to throw things overboard to avoid sinking. One solution is to not overload the ship in the first place. Material possessions can be a burden and it may help to lighten the load. We should go through our clothes and donate those items we don't wear anymore, and go through our books, tapes and CDs also. We might also find that a lot of our old computer, stereo and television equipment can be given away, and far from being a loss, we might gain tremendously by this. Finally, we are often overburdened by obligations. Do we really need that extra part-time job or the commitment we've made to some other endeavor? Sometimes we throw things overboard and yet still hold onto them when we should just let them fly and say good-bye.

As we were violently storm-tossed, they began next day to throw the cargo overboard;and the third day they castout with their own handsthe tackle of the ship.

Birding BITS
by Cindy Brook

Keep It Local

Buying birdseed doesn't have to be an adventure. Many local grocery and hardware stores keep plenty on hand. A basic seed mix works because it has a little bit of everything, and black oil sunflower seed is good too, because most birds love it.

Strange BUT TRUE

• It was computer guru Jef Raskin who made the following sage observation: "Imagine if every Thursday your shoes exploded if you tied them the usual way. This happens to us all the time with computers, and nobody thinks of complaining."

• Most people think of Abraham Lincoln as an iconic president and the Great Emancipator, but many don't realize that he also was an inventor. He was issued patent No. 6,469 for an inflatable device he designed to help buoy river-going vessels over shoals.

• In Somalia it is common for a girl to be engaged before she is even born.

• If you get squeamish around bugs, you might not want to read the following little tidbit of information: Nearly every human carries around tiny eyelash mites that live out their entire lives on our faces -- including mating and laying eggs there.

• Due to a series of earthquakes in 1811 and 1812, the Mississippi River ran backward for a time.

• An enterprising inventor named Andrew Schneider has come up with the latest geek apparel: a solar bikini. With it, you can tan while also charging up your iPod. No word on whether there are solar swim trunks in the pipeline for men.

• J.K. Rowling's Harry Potter books are so popular worldwide that now they're not even being writing by Rowling herself. The booming bootleg industry in China seems to have taken the Potter series to heart, creating such titles as "Harry Potter and the Leopard Walk-Up-To Dragon," "Harry Potter and the Chinese Overseas Students at the Hogwarts School of Witchcraft and Wizardry," "Harry Potter and the Chinese Porcelain Doll," "Rich Dad, Poor Dad and Harry Potter" and "Harry Potter and the Filler of Big."

• On March 15, 45 B.C, Julius Caesar, the "dictator for life" of the Roman Empire, is murdered by his own senators at a meeting in a hall next to Pompey's Theatre. The conspiracy against Caesar encompassed as many as 60 noblemen, including Caesar's own protege, Marcus Brutus.

• On March 20, 1345, according to scholars at the University of Paris, the Black Death, also known as the Plague, is created from what they call "a triple conjunction of Saturn, Jupiter and Mars in the 40th degree of Aquarius. It is now known that bubonic plague was carried by fleas.

• On March 14, 1879, Albert Einstein is born, the son of a Jewish electrical engineer, in Ulm, Germany. Einstein's theories of relativity drastically altered man's view of the universe, and his work helped make possible the atomic bomb.

• On March 17, 1905, future president Franklin Delano Roosevelt weds his fifth cousin once removed, Eleanor Roosevelt, in New York. In 1918, Eleanor was devastated to discover that Franklin was having an affair with her secretary, Lucy Mercer. When Eleanor threatened to leave him, his mother intervened and offered to support Eleanor financially if she would stay in the marriage.

• On March 18, 1911, Irving Berlin copyrights the biggest pop song of the early 20th century, "Alexander's Ragtime Band." In the first two decades of the 20th century, musical popularity was based not on the sale of recorded performances, but on the sale of sheet music. ,Future Berlin hits would include "White Christmas" and "God Bless America."

• On March 16, 1926, American Robert H. Goddard launches the world's first liquid-fueled rocket at Auburn, Mass. The rocket, fueled by liquid oxygen and gasoline, traveled for 2.5 seconds at a speed of about 60 mph, reaching an altitude of 41 feet and landing 184 feet away.

• On March 19, 1957, Elvis Presley puts down a $1,000 deposit on a $102,500 house in Memphis, Tenn. The Southern mansion on a 13.8-acre wooded estate was later named Graceland. Today, Graceland is the second-most-visited house in America, after the White House.

Q: I have an unusual Hot Wheels item, a Goodyear blimp. I have been offered $50 for it, but think it could be worth more. What is your advice? -- Freddie, Sun City West, Ariz.

A: Take the money and run. According to Warman's Hot Wheels by Michael Zarnock (Krause, $17.99), your Goodyear blimp was issued in 1992 and is currently valued at $5.

Q: While sorting through some old magazines in my dad's storage locker, I found three comics I think might be worth money. They are No. 34 in the "Crime Doesn't Pay" series, No. 43 in the Master Comics series; and a No. 94 Gene Autry Christmas edition. All three are in excellent condition. -- Ralph, Stigler, Okla.

A: I found your comics referenced in Golden Age Comics by Alex G. Malloy and Stuart W. Wells III (Krause, $19.99). Your first comic, "Elevator Shaft," was published in 1942 and is valued at $500. Your most valuable comic, No. 43 in the Master Comics series, "Battle for Stalingrad," was issued in 1943 and is worth $1,000. The Gene Autry "Christmas" comic is from 1946 and is valued at about $100.

Q: I have several water glasses, wine goblets, small plates and a sugar-and-cream set in a glass pattern that I can't identify. Can you help me? -- Joan, Sun City West, Ariz.

A: Although the pictures you sent me are blurred, I think the pattern you have is the Miss America Diamond Pattern, which was manufactured by the Hocking Glass Company between 1935 and 1938. It also has been reproduced. It was offered in several colors, including green, ice blue, pink and royal ruby. Your pieces are in crystal. For approximate values, you should invest in a copy of Warman's Depression Glass: A Value and Identification Guide by Ellen T. Schroy (Krause, $27.95).

DENNETT ROAD LIFTS OFF — Third, fourth, and fifth graders from Dennett Road Elementary School recently launched rockets they built from scratch during a session of the after-school program Math and Science Night. With the help of their parents, the students constructed their projectile aircraft using packing tape glued over dowel rods to form rocket bodies, folder paper cut into fins, plastic bags for parachutes, and balsa wood pieces for nose cones. The students spent two nights building their projects and one night after school testing them. In all, there were about 35 rockets. The students were under careful adult supervision during the launch, which was one of the three activities recently offered by Math and Science Night. Besides sending off rockets, the program allowed the elementary students to dissect owl pellets and build racing mouse-trap cars. Some of the students who participated in the rocket launch, from left to right, are: John Hollingsworth, Rachel Duggan, Caleb Thayer, Dustin Green, Tyler Rodeheaver, Hayden McLaughlin, Joey Custer, Michael Hollingsworth, C.J. Davis, Michael Duggan, Nick Davis, Brandon Hill, and Tyler Moats. Mike Warne, left, and Steve Knepp, who assisted and supervised the launch are pictured in the background. SUMMER JOB OPPORTUNITY AT STATE PARKS

Local state parks are accepting applications for summer lifeguard positions. Those interested may contact the parks at the following numbers: Deep Creek Lake State Park at 301-387-5563, Herrington Manor State Park at 301-334-9180, and New Germany State Park at 301-334-5453. One may also find information on the web site www.dnr.maryland.gov.

PARENTS NEEDED TO LEAD AFTER-PROM

The 2011 after-prom event marks 20 years since the important tradition began at Southern High School. Parents are needed to step forward and manage this year's event; without a dedicated group of parents the annual celebration will not occur.

Teenagers face tough choices every day, and dangerous decisions are often made concerning drugs and alcohol. Safe alternatives are needed in every community, and this is why it is important to offer a fun, safe after-prom activity. It takes many volunteers to manage this all-night event. Please plan on becoming a part of this wonderful activity for our students. Without the help of many parents, this activity can not occur.

MARCH 1 DEADLINES APPROACH FOR SENIORS

Seniors are reminded of the Mar. 1 deadlines for the following scholarships and financial opportunities: Garrett County Foundation Scholarship, Guaranteed Access Grant, Frostburg Institutional Scholarships, and Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). Seniors may seek assistance from their guidance counselor.

YEARBOOK PDA ON SALE

The 2011 Highlander yearbook is once again offering the parents and family members of seniors the opportunity to purchase a PDA (Public Display of Affection) advertisement for their graduating senior. Yearbook PDA order forms were mailed to parents on Feb. 1. Order forms can also be downloaded by going to Southern's web site. To download a PDA form go to http://cardinal.ga.k12.md.us/Schools/SH, click on the "students" link at the top of the page, and then click on the "yearbook" link. Orders and payments are due to Maria Zumpano by Apr. 15. Those with questions may contact Maria Zumpano at mzumpano@sh.ga.k12.md.us.

PDA space is limited so parents are encouraged to get their advertisement in as soon as possible. All sales will be on a first-come, first-served basis.

Volunteers Sought To "Keep In Touch" With Homebound

The Garrett County Area Agency on Aging is seeking volunteers to fill a needed service for elderly individuals who are homebound, without immediate family in the area, or in need of a little friendly conversation. Participants will not have to leave their homes to volunteer.

"We receive requests from county agencies and family members who live out of the area," said a Telephone Reassurance Program spokesperson. "They just need someone to keep in touch with their loved ones on a regular basis through a phone call."

Volunteers are not expected to visit, run errands, or make referrals, just make the telephone calls and then submit a brief monthly record of calls made.

The Area Agency on Aging will provide basic training before assigning the volunteer to a senior client.

"These brief phone calls are not only a morale booster for the senior citizen, they often result in lasting friendships between the volunteer and the older person," said the spokesperson. "If you think providing this type of service is possible for you, then please consider volunteering as a telephone reassurance volunteer."

For further information, or to volunteer for the Telephone Reassurance program, persons may contact Beverly Carvell at 301-334-9431, ext. 137.

Ash Wednesday Service Scheduled

The Bittinger Lutheran Parish will observe Ash Wednesday with a service of Holy Communion and the imposition of ashes on March 9.

The service will be held at Emmanuel Lutheran Church in Bittinger, beginning at 7 p.m.

Dairy Princess Contest Opens In Local Area

The Maryland Dairy Princess program is searching for young women interested in promoting the dairy industry as a dairy princess or dairy maid for the Garrett/Allegany County Region.

Dairy Princesses make school and grocery store appearances, speak to various groups, speak on the radio, and appear on television. They also make appearances at banquets, sporting events, and fairs.

Regional princesses will participate in training seminars in early July and compete in the state pageant in mid-July in Frederick.

To enter the regional contest, candidates may be the daughter of one of the following: a dairy farmer, a dairy manager or herdsman, or someone employed in a dairy related industry (farm store, cooperative, Dairy Heard Information Association supervisor, feed supplier, veterinarian, milk inspector, etc.).

Candidates may also be employed themselves as one of the above, be the owner of at least one dairy animal, or be enrolled in the dairy foods project in 4-H or FFA.

To qualify, candidates must be at least 16 years old by Dec. 31 of the contest year and not yet reached their 22nd birthday by that date.

Young women between 13 and 16 years old can participate in the royalty program as well by becoming a dairy maid.

"The Dairy Maid program in Maryland not only prepares girls to become dairy princesses, but gives them valuable experiences as they mature through their teen years," a spokesperson said.

Dairy maids will perform similar duties as the dairy princess, assisting her throughout the year.

There is no dairy maid competition. All applicants who qualify will be accepted.

All dairy maids will take part in a one day training seminar and be introduced during the state dairy princess pageant in July.

For more information on becoming a dairy princess or dairy maid, or to receive an application, persons may contact the Garrett/Allegany County chairpersons, Nancy Savage, at 301-746-8146 or Heidi Qualls at 301-533-0062.

Extension Plans Crop Production Meeting At GC

The University of Maryland Extension will host its annual spring crop production meeting at Garrett College on Tuesday, March 8, from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

The meeting will feature topics on soils, insect control, nutrient management, and agriculture's contribution to total maximum daily load (TMDL).

Dr. John Tooker, assistant professor of entomology at Penn State, will discuss research and findings related to slug control in no-till corn. Tooker works with developing methods of sustainable insect pest management.

Carl Robinette, district soil conservationist in Allegany County, will discuss soil factors that affect crop production.

Amanda Moore, Maryland state soil scientist with NRCS, will help participants using the Web Soil Survey, which is an online graphic database of the Maryland soil survey.

Dr. Josh McGrath, assistant professor in environmental science and technology at the University of Maryland, will discuss nitrogen management and managing micro nutrients.

Participants who are certified nutrient management consultants will receive six recertification credits.

The program is open to anyone who produces crops or has on interest in farming in Garrett County and the surrounding counties.

The cost for the program is $12, which includes lunch and morning refreshments. Persons who would like to attend the session may contact the extension office to register at 301-334-6960.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Publication Date: 3/3/2011
Expiration Date: 4/2/2011 (30 Days After Date of Publication)

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

State Water Quality Certification, as required by Section 401 of the Clean Water Act, has been requested of the West Virginia Department of Environmental Protection (WVDEP) for:

The Jennings Randolph Hydroelectric Project
Fairlawn Hydroelectric Company LLC,
150 North Miller Road, Suite 450 C, Fairlawn, Ohio 44333

SCOPE OF CERTIFICATION: Pursuant to Section 401 of the Federal Clean Water Act, the State may, either certify, certify with conditions, deny or waive certification that the proposed activity will comply with Sections 301, 302, 303, 306 and 307 of the Federal Clean Water Act and other appropriate requirements of State law. When issuing certification, the WVDEP may consider the proposed activity's impact on water resources, fish and wildlife, recreation, critical habitats, wetlands and other natural resources under its jurisdiction. Procedural and interpretive regulations governing the scope of the Department's certification, public comment, hearings and appeals are in Title 47, Series 5A.

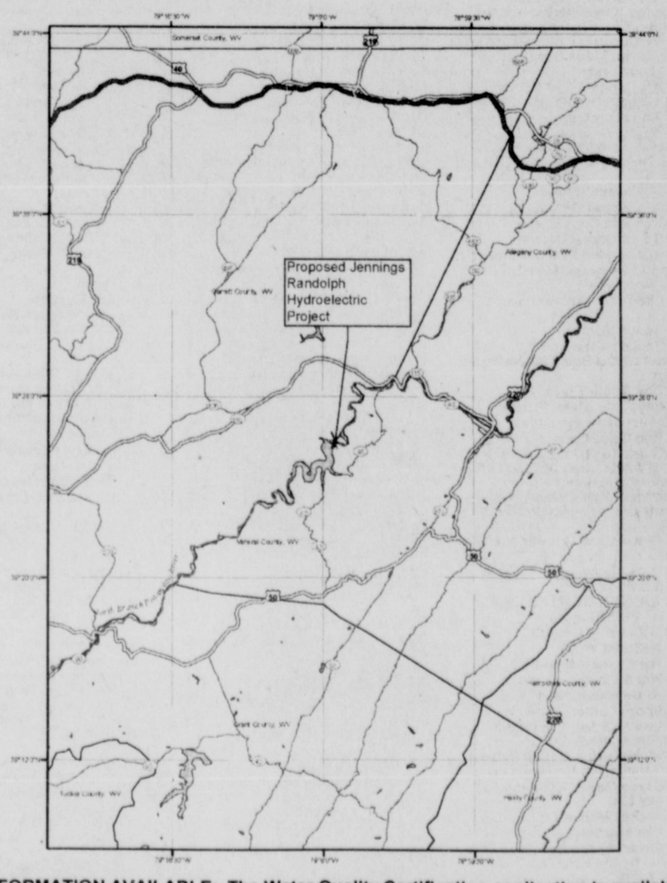
DESCRIPTION OF THE ACTIVITY:

The Project is a proposed 14 megawatt (MW) hydroelectric facility to be constructed at the existing USACE Jennings Randolph Dam. The construction of the Project will include the building of the project structures in both West Virginia and Maryland. General activities that will occur within wetlands or waterways in West Virginia include excavation for a powerhouse, constructed along the North Branch of the Potomac River. The tailrace will be constructed along the bank and in the waterway of the North Branch of the Potomac and will include the construction of retaining walls, which will extend for a distance of approximately 40 feet in order to stabilize the river banks immediately downstream from the powerhouse discharge. Material will be dredged from the river for the lower half of the tailrace. The length of stream/stilling basin affected is approximately 65 feet, and the approximate area within the stream/stilling basin that will be disturbed is 1800 SF. Within West Virginia, the amount of excavated material in the stilling basin is expected to be 350 CY. The amount of fill material (rip-rap) in the stilling basin is expected to be 188 CY.

Fairlawn is subsequently seeking 404/401 Certification, as well as 401 Certification with respect to the issuance of an original FERC license for the Project.

PROJECT LOCATION:

The Project would be located on the North Branch Potomac River on the border of Garrett County, Maryland and Mineral County, West Virginia. The site is approximately eight miles upstream of Bloomington, MD, and approximately five miles north of Elk Garden, WV. A location map has been included below.



INFORMATION AVAILABLE: The Water Quality Certification application is available for inspection between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m., Monday through Friday, at the following location:

WV Department of Environmental Protection
Division of Water and Waste Management
401 Certification Program
601 57th Street SE
Charleston, West Virginia 25304

COMMENTS: Comments and information relating to Section 401 Water Quality Certification for this activity are hereby solicited. Such information on the activity's impact will be considered if postmarked prior to the expiration date of this notice. The need for a public hearing will be determined based on an evaluation of specific request for such hearing. All comments and information should be mailed to:

WV Department of Environmental Protection
Division of Water and Waste Management
401 Certification Program
601 57th Street SE
Charleston, West Virginia 25304

Comments and information postmarked later than the expiration date may not be considered.

PUBLIC NOTICES

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING AMENDMENTS TO COMPREHENSIVE PLAN

Notice is hereby given that a joint public hearing will be conducted by the Garrett County Planning Commission and the Board of County Commissioners scheduled for Tuesday, March 8, 2011, at 11 a.m. in the Garrett County Commissioners' Public Meeting Room, located at the Courthouse, Oakland, Maryland. The Planning Commission and County Commissioners will receive comments on proposed text amendments to the 2008 Garrett County Comprehensive Plan which would recognize Ridgelines as Sensitive Areas in need of protection and recommend a framework for regulatory control of ridge top development.

The specific amendments to the Comprehensive Plan are on file in the Garrett County Planning and Land Development office, 203 South 4th Street, Room 210, Oak-land, Maryland. The amendments can also be viewed under "Events" on the County's webpage at www.garrettcounty.org.

Citizen comments will be received at the public hearing on Tuesday, March 8, 2011, or in writing before the hearing.

By Order of the Garrett County
Planning Commission

The 'Lights' will be on again, one last time

Kyle Chandler

Q: Is "Friday Night Lights" coming back, or have I missed finding it? –Corrine Tekavec, Denver

A: Now that the final season of the critically acclaimed, Kyle Chandler-starring football drama has wrapped up its run on DirecTV, the last episodes are set to begin their NBC broadcast run April 15.

Q: Could you tell me if I'm correct in saying that the child in the Disney movie "Eloise at the Plaza" grew up to play Ariel, the oldest daughter, on "Medium"? I think she also played the ill sister in the movie "My Sister's Keeper." –Mary Knapp, Columbus, Ohio

A: You are correct in both cases. Sofia Vassilieva is the young actress; she also played the title character in the TV movie "Eloise at Christmastime."

Q: We are seniors and have wondered if there could be repeats of our favorite series, "Dallas." –Gene and Peggy Weber, Haines City, Fla.

A: Some cable networks have had such repeats over the years, and when all else fails, there always are the DVD sets of the show that have been issued by Warner Home Video. (All 14 seasons are available now.)

It's possible that the original series may resurface later this year, since TNT is making an updated "Dallas" that will feature original cast members Patrick Duffy and Linda Gray; at this writing, Larry Hagman was in negotiations to reprise the role of J.R. Ewing. Jordana Brewster ("The Fast and the Furious") and Josh Henderson also will be in the revival.

Q: Why doesn't Hallmark Channel ever feature any new movies? We've been watching the same movies for the last six years. –Ann Hayduk, Rome, N.Y.

A: Well, let's take a look at some recent examples. A couple of weeks ago, Hallmark offered Jennie Garth in "Accidentally in Love," which was co-written by her husband, actor Peter Facinelli ("Twilight," "Nurse Jackie"). The start of February brought the romantic comedy-fantasy "Smooch," starring Kellie Martin.

In January, Alicia Witt appeared in the debut of the movie "Backyard Wedding," and Jane Seymour reprised her role from 2008's "Dear Prudence" in a sequel, "Perfectly Prudence." Now, your question was ...?

Q: Where can I write HBO to thank James Gandolfini for his documentary "Alive Day Memories"? – Shirley Randaldi, Seal Beach, Calif.

A: You can address your letter to the former "Sopranos" star –who produced the 2007 documentary and interviewed the veterans featured in it – in care of the cable network at 1100 Avenue of the Americas, New York, NY 10036.

527 Deer Run Lane, Swanton, MD 21561-2058

Under a power of sale contained in a certain Deed of Trust from John A. Scourtis dated February 20, 2008, and recorded at Liber 1356, Folio 421 among the Land Records of Garrett County, MD, default having occurred under the terms thereof, the Sub. Trustees will sell at public auction at Alder Street Entrance of the Circuit Court for Garrett Co, located at 203 S. 4th St., Oakland, MD 21550, on:

March 11, 2011, at 3:00 p.m.

ALL THAT FEE-SIMPLE LOT OF GROUND, together with the buildings and improvements thereon situated in Garrett County, MD, and more fully described in the aforesaid Deed of Trust.

The property, which is improved by a dwelling, will be sold in an "as is" condition and subject to conditions, restrictions, and agreements of record affecting the same, if any, and with no warranty of any kind.

Terms of Sale: A deposit of $18,000.00 by cash or certified check. Balance of the purchase price to be paid in cash within ten days of final ratification of sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, MD. Interest to be paid on the unpaid purchase money at the rate pursuant to the Deed of Trust Note from the date of sale to the date funds are received in the office of the Sub. Trustees. In the event settlement is delayed for any reason, there shall be no abatement of interest. All public charges or assessments, including water/sewer charges, ground rent, condo/HOA dues, whether incurred prior to or after the sale, and all other costs incident to settlement to be paid by the purchaser. Cost of all documentary stamps, transfer taxes and settlement expenses shall be borne by the purchaser. Purchaser shall be responsible for obtaining physical possession of the property. Purchaser assumes the risk of loss or damage to the property from the date of sale forward. If the Sub. Trustees are unable to convey good and marketable title, the purchaser's sole remedy in law and equity shall be limited to a refund of the deposit without interest. If the purchaser fails to go to settlement, the deposit shall be forfeited, and the property shall be resold at the purchaser's risk and expense. The purchaser agrees to pay attorneys' fees in the amount of $750.00 plus costs, which fee does not include attendance at any hearings, if the Trustees have moved to resell the property. Hearings will be charged at attorneys' hourly rate. Additional terms to be announced at the time of sale. Purchaser agrees to pay $295.00 at settlement, to the Seller's attorney, for review of the settlement documents and an additional fee of $295.00 for review of any motion which may be subsequently filed with the Court to substitute a purchaser herein.

ONE-STORY CONTEMPORARY STYLE HOME
WITH APPROX. 150 FEET OF LAKE FRONT

2524 STOCKSLAGER RD.
"DEEP CREEK LAKE"
Oakland, Md 21550

Under a power of sale contained in a certain Purchase Money Deed of Trust and Security Agreement from Robert M. Boston and Caron L. Boston, dated December 28, 2005, and recorded in Liber 1185, folio 47 and modified in a Modification Agreement dated June 9, 2009, and recorded in Liber 1452, folio 476, both recorded among the Land Records of Garrett County, MD, default having occurred under the terms thereof, and at the request of the parties secured thereby, the undersigned Substitute Trustees will sell at public auction

ON THE PREMISES, ON
MARCH 4, 2011, AT 1:00 P.M.

ALL THAT FEE-SIMPLE LOT OF GROUND AND THE IMPROVEMENTS thereon situated in Garrett County, Maryland, and known as Tax ID #18-044765 and more fully described in the aforesaid Purchase Money Deed of Trust and Security Agreement.

The property consists of approximately 150 feet of lake front. The property is believed to be improved by a one story contemporary style home. The first floor contains a foyer, living room, dining room, kitchen, family room, library, 2 bedrooms and 3.5 baths. The lower level contains a family room, recreation room, 2 bedrooms, 2 baths and wine cellar. Amentities include 3 fireplaces, patio, 2 porches, 3 decks and 3-car attached garage. Lot size approx. 2.08 acres.

The property will be sold in an "as is" condition and subject to all covenants, conditions, liens, restrictions, easements, rights-of-way as may affect same, if any and with no warranty of any kind.

TERMS OF SALE: A deposit of $75,000 will be required at the time of sale, such deposit to be in cash or certified check, or other form acceptable to the Substitute Trustees in their sole discretion. The deposit must be increased to 10% of the purchase price within 2 business days. If the deposit is not increased to 10% of the purchase price within 2 business days, the deposit will be forfeited and the property will be resold at the purchaser's risk and expense. Balance of the purchase price is to be paid in cash within ten (10) days of the final ratification of sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County. If payment of the balance does not take place within ten (10) days of ratification, the deposit(s) will be forfeited and the property will be resold at the risk and expense of the defaulting purchaser. The defaulting purchaser shall not be entitled to any surplus proceeds or profits resulting from any resale of the property. Interest to be paid on unpaid purchase money at the rate pursuant to the Deed of Trust Note from date of sale to date funds are received in the office of the Substitute Trustees in the event the property is purchased by someone other than the holder of the indebtedness. In the event settlement is delayed for any reason, there shall be no abatement of interest. All taxes, ground rent, water rent, condominium fees and/or homeowner association dues, all public charges, assessments payable on an annual basis, including sanitary and/or metropolitan district charges, if applicable, owed against the property shall be adjusted to date of sale and assumed thereafter by the purchaser. Cost of all documentary stamps, transfer taxes and settlement expenses for the property shall be borne by the purchaser. Purchaser shall be responsible for obtaining physical possession of the property. Purchaser assumes the risk of loss or damage to the property from the date of sale forward. If the Substitute Trustees are unable to convey good and marketable title, the purchaser's sole remedy in law or equity shall be limited to the refund of the deposit. Upon refund of the deposit to purchaser, this sale shall be void and of no effect, and the purchaser shall have no further claims against the Substitute Trustees. The conveyance of the property by the Substitute Trustees to the purchaser at settlement shall be by Trustees' Deed without covenants or special warranties. Purchaser(s) agrees to pay $295.00 at settlement, to the Seller's attorney, for review of the settlement documents. Purchaser agrees to pay $295.00 to the Seller's attorney for review of Motion to Substitute Purchaser payable at the time of execution.

The Substitute Trustees reserve the right to: (1) accept or reject any and all bids and to sell the property in any manner which the Substitute Trustees determines, in their sole discretion, may provide the highest yield to the secured party, (2) modify or waive the requirement for bidders' deposits and terms of sale and/or settlement, and (3) to withdraw all or any part of the property from the sale prior to acceptance of the final bid.

The property will be sold in an "AS IS" condition and without any recourse, representations or warranties, either express or implied, as to its nature, condition or description. No representations are made as to the property. Neither the Substitute Trustees, nor any other party, make any warranty or representation of any kind or nature regarding the physical condition of, the description of, or title to the property. The property will be sold subject to any violation notices and subject to all conditions, restrictions, easements, covenants, encumbrances, and agreements of record and all terms, conditions, notes, and matters as set forth and described in the Deed of Trust. The purchaser is responsible for, and the property is sold subject to, any environmental matter or condition, whether latent or observable, if any, that may exist at or affect or relate to the property and to any governmental requirements affecting the same.

NOTE: The information contained herein was obtained from sources deemed to be reliable, but is offered for informational purposes only. Neither the auctioneer, the beneficiary of the Deed of Trust, the Substitute Trustees nor their agents or attorneys make any representations or warranties with respect to the accuracy of information.

PROSPECTIVE PURCHASERS ARE URGED TO PERFORM THEIR OWN DUE DILIGENCE WITH RESPECT TO THE PROPERTY PRIOR TO THE FORECLOSURE AUCTION. For additional information, please contact the Substitute Trustees.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING AMENDMENT TO THE GARRETT COUNTY WATER AND SEWERAGE MASTER PLAN PEE WEE HILL WATER SUPPLY REPLACEMENT PROJECT

Notice is hereby given that the Board of County Commissioners of Garrett County, Maryland, will hold a public hearing on Thursday, March 17, 2011, at 5:30 p.m. in Room 209 at the Garrett County Courthouse located at 203 South Fourth Street, Oakland, Maryland, to consider an amendment to the Garrett County Water and Sewerage Master Plan. A summary of the proposed amendment is as follows:

Pee Wee Hill Water Supply Replacement Project

The Maryland Department of the Environment Land Management Administration's Abandoned Mine Land Division has requested inclusion of a water system to serve approximately 23 dwellings in the Pee Wee Road area near Kitzmiller, Maryland. The project will consist of a water booster pump station, approximately 14,700 LF of water pipeline, a 105,000 gallon water storage tank, fire protection, service connections and appurtenances. The water supply for the proposed distribution system will be obtained from the Kitzmiller Water System.

Mapping of the proposed project area and the complete text of the proposed amendment can be obtained from the Garrett County Department of Public Utilities located at 2008 Maryland Highway, Suite 2, Mountain Lake Park, Maryland. Interested persons will be heard at the public hearing on Thursday, March 17, 2011, in order to determine if incorporation of the proposed amendment will promote public health, safety and welfare in the proposed service area.

"Eat Smart" Series Slated At Oakland, Grantsville Centers

Local residents are invited to "step into spring" with healthy choices that will assist them to maintain a healthy heart, strong bones, and a happy outlook.

"Join us for the special nutrition series 'Eat Smart, Live Strong,'" said an Area Agency on Aging spokesperson.

Presented by AAA and the University of Maryland Extension, this five-part nutrition series will be held at the Mary Browning Senior Center, Oakland, on Wednesdays, March 30–April 27, from 12:30 to 2:30 p.m. and the Grantsville Senior Center, on Thursdays, April 28–May 26, from 1 to 3 p.m.

"'Eat Smart, Live Strong' will emphasize useful tactics and personal action plans designed with you in mind," said the spokesperson. "It will encompass hands-on activities, food demonstrations, simple movements to improve flexibility and strength, and tips to be a savvy consumer at the grocery store and at the restaurant."

Each week a different aspect of nutrition and health will be featured. These will include how to personalize a healthy eating pattern, ways to increase fruits and vegetables in one's daily menus, how to discover the 'hidden' sodium, sugar, and fats at the grocery store, how individuals and their loved ones can benefit from the research found in the latest dietary guidelines, and how to make easy adjustments at the restaurant to meet one's objective of eating smart.

Although there is no fee to attend this series, preregistration is necessary. A minimum of 10 participants is needed for each location.

To register for the Oakland series, persons may call Beverly Carvell at 301-334-9431, ext. 137. The last day to do so is Friday, March 25.

The last day to register for the Grantsville series is Friday, April 22. Persons my call Terry Beachy at 301-895-4700 to sign up.

CDL Training Offered At GC's G'ville Institute

Garrett College is currently accepting applications for the next series of courses geared toward training individuals who want to obtain a Class A commercial driver's license (CDL). No prior education or experience with trucks is required.

To be held at the Mountaintop Truck Driving Institute in Grantsville, weekday training will begin on Monday, March 14, and the weekend session will start on Saturday, March 26.

The weekday option will be offered in a 7.5 week timeframe, Monday through Thursday, from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. The weekend option has a duration of 15 weekends, Saturdays and Sundays, from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

This program offers a professional truck driving curriculum for the purpose of qualifying students for entry level positions as drivers in over-the-road or local driving vehicles.

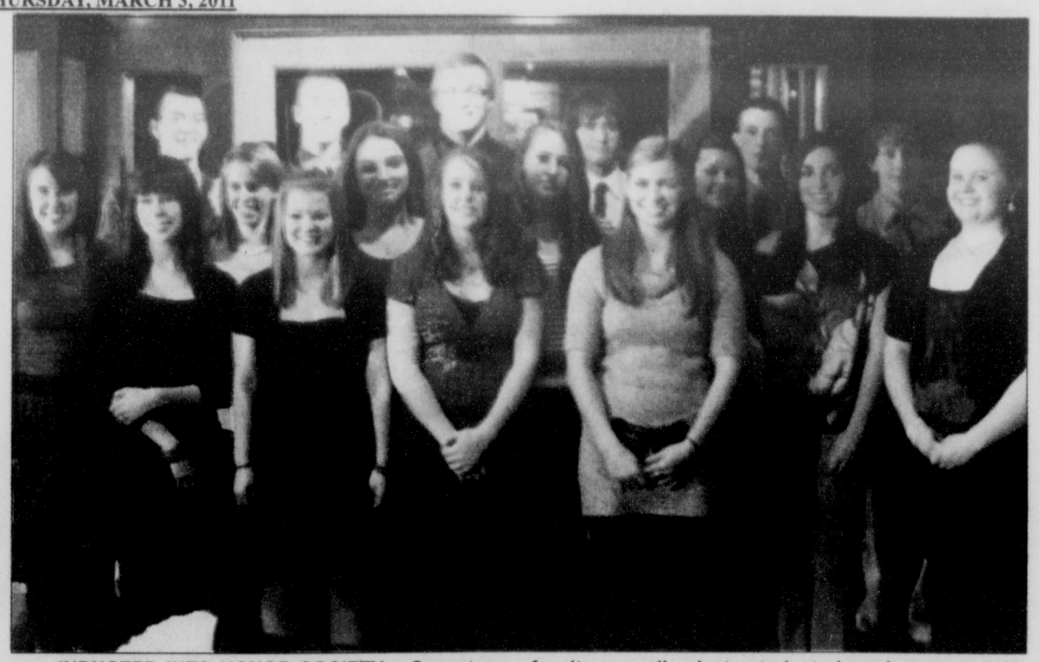
"The short-term training is an intense, fast-paced program," said Terry Beachy, director of the institute.

While attending this 30-day, 210 hours of training, students will receive instruction in the following: pre-trip inspection, various skills in the yard, and over-the-road instruction, along with a basic overview of map reading and log books.

At the completion of training, the students will be taken to demonstrate at their local Motor Vehicle Administration to obtain a Class A license.

The entry requirements are as follows: Applicants must be at least 18 years old, have proof of high school diploma (transcript), GED, or passing score on their ASSET test; possess a currently valid license; and must be able to pass a Department of Transportation (DOT) physical and drug screen. In addition, they must communicate in the English language sufficiently, as required by DOT.

For more information on this course and fees, or to register for this training, persons may contact Beachy, at 301-895-4700 or terry.beachy@garrettcollege.edu.



INDUCTED INTO HONOR SOCIETY – Seventeen Northern High School students were recently inducted into the National Honor Society. The ceremony, held at Uno's at Deep Creek Lake, was attended by inductees, parents/family, and formerly inducted Honor Society members. NHS Honor Society co-advisors Julie Brenneman and Gayle Grimm welcomed guests and spoke of the criteria for acceptance into the National Honor Society. In addition to having a 90 percent grade point average, each candidate must demonstrate good character, strong leadership skills, and service in school and the community. The faculty of the school nominates potential new members each year, and a five-member faculty council selects students based on an activity information form and other qualifications, as listed above. Keesha Fazenbaker, current NHS Honor Society president, led the induction ceremony. On behalf of NHS vice principal Paul Edwards, Brenneman congratulated the new members. A pizza buffet was served following the ceremony. Left to right in the first row are Shannon Miller, Lisa Umbel, Breanna Mallow, Kiersten Butler, Catherine Dignan, and Taryn Brenneman. Second row: Jocelyn Williams, Emily Porter, Haley Margroff, Ashley Miller, Heather Vincent, and Daniel Uphold. Third row: Steven Holtschneider, Patrick Sines, Adam Brenneman, Aaron Smith, and Kyle Herring.

Garrett Coll. Slates Computer Classes At Oakland Center

Three computer classes will be available at Garrett College's Southern Outreach Center in Oakland. All classes are offered for two sessions on Wednesdays from 9 a.m. until 12:15 p.m.

The first class, "Basic Computer Skills Level 2," will begin on March 23. It will provide information on the basic operations of the computer.

"The Internet and Web Literacy" will be offered beginning April 6. Topics for this course include use of search engines, shopping online, and "surfing" the web.

The last offering will be "Basic Microsoft Word 2007," beginning April 20. In this course students will learn to process various types of documents, editing, formatting and saving.

For more information on classes and fees or to register students, persons may call the Southern Outreach Center at 301-334-8304 or 301-387-3781.

HUSKIES GOING TO STATES – In a dramatic come-from-behind win at Frederick Community College on Saturday, the Northern High School girls' basketball team defeated Smithsburg, 52-47, to claim the West Region Championship. The team, seen here in jubilation just seconds after the final buzzer, celebrated by cutting down the net. The win places the Huskies among the final four teams in the state. GC Commissioners Oppose Coal Tax Credit Repeal Bill

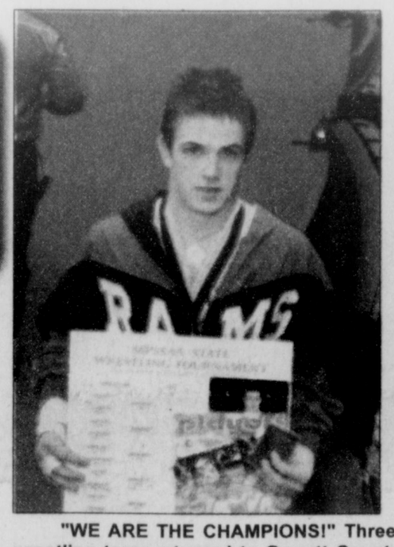
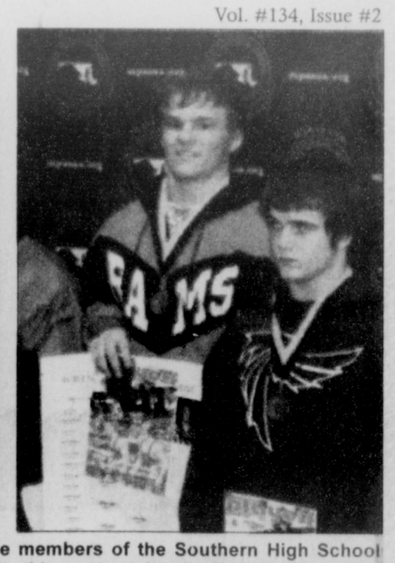
The Maryland General Assembly has heard testimony on legislation written as House Bill 918 – Repeal of Tax Credit for Purchase of Maryland Mined Coal.

The Board of Garrett County Commissioners has voiced its strong opposition to this proposed legislation. Chairman Gregan Crawford testified before the House Ways and Means Committee last Thursday afternoon. He stressed the importance the coal industry has had on the economy of Garrett County over the years and how important the continuation of the credit is to Garrett County.

At the hearing, the Board of Garrett County Commissioners was the only party opposing the credit and the only proponent was the sponsor of the legislation, Del. Herbert McMillan. The entire hearing lasted less than 10 minutes, according to county administrator Monty Pagenhardt.

He said the commissioners will continue to work with Sen. George Edwards and Del. Wendell Beitzel and the Maryland Coal Association to devote their efforts to a continuation of the tax credit.





"WE ARE THE CHAMPIONS!" Three members of the Southern High School wrestling team returned to Garrett County this past weekend with individual state high school wrestling championships under their belts. The center podium was a familiar spot for both Jakob "Bubba" Scheffel, above left, and Lex Ozias, above right, as these were the third consecutive titles earned by each of them in their careers as Southern Rams. Gaining what could be the first of multiple state championships was Ram freshman Coy Ozias, brother of Lex, who is pictured below just after winning his title bout. Scheffel and Lex Ozias also now have the distinction of holding the #1 and #2 spots, respectively, for the total number of career wins by any public school wrestler in the history of Maryland. See sports pages for details and more photos of the Maryland 1A/2A state championships.

Planning Commission, Commissioners Hold Hearing On Comp Plan Proposal

The Garrett County Planning Commission and county commissioners held a public hearing on Tuesday to receive comments on proposed text amendments to the 2008 Garrett County Comprehensive Plan. More than 50 people attended the 2½-hour event, with 21 of them voicing their opinions about the proposed changes.

About 13 opposed the amendments, while the remainder of the speakers approved them, although, at times, it was difficult to decipher just where some exactly stood on the subject, as they rambled on about wind turbines, zoning, Marcellus shale, and various unrelated topics.

Commission chair Troy Ellington presided over the hearing, and Director John Nelson, GC Department of Planning and Land Development, gave an overview of the amendments.

The Planning Commission and commissioners are proposing adding paragraphs recognizing ridgelines as a sensitive area in need of protection from development, including wind turbine construction. The text had been in the commission's draft of the GC Comprehensive Plan, but was removed by the previous board of county commissioners before it formally adopted the 216-page document in October 2008.

The Planning Commission and new commissioners are also proposing deleting a sentence that the previous commissioners had added to the comp plan before its adoption. The line reads, "The county further acknowledges property rights of the owners of land that is suitable for wind power facilities to use their property for that purpose."

If that line were left in the comp plan, it would be inconsistent with the proposed text about ridgelines, county officials have noted. In other words, personal property rights could supersede possible ridgeline protection.

Nelson noted that the comp plan is not a regulatory document, but it does suggest how the county should move forward with growth. Should the amendments be adopted, corresponding ordinances will have to be drafted that would establish regulatory control of ridge top development through subdivision, sensitive area, and, possibly, zoning controls. It would also have to be determined which specific ridgelines would be earmarked for protection.

Many of the public hearing comments centered on property rights, either those of owners to have wind turbines constructed on their land or the right of neighboring property owners not to have turbines closely located to them.

Outside local towns and the Deep Creek Lake area, there is no zoning in Garrett County. Currently, there are no local wind turbine regulations regarding setbacks from neighboring properties or the decommissioning of those electricity generating structures.

Two companies, Constellation Energy and Synergics, have already erected wind turbines along Backbone Mountain. A third firm, U.S. Wind Force, has been purchasing leases to construct turbines along Four-Mile Ridge in the northern part of the county.

"I'm opposed to any regulation on my property," said Four-Mile Ridge property owner Bob Spangler of Cumberland. "It's my property. If I want to run go carts, I'm going to run them. If I want to cut trees, I'm going to cut them; and if I want to build a house, I will, as long as it will perk."

He indicated he plans to keep his property, build a home, and pass the property down to future generations, even with wind turbines

Annual GC Job Fair Set For March 24 At Garrett College

More than 40 different organizations will be present to speak with job seekers at the upcoming Garrett County Job Fair, set for Thursday, March 24, from 3 to 7 p.m. The event will be held in the Garrett College gymnasium, where employers will be available to speak about full-time, part-time, and summer positions, as well as positions for those looking for a career change and those seeking a first-time job, including high school and college students.

"The Job Fair is open to the entire Garrett County community," said Judy Carbone, director of advising, career and transfer services at Garrett College and chair of the Job Fair planning committee. "Last year, more than 600 job seekers spoke with representatives from more than 50 hiring organizations, and the committee is working to see that this year's job fair is just as successful."

Companies that are currently registered to attend include ACT Personnel Service, Adventure Sports Center International (ASCI), Beitzel Corporation, Bill's Marine Service, Brenda's Pizzeria, ClosetMaid, Coldwell Banker Deep Creek Realty, Deep Creek Lake Recreation Area (DNR), Deep Creek Marina, FCI Cumberland/Federal Bureau of Prisons, First United Bank & Trust, Garrett College Continuing Education and Workforce Development, Garrett County Memorial Hospital, GCC Technologies LLC, Jacobs Petroleum Products Inc., Laurel Highlands River Tours, Long & Foster Real Estate & Rentals, Lowes, Maryland State Police, Morningstar Inc., New York Life, Oakland Nursing & Rehabilitation Center, Phenix Technologies, Railey Mountain Lake Vacations, Taylor-Made Deep Creek Lake Vacations, Trader's Coffee House, University of Maryland Extension Office, Garrett County, Wal-Mart, Western Maryland Building and Trades Council, White Water Adventures, Will O' the Wisp, and Wisp Resort.

Jobs that need to be filled at these companies include supervisors and managers, tellers and bank associates, office and data entry clerks, customer service representatives, hospitality staff members, outdoor and adventure enthusiasts, naturalists, restaurant workers, hospital and other health care workers, correctional institute staff, computer technicians, welders and machine opera-

Deputies Respond To Minor Motor Vehicle Accidents

Three minor vehicle accidents were investigated by Garrett County sheriff's deputies, with only one citation issued. The following incidents are unrelated.

Deputies responded to the intersection of Lothian Street and Shenandoah Avenue, Loch Lynn, on Tuesday at approximately 8 a.m. Investigation revealed that Charles Mayne had not stopped at the stop sign and was struck by Brandy VonHagel. There were no reported injuries, and Mayne was cited for the incident.

In a separate incident, deputies responded to Maryland Highway on Wednesday morning for a single-vehicle accident with injuries. Investigation determined that Robert J. Manasse, 70, Cumberland, had been traveling north on Maryland Highway, when he lost control of his vehicle on the ice-covered roadway and struck a tree. He was taken

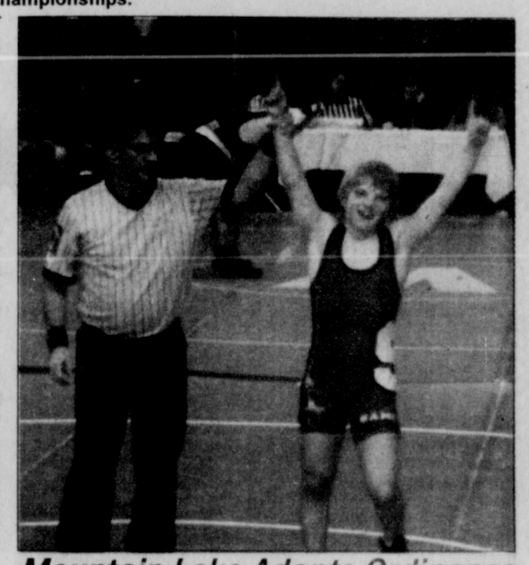
BOE Hears From School Advisory Committees

The Garrett County Board of Education met Tuesday in the Southern Middle School cafeteria. The venue was selected to house the crowd that attended to witness two 45-minute reports presented to the BOE by the advisory committees of Kitzmiller and Bloomington elementary schools.

The committees rehashed recent arguments for keeping the two elementary schools open. The arguments included: the detrimental effects of increasing class sizes and commute times, the loss in community center and identity, the strains that would be placed on parents and students who wish to participate in extracurricular activity, the loss in the unique and quality educational opportunities offered to students by Kitzmiller and Bloomington elementaries, that the cost of running the two schools accounted for a small portion of the overall education budget, and others.

A few members of the community chose to address the board at the time set aside for public comment and made emotional pleas to keep the schools active. The board thanked all these individuals and the committees for their thoughts and presentations.

Later this month, the BOE plans to hold public hearings to further address the issue of school closure. The first of the two hearings will be held on Tuesday, March 22, at 7 p.m. in the gymnasium of Bloomington Elementary School. The second will be held at Kitzmiller Elementary School on Thursday, March 24, at 7 p.m. in the school's multi-purpose room.



Mountain Lake Adopts Ordinance Banning Drilling For Gas In Town

The mayor and town council of Mountain Lake Park unanimously adopted a Community Bill of Rights that "removes legal powers from gas extraction corporations within the town."

Ordinance No. 2011-01, titled Mountain Lake Park's Community Protection from Natural Gas Extraction Ordinance, was introduced to the council by Mayor Leo Martin. The first reading of the measure was held Jan. 6, followed by a public hearing on Feb. 3, and the ordinance was adopted at last Thursday's regular March meeting.

At the heart of the ordinance is a statement of law: "It shall be unlawful for any corporation to engage in the extraction of natural gas within the Town of Mountain Lake Park, with the exception of gas wells installed and operating at the time of enactment of this ordinance."

The bill also recognizes the right of the people to "a form of governance where they live which recognizes that all power is inherent in the people, that all free governments are founded on the people's authority and consent, and that corporate entities and their directors and managers shall not enjoy special privileges or powers under the law which make community majorities subordinate to them."

"Our town government is responsible for the health, safety, and rights of our citizens," stated Mayor Martin. "When the county, state, and federal governments fail in their duties, it is our duty to take action."

Also included in the ordinance is a local bill of rights that asserts legal protections for the right to water; the rights of natural communities and ecosystems; the right to local self-government; and the right of the people to enforce and protect these rights by banning corporate activities that would violate them, through the police powers of their municipal government.

The bill was modeled after the ordinance adopted November 16 of last year by the city of Pittsburgh, and drafted by the Community Environmental Legal Defense Fund.

"If Pittsburgh can do it, we can do it," said Martin when he introduced the ordinance in Mountain Lake Park in January, and he indicated that other Maryland municipalities should take a similar stand.

The gas extraction technique known as "fracking" has been cited as a threat to surface and ground water throughout the region, and has been blamed for fatal explosions and the contamination of drinking water, local streams, the air, and soil. Alleged collateral damage includes lost property value, ingestion of toxins by livestock, drying up of water, mortgage loans for prospective home buyers, and threatened loss of organic certification for farmers in the affected communities.

Ben Price, projects director for the Community Environmental Legal Defense Fund, applauded the mayor for taking a stand on behalf of community rights.

"The state says Maryland residents don't have the right to decide whether or not they get fracked, and that only the corporate-lobbied members of the leg-

Councilman Wolf Seeks Re-Election To Oakland Seat

Ryan Wolf has announced his candidacy for re-election to the Oakland Town Council. Wolf has served in this capacity for the past year and a half.

The candidate has lived in Oakland and the Oakland area for 35 years. He is a teacher at Southern High School, where he also serves as the golf coach and assistant bocce coach.

"As chairman of the Parks Committee of Oakland, I have worked to improve the conditions and number of activities offered at Broadford Recreational Park," Wolf said. "A number of successful activities and improved day-to-day operations, a result in large part of the hiring of a great staff, have led to a successful and profitable year at Broadford Park. I hope to continue such activities as the annual Redneck Dayz, fireworks for Independence Day, the Haunted Hayride, and Landon's Pumpkin Chase. There are many other proposed projects that could also enhance the park for years to come. I hope to continue to serve the citizens of Oakland as town councilperson, and I appreciate your support."

Wolf is a graduate of Southern High School, having been a student at Dennett Road Elementary and Southern Middle School. After high school, he received an associate's degree from Garrett College in math and science. He holds a bachelor's degree in mathematics from Frostburg State University and is currently working toward a master's degree in secondary administration and supervision.

Wolf and his wife Ginger have one son, Mason. Ginger works for First United Bank & Trust, and Mason is a student at Dennett Road Elementary School.

The candidate is active in the community through various school-sponsored events as well as through the Oakland/Mtn. Lake Park Lions Club, for which he currently serves as a two-year director.

"The current members of the council are productive and functioning well together," Wolf said. "I support my fellow incumbents Jay Moyer and Jack Riley for re-election to the council with me."

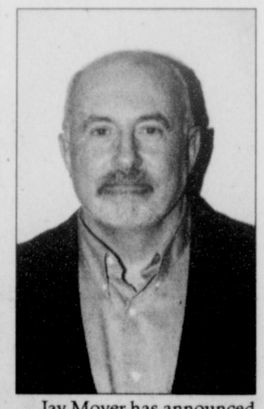
Moyer To Run For Re-Election To Town Council



Jay Moyer has announced his candidacy for Oakland Town Council. Moyer is the longest serving councilperson in the history of Oakland. The election is slated for Monday, March 14.

"I have been a resident of Oakland for over 50 years," Moyer said. "In these times of economic uncertainty we need leaders who possess the skills and ability to guide the town of Oakland in a direction that protects the integrity of the town as a whole from the continuing loss of revenues, which could impact the ability of the town to function as it has in the past. In order for the town to continue to function in the black, yet to provide the necessary services residents have come to expect, a team of elected officials who are willing to work together is required – to help Oakland prosper in these dark economic times. This requires a mayor and council with positive attitudes willing to focus their energy on building and growing the town, just as the current mayor and council are doing."

Moyer said he has always been an advocate of creating a business-friendly atmosphere in Oakland for both existing and prospective businesses.

"We need to offset the loss revenues from the state of Maryland by creating growth," the candidate said. "We need representation that will work to entice new businesses to locate in Oakland, and that will deal with the state bureaucracy which often discourages development in this area. With this new growth, our tax base will increase and allow the town to continue to grow instead of becoming a town in decline with no hope for the future, as some would like to see happen.

"We need people who are willing to work together, like the current mayor and council, rather than electing negative personalities who are afraid of change and improvements," Moyer said.

The candidate and his wife Joyce have two grown children and four granddaughters. He is an active member of St. Mark's Lutheran Church, where he serves on church council. He retired from the town of Oakland with 32 years of service, and is presently employed with the Garrett County government as the general roads superintendent.

Moyer was recently inducted in the Maryland Municipal League Hall of Fame, and is a graduate of the Academy for Excellence in Local Governance.

Moyer said that the present mayor and town council work to serve everyone in the community equally. He noted they have not raised taxes in more than 20 years, are always planning for the future, have more than doubled the size of Oakland through annexation, and initiate projects as grant money becomes available.

The candidate stated that the present leadership has been "very supportive" of volunteer and service organizations such as the Oakland Volunteer Fire Department, the Garrett County Historical Society with its new Transportation Museum, the American Red Cross in establishing an emergency shelter, the Dove Center in constructing its new facility, and the efforts to establish the Oakland train station as an official B&O Railroad Museum.

"Oakland is on the right track. Let's keep it moving forward," Moyer said. "Please come out on Monday, March 14, and support the current Oakland town council by re-electing me, Jack Riley, and Ryan Wolf."

Riley Running For Re-Election To Oak. Council

Jack C. Riley has recently announced his candidacy for re-election to the Oakland Town Council. Riley currently serves as the president of the council. The town election will be held Monday, March 14.

A two-term veteran of Oakland politics and a graduate of the Academy for Excellence in Local Governance, Riley noted that he is following in the steps of his mother, the late Frances C. Riley, who was a long-time member of the Oakland Town Council.

"This is a critical time for Oakland as the state has made huge funding cuts which have greatly impacted the financial resources of the town," the candidate said. "Unfortunately, discussions with state representatives indicate that this current fiscal climate will continue for several years to come. The current mayor and town council are committed to not raising taxes on the citizens of Oakland during this economic hardship, and intend to do this through hard work, seeking innovative solutions, and becoming more efficient in the ways the town operates.

"We now have a very strong, positive, cooperative and hard-working mayor and town council," Riley continued. "Each member comes well prepared and ready to work together for the good of the town at every meeting. Unfortunately, we didn't have this positive and cohesive force two years ago when the former council member who is also running was on board. It is for these reasons we must keep the present mayor and town council intact."

Riley grew up in Oakland, was as student at Dennett Road Elementary, and graduated from Southern High School. He attended and graduated from Garrett College with an associate's degree in education before transferring to Frostburg State University, where he earned bachelor of science degree in education, and was also recognized as a Distinguished Military Graduate.

The candidate served 24 years in the U.S. Army, retiring as a lieutenant colonel. Upon retirement, Riley moved his family back to Oakland from Germany. He and his wife Libby have three children. Their oldest son Taylor is serving in the U.S. Army and is stationed in Germany with his wife Lauren and son Moses. They will soon move to Ft. Carson, Colo.

His daughter Kaytie is a student at Garrett College majoring in elementary education. She plans to transfer to Marshall University to finish her college education. His youngest son Aryne is a senior at Southern High School and hopes to attend the U.S. Air Force Academy after graduation.

Riley is a member of St Paul's United Methodist Church, on the board of directors for the Mountain Lake Park Tennis Club, third vice president for the Oakland/Mountain Lake Park Lions Club, and an active member of Garrett County Habitat for Humanity. He coaches the Southern High School boys' tennis team and the Deep Creek Winter Sports Team. Riley is a member of the Professional Ski Instructors Association.

Before Hours Event Planned For March 15

The Garrett County Chamber of Commerce will host its inaugural Business Before Hours event at 8 a.m. on Tuesday, March 15, at the Will O' the Wisp.

The event is an "Economic Forecast" presented by Dr. Joel Naroff, president and founder of Naroff Economic Advisors. The forum begins with breakfast and networking, followed by the program from 8:30 to 9:30 a.m. This affair is sponsored by Susquehanna Bank.

A nationally recognized economic forecasting expert, Naroff has received numerous honors and frequently appears on CNBC, Fox Business News, and Bloomberg Television.

The cost of the event is $15 in advance or $20 at the door. The cost for non-members is $30. Interested persons may register online at www.deepcreek.com or by calling Charlotte at 301-387-6171. Reservations must be made by March 13 to receive the advance payment discount for members. Space is limited, and early reservations are recommended.

The Garrett County Chamber of Commerce's Business Before Hours breakfast programs are bi-monthly events designed to focus on specific topics with formal presentations. The topics slated for 2011 include State of the County in July, Mayor's Update, Tourism Update, and Legislative Wrap-up. The goal is to host some of these topics on an annual basis. Non-competing sponsorship opportunities are available for each forum.

Those interested in sponsoring should contact Charlotte at the above-mentioned number.

Man Charged With Possession Of Marijuana

Garrett County sheriff's deputies arrested a man early Sunday morning after they responded to a Bloomington residence for a report of a protective order violation.

Thomas Allen Donnelly, 61, was found to be in violation of an order that required him to remain away from that particular home. While being arrested, he was found to have a smoking device containing burnt marijuana in it. He was charged with CDS possession of marijuana, CDS possession of paraphernalia, and violation of an protective order.

He was taken to the Garrett County Jail to await a bond hearing.

AAA Calls For Tougher DUI Regulations

In testimony before the Judicial Proceedings Committee this week, AAA Mid-Atlantic called upon committee members to issue a favorable report for a DUI (driving under the influence) bill that would be another step forward in curtailing Maryland's alcohol-related fatalities.

Senate Bill 803 – Drunk Driving Elimination Act, mandates the use of ignition interlock systems for all convicted DUI offenders, including first time offenders. Additionally, the legislation would require participation of those who are subject to license suspension for refusal to submit to a blood or breath chemical test.

For a person granted a probation before judgment (PBJ) for driving while under the influence of alcohol, under the influence per se, or while impaired by alcohol, the Motor Vehicle Administration (MVA) must require the person to participate in the program for at least six months for a first violation, one year for a second violation, and three years for a third or subsequent violation.

"In the war against drunk driving we need every possible tool afforded to us and the mandatory use of ignition interlocks for all drivers is one such important tool," noted Ragina C. Averella, Public and Government Affairs manager for AAA Mid-Atlantic. "When used with counseling, ignition interlocks serve to address one of the toughest of traffic safety problems – the repeat offender."

The bill has received wide spread support from many traffic safety advocates because of its inclusion of all drivers, including the first time offender, according to AAA.

"The reality is first-time offenders aren't really first-time offenders at all. It is simply the first time these drivers have been caught for something they have most likely done countless times," commented Averella.

According to MADD, on average a first-time offender has driven drunk 87 times prior to being arrested. And according to an earlier study authorized by Maryland's MVA, under former Administrator Ann Ferro, first time abusers are likely to have driven under the influence 100 times or more before being caught.

While nationally and among many other states alcohol-related fatalities decreased in 2009, drunk driving deaths increased 12 percent in Maryland. One hundred and sixty-two people were killed in drunk driving crashes in Maryland. These preventable deaths increased from 2008 when 145 people were killed in drunk driving related crashes, noted Averalla.

According to the Maryland Task Force to Combat Driving Under the Influence of Drugs and Alcohol, the use of ignition interlock systems has been shown to lead to long-lasting changes in driver behavior and the reduction of recidivism. The Task Force concluded that states which have extended requirement times for ignition interlock use for drunk driving offenses have experienced a 60–95 percent decrease in recidivism.

AAA Foundation's 2008 Traffic Safety Culture Index cited that the number one traffic safety concern expressed by participants was drivers who had been drinking. Despite that, nearly 10 percent of the participants admitted driving in the prior month, even though they thought their blood alcohol content was over the legal limit, according to foundation.

While AAA Mid-Atlantic believes interlocks are not a panacea, they are another tool that, when used as part of a solution for drivers with persistent alcohol problems, can help keep them from driving after they have been drinking and save lives on Maryland roads, Averella said. Approximately 24,000 DUI arrests are made annually in Maryland.

MVA would set up the ignition interlock program and establish minimum standards for all service providers, according to details of the bill.

ACCIDENT LIBRARY HOSTS DR. SEUSS PARTY — In honor of the famed child author's birthday (March 2), the Accident Library hosted an afternoon of Dr. Seuss stories, crafts, games, and treats. The event was part of the National Education Association's annual initiative Read Across America Month. In one of several games played that day, the children in attendance circulated among five stations, each representing a particular Seuss book, with an associated craft, game, or snack. In the photo, Jessica Zimmerman, branch manager, reads The Cat In The Hat, while the children create their own hats with Ritz crackers, white icing, and red Life Savers. The children also played Twister at the Foot Book station, created Oobleck (a fictional green, sticky substance from the book Bartholomew and the Oobleck) at another table, crafted fish in honor of One Fish, Two Fish, Red Fish, Blue Fish, and stopped at the Green Eggs and Ham station for a treat of green deviled eggs and ham slices.

You Make Us Proud...

For many years after Garrett County consolidated its various community high schools into Southern and Northern Garrett, the rivalry between the two schools, particularly in athletics, was often an unhealthy relationship. Some of the enmity was likely fostered long before the schools even opened, going back many years to the argument over whether the county seat should be in Oakland or in Grantsville.

There was in the early years a relatively high level of disdain on both sides when it came to the Rams facing the Huskies on the court or field of athletics. For many years, they truly seemed to hate each other, and the animosity was sometimes made worse by the parents of the student athletes.

Fortunately, we have all seemed to evolve in the past decade or so, with disdain being replaced with respect, and many cross-county "enemies" becoming good friends. The intensity of the rivalry is probably just as strong as it ever was – the Rams and Huskies still like nothing more than to defeat each other. But when the game is over, everything is left on the field or the court. More importantly, when they are not playing each other, they become enthusiastic fans for each other.

There was a moving demonstration of this on Saturday when the Southern boys' varsity basketball team was playing for the regional championship, and it is described in a letter to the editor on this page today. The Northern girls' varsity had just won the girls' regional title, and so there were many fans present from both schools in the gymnasium at Frederick Community College. Near the end of the game, when the Southern boys were trailing by a few points and really needed encouragement, a young lady jumped up in front of the Ram fans and led the cheering. She was none other than Northern Husky Kaitlynn Fratz, who happens to be the most prolific scorer, for both boys and girls, in Garrett County basketball history.

This action by Kaitlynn symbolizes the aforementioned evolution of the relationship between the Rams and the Huskies, and it is so gratifying. This mature, positive connection is also evident in the outstanding wrestling programs at each school, as it is not uncommon for the Rams and Huskies to train together, and spar with each other, not to defeat, but to support, to encourage, and to learn from each other. The same relationship exists between the marching bands of each school, who compete vehemently against each other every fall, but cheer each other on in every other situation.

Coaches, educators, parents, and especially our student athletes at both high schools should all be commended for the tremendous level of sportsmanship that now exists between our two high schools. After all, we are all Garrett Countians.

You truly make us proud.

To the Editor:

We all knew that it was going to be a special day, but little did we know... It was with much self-discipline that I painted only my daughter's face and not my own. A blue "NHS" was on the right, a red "SHS" on the left. (She is 5.)

The ushers at Frederick College directed us to the right for Northern, but added that Southern fans would be seated on the left for the later game. I found it fitting that the Northern side reminded me of an American flag... blue, white, and, oh yes, red!

This was an amazing group of talented athletes and friends who have trained hard for many years – together! They define the true spirit of the game. Kaitlynn, Terra, Morgan, and the rest, you may not have had the height, but you had the fight, and that is all that you needed! A Husky win!

With the extraordinary Northern game over, we got up to move to the opposite side for the Southern game. Leaving was apparently not an option for the Northern fans. We all moved to the other side. The same colors blanketed the bleachers: red, white, and blue. The Husky team was positioned front row, with the infamous SHS bleacher crew close by.

It was another amazing game, just short of a win. In the words of Pete Brosnihan, one of the Northern coaches, "Southern boys, you played your butts off!" He was right.

I'm not one to cry foul (pardon the pun), but Calvin's globetrotter-esque drive to the net (near the end of the game) was not a walk! The referee must have been so surprised at his amazing display of fundamental skills that he accidentally blew his whistle. Not many refs blow the whistle and yell, "Oops! Never mind!" We could have only been so lucky.

Nice to watch Wyatt "McThree," Joey, Drew ("Druuuuu!"), Calvin, D.J., Kurt, and the rest of the Rams have such an amazing season.

In the final minutes, Williamsport had the momentum. The fans hit an obvious lull. Then one person ran across the gymnasium, attempting to revive the crowd. Who was it? Kaitlynn Fratz, point guard for the Northern Huskies.

I have never witnessed or been more proud of such a grand display of sportsmanship. The bridge? Well, on this day at least, it was a bridge that brought us together, not divide us. Rivals? Not on Saturday, 3/5/11, at least.

I would like to invite everyone, especially those touched by cancer, to dine at Santa Fe Grille in McHenry on Friday night, March 18. Santa Fe will donate 10% of all food sales between 5 and 11 p.m. to the American Cancer Society Relay For Life of Garrett County.

The Relay Planning Committee would like to thank Santa Fe's owners, management, staff, and diners for our very successful dine-out nights the past few years. Relay For Life funds many patient services, awareness programs, and research. Research is very important in finding better testing, treatments and cures. The American Cancer Society wants to help everyone "Stay Well, Get Well, Find Cures, and Fight Back."

So fight back by gathering with family and friends for a relaxing evening at Santa Fe on Friday, March 18. Mark your calendar, and we hope to see you there.

For more information about Relay For Life, visit: www.relayforlife.org/garrett or call Brittany Friend at 301-722-2145. The 2011 Relay For Life of Garrett County will be held at the Southern High School track June 10, from 5 p.m. to June 11, 7 a.m.

To the Editor:

As a naturalist, parent, and former elementary school teacher, I have been involved with dozens of elementary schools. The standout among them is Kitzmiller Elementary, which provides the children of Kitzmiller the most stimulating and supportive learning environment I have observed anywhere. Sadly, the future of this exemplary school hangs in the balance as the county considers a plan to cut costs through school consolidation.

My first hint at the quality of this school was an excited phone call last fall from teacher Sandy DeWitt. She had read in this newspaper about a rare butterfly habitat in Kitzmiller. I had recently helped the landowner protect it through a conservation easement. Together, we planned a day-long field trip to the site for the entire school, K-5. The children would learn about the habitat from butterfly experts and from its conservation-minded owner Vlad Dupre. They would also collect and sow native wildflower seeds to enhance nectar sources for the butterflies. Sandy promised the children would come well prepared to benefit from this experience.

And indeed they were. With only a few weeks' lead time, Kitzmiller's teachers had put together a multidisciplinary learning experience that involved every one of the school's children. The level of preparation was nothing short of extraordinary. Some of the students had done well-sourced reports on a particular butterfly species or on a critical aspect of the habitat. One class had put together a comprehensive brochure about the Baltimore checkerspot butterfly, Maryland's official state insect. As the day went along, excitement remained high, and yet every child remained well-behaved, respectful, and happily involved. It became clear that this rich learning environment was not just about one field trip, but is an ongoing condition at Kitzmiller Elementary.

The challenge of belt tightening is to preserve value. Kitzmiller Elementary's ensemble of five – just five – dedicated and resourceful teachers, including teaching principal Richard Stevens, has created an exceptional school. Closing this school would amount to a tragic loss for the town and its children, and for anyone who wants to observe how an exceptional school operates. Let us hope the superintendent will find a way to allow Kitzmiller Elementary to continue doing its fine work.

To the Editor:

I am a western Marylander, originally from Garrett County. I lived out of the area for many years, moving back 23 years ago to settle in Frostburg. As a youth, I lived through the best of times in western Maryland when family farms in Garrett County still provided a living and union manufacturing jobs in Allegany County were still king. Since moving back, I have witnessed the attempts to bring jobs to the region to help it rebound from the economic declines it suffered while I was away.

Recently, I attended a program sponsored by the Maryland Humanities Council on natural gas drilling in the Marcellus shale. Panelists included Greg Wrightstone, a petroleum geologist, and Josh Fox, maker of the award-winning film Gasland.

As I listened, it suddenly dawned on me that the arguments being put forth by Mr. Wrightstone sounded a lot like the arguments of public officials who promised jobs through prisons and better schools through slot machines. Those arguments go like this: "This region has suffered economically. These efforts (building prisons, developing slot machines at Rocky Gap, and drilling natural gas wells) will bring good-paying jobs to the hard-working people of western Maryland who want a better life for their children."

"These industries will spawn other economic enterprises which will benefit the entire area."

"There won't be any negative effects from [fill in the blank] (prisons, gambling, natural gas drilling)."

"If you're opposed to these efforts, you're opposed to the region's future."

The people of far western Maryland have been sold a bill of goods. It would seem that our economic struggles have been exploited by those who claim to have our best interests at heart and that we are being asked to sell our soul all in the name of progress, but at what price economic development? What have we gained by the building of prisons in Allegany County? What will we gain if slot machines are developed at Rocky Gap? What will we gain by digging gas wells in our pastures and on our mountains?

I fear that what is gained is not economic development, but rather more crime, more gambling addictions and broken families, and more environmental degradation and public health risks. When will we stand up and say, "Enough!"? We don't have to make these sorts of trade-offs. The costs of these initiatives clearly outweigh the benefits.

Sincerely,
Kathleen Hoye Powell
Frostburg

To the Editor:

The political philosophy I believe is best expressed by the following quote:

"In all those things which deal with people, be liberal, and be human. In all those things which deal with people's money, or their economy, or their form of government, be conservative."

I believe we should embrace a gradual reduction of the national debt, reduce taxes with particular consideration for low- and middle-income families, and study additional ways to correct inequities in the effect of various taxes.

I believe the government should create policies that will enforce more vigorously and effectively than ever before the laws which protect the working standards of our people; additionally encourage the process of free collective bargaining so that labor and management will settle their differences at the bargaining table without the intervention of the government.

I believe in equal pay for equal work regardless of sex and the elimination of discrimination in employment because of race, creed, color, national origin, ancestry, or sex.

I believe in a strong Department of Health, Education and Welfare, a strong Food and Drug Administration, to seek extension and the perfection of a sound Social Security system.

I believe in equal rights for men and women and the rights of all people regardless of race, creed, color or national origin.

In the future, I believe we should dedicate ourselves to the pursuit of a just peace and the defense of human liberty and national independence.

I vigorously support the United Nations.

These are my values. I did not create them. I do believe in them, but I am merely repeating them. All who have read my letters know I am not the brightest bulb in the drawer. I cannot take any credit for the text above or the quote at the beginning. The text is the 1956 Republican Platform. The quote is from that "famous liberal," Dwight D. Eisenhower.

My dilemma – How does the party of Abraham Lincoln/Dwight Eisenhower evolve into blaming union working people for the problems of the country?

islature have the wisdom to decide how much harm should be legalized through state-issued permits," Price said. "We don't have a gas drilling problem. We have a democracy problem. Its symptoms are the state's refusal to recognize the right to local, community self-government, and the issuance of permits to drilling corporations against the consent of the governed."

The Community Environmental Legal Defense Fund, headquartered in Chambersburg, Pa., has been working with people in Pennsylvania since 1995 to, according to Price, "assert their fundamental rights to democratic local self-governance, and to enact laws which end destructive and rights-denying corporate action aided and abetted by state and federal governments."

CUTE, BUT HOMELESS – This large litter of kittens was brought to the Garrett County Animal Shelter last spring, which added to the already large intake of kittens at the facility. There can be two or more dozen kittens at the shelter at one time, with a total of several hundred being brought in during the spring and summer, noted Garrett County Humane Society president Lisa Baker. "They are cute, but they are homeless," she said. "There are not hundreds of kittens adopted out, so that leaves them homeless and hopeful that the local rescue group, HART, can transport them to areas that don't have so many cats." To help alleviate homelessness, GCHS took part in the recent Humane Society of the United States' Spay Day by distributing $7,500 in vouchers to residents to help with the cost of having their pets spayed or neutered. Most of them were given out at the shelter on Feb 24, with the rest distributed the following day. "I had a lot of calls weeks before the event, so I was sure they would all be given out in two days," Baker said. "Most vouchers were given to cat or dog owners, but we did give out seven to horse owners to have their stallions gelded." More than 1 million pets have been spayed or neutered in conjunction with Spay Day since it was founded by the Doris Day Animal League in 1995, according to the HSUS web site. "As in previous years, my foundation has issued a special grant to enable animal guardians in regions that can benefit from the extra help to have their animals spayed or neutered," Day notes on the site. "We're proud of this program and so gratified by the number of lives and taxpayer dollars that have been saved over the years." Baker said the cats and dogs that will be spayed/neutered locally through this voucher program will not be having multiple litters in the future, which means hundreds of unwanted kittens and puppies will not be flooding communities and the county animal shelter, which already is very busy most the year. For more information, persons may call 301-616-4425.

Same-Sex Marriage Bill Closer To Final Vote By Maryland Legislature

by Maggie Clark
Capital News Service

ANNAPOLIS – Same-sex marriage proponents Wednesday successfully batted down amendments to the Civil Marriage Protection Act, leading the way to a final up-or-down vote later this week.

The House of Delegates debated and rejected four amendments, including one to guarantee that a referendum on the bill would be on the ballot in 2012.

The Civil Marriage Protection Act, the same bill passed earlier this session in the Senate, would redefine marriage from "between a man and a woman" to "between two individuals" and protect churches from performing same-sex unions if the practice violates their beliefs. Gov. Martin O'Malley has said he supports the bill and would sign it.

Delegate Aisha Braveboy, D-Prince George's, proposed an amendment to guarantee the bill would go to a voter referendum in 2012 without the normally required petition drive. A referendum has been somewhat a foregone conclusion among legislators, who expect opponents will get the 55,736 signatures necessary.

According to the National Conference of State Legislatures, voters have rejected same-sex marriage in 30 state referendums. In Washington state, voters approved domestic partnership rights.

The amendment failed 72-63, but represented the steepest challenge yet for the bill. If it had passed, the bill would have been forced back into a Senate committee and would be required to pass the Senate another time. With just over 30 days left in the 2011 legislative session, there would likely not be enough time to have a final vote on the issue this year.

The process has been a sticking point for many delegates who feel that they are being pressured to vote for a bill with no amendments. Delegate Tiffany Alston, D-Prince George's, raised such concerns in the Judiciary Committee last week and nearly derailed the bill's passage out of committee by proposing an amendment to change all marriages to civil unions. Alston said that the body is "derelict in its duty" to have a deliberative debate on the issue.

"Our democracy says we're supposed to have a deliberative debate, and if you're not having a deliberative debate, you're bastardizing the democracy. We should be able to amend this bill if that's what this body wants. We should be able to send it back to the Senate if that's what the body wants. We should be able to honestly and earnestly debate this bill and we should give our people the ability to vote on this bill, because both sides have said this issue should go to referendum," Alston said.

Opponents offered three additional amendments during Wednesday's debate. One would carve out an exemption for faith-based adoption agencies to reject same-sex couples if the practice violates their religious beliefs. Another would have changed the name of the bill to "the same-sex marriage bill," and a third would have added protections for teachers and parents who object to school curriculum related to same-sex marriage. The bill does not address either adoption or curriculum development.

All three amendments were rejected.

Advocates for the bill are excited to be moving ahead and hopeful that Wednesday is indicative of success to come.

"It was a very strong vote," said Delegate Heather Mizeur, D-Montgomery, who is openly gay and a bill supporter. Mizeur called Wednesday's amendments "red herrings" that deal with issues already addressed in the state's legal codes.

"In resisting all of the amendments, we were able to show a really strong vote of support ... and at the end of the day, when that vote is called after what I expect to be a very lengthy debate, we expect to see at least 71 votes up on that board and we'll be the sixth state in the nation that has marriage equality," Mizeur said.

Capital News Service's David Saleh Rauf contributed to this report.

by Northern Rescue Squad to Garrett County Memorial Hospital, where he was treated for minor injuries. Deer Park Volunteer Fire Department also responded to the 7:30 a.m. scene. No charges were filed.

In another unrelated incident, deputies responded to Kitzmiller Road north of Vindex Roadat about 9 a.m. that same morning for an accident involving an unloaded tri-axle dump truck. Investigation revealed that Richard Allen Marple Jr. had lost traction in the heavy sleet and ice. He lost control on a slight grade, turned, and crossed the centerline before traveling off the southbound shoulder into a rock embankment. He was taken by Southern Rescue Squad to GCMH for treatment of minor injuries. Kitzmiller Volunteer Fire Department also responded to the scene. No charges were filed.

REALTORS SUPPORT ANIMAL SHELTER – The Garrett County Board of Realtors Task Force recently participated in a pet food drive coordinated by Susanne Beeman, member of the GCBR Task Force and a realtor with Coldwell Banker Deep Creek Realty. Through her efforts and donations from Browning's Foodland, Coldwell Banker Deep Creek Realty, the board of realtors office staff, Goodfellow Real Estate Services, Long & Foster Real Estate, Railey Realty, Taylor-Made Vacations, and United Country Humberson Homes, the drive was deemed a success. The total collection consisted of 374 pounds of dry pet food, 53 cans of pet food, and four boxes of biscuits. Beeman initiated the drive after the Garrett County Animal Shelter assisted her with an animal control issue. She said she wished to give back for the help she received. For more information about the Garrett County Animal Shelter, persons may call 301-334-3553. Beeman is pictured above right as she presents part of the gift to Tammy Pessini of the animal shelter.
